DOWN IN FLORIDA.

PALM BEACH, Fla., July 4.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

Since last writing you from Jenson I have changed my place of abode. I am at present living at Palm Beach. This beautiful town lies fifty miles south of Jenson. It is on a peninsula bordered on the west by the beautiful Lake Worth, on the east by the Atlantic Ocean.

The largest part of this place belongs to H. M. Flagler, of the Standard Oil Company. He is the owner of two mammoth hotels here, one known as the Breakers the other as the Royal Poinciana. The Breakers lies fifty yards back and faces the ocean, the Poinciana, only a quarter of a mile west, borders on Lake Worth, consequently the winter tourist has his choice of living near salt water or the fresh water.

Mr. Editor, I wish I had time to give you a better description of this haven of rest, but time and space compel me to be a little short. The grounds surrounding both hotels are laid out with every variety of rare tropical plants and flowering shrubs. One long avenue between the two hotels is lined with some splendid specimens of the Australian pines interwound with variety of flowering shrubs.

I might also state that the Poinciana covers twelve acres of ground and can accommodate fifteen hundred guests, Breakers, not as large, accomodates one thousand. The Company is at present adding on a thousand rooms, and it is on this work as carpenters that Mr. Scott and myself are employed. I receive two dollars and a quarter per day and my foreman has promised to increase my wages.

Today being the 4th there is a grand celebration across the Lake at what is known as West Palm Beach and Scott and I are going to take it in. There is going to be every kind of sport in the way of races on land and water, and the day is to wind up with a grand and elaborate ball at the hotel. Scott and I have been appointed for the night as special policemen and watchmen at the rate of three dollars per night. I must now conclude, with best regards and wishes to be remembered to all friends. A. B. KITRELL.

Several Boys Sick.

Two boys of Mr. W. B. Wilson, three of Mr. Ollen Warren who were visiteng them, two of Mr. J. A. Dupree, two of Mr. J. G. Bowling and one of Mr. W. L. Brown are quite sick. A remarkable coincidence about this is that all of the boys were taken sick about the same time last week and all have about the same symptoms. During the previous week of hot weather these boys had been going swimming together every day in what is known as the old Greene's mill run not far from town. Their sickness may be due to being too much in the water. If not it is a strange occurrence.

A Boston man, and his name is Smith, has made a discovery which will be worth $250,000,000 to him if it pans out as he hopes it will. He has discovered that he is the owner of 160 acres of land in the heart of Chicago, covered with nice and nobby houses.—Wilmington Star.

Yet People Live!

Almost the greatest of human mysteries is that anybody should be alive. It would be an easy matter to prove by an arithmetical process that everybody should be dead. Not only are people alive but their number increases at such a rate that in three hundred and fifty years (according to the statistician) the world will be overpopulated. The army of microscopists who go about scraping the surfaces of things in their mad hunt for microbes report that the telephone as well as the street-car strap and everything else which men handle is the lair of microbes, among which may be the germs of fatal disease. They have induced the churches to abandon the communion cup in favor of individual cups, not for the sake of cleanliness but to prevent the distribution of bacteria. A Boston man who is regarded by his neighbors as sane has been impressed by the statement that whenever a consumptive sneezes the air is filled with the microbes of tuberculosis, and he has urged the use of an anti-germ muzzle. A Chicago bacteriologist is reported to have had all his teeth drawn because he considered it impossible in any other way to destroy the bacilli which lodge in the mouth. Another hygienic person who believes that the air is crowded with disease microbes has been consistent enough to live in a germ-proof dwelling.

The active promoters of disease being eager to attack men everywhere, it is clear that it is fatal to the law of averages for any large number of persons to be alive. The most common precautions against disease are neglected, according to all the sanitarians. It is in spite of the rules of mathematics that each census shows a great increase in the population. It is up to the sanitarians and bacteriologists to explain why we are not all dead instead. The sanitarians affirm that a house in which there is no escape of deadly sewer-gas is an exception, while nearly all public buildings into which people are crowded are said to be without an adequate system of ventilation. The crimes against the laws of personal hygiene are incalculable. It is not to be supposed that disease germs are of modern origin, and it must be admitted that in sanitary science and protective medicine generally there has been great progress. The result is a lowering of the death rate in all civilized countries. Yet this does not explain how so many of our forefathers were able to live long enough to rear large families. The fact seems to be that men are too preverse to succumb as they should to conditions which the scientists regard as deadly.—Philadelphia Record.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 8.

It is an ill wind that blows good to nobody. By the same token it may be said to be mighty poor weather that does not contribute somewhat to the benefit of some class of business going to make up the sum of human affairs and economies.

