OUR RALEIGH LETTER

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH, N. C. June, 10

One of the most important developments of the past week—a matter of vital interest to all our people—was the settlement of the school-book question, a matter which has been under consideration since the day of introduction of the Aycock bill in the Senate last January.

The fact that it has been settled, and settled right, as is generally believed, that the school children of North Carolina are to get the benefit of the use of the best of books at prices cheaper than ever before is a matter calling for the thanks and that appreciation which the public will no doubt bestow upon those who had the matter in charge, for their painstaking labors and the good judgment exercised in the premises.

The selection of school-books by the State Board of Education gives general satisfaction, and the award of contracts at the reduced price of books is very gratifying, as a saving of about one-third has been effected in the cost of some of the books. Some changes were made, and properly so, but the Board adopted Holmes' Readers, Maury's Geography, Hansell's History and Harrington Spellers, which are in use and which can be found in almost every home in North Carolina. This saves the people great expense that a change in these books would have entailed, and yet secures lower prices—just what the General Assembly wanted to do. The above named books are all in use and seem to be satisfactory. The first three of them are published by the University Publishing Company, and the prices at which they offered them were lower than any others on most books, and as low on all.

MISCELLANEOUS MENTION.

The appeal for help from Bakersville and Mitchell county is charged so full of humanity that it ought to reach the heart of every humane citizen and loose the purse-strings of those able to help the flood sufferers of that region. Have you given anything to the good cause yet?

The marked improvements at the A. & M. College and the State Normal, contemplated for the next scholastic year, are among the pleasant and encouraging developments to note this week. The "good old North State" is certainly becoming aroused along educational lines, and first thing somebody knows we'll be at the head of the procession of States—Southern at any rate.

The anticipated action of the Board of Agriculture in providing for a State Veterinarian transpired according to prediction, and is now accompanied by the comforting announcement that the A. & M. College is to have the ablest and best fitted professor of Agriculture to be found in all the South. Good again!

While the experts, who cultivate our cotton crop in Wall Street offices at New York, agree that the increase of acreage amounts to about 9 per cent. this year, the late season, the poor stand and other untoward features surrounding the calculations of the harvest are said to more than offset the increased acreage; and they tell us

why we sell more
CLOTHING

than any store in Pitt County.

1. We carry the largest assortment.
2. We are always up to date in styles.
3. We never misrepresent our goods.
4. We are always lowest in prices.

Come and be convinced.

Of course at

we won't grow as much of the staple this anno domini as we grew last year. "Less cotton, better prices." Looked at from this standpoint, we are all duly thankful, is to be hoped.

Little more than four months from now and the State Fair will renew our acquaintance. By the way, we are going to have a bang-up "head on" collision between two iron monsters, commonly cyclept locomotives, and occular demonstration is to be made of the fact that the engineers and others of the train crew can be killed by these nowadays too-oft-happening accidents. It will be a novel sight—now to everybody; for even the man who has been in a railway smash-up never saw it as it "happened." Come to the Fair and see this one, and learn points on how to save your life some day.

Burke seems to have "struck it rich" again. A "rich free gold quartz vein" assaying over $20 per ton has been discovered there, so a telegram of Saturday morning states, by a resident of Morganton on his farm in Burke county.

The everlasting, unceasing, endless troubles" of the State's prison, or penitentiary, is still confronting the people of North Carolina. This time it takes the shape of a sufferer by the recent floods, the "suffering" footing up some $40,000 loss on the farms which the management is supposed to cultivate. The dykes are washed away and the picture of disaster seems to be something fearful to contemplate, even at long range. Let us all hope for better things—if there are any optimists sitting upon the jury of public opinion in this case.

A. & M. College Catalogue.

The catalogue of the A. & M. College is received. It shows 302 students and 28 teachers. The students earned by work last year, $2,485. Every member of the graduating class and some of the Juniors had engagements for work the following year in desirable businesses.

The College offers complete instruction in Agriculture, Horticulture, Civil Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Cotton Manufacturing and Dyeing. There is manual training in carpentry, wood-turning, machine work, drawing and designing, engine, boiler and dynamo tending, dairying, horticulture and agriculture.

