OUR RALEIGH LETTER

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH, N. C. May, 27.

The rain and wind storms of the past week have worked sad havoc to crops and real property in a large territory of our State during the last five or six days—destroying millions of dollars worth, and just at a time, too, when we were congratulating ourselves that North Carolina had escaped the destructive elements that had caused so much damage in other States.

Here in Wake and Durham counties the rain fell in sheets, washing away most of the bridges across all the streams and ruining crops in miles of territory. The rural mail delivery has been suspended and the wheels of machinery in cotton and other mills stopped.

The storm appears to have been greatest and most destructive in the Piedmont section, especially along the Catawba river, while the mountainous streams of the French Broad and the Swanannoa have overflowed and inundated a vast area of country and several towns, including Biltmore. Asheville and Durham were left in darkness by the flooding of the electric light plants. In McDowell county alone the damage amounts to $200,000, in Burke $100,000 and many other counties suffer severely, although it is not yet possible to estimate the full damage, as communication is cut off.

It is said that to the rapid denudation of our forest is largely due the losses sustained in many of these counties; that the unprecedented rise of the streams is due to that fact, and that the same amount of rainfall 20 years ago would have caused little or no damage; that in the future, as the felling of timber trees goes on, we may expect similar or worse results. It is pointed out, however, that the denuding of the forests would not and will not be so great if people would stop their wastefulness in destroying the forest, and just here a word of caution and advice to our farmers and land owners to correct this destructive habit is not out of place.

While it is known that cotton has been greatly damaged and thousands of the acreage lost for this season, it is perhaps too early to correctly estimate the full effect of the damage in the crop this year and the price next fall.

IMPORTANT TO TAXPAYERS AS TO TAX-LISTERS.

The State Board of Tax Equalization has just sent out printed instructions to the hundreds of tax-listers throughout the State, defining their duties and the duties of tax-payers as well, as prescribed by the new revenue and machinery acts. Tax-payers as well as tax-listers should thoroughly acquaint themselves with this document.

One of the features of the new law is that when a tax-payer fails to give in notes, bonds, stock, or other evidences of debt owed by him, the same shall not be recoverable in an action at law in the courts of this State. That alone will catch many a "tax dodger."

Happenings in North Carolina.

Edward Wilcox, a drummer from Portsmouth, and J. H. Norman, of Weldon, were drowned in a branch between Weldon and Halifax early Friday night. The river had backed up into the branch and made the water 15 feet deep in the road, and not knowing the water was so deep they drove in the branch and were drowned.

The damage to the Western North Carolina division of the Southern Railway by the recent floods is estimated at $500,000.

A handsome young woman stopping in Durham abandoned her 3-months-old baby Saturday. She left the baby with another woman for an hour but never returned.

From a boiler explosion in Moore county, a few days ago, the fireman was blown 70 feet and landed in the fork of a tree. One of the man's legs was blown entirely off.

The Raleigh Christian Advocate is getting up a party of North Carolinians to attend the National Christian Endeavor Convention, which meets in San Francisco, Cal., July 18th. A rate of $65.35 for round trip has been secured and Dr. T. N. Ivey, of Raleigh, expects to have quite a large party.

Is the race to become extinct while our women hunt for work higher than that which God gave them? It is infinitely lower work. What Woman's Club or Woman's Column can match the home which the wife and mother makes beautiful and sacred for her husband and sons? institutions among them, Baptist College and Peace institute—and this week the splendid Agricultural and Mechanical College is holding one of the most brilliant and successful commencements in its history, beginning yesterday, an outline of which was printed in these letters two weeks ago. At the Baptist Female College the two students who nursed the small-pox patients (Misses Bessie and Miriam Welch of Waynesville) were presented with gold medals "for heroic conduct." LLEWELYN.

Hades!

And now comes an esteemed sect of Christians which, fearful lest somebody's sensibilities shall be shocked, decrees even the word "hell" shall be no longer used, but there shall be substituted therefor what is regarded the milder and less offensive expression, "hades."

Pretty soon we will see the Bible made over on society column lines. Religion will be made into a sort of 5 o'clock tea affair, warranted to furnish harmless amusement. We will have angels in spring organdies, and for the wicked no punishment more severe than a short term of service on the golf links. Hades will be pictured as an attractive summer resort, and every man and woman will be searching the decalogue for the most attractive sins warranted to insure a good long stay there.

Does "hades" suggest anything more severe? How many of those prone to falling from grace will be held back by the threat of "hades?"

Better stick to hell!—Atlanta Constitution.

Martin County Not Flooded With Loafers.

In the last issue of the Willamston Enterprise the following appeared:

Robersonville, N. C. May 21st. I notice in the EASTERN REFLECTOR dated May 17th, an article in reference to the action of our County Commissioners in advertising for a suitable man to superintend the county home. I don't just understand that article. But the idea comes to me that the editor does not think Martin county has any men competent to fill the position. I beg to inform the editor that Martin county people are proud to know that their county is not flooded with loafers who stand around the court house door at the regular meetings of our Commissioners and beg for appointments; and don't care to be bored with the presence of any, from its sister county. I have noticed several items of that kind in the REFLECTOR and could not tell why they were written. It must be that the editor has a feeling of prejudice against the dear old county of Martin.

