The Old Man Eloquent.

General Ransom is as effective and eloquent as he was in 1847, when he delivered the address of welcome to President James K. Polk, and one of his cabinet, Mr. Mason, of Virginia. The address was delivered with much perfection of art, and greatly pleased the audience. General Ransom is not yet an old man. He was born in 1826, and is not yet seventy-five. He can command audiences now as few men in North Carolina have commanded them in the last half century. He is stateiv, impressive, and at times all aglow with oratory. It is strange how soon men in their prime are shelved or relegated to the room of retirement as antiquated, sterile and decadent, when in fact they are able to command listening senates or to stir the great patriotic multitudes into fine phrenzy by the witchery of their vocalization and the fervor of their high oratory.—Wilmington Messenger.

People who pay for what they buy in cash get no credit for it.

She Soon Altered It.

Many young ladies have found it necessary to improve, or rather to alter, the spelling of the names with which they were originally blessed. Mabel becomes Mabelle, Jessie becomes Jessica, Mary become Marie, and so forth. A brother lately received a letter from his young sister at a fashionable boarding school. It was signed Jessica. He answered:

"Dear Sister Jessica—Your welcome letter received. Papaica and Mammaica are well. Aunt Maryica and Uncle Georgica started for Glasgowica yesterday. I have bought a new horse. You ought to see it; it's a beauty. It's name is Maudica. Your affectionate brother, Samica."

The sister's next letter was signed "Jessie."—London Tit-Bits.

Hollow mockery—an echo.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 13, 1901.

Greenville is now having daily spectacles the outcome of which is horrible to contemplate. There is perhaps no sadder picture than seeing a lot of knee pants boys enticed into barrooms by musical slot machines. But that is just what can be seen now on the most public street of Greenville. The Board of Aldermen recently licensed these gambling machines and permitted them to be operated in the town, when they had the power to keep them out. THE REFLECTOR believes they shouldered a great responsibility in that act, one that will some day in some way come home to them. No member of the Board may have a son in immediate danger of these traps, but other fathers have sons who are being lured into ruin, and they as the guardians of the town should have protected them. It may be a matter to pass lightly over now, but the divine law of "reaping what we sow" has never been changed, and there will be may a mother's heartache over the waywardness of a son that somebody will be held accountable for. No greater evil has been thrust upon the town than these slot machines.

Benjamin De Lamos, a prisoner in the Columbus, Ohio, penitentiary, wants to attend the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Cleveland, and has offered to give bond in $100,000 for his reappearance if permitted to absent himself from the prison for a few days. He says he has never missed an encampment, and does not wish to mar his record, for regular attendance. De Lamos was sentenced for a technical violation of the pension laws. He was at one time a member of the Alabama House of Representatives.

It is well enough for all people to condemn lynchings, but when the crime for which lynching is the usual penalty is committed in your community and maybe one of your neighbors is the victim, why it is another matter, and people who have never been tried do not know what they would do under the circumstances.—Durham Herald.

A Toledo Judge has issued an injunction to restrain a flock of some forty ducks owned by Louis Gould from quacking at night, so they will not disturb the slumbers of Harry C. Teal, a neighbor. If the ducks shall disregard the injunction they will be punished for contempt of Court.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent. WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12. In official reports, just published by the War Department, Gen. Chaffee has written some very plain language concerning "a scheme of settlement" for damages done by boxers to Chinese Christians connected with the American Congregational Mission submitted to him by Minister Conger, asking both a money and land indemnity from the Chinese Government. It may be inferred from the official expression of his opinion, which follows, that Gen. Chaffee did not O. K. the scheme: "The scheme of settlement; as it appears to me, is very much in the line of business called 'squeeze', which we hear a great deal about in China."

