CLOSE OF THE INSTITUTE.

The Teachers Complete Their Work at Winterville.

The course of study for the four weeks' institute at Winterville closed Wednesday, Thursday and Friday the teachers stood their examination. Friday night they all assembled in the building for the last time and had a closing entertainment. It was a kind of impromptu affair, no prearranged programme, but all said it was really about the most enjoyable gathering they had. Notwithstanding they had been hard at work for four weeks, and that the closing days were under a most trying temperature, the teachers kept up their enthusiasm to the last and put their whole soul in everything.

At this closing entertainment the following selections were given:

Recitation—"The Blacksmith's Story," Miss Pattie May.
Vocal Duet—"Dollie," Nora Wingate and Clara Braxton.
Recitation—"Abel Sam," Jamie Cox.
Instrumental Solo—"Plantation Echoes," Miss Myra Moore.
Recitation—"Bill Backstay's Courtship," Prof. J. L. Jackson.
Recitation—"Womans Rights," Miss Mollie Ward.
Music by string band.
Recitation—"Nebuchanezza," Jamie Cox.

Select reading, Mrs. Effie Gillespie.

Vocal Duet—"Looking This Way," Miss Laura Cox and D. J. Whichard, with chorus.

Recitation—"Willie and His Girl," Prof. Z. D. McWhorter.

Anthem—"The Lord is Watching O'er His People," song by class
Song—"Saved by Grace," solo and chorus.

Mrs. Effie Gillespie, who was called the grandmother of the institute (Mrs. Polly Smith was the great-grandmother) read a paper that provoked almost constant laughter from every one present. It was as follows:

Well, my children, our examinations are over and we are so glad. Grandmother has worked like a Trojan, too. I never saw such good work done before, it has been drill, drill, study, study day and night. It grew worse and worse, and more and more, until this week has been one of terror. I have not had a good night's rest this week. I studied in my sleep. On Monday night I fought Indians and Spaniards with strong and weak verbs and dreamed that Prof. McWhorter was commander-in-chief of the American army and had ordered all the teachers of North Carolina to form in line of battle. On Tuesday night I was so bothered to know whether Prof. Lineberry was the pulmonary artery or the Chief Justice of the United States with a salary of ten thousand a year until seventy years old. Wednesday night it was the same way, except I thought Prof. Carr was an arithmetic, a triangle, a circle, then a hypotenuse, finally deciding that he was a vertical line. Thursday night Prof. Coon was constantly saying, "now little girls sound rat, cat, not, until I was all mixed up and did not know whether I was a little girl or a grandmother, but concluded if I were a little girl I would engage a room in the new dormitory and come here to school next year. In the mean while the pure numbers were dancing all around the room to the tune of language study. On Thursday evening I tried to take a little nap, falling asleep with the new formula for square and cube root on my mind, but soon found I was in a large court house with about one hundred and fifty teachers all of us condemned to die, calling for mercy, when lo, we found to our delight that Prof. Davis was the Judge and had acquitted us all, and Prof. Ragsdale, as the Governor of the State, pardoned us all, and set us free for two long years.

Mr. W. F. Evans offered the three resolutions following which were adopted:

Whereas, it has been our pleasure in attending the joint institute for the teachers of Pitt and Greene counties held in Winterville, N. C., and

Whereas, The good people of Winterville having done everything for our comfort, our pleasure and our success, therefore, be it resolved,

That we, the teachers, attending said institute do hereby express our appreciation and gratitude for the kindness and hospitality shown us,

Whereas, Mr. A. G. Cox, that prince of cleverness, having shown to us every act of generosity in superintending in person our comfort, our welfare and pleasure, and having been a potent factor in the success of our work, having shown himself a diligent, enthusiastic worker for the success of education,

Therefore be it resolved, that we express our most heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the treatment we have received at his hands, also express our admiration for his interest shown in education.

