THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

What it Accomplished and the Results to Follow.

WINTERVILLE, N. C. Aug. 6.
EDITOR REFLECTOR.

Much has been said of the institute that was held here and I appreciate the many remarks, made by the friends of education, yet it is not of this I would speak just now.

For more than two years I have had the honored privilege of being closely connected with the public school interest of Pitt county, and have tried to take some humble part in building up the public schools so that greater benefits might be received.

I have realized that the teachers must be a great factor in this work and have sometimes before been discouraged, because I felt that we did not have the right teachers to depend upon. While they were among us during the institute, I found that I had been much mistaken, for we have a great number of zealous, faithful teachers, and I think that I can never again feel so uncharitable toward them, and would be glad to beg their pardon.

I presume that most of them have their hearts burdened with the great work of teaching our children and have endured great hardships in order to prepare themselves for this great and noble work.

Let me say a word just here to the many committeemen we have selected as true friends of our children and school interest. You should use care and judgment in selecting a teacher, suitable for your district and then don't make her feel bad by telling her that it is worth no more to teach school than to cook or grade tobacco, and you wish the public school system was done away with. Show your appreciation and a disposition to make everything comfortable and pleasant for her, and thus you will help her to be more patient in surmounting the trials and difficulties of the school room, which you nor I could meet. See your neighbors and get them to send their children to school, for your teacher will be pleased to see them come and it will be for their good.

If not out of place, I would say a word also to parents: You may have great love for your child and let it have its way rather than correct it. If so the child may expect the teacher to let it do as you have done, but don't worry when your child complains. Never find fault with your teacher because she asks you to get a different book or prefers to teach a new method, but rather feel that she has been carefully trained and is ably competent of choosing and doing what is best.

Now we are going to have more money to spend in our public schools than ever before and we will have better teachers with their hearts in the work. Let's stand by them and make our public schools more successful than ever before. A. G. Cox.

P. S. Hope the teachers and friends will strive to make your educational column, which you have so kindly offered, a great stimulus to the common education. Many thanks for the same.

Having qualified as cotton weigher for the town of Greenville, by filing my bond and oath with the County Commissioners as required by law, I hereby give notice that the statute provides, that any person other than the aforesaid cotton weigher who shall weigh any bale of cotton offered for sale in said town of Greenville, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished within the discretion of the court. No yard having been provided, as is usually the custom of towns or board's of trade in such cases, and it devolving upon me to supply one, I hereby designate, appoint, and constitute the platform at the wharf of the Old Dominion Steam Ship Company, the cotton yard for the town of Greenville until one is offered which is in the opinion of the weigher more convenient.

The law provides that the weigher shall receive as compensation for his services, ten cents for each bale weighed, five cents to be paid by buyer and five cents by the seller. Each buyer shall retain from the price of said cotton five cents to be paid to weigher as sellers part of compensation due weigher.

I have purchased a pair of Fairbanks scales with solid pair brass poises costing $67.75 and I believe first class in every respect.

I shall, so far as in my power, do equal justice to all.

Very respectfully,

W. L. BROWN.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings In North Carolina.

One of the furniture factories at Thomasville was destroyed by fire Sunday.

Beleah Riggsbee, a young farmer near Durham, was drowned Sunday while in swimming.

Early Sunday morning the chief of police of Shelby and the night watchman raided a negro gambling den. One of the negroes shot the chief of police through the heart, killing him instantly. A thousand people with blood hounds followed the trail of the negro who also shot one of the hounds when the dog was about to catch him. The negro had not been captured at last account.

The members of the Hyde county board of education have adopted two rules that might be followed in other counties. To refuse to appoint anyone a member of a school committee whose name appears on the insolvent list, and have directed the superintendent of schools to notify all the teachers who are behind in the payment of taxes of the advisability of paying them before they apply for a teachers certificate.—Washington Messenger.

Notice.

I have been authorized by the County Commissioners to list delinquent taxes. All persons who have not listed their taxes for 1901 are notified to come and do so during the month of August, or they may have an interview with the Solicitor at September court.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 6, 1901.

The ordinance committee of the Board of Aldermen are at work upon the code of laws to govern the town for next year. If a clause is put in that will prevent chickens being a neighborhood nuisance there will be cause for thankfulness by many suffering citizens.

The complaint of scarcity of labor is heard in all directions. Yet with all this demand for labor, and an opportunity for everybody to get employment who wants it, there are plenty of loafers to be seen. The ordinary class of labor now will not work unless compelled to, and getting such wages as will enable them to make enough in one day to live several days, they loaf a large part of the time. The majority of them take no thought for the future and care nothing about laying up or accumulating anything, satisfying the present being as far as their ambition goes.

"Happened to an accident," and Mrs. Smith, "of near" Smithville, are both comparatively recent creations, but "nearby" for nearby and "alright" for all right are hot from the bargain counter. We are indebted to the year of our Lord 1901 for them. You must have noticed them in the newspapers. Don't they look pretty?—Charlotte Observer.

Will our good brother of the Observer tell us what should be used in place of "of near?" It may be bad English, but we expect there is worse.

