The Big Store.

Munford's big store with the immense stock he has received this season, is attracting everybody's attention. Seeing case after case of goods unloaded at his doors made people wonder where he was going to put them, even if he did have such a big store. But the goods are in and taken care of all right, and his display is beautiful. To handle such a stock of goods and see that none of the many customers were left without a chance of being waited on, it has been necessary to increase the number of salespeople and the entire force now numbers just eleven. They are C. T. Munford, Mrs. Carrie Munford, Misses Ada Wooten and Lena Harris, R. D. Bo Cherry, Col. H. A. Sutton, T. H. Tyson, E. G. Barrett, W. H. Ricks, Lafayette Tyson, Charlie Parker-son.

First Month.

The first month of the Greenville tobacco market for this season is now over. With the Greenville Warehouse it has been the best month in its history, and we want to return thanks to every farmer who has favored us with his patronage. We have fulfilled every promise made at the beginning of the season, and have yet to hear of a farmer who was not satisfied with what our house has done for him. We shall continue to do our very best on every load of tobacco sold with us and will see that it brings full value. Bring your tobacco to the Greenville Warehouse. MOORMAN, EVANS & Co.

ASTHMA CURE FREE!

Asthmalene Brings Instant Relief & Permanent Cure in all Cases SENT ABSOLUTELY FREE ON RECEIPT OF POSTAL.

There is nothing like Asthmalene. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. C. F. Wells, of Villa, Ridge, Ill., says: "Your bottle of Asthmalene received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease, asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment, the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full-size bottle."

We want to send to every sufferer a trial treatment of Asthmalene, similar to the one that cured Mr. Wells. We'll send it by mail post-paid, absolutely Free of Charge, to any sufferer who will write for it, even on a postal. Never mind, though you are despairing, however bad your case. Asthmalene will relieve and cure. The worse your case, the more glad we are to send it. Do not delay, write at once, addressing Dr. Taft Bros' Medicine Co., 79 East 130th St., N. Y. City. Sold by all Druggists.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1901.

BOOK PUBLISHERS UNFAIR.

Reports coming out from Raleigh say that the State Superintendent of Public Instruction is very much exercised over certain actions of the book companies holding contracts to furnish books to be used in the public schools of the State. Of course the book concerns do not want any old books exchanged—though the law requires them to make exchange—and they have adopted all kinds of red tape methods to prevent or discourage the offering of any old books in exchange. Some of these things coming to the attention of the Superintendent riled him and he is doing some plain talking on the subject.

There are some other things in connection with this school book business that perhaps the public has not caught on to. The book concerns made a great flourish of their sacrifices and how much cheaper they were going to sell books, but when the thing is figured into a little it will be seen that they are making more on many books under the new law than they did under the old law. That is they will make more if they can get anybody to handle the books for them. The agent or dealer who sells the books is the man upon whom the loss falls, for all the reduction made by the book concerns is taken off the commissions of the seller. They used to pay 25 per cent commission for selling books, while now they offer only 10 per cent, and most of them have contracts that no business man should want fastened upon him.

Here is the way some of the prices figure out. Just take three books for example:

UNDER OLD LAW.

Book	Price	Com.	Profit
Web. Dic'y.	48	12	36
Har. Sp'r.	20	5	15
Steele's Phys'gy	50	12.5	37.5

UNDER NEW LAW.

Book	Price	Com.	Profit
Web. Dic'y.	48	4.8	43.2
Har. Sp'r.	15	1.5	13.5
Steele's Phys'gy	45	4.5	41.5

Thus it is seen that on some of the books the profit to the publisher is larger than before. All the books will not figure out just that way but on the whole they come out pretty well.

We learn that many dealers to whom contracts were offered are refusing to handle the books on any such terms and conditions, and that ought to be the decision of every dealer in the State. No doubt the last Legislature meant well in enacting the new school book law, but it played exactly into hands of the book concerns and occasioned no end of annoyance to school teachers, pupils and parents.

Amusements Come Too High.

Now that the theatrical and circus season is opening up, amusement lovers in North Carolina are confronted with the fact that any circus coming to this State can only play at one or two points where large crowds can be quickly gathered.

The reason for this is the immense tax, the lowest tax for a big show being five hundred dollars per day, with a possible maximum limit of one thousand dollars a day.

What this excessive tax rate was made for, it is impossible to guess.

It may be that the old idea that a circus carries all the money out of a country, caused North Carolina's legislators to place this practically prohibitive tax on the circus.

If the high tax rate was made to increase the State revenues, it has fallen short, is a failure.

