CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

Reunion of Bryan Grimes Camp

Bryan Grimes Camp of Confederate Veterans held their annual reunion here today in the Academy grove, and it was the best meeting in the history of the organization.

Mr. E. A. Moye, Commander of the Camp, called the Veterans to order, welcoming them in a brief speech, and introduced Rev. A. D. Betts, Chaplain, who delivered the speech of the day. "Uncle" Betts' speech was a good one, like everything he says, and his comrades greatly enjoyed it.

When the roll was called more than seventy answered, this being the largest attendance of any reunion so far held.

The old officers were re elected for another year, as follows:

E. A. Moye, Commander.
 Joab Tyson, Adjutant.
 Rev A. D. Betts, Chaplain.

The time of meeting hereafter was changed from July to the third Friday in September.

The Osceola Band went down to make music for the veterans and their enjoyment was thus very much increased. There was lemonade in great abundance and plenty to spare.

A table was built in the grove and on this was spread an elegant dinner. Men baskets brought by the Veterans and baskets sent them by the ladies of the town. A number of young ladies were present to wait on them.

The people showing more interest than heretofore in the old soldiers and their reunion made this a day of much pleasure to them. Commander Moye requested THE REFLECTOR to return the thanks of the Camp to the Osceola Band, to the ladies and to the people of the town for the part each contributed to the success and pleasure of the reunion.

In future let us all accord these old soldiers the honors due them, and let their next reunion be one they will never forget.

We Go Abroad Too Much.

It is noticeable lately that nearly or all of the professors recently elected to chairs in North Carolina institutions are from other States or other countries. Why is this? Because, we suppose, the North Carolinians are not qualified to "fill the bill." That is not a good indorsement of the proficiency of North Carolina alumni. It is all right to go where you can get the best. But other things being equal is it not fair and proper to give the native educated men a chance—the first showing? By this time it would really look as if North Carolina colleges had educated enough teachers to meet the demands. That is a supposable case. But it is not true, we take it, for there would be neither wisdom nor justice in ignoring thoroughly competent professors. So it is high time the state schools were training men who are fully qualified to teach in the various departments and schools in the colleges and the university. "Higher education" ought to be able to accomplish that. But until that end is reached let other States furnish teachers. Let there be no narrowness or prejudice.—Wilmington Messenger.

Masonic Hall School—A school for girls under control of Board of Trustees appointed by Greenville Lodge, No. 284, A. F. & A. M., will open fall session Sept. 2nd. This school was conducted last year with great satisfaction to the people of Greenville. We have therefore employed Misses Lizzie D. Parker and Lelia Thornton to teach in this school this year, and to all who have girls to educate we ask your patronage and support in maintaining this school.

Tuition per month:—Primary $1.75, Intermediate $2. Higher $2.50. Languages 50c each extra. A matriculation fee of $1 will be charged. The school will have no music department this session.

Persons in town who can board pupils of the school will please notify the Secretary. R. L. CARR, Sec. Board Trustees.

CAMP AYCOCK.

WRIGHTSVILLE, N. C., July 23. The closing hours of the second day's encampment find the Greenville boys, Company B, of Second Regiment, all well and able to eat all they can get.

The company is excused from drill this afternoon for they have been with the other companies of the 1st Battalion on duty all day at target practice, and are very tired, but they are in fine spirits and Capt. Smith, though not accustomed to bragging, can't help feeling good over the fact that his company averaged the highest on the score in the rifle practice.

They are a jolly crowd but you hear no complaint of bad conduct in that part of the camp, though you can hear Private King and feel Sergeant Metrick laugh over half the camp. J. B. M.

There is a pecan tree in Georgia grown from a nut picked up in Texas in 1858, which has since it came in bearing been yielding from five to eight bushels of nuts every year. And yet the people around there have not taken the hint and planted pecans.—Wilmington Star.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina

Clyde Grady, aged 17, was drowned Sunday while bathing in the river near Kinston.

The ammonia tank in an ice factory at Elizabeth City exploded, killing the fireman instantly, badly wounding another employe, and wrecking the plant.

A young man at Greensboro fell off the top of a freight car upon which he was riding. He fell directly across the track and a wheel of the car cut his head entirely off.

A nice hay ride was given last night by the young men in honor of Miss Hennie Ragsdale, who is visiting Miss Gladys Mitchell. While the party were resting from a part of their long but pleasant ride cream and cake were served. Misses Wita and Bessie Mitchell and Nannie Cox were the chaperones.—Kinston Free Press, 24th.

THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1901.

We heard a colored man say he wishes the Constitutional Amendment had been passed twenty years ago in North Carolina.

Admiral Schley, the outrageously slandered hero of Santiago, has asked for an investigation by a court of the base charges against him in Maclay's history of the United States navy.

THE SUMMER HARD UPS.

The excursions, of all sorts, still go on. The money spent on these trips may not be missed by many, but the melancholy fact remains that many Danville people go off on excursions and drink red lemonade in the summer months.

In this city, while there are no people more liberal in patronizing excursions, or greater on traveling, yet it is only the colored people here who are in the class mentioned by the Bee.

And if a "hard up list" was kept of the colored citizens who went on excursions in the summer, and came after wood in the winter when the snow covered the ground, of what value or use would it be? Really none.