While the physical man has been suffering and sweltering in his own perspiration for a week, while several thousands of people have actually succumbed and died from the effects of heat, especially in the overcrowded and badly ventilated tenement districts of the great cities of the North, the cotton and some other crops of North Carolina and the South, what the storms and floods left of them, have been greatly benefitted by the hot weather, and the crop prospects over a wide area of this section have been materially brightened by the persistence and torridity of old sol's rays. Let's be thankful for that, while we withhold some of the expletives on our tongue's end, and answer the enquiry of the hot-weather idiot with this reply: "Yes, it's hot enough for me, but not too hot for cotton."

A DISTRESSING CASE OF CROOKEDNESS.

A score of mighty sick people in Raleigh—a score and one. That is the number of members of a fraternal and beneficial organization here known as the "Knights of Honor," each of whom has been carrying an insurance of $2,000 on his life for years, and some of them 20 to 25 years. Most of them are now old men, past sixty, who have paid in monthly assessments amounting in the aggregate to the value of their policies, and who cannot now secure new insurance on any terms—good old citizens, of limited incomes, who are about to lay down life's cares and burdens to answer the Master's call. This $2,000 insurance represented all their savings, and it has been a satisfaction and a solace to them to believe that their aged widows and children would have the little nest egg to help them meet the exactions of a livelihood when the head of the family was gone.

Imagine their feelings now that they have learned that they have been ruined, their insurance lost, their premiums for a year misappropriated, if not stolen, their families beggared—and all through the alleged crookedness of their financial agent, Charles C. McDonald, who allowed their policies to lapse over a year ago, and who has collected premiums ever since without acquainting the unfortunate victims of their condition, the collections (amounting to about $2,500) being pocketed by their agent, it is charged. One of these old "Knights of Honor" died last week and an attempt to collect his insurance unearthed the fraud that has been practiced upon them.

Short Grape Crop.

Hearing two or three people speak of having but few grapes on their James and Scuppernong vines this season, indicating that there would be a short crop, THE REFLECTOR consulted Mr. Allen Warren, who is the best authority on that subject in all this section. Mr. Warren said this season there would hardly exceed a half-crop on any variety of grapes belonging to what is known as the Muscadine family, the reason given for this being that there was a large crop last year and the vines cannot bear two large crops in succession. He cited examples to prove his theory. Of early bunch grapes there will probably be a good crop.

ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS

Made by the Orange Va. Observer.

Yes, women lawyers are still known as females.

All nature has been in a melting mood this week.

The wild oats of youth turn to the briars of manhood.

'Tis the current of hate that washes away the foundation of love.

Even cold-blooded people have been warm enough this week.

Satan always giggles when he sees the hypocrite upon his knees.

A train of pure thought will only run on the track of a well-graded mind.

The average man has lived by the "sweat of his brow" without working this week.

Mayor W. H. Long makes an excellent beginning of his administration. In the first week of his term he had the following cases before him, and it is noted that in every instance where he had final jurisdiction a fine was imposed, the others being bound over to Superior court:

Frank Forbes, riotous, drunken and disorderly conduct, fined $1 and costs, total $1.45.

Peter Clark, drunk and disorderly, fined $1 and costs, $3.35.

Joe Brown, riotous and disorderly conduct and using profane language, fined $2 and costs, $9.20.

Joe Brown, carrying concealed weapon, bound over to September term of Superior court.

Henry Fleming and Elias Sutton, riotous and disorderly conduct and affray, fined $2 each and half costs, total $8.15.

Marion Perkins, riotous and disorderly conduct, deadly weapon being used he was bound over to September term of Superior court.

Charles Artis, riotous and disorderly conduct and profane language, fined $1 and costs, $4.60.

Charles Artis, resisting and assaulting officer, bound over to September term Superior court.

Robert Johnson Jr, jumping on train, not guilty, case dismissed.

You may help a dog out of trouble, and no matter what kind of a dog he is—clay dog, country dog or illiterate aristocrat or plebe—and he will wag his tail into paralysis and exhaust every muscle in his body trying to tell you that every drop of blood in his veins is at your service. Help a man out of a ditch and what he will do for you afterwards depends greatly on his breed. ### PERSONAL NOTES.

People Looking for Cooler Places

R. L. Humber went to Weldon today.

F. M. Hodges left this morning for Richmond.

J. R. Moore left this morning for Wrightsville.

Frank Cheek returned this morning from Kinston

Miss Nanni House, of Grindool, is visiting Mrs. D. E. House.

Mrs. J. L. Sugg and child returned this morning from a visit to Kinston.

