TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

For Greene and Pitt Counties.

The superintendent of schools of Greene county, Mr. M. P. Davis, was here Saturday to see Prof. W. H. Ragsdale, the superintendent of this county, about arranging a joint Teachers' Institute for the counties. Arrangements were made and the Institute will be held at Winterville beginning on the 1st Monday in July and continuing for four weeks. There will be four regular teachers and the work contemplated will be of lasting benefit to the two counties. Every day for the four weeks will be devoted to regular teaching of the various branches taught in the public schools, and the nights will be devoted to lectures from men qualified to instruct in the school work. The law requires every teacher to attend, and this will mean that every teacher who teaches in the schools of either county next year will have had one month's instruction in the best methods of teaching before he begins work next fall.

These gentlemen together with the Boards of Education of the two counties cannot be commended too highly for the interest they are taking in the education of the masses. They are determined that their counties shall move forward with the increased interest now being felt in public education.

Isn't It Amusing.

To hear an enormous bride promise to obey a midget of a man?

To listen to a woman lie gracefully to a drug clerk when she buys beautifying agents?

To hear a fine conversationalist stammer when he talks to the one woman in the world—for him—until he is sure she will—sign "that paper?"

To watch the blase air of youths just out of short trousers, and to hear older men quiz them.

To see a goody-goody man pick up and drop a wicked book?

To hear men who cannot eat or drink discourse upon gluttons and drunkards?

To know that a woman makes her own gowns, then overhear her boast of her trouble with her dress-maker.

To watch smart women and clever men pulling the wool over the eyes of each other.

Robbed the Presidential Party.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 10.—During the visit of the Presidential party to the soldiers' home excitement was caused by the discovery that Secretary Wilson and Charles A. Moore had lost their pocket-books. Mr. Moore a minute after discovering his loss saw a man picking the pocket of other men in the crowd. A detective arrested the pickpocket and on his person were found the purses of Messrs. Wilson and Moore, besides several other pocketbooks well filled. It is believed the thief has followed the Presidential party all the way from Washington.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER

If New Revenue Bill Proves to be Illegal a Half Million in Taxes Will be Lost.

Special Correspondent of Reflector. RALEIGH, N. C. May, 13.

During the past few days there has been considerable anxiety in administration circles up at the capitol building regarding the legality of the new revenue act—and the fact that the question involves something like a half million dollars of the State's income from taxes, during the next two years, is enough to set the State officials by the ears.

The cause of the trouble is the alleged discovery by Wilmington lawyers that some of the numerous amendments to the bill made by the Senate (and afterwards agreed upon by the conference committee) were so "material" that the amended bill should again have been put upon its second and third readings and passed on separate days in both houses (after being so amended) in order to make its passage legal, according to the requirements of the Constitution, and that the Supreme Court will so hold if the law is attacked and taken into Court.

Lieutenant Governor Turner, the President of the Senate appears to be inclined to this view; indeed he goes so far as to state that he called attention to this very matter on the closing day of the session and advised the course suggested above. The writer of these lines (who reported the proceedings of the Senate, and whose recollection is clear concerning these amendments, some of which were unquestionably very important), without assuming to pass upon the "materiality" involved, or to essay to advance an opinion on the legality or constitutionality of the proceeding, is constrained to think that Governor Turner's view and statement are correct. Several able lawyers here hold to the same opinion.

Governor Aycock, and other equally as able as those referred to, take a contrary view, and do not think the act invalidated, by the failure to again put the bill on its second reading after being amended; that the amendments all related to clauses in the original bill and merely changed original provisions. They add that previous revenue bills, probably all of them of late years, have been passed as the last one was.

AS TO EXTRA SESSION OF LEGISLATURE.

It was proposed, when the question was first agitated, that the Governor should call an extra session of the Legislature, as the readiest and most effective remedy. But Governor Aycock did not take kindly to the suggestion, believing it to be unnecessary. The Governor's time and attention have so fully and completely taken up during the past week by the school book publishers that he really has had very little time or opportunity to give proper thought to any other important matter.

At this writing it looks as though a "case agreed" will be made up and taken to the Supreme Court for adjudication as early as practicable. If that Court does not uphold the new revenue act, one of two alternatives will result: Either the old revenue bill of 1899 will have to be accepted or an extra session of the Legislature will become necessary. The act of '99, enforced during the years of 1901-02, would fall short some $200,000 or more each year of raising the amount of revenue the bill of 1901 was designed to raise. Consequently many of the important appropriations for this year and next could not be paid. So, with many, an extra legislative session, with all its attendant expenses and temptations would be the preferable alternative. With others it would not be. Thus it will be seen that an extra session is not an impossibility, and even a probability, of the near future.

the possibilities for food production in Pan-America. The requirements of soil and climate for a great variety of foods and accessories now brought from the orient will be shown to be possessed by the countries of the Western World.

Alcohol and the Brain.

A lecture delivered by Dr. Victor Horsley in England on "The Action of Alcohol on the Brain" showed how fibers connect all parts of the brain so that it acts as a whole. It was desired to find out whether the brain as a whole works as well with alcohol as without. One way of testing this was by testing the reaction time, the length taken in perceiving a given signal. He tried a complex experiment, showing a signal with a number on it which was not to be signaled back unless it was above ten. This took longer, involving association of ideas, and the time from the very first was prolonged by alcohol. Professor Horsley said that chloroform, ether, nitrous oxide and similar narcotics acted in the same way. Alcohol produced a dissolution of the nerve centers.

Krapelin had tried the action of alcohol on muscular power by means of the pressure dynamometer, which was squeezed at regular intervals. After a rest alcohol was taken, and at first there was a little increase, soon followed by a notable decrease. Under the influence of tea there was no decrease at all. He showed a diagram constructed by Dr. Aschaffenberg representing the amount of type set up by certain compositors in a quarter of an hour before and after taking alcohol. The amount was made less by alcohol.

This morning THE REFLECTOR received a basket of strawberries, with the compliments of Riverside Nurseries, that are the finest we have seen. They were as large as walnuts, many of them even larger.

Not That Way Here.

Martin county Commissioners are advertising for a competent man to keep the County Home. It is not that way over here in Pitt. Instead of having to hunt a man to fill the place there is a long string of them hunting the job everytime the Commissioners go to make an appointment. Guess Pitt could send a good man over to take charge of the Home in Martin.

Going!
Going!
Gone!!

Going!

to advertise sometime in the future will not bring business to you today.

Going!!

to wait until times get better means the missing of many dollars that would come to you now for the asking.

Gone!!!

will be your opportunities - if you neglect this important matter and let your more enterprising competitor get ahead of you and stay ahead. Don't wait.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what you have to sell and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people.

The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part.