I was reared in Pitt and the name will ever be dear to me; but must say quite a change has come over them since my departure, if the statement of the editor be true, in regards to their dependence upon the county for a job.

I hope the gentleman does not expect the patrons of his paper to accept such an expression of the people of his county. I am sure the people of this county would like to have an explanation, so please let us have it.

Yours truly, J. C. SMITH.

THE REFLECTOR has no explanation to make except that the facts are just as stated in the article to which the above is a reply. Of course every one here knows that when a public position is to be filled there are usually a number of applicants for it. Certainly all who apply cannot be successful in getting the place, and those who do not get it are just as good men as those who do. Because a man aspires to a public position does not make him a loafer, even though Mr. Smith calls them loafers, and he ought to be ashamed for making such a charge against the people of his own county. It is the right of any man to aspire to a public position if he wants it, and it goes without saying that there are always more men who desire office than there are offices to be filled. Still it is nothing against their characters to want an office. It certainly is unusual that men have to be advertised for to fill an office, and that is why we noticed that the Commissioners of Martin county were making such an advertisement. Of course THE REFLECTOR saying that Pitt could send them over a man to fill the position was only a bit of pleasantry, as we do not want any of our good men to go away. The suggestion that we have prejudice in the matter is groundless, as we have none nor is there reason for any. However, it is always to be supposed that any county is glad to have good men from other counties go into it, but if Martin is an exception to this and does not want them, then Mr. Smith and the other good men who have gone there from Pitt had better come back home.

And now the Honorable ex-Senator Marion Butler comes out and say he is a gold bug. Alas, how the once mighty do flop when they lose their job and want to strike another! It is enough to make folks think that but few politicians have honor.

The Wilson News recently issued a 40-page trade edition. It is a splendid paper and worth thousands of dollars to Wilson and the business of the town.

Wheeling, West Virginia, has had a case to which the term "dead drunk" is peculiarly applicable. John Davie was picked up in the street, pronounced dead by two doctors and sat upon by a coroner's jury, which found that death was due to heart failure. The body had not been in an undertaker's rooms ten minutes before the corpse sat up and sang the Doxology, whereupon the late defunct was taken to court and fined $5 for intoxication. Unless Mr. Davis shall reform he will stand a very good chance of being buried alive some day.—Philadelphia Record.

If girls had less of a smattering of high-sounding knowledge, and were better grounded in the practical lessons of living, it would be infinitely better for their future happiness.—June Ladies' Journal.

It is better to follow a good example than to leap a bad one. Speaking of plutocrats, a billion is not inclined to make one bilious. All people who throw bouquets at themselves are not contortionists.

The Feet of His Face. An amusing story is told at the expense of Winston Churchill, the author. An old man, seeing the picture of Churchill displayed in the window of a Baltimore haberdashery, inquired of a bystander whom it represented. "Winston Churchill," was the reply. "Where does he preach?" Being told that Mr. Churchill was not a preacher, he asked: "Ain't he? What did you say his name is?" "Winston Churchill. He writes novels." "Does what?" "Writes novels." The man shook his head with a look of pity and declared: "Too bad! Too bad! He has a good face."

At the Examination. Teacher (to little Isidor, who is very poor at fractions)—If I need 3 1/2 yards of cloth for a suit and the cloth costs 2 1/2 gulden a yard, what will the suit cost? Isidor—To begin with, teacher, 3 yards would be enough for a suit, and you could get it at our store for 2 gulden. The suit would cost you 2 gulden.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A STEP AT THE TIME.

Begin With the Shorter! Once and They Get Longer.

Screen Doors and Windows at Ormond & Carr's.

The Tar is well over the banks now and still rising.

Court began today with Judge W. A. Hoke presiding.

More rain today with a promised continuation tomorrow.

Cigars and Cheroots at Reflector Book Store, on the corner.

This section had another hard rain Sunday afternoon.

The weather does not show much disposition to get settled.

We missed a big freshet in the Tar. There was not much of a rise.

The points the average boy can't give on baseball are hardly worth having.

Quite a contrast in the temperature of the weather Saturday and Sunday.

The freshets and washouts up the country broke up mail schedules pretty bad.

Only those who had to come are in attendance upon court. It is a busy time with farmers.

Nearly all the farmers are "in the grass" now. The rains have made grass grow for a sight.

See Ormond & Carr before buying your Ice Cream Freezer. They have White Mountain, Peerless and Iceland.

Mr. J. E. Fleming tells us he has a turkey hen at home that has laid 47 eggs this season and is still laying.

Uses the Newspaper.

A Boston merchant who has been interviewed for The Salem News said: "The biggest advertiser will in time get the most business. A newspaper will in twenty-four hours or less get an announcement before the greater part of the buying public, reaching thousands who pay no attention to other forms of publicity. Newspaper advertising is dignified, specific and prompt to bring results."—Philadelphia Record.

Dogs with bad habits get people as well as themselves into trouble sometimes. A young man in Pennsylvania is in jail because he shot his uncle who shot and killed the young man's dog which persisted in pirouetting around and sucking the old man's eggs.—Wilmington Star.
