It is important that those who go on excursions for pleasure or health should make some provisions against the attacks of bowel disease, which not only cause them great inconvenience, but are sometimes fatal in their results. A bottle of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer is, we have found, a most effectual remedy against such attacks. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'. Price 25c and 50c.

SAVES LIFE

Willard, Ill., August 1, 1900.

I was in bad health this spring and could not sit up in bed for four weeks. When I was confined my child died. When I began to sit up I felt so weak and had such terrible pains in my back and hips. I had kidney trouble and falling of the womb. I also had hysterical spells. I was in a bad condition when I received your "Ladies' Birthday Almanac" and read the advertisement of Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught. Since April 20th, I have taken four bottles of Wine of Cardui and three packages of Thedford's Black-Draught. I feel like a new person now. I can do all my work and can walk out to see any of my neighbors. I believe I would have been in the grave had it not been for Wine of Cardui. IT SAVED MY LIFE.

Mrs. ALICE DAVIS.

It is well that women are more patient than men. Few men could bear the bitter pangs, the agony and distress that women endure. Thousands of women have come to look upon suffering as a duty of their sex. But there are many instances of this heroic fortitude which now renders unnecessary. Women need no longer suffer for modesty's sake. Wine of Cardui brings relief to modest women in the privacy of their homes. Many of the best homes in this city are never without this great medicine. It cures whites and falling of the womb and completely eradicates these dragging periodical pains. Mrs. Davis' cure shows you conclusively what you may expect if you follow her example and take Wine of Cardui. Thedford's Black-Draught aids Wine of Cardui by regulating the stomach and bowels. When you ask your druggist for these medicines, be sure you get them. It was Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black Draught that saved Mrs. Davis' life. Never take a substitute.

WINE OF CARDUI

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 28, 1901.

The State has recently employed an experienced Veterinary Surgeon from out west to investigate diseases among stock and instruct the farmers of North Carolina how to best care for their stock. This Veterinary Surgeon reached the State a few days ago, and the Agricultural Department, under whose direction he is, at once sent him on a lecturing tour to farmers institutes in the western part of the State. In view of the fact that in several of the eastern counties, especially Hyde, Pamlico and Beaufort, there is an epidemic among horses that is killing them at a rapid rate, and a danger of the disease spreading to other counties, it looks like it would have been the proper thing for the Board of Agriculture to have sent the surgeon down east to investigate the existing trouble and help the farmers to check it, instead of sending him lecturing in a section where there is no immediate need of his service. With the people of these eastern counties the situation is alarming, and they are wondering over this action of the Agricultural Department.

THE STEER BEAT.

"Speaking of fine horses," said a stranger in the city yesterday, "reminds me of the sad incident in the life of Capt. James Evans, of Cumberland county. Ten year ago there was no man living that valued a fast horse more than Capt. Evans, but now he would pay as much for a good strong blind mule as for Cresceus. It all came about this way: The captain got hold of a horse that he was certain was the quickest traveler in Cumberland county, and he spent all his leisure time putting the animal in good racing shape. He had visions of unlimited first prizes at county fairs; and there's no doubt about the fact that the horse was a hummer. One day Capt. Evans hitched him to his light dog cart and started to town. Just as he drove out of his gate he met a farmer that he knew, who was driving a big tall white steer to an old frayed out buggy. The captain said it was the most remarkable ox that he had ever seen and had the longest legs he had ever seen on any cattle kind. The captain and the farmer drove side by side for about a mile, talking of one thing and another, and just as the captain was about to touch up his horse and hurry on the farmer said:

"Well, captain, this is mighty pleasant, but I reckon I must get on to town."

"Gee Buck!"

"With that the tall steer reached out his long legs and began to hit the grit at a great pace.

"The captain was so amazed that for a minute he sat in his cart and watched that bloomin' ox trot. Then he got mad, reached for his whip, clucked and said:

"G'lang Katy Flyer!"

"And Katy Flyer did all she knew how."

"You may not believe it, but the captain said he never was able to catch that white steer, though he raced him for nearly seven miles. Sometimes the farmer would let him come pretty close and then he would take another grip on his plough lines, yelp, 'Gee Buck,' and the way that old he-cow would buckle down to the earth and amble up and down those hills was a caution. Finally the captain realized that it was useless to race any further, pulled in his blooded horse and watched the trotting steer, with his tail stretched straight out behind, disappear from view. Since the experience Capt. Evans has had no use for race horses."—Charlotte Observer.

Caught a Deer.

Mr. E. S. Dixon, of Black Jack caught a deer Saturday the 17th, near his home. The deer had been run by hounds for about five hours. Mr. Dixon was near where the deer jumped through a fence and became entangled. Mr. Dixon threw down his gun and made for his deership; jumped a ten rail fence at one bound and seized the deer by the hind legs with a severe grip. While holding the animal he was pelted severely by the deer's forefeet. Mr. J. H. and Calvin Mills were near by and helped him to get the deer to Mr. J. H. Mills', where it can be seen. It is a fleshy young doe beginning to shed its spots. It will weigh probably 75 pounds. Very few men can boast of having outstripped dogs and guns and catching the fleet footed and active deer.—Ayden Baptist.

An Indication Of Good Times.

It is usual at this season of the year to read of demands being made on the money centres of the East for large amounts of money with which to move the crops in the South and West. The absence of this demand the present season has been noted. We have seen it stated that so far but one call has been made and was for the insignificant sum of $250,000. This state of affairs has its explanation in the increased prosperity of the agricultural communities of the South and West as reflected in increased bank deposits in the banks of these sections, where the people now have more money laid up than at any time since the war. Together with the increase in bank deposits has come an increase in the banking institutions, so that the agricultural communities have much better facilities than has heretofore been the case. No better indication of the prosperous condition of the South and West is to be found than in the fact that they will this year be able to move their crops to a great extent with their own cash. Some calls will yet be made on the East, no doubt, but they will be for much smaller amounts than has been the case in previous years, and this indicates a most encouraging situation. We doubt if there has been a similar period of prosperity since the civil war.—Charlotte Observer.

What Advertising Does.

It is the opinion of The Grocery World that advertising is news, since it tells the people of the existence of some desirable article and from whom and at what price said article may be obtained. As news the proper place for advertising is in the newspaper; and it is to the newspaper that people look for it. While advertising does not create needs it does often make people aware of their need. The news which calls attention to an article also makes the reader realize that he wants it.—Philadelphia Record.

This school has been under its present management for thirteen years. The work in the past is cited as a guarantee for the future. Boys go every session from us directly to the University or any College in the State. Their standing there speaks for the work done here. Purely a business course given if desired. Stenography and Type Writing may be arranged for if pupils wish. Your patronage in the past is duly appreciated and we ask a continuance of the same. Early entrance insures best work. W. H. RAGSDALE, Greenville, N. C., Aug. 7, 1901. Principal.

"Lynched" Negro Turns up Alive.

Goldsboro, N. C., Aug 27.—The negro, D. B. Jones, who was thought to have been lynched in LaGrange some time ago for an assault upon a white lady near the town, turned up yesterday in Snow Hill, charged with forcible trespass on the lands of a farmer and was sent to jail. Although rewards were offered for the lynchers and the affair occasioned much comment at the time, the negro was not hurt more than a severe whipping. The clerk of the court of Greene county knew the LaGrange negro and says the negro now in jail in Snow Hill is the same negro.
