THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

What it Accomplished and the Results to Follow.

GREENVILLE, N. C., July 30.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

Having been asked my opinion of the teachers' institute just held in Winterville, I will endeavor, as one who went through all the work of the institute, to give it to the best of my ability.

First of all I wish to say that it was a modern institution in every respect. Instead of being compelled to listen to the mechanical outbursts of oratory and lecturing of collegeate educators so predominant in former institutes, we were drilled in the methods of teaching and shown how to do those things which in former years were preached in elocutionary style from the rostrum. In other words our instructors not only preached their methods, but practiced them. Each of us carried our note books to the recitation room where outlines and instructions were copied from the black-board, and now have a brief and simple text-book on teaching.

From the instruction received at the institute, I feel myself better prepared to take up the duties and responsibilities of a teacher, and I think this the experience of all the teachers who attended.

We had as good instructors as could have been gotten. Their diligence and enthusiasm was transmitted to the teachers and the last day of the institute witnessed the same interest as the beginning, and be it said that the children of Pitt and Greene counties owe to them a debt of gratitude.

On Friday night at the closing entertainment when Prof. Ragsdale thanked us in the name of the school children for the interest we had taken in the institute, I felt that he himself deserved as much as any one, for had it not been for his careful planning and foresight the institute would have been a failure. His cheering words throughout the institute kept up the courage and the spirit of the teachers to the end.

And before I close, one more word about the little town in which the institute was held. I will say that she can entertain as royally as a princess. Our stay in Winterville has written its name in memory and the hospitality shown us will be long remembered. Sprung up like a castle in the night, the little town of Winterville stands today the brightest gem in Pitt county's industrial coronet.

By all means let us have the educational column in THE REFLECTOR now that the editor has so kindly consented to give us the space.

W. F. EVANS.

"A young woman of Parsons accidentally dropped a dime down the back of a strange young man when she sought to put it in the contribution box in church last Sunday," says The Kansas City Journal. "She blushed and apologized, an acquaintance was formed, and in two weeks the pair were married. And this proves exactly what we have always said—that a woman will go to any length in order to recover lost money."

THE VETERANS' REUNION.

Headquarters North Carolina Division, United Confederate Veterans, Durham, N. C., July 27, 1901.

General Orders, No. 15.

Paragraph 1. A reunion of the North Carolina Division of the United Confederate Veterans will be held at Wrightville, beginning on the afternoon of Wednesday, the 14th day of August, 1901, and closing on the 17th, at which will be held the annual election of division and brigade commanders, to-wit: a major general and four brigadier generals. Only delegates from camps which are reported by Adjutant General Moorman as having paid their dues will be received. The attention of camp commanders is especially called to this, and they will at once see that their camp dues are paid, as required by the constitution of the United Confederate Veterans.

Paragraph 2. Governor Aycock has kindly given the use of the tents and camp equipage of the State Guard at Wrightville, which will accommodate about one thousand persons. Each tent is eight feet square and has a plank floor and two blankets, and there are cooking stove and utensils sufficient. Cots may be rented for the occasion by those desiring them. There are a number of hotels and boarding houses which offer reduced rates for those who may not wish to occupy quarters in the camp. Each camp, or delegation, must provide its rations either by carrying them or cooking them in camp.

Paragraph 3. All ex Confederate soldiers in North Carolina of good standing are cordially invited to this reunion, whether or not they are members of any camp or association. In order, however, to exclude unworthy persons, every veteran is required to carry with him a certificate from his camp commander, or from the clerk of the Superior Court of his county in which there is no camp, certifying that he is a veteran in good standing. A strict compliance with this will be required. No veterans without this certificate will be admitted to the privileges of the camp.

Paragraph 4. All the railroads in the State have kindly given a rate of one cent a mile in each direction for this occasion. Tickets will be on sale on the 12th, 13th and 14th days of August and are good for one continuous passage until the 24th. The agent at any station will give the exact price of a ticket from his station on application. This rate is given to all visitors as well as to the veterans.

Paragraph 5. A full attendance of veterans is urged and as many as practicable are requested to wear their uniforms. This may be the last opportunity to attend a reunion and meet their old comrades, so rally up!

All State papers will please publish.

By order of GEN. J. S. CARR,
H. A. LONDON,
Adj. Gen. and Chief of Staff.

