STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina

The State Guard encampment began today.

Mayor John A. Oates, of Dunn, died suddenly Tuesday morning.

Rev. G. W. Newell, of Louisville, died suddenly Monday while riding along in his buggy.

Capt. Thos. Capehart, of Kittrell, was struck by lightning, Saturday night, while riding along on horseback. His horse was killed and he was knocked insensible.

Four crippled tramps begged J. H. Overcash, of Charlotte for 50 cents, and because he would not give it to them they assaulted and terribly beat him. One of his ears was bitten off and a piece bitten out of his cheek.

An Agricultural State.

That North Carolina now is, and is destined long to remain, an agricultural State, is conclusively shown by the figures recently given out by the Census Office, showing, as we mentioned last week, that only 17.9 per cent, of our population is found in incorporated towns. So out of our population of 1,893,810, only 338,277 people are in incorporated places, while 1,555,533 reside in what may be roughly called "the country."

And throughout the country the agricultural interests are showing signs of progress. Many will be surprised to learn that the census returns of last year show that 5,700,000 farms were then under cultivation while the number in 1890 was only 4,564,691.—Progressive Farmer.

Who Can Beat It.

Mr. R. H. Perry, a farmer who lives five miles northeast of Raleigh had three-quarters of an acre in strawberries this year. He gathered thirty-five barrels and sold them for $309.54. That was not, mind you, in that section of Eastern North Carolina where strawberries ripen early enough to be in demand for the tables of the metropolitan epicure, but in the higher altitude around Raleigh where berries ripen too late for the early Northern demand.

Has any grower of strawberries in the trucking section made a better record than Mr. Perry? Answers are invited.—Raleigh News & Observer.

W. H. Steele, Confederate veteran, of Randolph county, is all right. Today the clerk of court of that county returned Steele's pension warrant for $14.50, saying Steele refused to receive it, on the ground that he had a little property and didn't need it, but desired it to go to some more needy ex-Confederate. Auditor Dixon says this is the first warrant he has known to be thus returned.—Raleigh cor. Charlotte Observer.

Stomach of a Man is subject to a dozen such common but painful affections as cramps, cholera morbus, and dysentery, that, by neglect, may be made chronic and dangerous. The best, handiest, surest, and quickest remedy is Pain-Killer, a medicine which has been tried for more than a half a century and never failed to give relief. A void substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'. Price 25c and 50c.

Balsams from the Northern Wood are in Piny-Balsam, the certain cure for coughs.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 10, 1901.

The editors of the State are holding their annual convention at Greensboro this week—10th and 11th. THE REFLECTOR intended almost to the time of starting to be with the brethren in this meeting, but right at the last found that the pleasure had to be given up. This writer joined the Press Convention twenty-three years ago—in 1878—and there have been very few annual meetings since then that he failed to answer at roll call. We wish the brethren a good time at Greensboro.

At the instance of the Wilmington baseball club, seconded by Raleigh, a meeting was held here to-night to form a new league. Wilmington, Raleigh, Charlotte and Tarboro were represented. Sherwood Higgs, of Raleigh, who was vice president of the old league presided, Cunningham, of Norfolk, not being present. The information was officially given that the Richmond club had failed to pay Charlotte the guarantee money and disbanded, and that the Norfolk club failed to pay Tarboro the guarantee money. It was decided by unanimous vote that the Richmond and Norfolk clubs are no longer members of the league, owing to their failure to carry out their contract with the other league clubs, and it was unanimously decided to continue the league and to arrange a new schedule. The resignations of E. H. Cunningham, president and treasurer, and of E. J. Doran, its secretary, were accepted by default. Sherwood Higgs was elected president on motion of Wilmington, seconded by Charlotte; George A. Holderness, of Tarboro, vice president, and Thos. J. Pence, of Raleigh, secretary and treasurer. There was some lack of definiteness as to Tarboro, as Manager Bryan, of that club, is at Norfolk trying to collect his team. There will probably be another meeting of the league to-morrow morning. If Bryan succeeds in getting the Norfolk players things will start off in great shape. A favorable result as to his efforts is expected. There is general pleasure here that the league is now made up of North Carolina teams, all of which will stick to the end of the season. The four-team league thus made up: Raleigh, Wilmington, Charlotte and Tarboro, is certainly a fine one and will play fast ball.—Raleigh cor. Charlotte Observer, Sth.