But there are citizens, well to do, who take in excursions, go on summer trips of several weeks duration, who let their small bills, due to tradesmen and those who have furnished them with supplies, remain unpaid during the time when they are traveling about enjoying themselves.

They have the money to pay these bills, but instead of paying, keep the store-keepers additionally hard up during a period of the year when business is naturally dull.—New Bern Journal.

There is good in what the Bee says about keeping a list of the "hard ups" and all whose names are on it should be turned down when the winter time begging comes.

The question was recently asked by the New York World, What is the best use to which Mr. Carnegie can put his $275,000,000 which he wishes to give away?

A number of persons have expressed the idea that the best thing would be for Mr. Carnegie to make provisions whereby the unhappy and suffering denizens in the crowded city tenements in the North could be given an opportunity of taking up farm life in the country.

The Atlanta Journal approves of the plan and says that of all the States Georgia is far and away the best one in which to launch such an enterprise.

The Commonwealth rises to ask, What is the matter with North Carolina. We had an idea that North Carolina is about the best State in the South for almost anything good.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

Seven Acres of Cantaloupes.

Can sand hills be made to pay? This is the question we hear asked and answered every day in Southern Pines. There is only one true answer to this question—Yes.

Do sand hills pay? This is another question and admits of both positive and negative answers with innumerable modifications. The true answer is—Yes, with work—No, without work. C. McQueen has a 7 acre field, a short distance from town, planted in cantaloupes. The soil is sandy, but the melons are fine. They are of the Rocky Ford variety, netted gems, and will, at a most conservative minimum estimate, average 5 to a hill; a better and more reasonable estimate would be 8 to a hill. The seven acres contain 8,400 hills. The lowest estimate makes the yield amount 42,000 melons, the higher estimate 35 to 45 to a crate, averaging 40. This means, at the lowest estimate 1,050 crates, and at the higher one, 1,680 crates. A thoroughly pessimistic estimate admits at least 100 crates to an acre, with melons still left. Prices on this product vary widely, but at the lowest average price for any known season, this 7 acre field itself promises positively to answer both of our leading questions, answer them affirmatively and beyond dispute. A sensible man cannot get over over the fact that sand hills can be made to pay, that they do pay when worked, but a lazy man can't make anything pay and sand hills are not in his line. To the energetic man they promise and afford rich returns.—Southern Pines Free Press.

The city of Chicago is desperately in need of money for the maintenance of ordinary and necessary expenditure, and as a hint to the local authorities ex-Governor Altgeld publishes a list of wealthy persons who are taxed on personalty amounting to about $800,000; but whom he insists if justice were done should be assessed for $34,000,000. Mayor Tom Johnson has shown similar discrepancy in the assessment of property of coporations in the city of Cleveland. In both of these instances there is probably an element of exaggeration, and property that escapes direct taxation is often subjected to indirect burden; but there can be no doubt, after

Where Is It?

We hear now and then of "great prosperity," but it is next to impossible to come in contact with it, especially if you are a consumer and have to buy any of the following named articles. Just read and ponder for yourself:

It requires 50 per cent more wheat to buy a stove than it did in 1896.

It requires 20 bushels more corn to buy a wagon than in 1896.

It requires 100 per cent. more corn or wheat to buy a copper kettle than in 1896.

It requires twice as much corn to buy a coil of rope as in 1896.

It requires 40 per cent. more grain to buy a plow than in 1896.

It requires 75 per cent. more grain to buy a hoe, a rake or a shovel than in 1896.

A set of common wheels that cost $7 in 1896 now cost $12.

The price of cultivators and other farm implements has gone up proportionately.

Galvanized barbed wire costs from $4 to $4.50 per hundred more than in 1896.

It requires 40 per cent. more corn or cotton to buy a pound of sugar than in 1896.

You have to pay 40 per cent. more for glass than in 1896.

Bad Accident.

Mr. D. D. Overton, who is foreman of the factory of the Greenville Hogshead Company, this morning met with an accident in which he lost the middle finger of his left hand and had two other fingers badly cut and mashed. Mr. Overton was at work about a machine in the factory and accidentally caught his hand in it. His injury is quite serious and his friends sympathize with him.

The Heat Record Smashed.

Considering the importance of the weather as a topic of conversation, and also as a source of personal comfort or distress (to say nothing of the influence of weather on crops), it is more than strange that in the "century of science" so little should have been done to uncover its many mysteries. Men with bulging brows have traveled thousands of miles, at a cost of thousands of dollars, to unearth the decayed tooth of an extinct creature of unpronounceable name, and have devoted years to the study whether the extinct creature was tailless, but they have done very little in the way of weather study. It is a fact that no scientist will commit himself positively on the question whether there are equinoctial storms. As far as science knows the wind bloweth whither it listeth, and its ways are purely capricious. The Smithsonian scientists did not have assurance enough to advise the late "Uncle Jerry" Rash against spending large sums for balloons and bombs with which to produce raid in Texas.

It is particularly exasperating that science cannot tell us why the furnace heat of this July has been so much hotter and so much more enduring than any hot spell recorded in history. There must be a reason why in this first summer of the Twentieth Century wave after wave of fiery air should sweep across this Continent, across Europe far away into Russia and Asia. There is only one poor satisfaction in the affliction. Those of us who shall survive the heat and still retain our memories may become old inhabitants with a story of summer heat to tell that cannot be matched by any experience of the succeeding generation.—Philadelphia Record.