U. G. Tyson left this afternoon to spend two weeks around Black Jack and Grimesland.

Mrs. H. M. Hardee and children, of Norfolk, came in Saturday to visit Mrs. H. C. Ormond.

Mrs. E. R. Tull, of Kinston, who was visiting Mrs. E. A. Moye, returned home Saturday evening.

V. W. Long, of Lake City, Fla., came in Saturday evening to visit his sister, Mrs. W. F. Harding.

J. B. W. Overton and wife, of Rocky Mount, who were visiting his brother, D. D. Overton, returned home today.

J. J. Willis, of Danville, and T. H. Walker, of Roxboro, have returned to Greenville to be on the tobacco market next season.

R. M. Hearne, of Washington, came up on Steamer Myers today and after spending awhile here went out to visit his sister near Farmville.

Confederate Reunion.

The reunion of the old Confederates will be held in Greenville at the old Academy July 25th inst. All are requested to bring baskets.

JOAB TYSON, Sec'y of Camp.

Ocracoke.

Beginning next Saturday there will be Saturday excursions from here to Ocracoke, the steamer Myers leaving Greenville at 12 o'clock sharp. Fare for the round trip $2.50.

Concert by Orphans.

A chapter of orphans from the Oxford Orphan Asylum will give a concert in Greenville on Saturday, 13th. The people do not get any more enjoyment for the price than out of these concerts given by the orphans, and at the same time they aid one of the most worthy institutions in the State. Give them a large audience when they come.

Petition to Change Schedule.

A petition to the officials of the Atlantic Coast Line, asking that the present inconvenient schedule be changed, was circulated today among the business houses of the town. A large number signed it, but as there were some who could not be seen the petition has been left at THE REFLECTOR office for a day or two where any others wishing to do so can call and sign it. A better schedule means a great deal to Greenville and all who want a change should sign the petition without delay.

Old Soldiers Reunion.

The old Confederates of Pitt will hold their annual reunion at Greenville, in the Academy grove, on Thursday, 25th inst. The number of these old veterans of the "Lost Cause" grows smaller every year, and ere long all of them will have passed away. Their last years should be filled with as much sunshine and happiness as possible, and to that end THE REFLECTOR asks the people of Greenville to lend a hand and make the coming reunion of the old Confederates the most pleasant they have yet had. Don't let them come and go away that day feeling that no one has any interest in them. Give the soldiers a happy day.

BLACK JACK ITEMS.

BLACK JACK, N. C., July 5.

On Wednesday evening, July 3rd, about 5 o'clock, the people of our town were surprised to see Mr. Fred Cox and family and Mr. Josh Mills, of Greenville, drive in town, but in short while horses and buggies were coming from every direction bringing quite a number of ladies and gentlemen to what soon showed to be a marriage, for just as the sun was hiding his brilliant face behind the western hills Mr. Leonard Dixon, of this township, led to the Hymenial altar Miss Wessie White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. White, and they were soon made man and wife. J. Marshall Cox, J. P., officiating. The attendants were: Walter Dixon with Miss Annie White, Ollus Dixon with Miss Lula Smith, Jodie Dixon with Miss Mary Mills, E. L. Clark with Miss M. mie Cox, Abram Dixon with Miss Julia Tyson. Misses Mimery Dixon and Lucy White were the flower girls.

Immediately after the marriage Mr. Dixon gave an invitation to all the guests to accompany him to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dixon, three miles east of Black Jack, where they held their reception, and a sumptuous supper was served. I like to forget to tell you that Fred Cox and Josh Mills were ushers. I expect Fred and Josh will be the candidates for the next Presidency. They think they can handle the expansion question nicely, because the Black Jackers were so well behaved.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many ornamental and useful presents.

Little Mattie Mills, who has been very sick, is improving.

Miss Mamie Cox is visiting relatives and friends at Black Jack this week.

L. H. White, who has been on the sick for some time, is improving rapidly.

Blind Tom.

The wonderful musical prodigy, Blind Tom, gave a concert in the opera house Saturday night to a large audience. Tom shows but very little change since he was here about 10 years ago and has lost none of his old time mastery of the piano. He can play any piece of music he ever heard. Miss Nina James played a piece Saturday night that Tom had never heard and he repeated it note by note. Tom's spelling by sound was very amusing, and his imitation on the piano of any other instrument was wonderful.

The Way to ## Prosperity.

A successful man once said this was his

Motto:

Early to bed, early to rise, hustle like thunder and advertise.

Advertising

in THE REFLECTOR will bring you success. Don't lag behind in the race, but let the people know what you are here for.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what you have to sell and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people.

The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part.