The Mount Olive Advertiser suggests that those members of the legislature who have not otherwise been provided for offer their services as teachers of the public schools, but up to the present no member of that body has shown a hankering after this sort of a job.

Some Chunks of Truth.

In delivering his charge to the grand jury at the opening of Wake county Superior court, on Monday, Judge Robinson said some things out of the ordinary, yet they are nevertheless true and timely. We take the extracts below from the Raleigh News and Observer:

Touching tax-dodgers the judge was outspoken and emphatic. He said: "I know many men in my county—men with lots of money—who go to the springs in summer, while I stay home and sweat, go to the warmer climes in winter, while I shiver at home, but when you examine the tax books you'll think they haven't got enough rags at home to wad a gun. The only balm of relief about it is that a little later they'll get to a hot climate where they can't move. It is a high privilege to pay taxes and enjoy all the freedom of such a government as this, and the man who tries to shirk them ought not only to be made to pay, but sent to the road for swearing to a lie."

The social relations and the laws governing them were discussed at length. He said: "Strange to say, the punishment for a man who woos a virtuous woman to her ruin is only five years in the penitentiary. I have in mind now a man tried before me in this court for just that offense. He had done the deed and then galloped off to Texas, and no wretch that ever dangled at the end of a rope more richly deserved his fate than that fellow did the five years he got."

"But there is such a thing, also, as seducing men. Nor is it hard to do; but in our high admiration for woman we must not lose sight of the fact, for there are virtuous men; if there were not, then, indeed, would virtue perish from the face of the earth."

"Woman is seated upon the pinnacle of admiration and she is apt to stay there unless she herself gets down. But if she dances in a man's arms all night, wearing a low-cut dress, comes away at break of day after the ball is over, with a fellow who has decorated his interior with a lot of gaudy material until his brain reels—has she not descended from her pedestal, and is there not something to be said for the man who yields to the temptation?"

In charging the jury in regard to whiskey-selling, card-playing and other form of gambling, Judge Robinson became eloquent in his portrayal of country life:

"There is no greater God given pleasure than that of the bright sun and growing vegetation—the singing birds and the fresh-plowed earth. I wonder why a boy will leave it all to come to town and play lackey to somebody or be jump a counter at $25 a month; where the air is impure and temptations are great to put his finger in the till for money to play cards in the back room of some infernal bar room; where nights are long and days are short and painted lips invite death."

And the country girl, too, came for her share of praise, though only by indirection, when the Judge declared:

"Town girls are like summer foxes—hard to catch and not much after you've caught them."

Some scientist prophesies that this extreme hot weather will be followed by a large number of murders and diabolical outrages. Hot weather may have some effect on the business, for we have noticed that when a man gets full of mean liquor he is ripe for any meanness. But this is only another kind of heat.—Greensboro Record.

The Charlotte Observer says: The treasurer of the Knights of Pythias is criticised for investing about $250,000 of the funds of the order in a Chicago hotel and in Texas coal lands and defends himself on the ground that business men advised him to do so. We are not advised as to whether the investments have turned out well or otherwise, but The New York Journal of Commerce comments upon the case with its usual level-headedness:

The business men may have been entirely justified in risking their own money and advising the treasurer to risk his own money in those enterprises, and he may at the same time have been wholly unjustified in investing the funds of the order in them. The funds a treasurer holds are trust funds, and not capital for him to do business with. That is especially true in this case, for the fund was one out of which death benefits are paid. The funds were to be invested where the maximum degree of security, not the highest possible profit, was to be obtained. They were to be invested as life insurance companies and savings banks invest their funds.

Directions for Colic in Horses.—Contents of small bottle of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer in quart bottle, add pint warm or cold water, sweeten with molasses, shake well until all mixed, and drench well. Woman's Horror

Modest women dread to consult a doctor about diseases peculiar to their sex. They have a horror of private examinations and surgical operations. For this reason treatment of dangerous derangements is neglected. But the Wine of Cardui treatment, which can be adopted at home without the knowledge of any one but the patient herself, is now coming into general use. Women who take Wine of Cardui do not have to submit to a physician's local examination nor to a surgical operation. Wine of Cardui cures in the privacy of the home. No publicity, no cutting and torture and no physician or examination, while Wine of Cardui is quietly building up and strengthening the female organs. Menstruation is regulated, the drains of leucorrhoea stopped and the fallen womb restored to its place. The terrible pains which rack the body are but results of the ailments, which yield so readily to the soothing properties of Wine of Cardui. The medicine that cured Miss Garlen will certainly help you.