The Knights of Labor have combined with the American Anti-Trust League, and employed a well known Washington lawyer to prepare a plan for helping the steel strikers by starting legal proceedings against the steel trust under the anti-trust laws of every state in which it operates. Ex-Attorney General Monett, of Ohio, has been instrumental in starting these organizations after the big trusts. In a letter to an official of one of them he said: "You have the correct idea. Under the Ohio Anti-Trust Act, we can reach them in Ohio right now, both criminally and civilly. We have the strongest act under which to attack them of any of the states except Texas. We can fill the jails with violators of our anti-trust laws, as rapidly as they can jail workmen for contempt." The outcome of this movement will be watched with interest, both by the trusts which are after everything, including the freedom of the individual, and the anti-trust men who believe that it is necessary to break the power of the trusts in some way before they become too strong to be broken by any other means than brute force. The anti-trust men are also after Attorney General Knox, to know why he doesn't proceed against the steel trust for having violated the Sherman anti-trust law. They may not succeed in making Knox do anything; but they will call public attention to his failure to do what he might.

Outside of those interested in and responsible for the job, for job it is, even if a little one, it is doubtful whether a single member of the last Congress had any idea that the item in the Agricultural bill, carrying an appropriation of $20,000 for "paleontological investigation" was an entering wedge for the payment of an export fruit bounty by this government. The cat is now out of the bag and, in answer to a letter from Secretary Wilson, the Comptroller of the Treasury has decided that the money can be used either to guarantee a minimum return to fruit shippers or to defray a whole or part of the transportation charges—in other words, it can be used to pay a bounty to the shippers of American fruit who are fortunate enough to be in the good graces of Secretary Wilson. The government bounty idea has never been a popular one in this country and the administration is likely to hear considerable about this new bounty during the next session of Congress.

The arrogance of a fool is really more marketable than the modesty of a genius. Sorrow is the sombre shadow that ever hovers about the soul, seeking to stain its sweetness. Every affliction has its blessing. The man with the wooden leg never has the rheumatism in that ankle.

Though straw hats for horses are now widely used in this country it is not likely that the Japanese custom of shoeing horses with straw will ever become popular here. The Japanese horseshoes are of ordinary rice straw tightly and firmly braided making a surface about the size of the animal's foot and half an inch thick. They cost about a cent a set, and when worn out are thrown away.

Died at His Post.

Mr. W. Robert Bruce, of Buford township, died last Sunday afternoon of a congestive chill. Mr. Bruce had long had a premonition that when death claimed him it would come suddenly and without warning. Such was almost the case. He was superintendent of Sandy Ridge Baptist Sunday school. In company with his brother from Kershaw, S. C., who was visiting him, he had gone to church about 10 o'clock that morning. He was making a talk to the Sunday school when he became faint and called to his brother to assist him to a seat. He lost consciousness and never recovered. He was taken to the home of Mr. William Griffin, who lives near the church. A physician was summoned but did not arrive until after death had come.—Monroe Journal.

RURAL DELIVERY BOXES.

Government Furnishes Four on Each Route.

Postmaster J. J. Perkins has just received sixteen metal letter boxes for use on the four rural free delivery routes going out from Greenville. The people living along these routes furnish their own boxes for forwarding and receiving mail, and the Government also furnishes four boxes on each route for the use of the public. These public boxes are placed at convenient places on the routes and the mail carriers have to take up the letters from them and bring them on to the postoffice the same as from the private boxes, but no one can get mail from the public boxes as they are only for dropping matter in to be forwarded.

The places at which the boxes will be placed are as follows:

ROUTE NO. 1.

At R. J. Little's cotton gin on the river road. At C. D. Smith's store on the Stantonsburg road. At Pollard's store. At Standard.

ROUTE NO. 2.

If you put a sign on the fence or tree or side of the house people must go to it to read it, hence few read it.

SEND YOUR SIGN TO

the people by putting it in

THE REFLECTOR

and you will see the difference. THE REFLECTOR goes to the people and carries your sign with it, and they all read it.

Advertising

in THE REFLECTOR will bring you success. Don't lag behind in the race but let the people know what you are here for.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what you have to sell and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people. The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part