Widows' Flags.

In Sumatra, if a woman is left a widow, immediately after her husband's death she plants a flagstaff at her door, upon which a flag is raised. So long as the flag remains untoned by the wind the etiquette of Sumatra forbids her to marry, but at the first rent, however tiny, she can lay aside her weeds and accept the first offer she has.—Woolman.

TUESDAY, JULY 30, 1901.

The new battleship Maine was successfully launched at Philadelphia Saturday. We hope better things for this new craft than the fate that came to her namesake in Havana harbor.

At Nags Head Friday Mr. Edward Wozolka, of Edenton, and Hon. W. P. McRae, of Petersburg, were drowned while trying to save a boy in the surf. Two other people narrowly escaped being drowned.

George Schaefer, a Brooklyn boy, who was thought to have been drowned, was brought to life after respiration had been suspended 30 minutes. The case is attracting much attention. The New York Sun says that some think that "the human machine is like an old clock that will stop in a cold room in winter, but can be started again, without rewinding, when the room is heated. Their theory, however, is attacked by the doctors who hold that respiration may often be so slight that it can be detected only by the skilful physician." People should learn from this Schaefer case, however, not to give up hope too soon in instances of apparent drowning.—Charlotte Observer.

A number of Charlotte people were recently taken in by a fake gentleman who proposed to "pull off" a horse racing event in that town. When the fraud was discovered the fake promoter quietly left town, leaving various and sundry people several dollars to the bad. This moved the bright young man of the Observer who does the "Variety of Idle Comment" column to write much of fakes and how people in towns are incited to run after the fakir who comes from elsewhere, while a home man who does the square and honest thing gets little encouragement in a similar venture. This fact cannot be emphasized too much. Town and city people generally think they're mighty smart and the green countryman who gets fooled by the peddlers and the numerous sharpers who lie in wait for the unwary is a standing joke with them. But as a matter of fact these same city and town people are dead easy for the fakir who knows his business. Let a fellow come along with a slick tongue, who can put on style and make a show of being some pumpkins, and they will fall over each other to bite at his game.—Statesville Land mark.

Some workmen strike while the iron is hot and others go on strikes anyhow.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER.

Special Correspondent of Reflector. RALEIGH, N. C., July 29.

The fiery-furnace like weather of the past week has been almost hot enough to put newspaper correspondents out of business—for it is against the law, you know, to write about the weather—and little else has "happened."

The torridity of the temperature, however, may have had its effect upon the blood and been partly responsible for two instances of the week, wherein two religious newspaper men and two preachers vented their spleen upon each other.

Brother Bailey of the Biblical Recorder found it necessary, he says, to accuse Brother McKelway of the N. C. Presbyterian of "publishing libelous falsehoods," and young Mr. Crawford (son of the editor of the N. C. Christian Advocate) was led to demean himself very unwisely by striking Dr. Kilgo of Trinity College in the face while the latter was seated in a railroad coach—one of the results. Rev. Dr. E. A. Yates of Durham says, of an attempt on the part of some of the "enemies of Trinity" to "run its president out of the State."

If this sort of thing continue, the less pious of us will protest and if necessary assist in "turning the hose upon" these two irate gentlemen of the cloth. It's disgraceful, and it is now understood that the church is to take up the Crawford attack on Dr. Kilgo and make it the basis for an investigation of that "something wrong" which has evidently been going on among some of the clergy and laymen of the Methodist denomination for several years. Probe the wound, brethren, and then cauterize it!

MORE ROOM FOR PAUPER LUNATICS.

It was announced on Saturday that Governor Aycock had effected an agreement with Superintendent McKee and the Directors of the Central Hospital for the Insane, at Raleigh, to not accommodate either "pay patients" or "inebriates" in the future, and to require those now in this institution to clear out—"to go elsewhere." Where they can go is not stated. By this action it is hoped to make room for a certain pauper lunatic which Johnston county has tired of caring for, and some other perhaps.

Some of the craziest and most dangerous men I ever heard of were "inebriates"—in a majority of cases good men who "can't stand liquor" and are crazed by it whenever they drink it. By proper and prompt treatment at these asylums many of them have been saved from destruction and death, and are now citizens of influence and high standing.