Wine of Cardui

Rockford, Tenn., Aug. 16, 1899.
I have suffered from womb trouble for five years. Last spring a year ago I was bedfast for six months. I paid $52 to one doctor, and he said he had done all he could for me. I had about given up, but called another doctor, who said I would have to have surgical treatment. I decided I might as well die a natural death as that. I happened to get hold of a Ladies' Birthday Almanac, and decided to try your treatment. In nine days after I commenced taking Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught I could walk across my room, and in three weeks I made myself a dress. This was after my neighbors, and even my brothers and sisters, said I would never be any better. I am now in good health.
Miss S. E. GARLEN.

PERSONAL NOTES.

People Looking for Cooler Places

C. D. Rountree went to Tarboro today.

B. A. Coward left this morning for Littleton.

Carl Parker has been quite sick the last week or two.

R. L. Humber returned Tuesday evening from Weldon.

L. I. Moore left this morning for New York and Buffalo.

Robert Tunstall returned Monday night from Norfolk.

C. S. Carr left this morning for the exposition at Buffalo.

H. P. Harding came home Monday night from Chapel Hill.

J. W. Higgs and family left Tuesday evening for Seven Springs.

Mrs. Nannie Smith and children left this morning for Roanoke Rapids.

Mrs. W. M. King left this morning for the Buffalo exposition and Niagara.

Miss Julia White, of Hertford, came in Tuesday to visit the family of her uncle, J. White.

Little Miss Maud Barnhill, of Bethel, who has been visiting W. O. Barnhill, returned home this morning.

Died.

Hazel Gray, little two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Evans, died Tuesday a little before noon at their home on Pitt street. The child had been very delicate most of its life. The funeral took place this afternoon at the Evans burial ground, four miles from town. The parents have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

Base Ball.

It is now an all round North Carolina league, the Norfolk and Richmond teams having both gone to peices. A new schedule was started today, the series to cover 54 games and continue to the 7th of September. Raleigh, Wilmington, Charlotte and Tarboro will have plenty of ball, and the cranks all over the State will watch the result.

Give Him Another Term.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

It seems if faithfulness and duty performed is to be rewarded, Mr. E. B. Dudley ought to have one more year as Assistant Police. He has been faithful to duty and has given the town good service; besides he is an old Confederate soldier. Everything else being equal, this should be in his favor.

300 Lives Lost by Landslides and Floods.

Tacoma, Wash., July 8.—Canton advices by the steamer Baemer give details of the loss of 300 lives by landslides and floods, occurring at Lung Kenk in June. The land slide was caused by a tremendous earthquake. Native accounts state that a great flood of water poured out of the mountains, carrying everything before it. Two hundred houses were swept away and the fields swept bare of crops.

To Get Trade.

The manager of a leading Chicago dry goods house says that to get a fair share of the trade of his community a business man must advertise, especially in the leading newspaper. "It has become the habit of women in particular to look over the advertising columns of the newspaper before going shopping and to make out a list of purchases," the dry goods man asserts, "The man who does not make a specific announcement of his wares cannot expect to draw any large number of buyers."

Certain republicans are now claiming that a very large number of negroes have left here on account of political conditions. What they are saying now may confront them later and put a quietus upon their usual post election assertions that results would have been different if the negroes had been allowed to vote. As a fact, a number of negroes leave here every summer, and it may also be put down as a fact that there is an end to those who lose citizenship returning and over-riding the will of the white people at the ballot box.—Winston Sentinel.

The Way to Prosperity.

A successful man once said this was his

Motto:

Early to bed, early to rise, hustle like thunder and advertise.

Advertising

in THE REFLECTOR will bring you success. Don't lag behind in the race, but let the people know what you are here for.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what you have to sell and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people.

The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part.
