GENERAL CARR'S POSITION.

A few weeks ago a New York paper published an interview of Gen. J. S. Carr, of this State, that provoked considerable interest and discussion, and caused some to go so far as to express doubt to his loyalty to Democracy.

"My only desire is to see the Democratic party pull itself together, and purge itself of its Populistic ideas and tendencies, and again become a great national party. I am the same straight-laced Democrat I have always been, and propose to remain so; I profess to be just as loyal to the Democratic organization, and as much devoted to the true principles of the party.

"I have no desire or expectation of becoming the McLaurin of North Carolina. All such insinuations are wholly gratuitous; still I have the courage to speak my convictions. They may weigh but little and they simply go for what they are worth.

"Now that we have eliminated the 'nigger,' North Carolina Democracy must proceed with more 'breadth of beam' and if the promises of the last campaign mean anything, they meant as much, and I have an abiding faith that eventually these pledges will be faithfully kept.

"I have followed with unfaltering step and unswerving loyalty the banner of our national leaders through every campaign since 1868. I have striven to 'live in the zeal of defeat.' But I am persuaded that both the good of the Democratic party and the best interest of North Carolina, and the South, for that matter, demands a new national leader.

"No man supported Mr. Bryan more loyally than myself, but the fact stares us in the face that he carried fewer States in 1900 than in 1876, and, besides the eleven Southern States, carried only thirteen electoral votes. It would be madness to repeat such folly. For one 'I am sick and tired,' though I followed our standard bearer twice 'through a slaughter house to an open grave' with a zeal and fidelity born of love.

"A State no more than a man can be indifferent to outside opinion. It is well it is so. If there-the negative vote means only a continuation of past political conditions here, then it may well appear to the world that we carried the amendment by false pretenses. "My views are in no sense to be regarded as a lecture to the Democratic party, but loving the principles of the party, and having its success deeply at heart from my view point, I think it wise that we give these matters due consideration. No motive moves me other than the best interest of the party, as I see it."

Can anyone explain why the unused war revenue stamps should not be simply redeemed over a counter instead of requiring dollars and dollars worth of red tape to get rid of them?

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12th.

It seems to be difficult, if not impossible, for this administration to perform any official act that does not, directly or indirectly, open the way for a gang of thieves to profit at the expense of honest men. The ink was not dry on the proclamation for the opening to settlement of the Indian reservations in Oklahoma before the thieves had discovered a way to profit under the regulations provided for the opening and started the machinery for doing so. The machinery was ready before the proclamation, as it has been known for sometime that honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines would be allowed to enter homesteads through an agent, while others could only do so in person, and the general land laws gives ex-soldiers and sailors credit for the time they served in the army or navy in counting the time necessary for residence on a homestead claim in order to acquire title, while all others must reside thereon for five years. That was all the land pirates, who are plentiful in Washington, wanted to know. They began hunting up the records of honorably discharged soldiers and sailors, with three or more years service to their credit, and to make deals with them to have homestead entries made in their names, and as soon as the proclamation was issued they began telegraphing the names of these bogus homesteaders to their agents in Oklahoma, who will file the applications. Those applications which draw desirable land in the lottery to be held next month the pirates will hold on to by purchasing the claim of the soldier or sailor in whose name it is registered. One citizen of Oklahoma—Mr. Thomas F. Black—who is now in Washington and who knows all about the scheme of the land pirates, said: "The applications of honorably discharged soldiers and sailors for land will be many times greater than that of any other class, but I would like to bet that there will not be a corporal's guard of them who will become settlers or even go to the Territory."

The popular impression is that the Bank Examiners, whose business it is to keep watch on the doings and condition of the national banks, are chosen because of their expert knowledge of banking methods. Of course, they should be. But Capt. Andrew Jackson Duncan, a gentleman with a good old democratic name and a big republican pull, and who has been a special Indian agent for four years, has just demonstrated that the popular impressions is wrong by getting himself appointed Bank Examiner for the Canton—Akron, Ohio, district, with no special qualifications for the place except that he is Mr. McKinley's brother-in-law, and desired the place. Senator "Billy" Mason ought to be able to make some use of this appointment, as it was made by Comptroller Dawes, the administration candidate for his seat in the Senate. Strong efforts are being made by the big interests behind the publications, fake and otherwise, that are getting the benefit of the $30,000,000 a year the government loses by carrying at second class rates publications not entitled to be in that class, to frighten Postmaster General Smith into not issuing the announced order defining more strictly the requirements to be exacted of publications carried for one cent a pound. Mr. Smith says the order will be issued, and that it will accomplish its purpose, but it will be just as well to wait and see before giving credit for possessing the courage to resist the influences which desire to go on profiting at the peoples loss. If it be the real thing, the country will know it.

It is important that those who go on excursions for pleasure or health should make some provisions against the attacks of bowel disease, which not only cause them great inconvenience, but are sometimes fatal in their results. A bottle of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer is, we have found, a most effectual remedy against such attacks. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'. Price 25c and 50c.

The Peas.

We hear of some who say they will not try to grow green peas this year because they lost their crop last year by the aphid or plant louse on the vines.
We would not advise to plant them for two reasons. If the insects came on so abundantly as to threaten destruction of the crop, we would plow them in,
which would destroy every insect, and the green crop would be a good fertilizer on which to grow some other late crop, as winter beets or cabbages, or to set tomatoes or to sow spinach or kale for next spring. But more than that these plagues of plant louse are seldom troublesome more than two or three years in succession, often disappearing as suddenly as they came, while if no peas are to be found they can as well live on the clover as on peas. If there are peas, they prefer them to clover, and they are destroyed with the peas.

Growing Seed Grain.