But hereafter they are to go to the "demnition bow-wows, it seems, and if Governor Aycock has insisted on such a course and the Superintendent has consented to it, both have made a mistake, and a cruel and unjust one. If the cause and origin of the unbalanced mentality of the insane are to count in securing admission, it should be applied to all alike. Because the insane man (whose mind can be restored, and that's the main object of these asylums; they are not primarily prison houses) was made so by liquor, makes him no less a proper object of the State's attention. Even the thieves and murderers of the "dangerous insane" department receive medical care at the hands of the State. The asylum and not a hospital is the place for the class of "inebriates" I have named and so because they are "crazy."

tionably top-heavy with designing political tricksters and included among its leaders many erratic and some b-a-a-d men—no doubt of that. But it certainly included some good and capable and honest men in its personnel. For instance Secretary of State Cy. Thompson was one of the most efficient men that has filled that office, and now comes the proof that the late State Treasurer "Father" Worth is an honest man, as he was an honest official.

He has called a meeting of his bondsmen and placed at their disposal his entire private property, to recoup them for the loss they will sustain by payment of the $17,000 stolen by his fusion clerk, Major W. H. Martin, an "old issue Republican," who came down here with Sherman's army in the 60's, and honestly and capably in office regularly for a quarter of a century under State and Federal administrations—only to slip up at last.

Martin was bonded in the U. S. Fidelity and Guaranty Company but that company has given notice that it will fight the claim, and a suit in court will result. In the meantime Dr. Worth is called on by the present Treasurer to make good the defalcation, and hence his action. His bondsmen will meet here this week.

The good old Quaker did not make his property to his wife, or any one else, to escape payment, and he has not hunted up any technicalities or legal quibbles to delay settlement. He is worth the amount and will repay the stealings of his subordinate, if it bankrupts and beggars him. Aye, "Father Worth" is an honest man. Let the fact be recorded.

THE REFLECTOR is in receipt of a letter from Mr. E. Borden, Superintendent of Transportation of the Atlantic Coast Line, advising that on and after Monday, August 5th, train No. 59 will leave Weldon at 3:15 P. M., arriving at Greenville at 5:47 P. M., arrive at Kinston at 6:45 P. M.

Train No. 58 will pass Greenville the same hour as at present, 8:30 A. M.

Train No. 6 will be held at Kinston until after the arrival of the morning train from Goldsboro and will reach Greenville by 11:20 a. m.

These changes in the schedule will be of great advantage to Greenville and other points along this branch of the Coast Line. Passengers and mail can leave here at 5:47 in the evening, connect with the Atlantic & North Carolina train that passes Kinston at 7:14 p. m., and reach Goldsboro in time to connect with the fast mail for the north and with the Southern train for Raleigh and the west.

THE REFLECTOR wants to congratulate the people on these advantages and also thank Mr. Borden and the officials of the Coast Line for giving them to us.

An Independent Political Thinker.

We suppose every newspaper has its own definition of what they term independent political thinkers, and we are no exception. In our opinion a man is an independent thinker who forms his opinions of questions that may arise without how this or that party will stand on it, and who does not recant even though he continues to support his party. A man who is a strict partisan surrenders all right to think for himself. We know Republicans who were strong free silver men before the convention of six years ago but they stifled their convictions and yelled for the gold standard, and it is our belief that if the Democratic convention of that time had declared for the gold standard Southern Democrats would have been as enthusiastic for it as they were for free silver. -Durham Herald.

A Pile Driver.

A pile driver accomplishes its work by constant pounding. That is the way successful business men win trade - by constant advertising. The pile driver cannot sink a big stick with one or two blows - there must be steady, persistent work. No more can the business man hope to win a big business by using one or two advertisements. He must keep constantly before the public, day after day, month after month, and year after year. By such means a store becomes an established institution, secure in its position, if it keeps up to date in everything. The slightest suspension in effort will be taken advantage of by sure and competitors. The worst place to allow exertion to relax is in advertising, for that sort of thing attracts notice of an undesirable kind. -Garrison (Col.) Tribune.

The Advertised Article.

That advertising is necessary to success is recognized by retail dealers, one of whom has expressed himself thus: "I want to sell advertised articles in my stores and I am not going out of my way to sell other things at an effort. When a new article is advertised people call for it and I am forced to keep it."
