We Beg Your Pardon

We have an apology to make in connection with our goods but its on the score of prices. They are so low we feel almost ashamed to quote them. Come let us whisper the prices in your ear. They are so low you cannot hear them from the outside. Few pieces of New White Goods just arrived.

Yours to please,

Pillars Of Our Prosperity.

The uselessness of Europe's carping at American prosperity and imagining how by some commercial political league of all Europe it can be checked, is apparent by a reference to the pillars by which that prosperity is supported.

The United States have 7 per cent of the world's area and 5 per cent of its population and their population is increasing faster than any other country's.

The total wealth far exceeds that of any other nation—is at least fifteen billions greater than Great Britain's—and it is distributed per capita more evenly than any other nation's.

Their money investment in colleges and schools of all grades and the number of pupils attending them are equal to those of any other two nations combined.

They have 41 per cent. of the world's total railroad mileage, and 12,000 more miles than the trackage of all European countries put together

They produce more gold than any other part of the world save Africa, more silver than any other country save Mexico, and coin annually about one-fifth of all the world's metallic money.

They manufacture every year a greater total product than England, France and Germany combined.

They produce 80 per cent. of all the world's cotton, cotton-seed, and corn, 40 per cent. of all its steel and other mineral products, 33 per cent. of all its coal, 30 per cent. of all its iron and all its grain, and 25 per cent. of all its wheat.

These are the pillars of our temple of prosperity, Europe could not even shake them.—New York World.

England's Three Rivals.

Shanghai, June 12.—Responding to a toast to the navy at the annual banquet of the China Association last night, Vice Admiral Seymour said Great Britain had three great rivals—Russia, Germany and the United States.

He pointed out that Russia was not only extending her territory but was repressing trade, Germany was competing evenly with England both in regard to trade in this country and in sea power, with which Great Britain will have to reckon some day.

The United States, he said, was the greatest trade rival of England, but this was not in conflict with Great Britain's policy of the open door. In conclusion Admiral Seymour protested against any policy of trade exclusion.

Missed His Mark.

Memphis, June 12.—Joe. H. Wright, pursued by bloodhounds through swamps and canebrakes for four days, surrendered yesterday morning to the Memphis police. He is wanted for murdering Albert Brumley and fatally wounding A. J. Munt at Covington in Randolph county. He intended to kill Hunt and a man named Bloom but instead killed Brumley, a bystander. This afternoon Wright made a startling confession, charging that he was at home when the crime was committed; that there was a conspiracy between himself and his youngest son, James, aged 24, to kill Hunt and that a part of the conspiracy was that himself and son should engage in a sham fight in the presence of Hunt and kill them both. Later on the son, he says, killed Hunt and fatally wounded Brumley. Wright says he fled to avoid being lynched and walked all the way to Memphis. He is 36 years old and it seems almost certain he will be lynched when returned to the scene of the crime. The son will be arrested at once.

Horse Thief Lynched.

Memphis, Tenn., June 11.—News reached here today from Hamburg, Ark., of the lynching of James L. McLaid, a white man, under arrest on the charge of larceny. The man had previously served a term in the penitentiary when arrested for stealing a pony. Monday night the people of the Hamburg neighborhood stormed the jail at that point secured the prisoner and lynched him in the woods near by. His remains were found dangling from a limb. The body had been riddled with bullets. The scene of the lynching is off the railroad, and the people of the community have tried to keep the affair secret.

Redeeming Check Stamps.

Collector of Internal Revenue McClain yesterday announced the Government ruling as to the method to be followed for the redemption of stamps on checks after July 1, when the tax reduction goes into effect. Claims of this kind must be made upon forms in the name of bank or persons, firm or company which is the bona fide owner of them. The ownership of the stamps imprinted upon the checks must be proved by certificates of the printer who purchased them from the Collector, and by the bank which had them printed, in some cases, and in other cases by certificate of the bank which ordered them from the Collector.

In other cases, where banks have bought in the stamped checks of their customers and desire to present them for redemption, the right of the bank to make the claim must be supported by a certificate of the customers to the effect that he has sold such stamped checks to the bank and is willing that it should make claim for redemption of them.—Philadelphia Record.

Engineer Turrentine Dismissed

The trial of engineer V. L. Turrentine for the murder of the negro, who was killed at Grifton by the passenger train Saturday night, was dismissed Wednesday night. There was no evidence against the engineer and the case was dismissed. Engineer Turrentine is running on the passenger train between Weldon and Kinston until Capt. Geo. Smith is able to take his place again.

Andrew Joyner to Report the Constitutional Convention.