We believe it would be profitable to every grain grower to carefully select by a sieve or in some other way enough of his largest and plumpest kernels to sow on a strip of his best soil to grow as much seed as he expects to use another season. Save the product for that purpose and the next year select the best of that in the same manner and continue to do so as long as it is found that the selected seed gives better results than the other. Some experiments that have been made in this way indicate that the average of the entire crop was nearly doubled by about five years' practice of this method, and even then the average was far behind that where the selected seed was sown.

Sugar Beets.

In sugar beet growing it is essential to grow a small, sweet beet rather than a large beet, such as a mangold. Many have endeavored to grow roots of large size, thereby securing a large yield per acre. In sugar beet growing an entirely opposite method must be adopted, as large sugar beets lack the most desirable qualities for sugar making purposes. The small beet is sweeter, and the small beet alone is the one that pays.

Breeding Horses.

Never breed to unsound or diseased
stock.

Never breed to a stallion that is not what you want his colts to be like.

Never breed to any animal simply because of his low service fee.

Never breed a female simply because she is a female, but because she has some particular merit which you wish to increase in her produce by coupling her with a meritorious sire.

Self Sucking Cows.

A sure remedy for a self sucking cow,
and no trouble either to cow or man after it is on, is simply this: Make as light a frame as you can that fits the neck tight from shoulder to head. The cow can eat and drink, but can't turn her head to suck. If the cow is a bad one, put a sharp pin next to the shoulder so it will punch her in the ribs when she turns her head.—National Stockman.

Planting Cowpeas.

The yield of cowpeas is larger when only a moderate amount of seed is used and the vines have more space for light and air. The yield is also heavier from late planted vines. Varieties with luxuriant vines also make large crops of seed.

FOR MOTHERS.

The period immediately following child-birth is fraught with many dangers. The strength has been used in the painful ordeal through which the mother has passed and she finds herself helpless and weakened. Many mothers, like Mrs. Ford, date the beginning of their illness from the birth of their child. Indeed the frequent spectacle of a healthy young woman becoming a chronic invalid after motherhood is one of the tragedies of life. All this is unnecessary, when Wine of Cardui is obtainable. It rehabilitates the shattered nervous system, strengthens the organs and ligaments, and re-establishes a healthy, natural condition, saving years of chronic sickness and suffering. Wine of Cardui taken just before confinement will render the ordeal comparatively painless. It will re-enforce and strengthen the organs for their work. For every trying crisis in a woman's life, Wine of Cardui is the medicine to take. Ask your druggist for Wine of Cardui and take no substitute. If one is afflicted send $1.00 for a bottle to the Chattanooga Medicine Company, Chattanooga, Tenn.

WINE OF CARDUI

Clarkson, Ark., July 20, 1899.
After my baby was born I took the whites and falling of the womb, and was in a very dangerous condition. I read one of your home treatment books, and commenced to treat myself with Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught. I am thankful for what the medicine did for me, and I am now in better health than I have been for a long time.
Mrs. MARGARET FORD.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE AND OTHER NEWS.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., July 13.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. yesterday the following were elected officers for the next year: A. G. Cox, President; N. S. Fulford, Vice-President; F. O. Cox, Secretary and Treasurer; Rowan Cooper, Superintendent; W. B. Wingate, Assistant Superintendent. This company has been doing a very large and prosperous business for the past few years and they have largely increased their capital stock and propose to enlarge the factory, buy more machinery and in every way prepare greater and better facilities by which to meet the rapidly growing demand for the goods they manufacture. This is an enterprise in which every citizen of Pitt county should take a special pride

B. F. Manning & Co. have just received a nice line of gentlemen and ladies furnishing goods which they offer for sale at remarkably reasonable prices.

Watermelons have made their appearance, but the price for us is like the golden apple, "clean out of reach."

N. S. Fulford, of Washington, was here Thursday and Friday.

W. L. House spent yesterday in Greenville.

The conundrum, if a herring and a half cost a penny and a half, what will a herring and a half cost? has been answered.

The tax collector for the town was on his rounds yesterday and made us shell out the last ducat. Goodness! don't tax day come often!

A. G. Cox was in Greenville yesterday in attendance upon a meeting of the Board of Education.

The canning factory is in full operation and several thousand cans of vegetables and fruits have been canned. The company will pay the very best prices for vegetables and fruits and invite the public to bring everything of the kind right along as they are prepared to utilize everything they can get.

Prof. Watson, of Raleigh visited our institute this week. He attended every recitation and took notes. He said he had been to several institutes both in his native state (Georgia) and in North Carolina but the one here was decidedly the best he ever saw.

Prof. Prescott, of Ayden, spent two days here this week.

This week has been a very rainy one but the teachers have been prompt at all the meetings of the institute. This has been a week noted for hard study. Several tell us they study until 12 m. and get up at 5 a. m. and take no nap through the day. The wonder is that they can stand so much work, but teachers are acquainted with work if any class in the world is.

We heard this remark a few days ago, "I have attended many institutes and summer schools in the state, but never saw so many teachers in attendance, never saw as much studying done, such good attention on recitation or so intelligent or fine looking a crowd of teachers together anywhere."

Prof. Ragsdale left yesterday for Greenville to attend a meeting of the Board of Education, but rest assured he won't be gone long, for his heart is in the work here. The teachers are all glad that he was re-elected County Superintendent, but as a matter of fact it was the only thing to do. No one in the county could fill the place so acceptably or do the work he is doing for the schools.

The following gentlemen will ad-

Voluntarily and conscientiously, and with much pleasure we recommend to our readers Pain-Killer. We speak from experience when we say that it removes pain as if by magic, and is one of the best medicines in use for diarrhoea. It is applied both internally and externally, and none who have used it would willingly be without it in their homes. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer Perry Davis'. Price 25c and 50c.