Your correspondent was given an odd bit of news last night by a gentleman of this city, who said there was a negro cooks' union or secret organization in Raleigh and that its members were under pledge to feed at least three people. If this be true it explains many things. It will, if true, also result in the end of negro cooks. The only problem will be who to get in their places. With negro cooks eliminated would white girls be willing to take house service? It is one of the questions of the time. The negro cook is fast passing, and will pass much faster if there be a union. A gentleman here who is quite a wag, when asked by a census taker what was his occupation said "keeping a negro boarding house." When asked what he meant he said he had a wife and a cook and that the latter fed at least 5 people. A white labor agitator, who in Raleigh now happily knows no more, wanted to organize the washer-women and cooks, too, and said this would make complete the organization.—Raleigh Cor. Charlotte Observer.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 5.

The Hanna-Platt combine against Teddy's Presidential aspirations, is the newest thing in the political field. It was intended to be strictly a secret affair, but somebody leaked. The story, as told in Washington, says that several trusted lieutenants of Senators Hanna and Platt, met in a hotel, not a thousand miles from Washington, and entered into a deal, pledging their respective principals to work together in taking whatever steps that might be made necessary by Teddy's Western trip to head off any boom that might be started for his nomination for President. Platt's men tried to get Hanna's men to commit their chief to the support of Gov. Odell as Mr. McKinley's successor, but that was further than the Hannaites were willing to go. They agreed that no other New York men would be put forward by Hanna as a candidate for the Presidential nomination, and that if Roosevelt could not be kept out of the nomination in any other way than by nominating Odell, Hanna would throw his influence to him. Meanwhile, Platt's men are to boom Odell and insist that he will have the solid support of the New York delegation to the National Convention and that the name of no other New York candidate will be presented. The game is not to openly fight Teddy but simply to ignore his candidacy and undermine whatever strength he may develop elsewhere, by making it apparent that he is not seriously considered as a candidate in his own state. At the Platt end of the deal they regard it as advantageous Odell, but the Hanna men do not take that view of it. They think that they have made a deal that will give them the help of the Platt machine to kill Teddy at home, but do not believe that Odell will show enough strength outside of New York, to give them any trouble when they get ready to spring the name of Hanna's candidate. They are all a little bit afraid of the hurrah with the younger republicans associate with Teddy's name. Captain Parker, one of Admiral Schley's counsel, who spent nearly all of last week searching the records of the Navy Department, and who will resume the work this week, filed a formal protest with Acting Secretary Hackett against the espionage he was subjected to while doing the work. Mr. Hackett's explanation was that the Naval regulations required an officer to be present, when a person not connected with the service was allowed to examine the official records of the department, but Capt. Parker did not think that the Naval regulations required an officer to be on each side of him, making note of everything he copied from the records, as was actually the case. The truth of the matter is that the clique which has been hounding Admiral Schley ever since the beginning of the war with Spain are thoroughly frightened—they know that the country will not stand for such methods as they have been guilty of in their efforts to disgrace Admiral Schley, and fear the exposure that will be brought about by the evidence before the court of inquiry, unless stubborn facts can be juggled out of that evidence. Capt. Parker has discovered several important facts in the official records, which support Admiral Schley's intentions concerning his movements, while in command of the Flying Squadron which was searching for the Spanish fleet, and he expects to find more.

TOO BAD.

An Unlucky Thirteen Comes in.

Just as the Atlantic Coast Line gets schedules arranged by which Greenville can get Raleigh mail via Kinston at 11 o'clock a. m., the Atlantic & North Carolina road goes to work and changes the schedule on that road so as to miss the connection at Kinston by just 13 minutes. That is too bad, and the A. & N. C. officials ought to let their morning train leave Goldsboro at the same time as before, so long as the A. C. L. has already made a change to connect with them. The thirteen minute gap should be filled up so the trains will connect at Kinston and bring mail and passengers right on to Greenville and other intermediate points.
Owing to our train not leaving Kinston on time this morning the connection was made and Raleigh papers and passengers came through all right, but the two trains should have a regular connection at Kinston and not depend on chance.

AFRAID TO RUN FOR THE DOGS.

GREENVILLE, N. C., Aug. 5, 1901.
EDITOR REFLECTOR.
The communication of W. C. Hines in your issue of Saturday, 3rd inst., is worthy of serious thought and consideration. So great has become the feeling against blood hounds that I am informed that Mr. Hines cannot procure a negro boy to make a track to practice his dogs in trailing. Many negro boys say they would like to make the money offered by Mr. Hines, but they are afraid of violence from the negroes if they furnish tracks for the training of the blood hounds. There is evidently some importance to be attached to having a pack of blood hounds near at hand, by this class. If this is endorsed and approved by the negroes generally as a class, it is not to their credit. There are many negroes in Pitt county who are good citizens, and who condemn crimes and uphold the law, but when it comes to pass that a negro boy is threatened because he furnishes aid and assistance to prevent crime there is need of every precaution to protect the community. Every county should have a pack of dogs. CITIZEN.

Captain Schley, son of Admiral Schley, propounds the conundrum: If Admiral Schley had lost that Santiago fight, would Admiral Sampson have rushed to assume the responsibility as he did the glory of the victory? Not much.—Wilmington Star.

Having decided to teach music this winter will be glad if parents desiring to have their children take from me would see me before the fall term of school opens September 2nd. MISS C. BRUCE FORBES

South Carolina now ranks second as a cotton manufacturing State, surpassed only by Massachusetts. The probabilities are that as South Carolina has reached this place within twenty years, in the next twenty there are at least three Southern States which will lead Massachusetts—South Carolina, North Carolina and Georgia.—Wilmington Star.