Winston-Salem, June 12.—Mr. Andrew Joyner left this afternoon for Richmond, Va. He has been engaged by The Washington Post and Richmond Times to report the proceedings of the constitutional convention, which met today, and will be in session probably five months. The Times of Sunday says it is hoped that the session will end in time for the new constitution to be voted on at the November election. These papers are to be congratulated on securing the services of Mr. Joyner, who is a bright newspaper man.

Sand Worth $320.

The gold miners who have been operating a hydraulic plant in the Catawba river have made the discovery that the black sand in the bed of the river is rich with gold. An assay of a quantity of this sand recently made, shows a yield of $320 per ton. This is an extraordinary rich yield and if all the sand in the company's workings hold up to it, the result will be a veritable bonanza.

Old gold miners have always claimed that there is gold in the sand of the streams in this section, and in back the 50s the sand was worked with good results, by the primitive system of panning. Mr. J. S. Spencer, president of the Commercial National Bank, relates that when he was in business in the Uwharrie section as a member of the firm, of Smitherman & Spencer, a great proportion of his business was with people who paid for their goods in gold dust, obtained by panning the sand in the Uwharrie river and its tributary streams. The bed of that river is as rich now as it was then and with improved methods of securing the gold, offers a profitable field for the prospector.

A BEAUTIFUL MARRIAGE.

Mr. John L. Hassell Weds Miss Blanche W. Barden.

Plymouth, N. C. June 13.—As the first gleam of old Sol flitted across mother earth on Wednesday morning, June 12th, there seemed to be a cloud banked against the distant horizon, but as the sun climbed from behind the eastern hills, flooded the earth with magnificent splendor, kissed the dewdrop from every leaf and wafted the clouds from sight people began to fill the streets, wending their way with one accord to the M. E. Church. Here it was that the eyes of our people beheld a decoration the like of which has never graced any holy sanctuary in this town before and hardly think its equal was ever seen in the State.

Before the chancel stood an octagonal arch beautifully decorated with evergreen, around the chancel rail and pulpit was entwined white goods artistically looped and confined with evergreen, here and there stood potted flowers and ferns of the most choice selections all blending so perfectly with the decorations.

What meanest all this? a perfect day—a multitude of people a church so beautifully decorated and added to all this nature seemed to have donned her prettiest robes and birds from every branch chanted their softest and sweetest lyre. It means that within this holy edifice, before this concourse of people and beneath this arch one of Plymouth's fairest daughters was soon to plight her troth to the man of her choice.

At 7:25 a carpet of purest white was spread down each aisle and the bridal party entered the church keeping time to the sweet notes of the organ under the artistic touch of Miss Mamie Clyde Hassell. The attendants took their positions in and around the chancel as follows: Mr. Warren Biggs, of Williamston with Miss Sadie Meakin, of Baltimore; Mr. Chas Godwin, of Williamston, with Miss Anna Savage, of Plymouth; Mr. Edwin Nichols, of Windsor with Miss Ida Hassell, of Williamston; Mr. H. B. Shedberry, of Plymouth, with Miss Lillian Green, of Louisburg Mr. J. J. Hassell with Miss Ruth Barden, of Plymouth; Mr. Frank F. Fagan with Miss Pauline Harrison, of Plymouth; Mr. Alonza Hassell, of Williamston, with Miss Nona Brinkley of Plymouth; Mr. Dennis Biggs, of Williamston, with Miss Annie Mae Walker, of Creswell; Mr. Kader Crawford, of Williamston, with Miss Luitz, of Baltimore. The bride entered leaning on the arm of her uncle Mr. Walter Wilson, of Greenville, while the groom was attended by his best man, Mr. W. S. Summerill, of Edenton. The bride was followed by little Miss Florence Horthal, carrying the ring in a silver tray, then came the Ushers, Mr. E. R. Marriner, of Edenton, and Mess. E. D. Cartstarphen, James Norman and Arthur Chesson, of Plymouth.

At the chancel rail stood the Rev. Robt. Willis, of Edenton, who according to the beautiful ritual of the M. E. Church, with the golden band and innovations of God pronounced the solemn benediction which made John Linwood Hassell and Blanche Walter Barden man and wife.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. N. S. Barden, who with her angelic grace, sweet innocent beauty and gentle manners has long been considered one of the truest types of Southern womanhood who to know was but to love. The groom is and has been for some time an officer on the N. & S. Steamer Plymouth, where he has made a host of friends and won an

The bridal presents were numerous and most costly ever given in this town.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hassell left on the 7:50 train for Buffalo, N. Y., where they will spend ten days before returning to their home in Williamston, N. C.

The bridal party was given a reception Tuesday evening at the home of the brides mother on Washington street.

The Way to Prosperity.

A successful man once said this was his

Motto:

Early to bed, early to rise, hustle like thunder and advertise.

Advertising

in THE REFLECTOR will bring you success. Don't lag behind in the race, but let the people know what you are here for.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what you have to sell and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people.

The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part.