Whereas, the work of this institute having been completed and we go forth to work, better teachers than ever, feeling the great benefit it has been to us and education, and knowing our success to be in a great measure due to the efforts, the work and enthusiasm of those in charge,

Therefore, be it resolved, that we express our appreciation and gratitude for the efforts and interest shown by the worthy superintendents of the two counties, and also to the instructors, and do hereby issue to each of them a first grade certificate of cleverness, courtesy and perseverance.

Miss Enla Cox also offered the following resolution for the ladies which was adopted by a rising vote:

We, the teachers of Greene and Pitt counties in attend'nce upon the institute at Winterville, wish here to express our heartfelt gratitude and appreciation of the courtesy and utmost kindness shown us by the superintendents and instructors at all times. We wish also to express our thanks to the people of Winterville and community for their exceeding generosity and hospitality during our stay among them.

Then after some remarks of appreciation by Profs. W. H. Ragsdale and G. E. Lineberry, the young men of Winterville took charge and served a feast of ice cream. This was a much enjoyed treat on so warm a night and the cleverness of the young men was more than appreciated.

The teachers and all others who have been there during the institute will long remember Winterville.

SATURDAY JULY 27, 1901.

Yes, it is warm here, but think what is in some places where a man can light a match by sticking it in a pail of water that had stood in the sun for a few minutes.

What is the wheat or cotton crop of the country compared to the apple crop, which in 1899 was valued at $430,000,000, nearly 50 per cent greater than either of those named? Corn was the only American product that excelled it, though hay nearly equalled it.

Over seven thousand pensions have already been granted for disabilities incurred in the Spanish War, nearly all of them in the West Indies. As the entire army force there was less than 20,000 men, it is evident that if the Spanish had kept on fighting a little longer our army would have been exterminated.

The matter of Senator McLaurin's position ought now to be considered as definitely decided. The State Democratic Executive Committee of South Carolina adopted a resolution declaring that he is not representing the principles of his party and ask him to resign as Senator. A short while ago Senator McLaurin appeared very anxious to resign as a test of how his action was regarded by the people of his State, but now as the Executive Committee has spoken, it will soon be seen how sincere he was.

The resolution which was adopted by a vote of 25 to 5 was as follows:

Whereas, the Hon. John M. McLaurin, Jr., Senator, elected to represent the State of South Carolina in the National Congress, has by his affiliations and votes in that body, ignored the National Democratic platform and is thereby misrepresenting his State and his democratic constituency who elected him, Therefore, be it resolved. That the sense and conviction of the State Democratic Executive Committee is that Senator J. L. McLaurin from the standpoint of honesty and self respect should tender his unqualified resignation immediately.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26th.

Rear Admiral Schley fooled the naval clique, which has done such dirty work to try to discredit him in the eyes of the American people when he called Secretary Long's bluff and demanded a court of inquiry into his conduct during the hunt in Cuban waters for the Spanish fleet. Admiral Schley would have made this demand long ago had his friends, who knew of the intention on the part of the clique which has controlled the Navy Department since the beginning of the McKinley administration to pack the court against him if he asked for it, not advised him to wait for a more propitious time. That time arrived when the clerk in the Brooklyn Navy Yard wrote under orders from the clique language concerning Schley that would have disgraced the lowest gutter-snipe publication in the country, shamelessly labeled it "history" and sought to have it made a text book at the Naval Academy. The clique overshot the mark. Instead of injuring Schley, the publication aroused the country's sense of fair-play, and today the demand for an inquiry that shall be conducted by men of honor, not puppets of a clique, is ringing from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It is now up to Secretary Long. He can easily name a court of inquiry that will command the respect of the country and that will not base its inquiries on the charge that Schley is a democrat, but on an effort to get the truth, the whole truth, of what was done in the West Indian naval campaign, regardless of who is hurt or helped. That much the country demands, and it will take no less. Secretary Long has promised that such a court shall be named, and if Mr. McKinley is as wise a politician as he is credited with being he will see that the promise is kept. No political question is involved in this inquiry, but any failure to give Schley the justice which every brave officer under accusation is entitled to at the hands of the powers that will make it a political question of the most dangerous sort.