The Board of Agriculture has just established 120 scholarships especially for agricultural students and appropriated $2,000 for agricultural work by these students in order that they may be instructed along these lines and also may be helped in paying their expenses.

All Will Advertise.

A glance into the future is afforded by the newspapers of Burlington, Vermont where every local banking institution advertises with as much spirit and enterprise as a department store. The Merchants Bank (one of the oldest and most conservative in the State) changes its "ads" every day, and besides telling what it can do, the people gives good advice which leads them to save money. The time is not distant every unfossiliferous financial institution in the land will follow this example.—Philadelphia Record.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10th.

The idea of Mexicanizing this government by giving the President a third term, as a step toward keeping him in office permanently, by going through the farce of holding an election every four years, as the Mexicans do with Diaz, has been thrown down hard enough to have been killed every time it has reared its head in this country, but it isn't dead.

If Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina, did not land what he went to the White House after a day or two ago, it wasn't because he didn't jolly along one of Mr McKinley's pet ideas.

Probably of Representative's bill to repeal the Morgan trust, have received hints from the party leaders to go slow in supporting that bill, if they wish to avoid trouble and to be again nominated, and they are getting more than hints from the Protective Tariff League, and the Home Market Club, both of which are fighting Babcock in every way they know how.

Whatever else may be said of Attorney General Knox, "He ain't no cheap man." He has just bought a residence erected by Mrs. Geo. W. Childs, paying it is said, $150,000 for it.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Virtues of a Milk Diet.

Milk is the latest and most approved dietetic fad. The woman who is fair and with 40 staring her in the face and who is determined not to be fat makes her breakfast and lunch of milk and fresh fruit.

The fresh, wholesome beauty of the young queen of Holland is attributed to her frugal diet of the national milk and cheese, and the extraordinary vitality of the aged Roman pontiff is another evidence of what a rigorous diet will do for even so delicate a man as Pope Leo has always been.

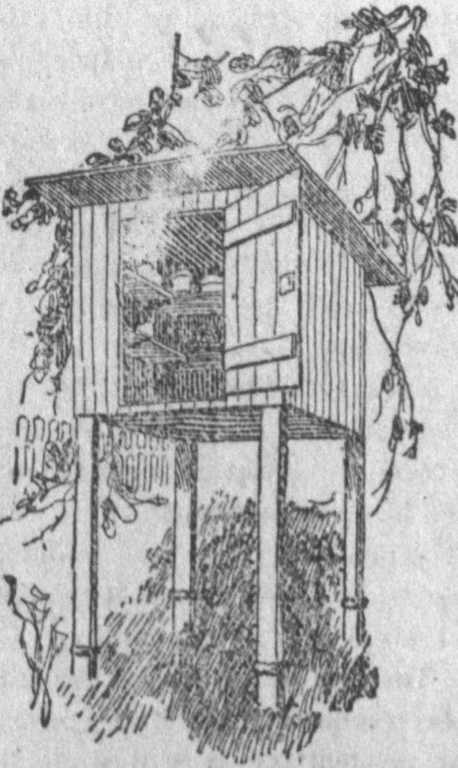

The milk diet is of more value than many complexion washes, and as a means of adding to or diminishing one's weight it has no equal.

The popular superstition that milk is fattening arises from the fact that many misguided people, in addition to a heavy meal, drink milk sufficient for another meal and complain that it disagrees with them and increases their weight.

In the first place, 1 1/2 pints of pure milk, or three glasses, contain besides water enough food in concentrated form and properly proportioned to make a meal for an adult human being.

An Outdoor Pantry.

People with plenty of ground space, yet constricted houses, may profitably take a leaf from the book of south country household economy.

In a little Western town, the other day, the most popular citizen soundly whipped a tough character, and to vindicate the majesty of the law the offender was brought up for trial. The jury was out about two minutes. "Well," said the Judge, "what have the jury to say?" "May it please the Court," responded the foreman, "we, the jury, find that the prisoner is not guilty of hittin' with intent to kill, but simply to paralyze; and he done it." The verdict was received with applause. Another quaint verdict was recently rendered in a rural settlement in Georgia. The case was before the Coroner, and the jury found that "the deceased came to his death by tryin' to light his pipe by a electric light, which can't be done successful."
