Dangerous.

Old houses that are moved from one location in town to another are a menace to other property as well as an obstruction when left standing for a long time on the streets. When started they ought to be required to keep moving until the destination is reached.

Notice.

The ladies managing the Measuring Party to be given in the opera house Tuesday night for the benefit of the Episcopal church, wish to state that all children under 15 years of age who attend will be charged 25 cents admission fee, which entitles them to supper and the concert.

Lost a Foot.

Mr. D. C. Cooper, of Tarboro, was a workman here on the Jeffress prize house that is being built. He had been to Tarboro and was returning here on the freight train today. At Staton's Mill, a flag station six miles north of Greenville, Mr. Cooper got off the train while a brief stop was made and went up to the engine to talk to get the engineer. When he went to back on the train it was moving and he made a misstep and fell on the track. A wheel run over his right foot and crushed it badly.

Mr. Cooper was brought on the train to Greenville and placed in charge of Dr. E. A. Moye, who found his injuries of such a nature as to necessitate amputation of the foot. The operation was performed this afternoon.

MONDAY, JUNE 24, 1901.

A cotton seed oil mill trust, with the modest initial capital of $100,000,000, is forming this week and our cotton growers may look for a drop in the price of cotton seed next season—unless this trust is unlike the others in its plans of procedure, and that's not likely.

Charlotte and Tarboro come into the Virginia-Carolina baseball league this week, having bought the Portsmouth and Newport News franchises respectively, and the clubs from these towns being bodily transferred to them. The league now is composed of four North Carolina and two Virginia towns, viz: Raleigh, Wilmington, Charlotte, Tarboro, Richmond and Norfolk. A new season begins this week, the clubs all starting even. Wilmington wins the first series, with Norfolk and Newport Newstied for second place, and Raleigh, Portsmouth and Richmond following in the order named.

Sugar Beets in North Carolina.

Experiments performed by the writer covering a period of two years, show that certain localities in the mountainous section of our State can produce a sugar beet in every way suitable for commercial purposes. Such localities exist in Ashe, Watauga, Caldwell, Mitchell Madison, Haywood, Buncombe, Henderson, Transylvania, Jackson, Macon, Graham and Swain counties, and it is possible that these areas may extend into Alleghany, Wilkes, Yancey, Clay and Cherokee counties.

During the coming year we hope to locate more definitely the suitable areas, and for that purpose we desire the cooperation of all persons who are interested. It is our purpose to distribute sugar beet seed next spring to all who apply for them, and to analyze samples of the beets sent us. The only expense to the farmer will be for fertilizers and cultivation, but the beets grown will amply repay this.

A sugar beet factory is a necessary adjunct to the field. Such a factory can be successfully maintained in any good beet producing section of sufficient area, if there be an abundance of water, limestone and coal. In the probable sugar beet section the water supply is abundant, deposits of limestone are known, and the Tennessee coal formations are not very far distant. In addition to the sugar which is produced, the molasses formed as a by product may be utilized for the manufacture of alcohol or vinegar and the pulp of the beet remaining after the extraction of the sugar is very excellent for stock feeding or for fertilizing purposes.

Good beets delivered at the factory sell for from four to four dollars and a half per ton, and the product of one acre is worth from sixty to seventy dollars. About one half of this is sufficient to cover the cost of production, including the rental value of land. The profits to the factory are about three dollars for each ton of beets purchased and utilized for sugar making.

In New York State sugar is made from the beet and in Louisiana from cane, but it is not manufactured at any points between these two States.

A bulletin is in course of preparation and will be issued from the press in July, giving in detail the results of the work. A copy will be sent to the address of each party on our mailing list who resides in the section named, and to such others as may apply.

The prospect for the introduction of this industry into the State is promising and the matter is well worth the attention of our people in the western counties.

In all political parties there seem to be men who go it on the line of rule or ruin. When they fail to get office themselves they rail against those who are in office. They pretend to grow exceedingly tired of ring rule and political bosses. They seem to imagine that the country is going to the dogs and that the people generally are in great jeopardy. They often become desperate and advocate any old thing just in order to break up some imaginary ring. They seem to forget that all their vaporings and hallucinations are due to the fact that they themselves are not in the ring against which they hurl their philippics. There is a streak of selfishness passing through most mortals.—Lexington Dispatch.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH, N. C. June, 24

The recent interview of Gen. Julian S. Carr, printed in a New York paper—wherein he declares that he is "sick of Bryanism," that McLaurin in his fight against Tillmanism in S. C. "represents the right principle and will ultimately win," and that he (Gen. Carr) is sick and tired of seeing small, peanut politicians dominate the Democratic party and control the politics of North Carolina and the South, and that it is time the business and commercial interests should take a more active interest in politics and get out on a "broader beam," etc.—is attracting the attention of every body except a few State papers which have not noticed it at all, among them being papers in which Gen. Carr is known to own large if not controlling interest.

Whatever it means, if anything more than it bears on its face, Gen. Carr's statement is very emphatic and shows him to be as much out with the "machine" as he was during and just after the primary for Senator last year. It was not generally known, however, that he was "thoroughly disgusted" with "Bryanism" as he now says he is—and that, too, after the General banqueted and rode Mr. Bryan in a palace-car all over the State last year, footing the bill, as usual.

TAXATION OF STATE OFFICIALS' INCOME.

After an epidemic of discussion, generally condemnatory, and the exemption of executive State and judicial officers' salaries from the income tax law, it is now stated that the State officials up at the capitol will "give in" their incomes any way, although not legally compelled to do so. If they don't they ought to do so—there's no question about that. It is not ascertained whether any of the judges will or not. Meantime the tax-listers continue the Williard law, "inquisition," which makes the average citizen who passes through it feel not quite as large as 30 cents.

BRUTALITY AND KILLING OF CONVICTS.

Another poor devil of a convict has been shot to death by a guard at Durham. His name was George Daniels and he was a white man. His offense was "trying to escape." There's entirely too much brutality shown helpless prisoners in North Carolina, and if the courts would put stripes on some of the brutes who maltreat and kill them a reform might be worked—in time, possibly. Something needs to be done to correct the evil. A human life may not be important in the sight of men, when clothed in convict stripes, but it doesn't belong to any man, and he has no right to take it contrary to the law of the State and the commands of God. Stop it!

NO HEALING BY "SCIENCE" FOR US

The citizens of High Point are apparently determined to be rid of the new "College of Science and Healing" recently located there and which the Secretary of State a short time ago refused to charter, acting on the advice of the Attorney General. The head of the institution, a "Dr. McKnight," was recently detected in leading a young girl pupil astray, it is claimed, and when a mob attempted to get him out and chastise him he fired upon the crowd and wounded one of fleeing "vigilantes" in the heel! That was a pretty galling, but the "Doctor" did not stop there. He had the chief of police and others arrested for the attempted mobbing, and a day or two ago the "Doctor's" detective got into a row with a citizen, and the "de-ective" was jailed in default of $700 bond. Then the citizens got together and resolute the thing out of town. Whether the "Doctor" and his physical plant will be as slow in following the resolution as the constitution is in following the flag remains to be seen. At any rate this "college" appears to be a bad egg and it will probably pay ambitious youths and maidens to give it a wide berth.

LLEWXAM.

Don't Miss It.