Mr. McKinley never neglects an opportunity to turn a financial trick, at public expense, for a friend. By postponing the acceptance of the resignation of Gov. Allen, of Porto Rico, and the appointment of Secretary Hunt as his successor, which has been definitely determined upon until September he enables his friend Allen to enjoy an extended vacation and continue to draw a big salary. Two Presidential proclamations were issued this week—one announcing that Porto Rico had a civil government, which might have been made many months ago, but was held back in order to prevent the Porto Rican legislature having the disposal of the revenue collected under the Foraker act, and the other proclaiming free trade with Porto Rico.

Under the old system of education this country gave to the world an ideal womanhood. We believe in a higher education for women as we do for men, but let it be an education that shall bring sunshine around the hearthstone; an education that shall lull a nation into repose through graciousness and gentleness, and the strains of a melodious lullaby. This is a woman's proper sphere, and when she takes up the retort and crucible she ceases, in a measure, to be the queen of her household, the guiding star of weak and erring man.—Charlotte News.

Pensions For Teachers.

Three years ago the public school teachers of Philadelphia undertook to organize a pension fund for the benefit of those of their number who should by reason of advanced years or break down in health have to give up work.

They labored hard to make their movement a success, but were finally compelled to admit its failure.

On the very day after this confession was made Mr. Lewis Elkin, of Philadelphia, died. A few days later, when his will was probated, it was found that he had left $1,600,000, the income of which was to be used to pay an annuity of $500 to every public school teacher in Philadelphia who has taught 25 years and is in need of support.

This is a noble benefaction and has endeared the memory of Mr. Elkin to a large and very worthy class of men and women. We should say women and men, for, in Philadelphia, as in every other city of this country, a large majority of the public school teachers are women.

The Elkin bequest will make provision for many of these when they can no longer earn a living at the profession.

At 4 per cent it will bring in a revenue of $64,000 a year, which would give an annuity of $500 to 128 teachers. Mr. Elkin is entitled to be numbered among the great philanthropists of our time. —Atlanta Journal.

Questions for Women

Do you have periodical pains? Do you have frequent headaches? Are you nervous? Are you continually exhausted? Do you suffer every month? If you answer "yes" to any of these questions you are suffering from ills which Wine of Cardui cures. Do you appreciate what perfect health would be to you? After taking Wine of Cardui, thousands like you have realized it. Wine of Cardui insures freedom from female diseases. At each recurring menstrual period, if care be not taken, slight ailments will appear. Nervous strain, loss of sleep, cold or indigestion, start disorders which are not noticeable at first, but day by day steadily grow into troublesome complications. Wine of Cardui, used just before the menstrual period, will keep the female system in perfect condition and render it invulnerable to disease. The medicine is taken quietly at home. There is nothing like it to help women enjoy good health. Wine of Cardui costs only $1. Test this remedy, which is endorsed by 1,000,000 cured women.

WINE OF CARDUI

Chgo., Ky., Sept. 6, 1899.

I take pleasure in writing a few lines in praise of your wonderful medicine, Wine of Cardui. It is the best medicine I ever heard of. I am thirty-six years old and have been sick all my life. I had a dozen doctors, but none of them did me any good. I have taken one bottle of Wine of Cardui and will take another with Black-Draught. I have been married six years and have a baby five years old. I had womb and kidney trouble. My monthly period was so bad that sometimes it came twice a month. I was too sick to do work for a family of three. I was in bed when I got the bottle of Wine of Cardui. Now I am up and can do most of my work. When I was sick I could not sleep at night. I sleep well at night now. A friend of mine advised me to use Black-Draught with Wine of Cardui. Mrs. ETTA KILLMAN,