In the theatre line, it will be found that the license is excessive for those running the show houses, the result being that the amusement loving public must suffer, being given poor shows at high rates for admission, and if really good entertainments could be presented, the charge of admission would be beyond the ordinary citizen's pocket.

That there has been no prohibitive tax on base ball is a blessing, especially in Eastern Carolina and in this city, where the public has thoroughly enjoyed the summer by seeing many and exciting games, at no great expense.—New Bern Journal.

Plague Of Caterpillars.

The people are waking up to the fact that this is one of the greatest caterpillar years on record. This pest is usually unknown except in the spring, but there have been three crops this year. Along with the caterpillar has come another pest in the shape of a small worm, of a brownish red, with small white streaks, that infests certain of the shade trees, notably the cottonwood poplars, by the thousands and literally strip them of leaves. The superabundance of caterpillars, worms and bugs is accounted for by the long wet spell. Superintendent Mose Thomas, of Elmwood Cemetery, has waged a relentless war on the pests all summer and by dint of hard work has kept the cemetery comparatively free from them. As a result, the cemetery trees look as green and fresh as in the early spring, in striking contrast to many of the shade trees about the city. The New York and Baltimore papers have lately devoted columns to the ravages of the caterpillar in the parks of those cities and they say that nothing like it has ever been seen. The only way to get rid of the caterpillars at the present time is to burn them. The tree will be spoiled for the season, but the unsightly caterpillar will be gone.

Half a loaf is better than no holiday.

The early worm doesn't wait for the bird.

The Greenville REFLECTOR published the proceedings in the Mayor's of court of that township for a week. The Mayor was very busy and the fines were numerous, and the causes were quite alike. There were sundry "drunk and disorderly" victims fined. Then there were fights and riotings. One fellow was was arraigned for keeping an open bar. Some minors were arraigned. It was an ugly showing for a week in a small town. Whiskey runs at the bottom of all the violence and drunkenness. — Wilmington Messenger.

MISS BESSIE PATRICK.

Mosquito Story.

The champion heavy weight mosquito story of the season comes from Onslow county. It is told by a gentleman of this city who is just back from a trip over there. He says that recently a mule in that section of country was bitten by a rattlesnake and the animal taken to the swamp apparently dead. The ubiquitous mosquito soon discovered the body, the word was passed among the mosquito family and they collected there in teeming millions. They drew all the blood from the animal which was so impregnated with the poison of the snake that one by one the winged pests dropped dead from the body and when a large portion of the blood had been extracted, the mule got up and returned to his owner's farm house. Where the body lay—to make the story complete—an inch of dead mosquitos as found on the ground. It is a mosquito story with the accent upon the story.—Wilmington Star.

A Magnificent Gift.

Senator H. S. Ward, of Plymouth, who was in the city yesterday, tells of a magnificent gift to his town. It is $5,000 for an academy building and is given by Dr. John Hampton, now of Pennsylvania, a native of Plymouth. He removed to Pennsylvania after the war and amassed a large fortune. The only condition to his gift is that the town provide a lot whereupon he would erect the building to the memory of his wife, and this will be done. The present school building is entirely inadequate and the new structure will be of brick and furnished throughout.

Dr. Hampton is now in Plymouth and is so much impressed with the artesian water there that he has shipped some of it to his people in Pennsylvania, as he thinks it is a health restorative.—Raleigh News & Observer.

This school has been under its present management for thirteen years. The work in the past is cited as a guarantee for the future. Boys go every session from us directly to the University or any College in the State. Their standing there speaks for the work done here. Purely a business course given if desired. Stenography and Type Writing may be arranged for if pupils wish. Your patronage in the past is duly appreciated and we ask a continuance of the same. Early entrance insures best work. W. H. RAGSDALE, Principal. Greenville, N. C., Aug. 7, 1901.

Since the victorious contest of McCormick over Deering machines, at Tarboro a few days ago, I have received a car load of McCormick mowers. Wherever the McCormick machines are placed in competition with others, or on exhibition, they always come off victorious. Nothing equals the McCormick machine. Call and see them. R. L. HUMBER.

A Good Warehouseman.

We have been noticing the sales on this market very closely for the last ten years and in times gone by have often said that O. L. Joyner was one of the most wide awake warehousemen in the state. It was he who first gave this market its up and onward career to be one of the largest markets in the world. It was his untiring efforts and ceaseless vigil that held the market up when enemies were attacking it on all sides. He threw life into it and inspired others. On his sale today it reminded us of old times at the old Eastern Warehouse when Joyner had it in charge but when the market was smaller. He has grown with the market and is today the equal of any warehouseman in the state. It gives us great pleasure to note his rapidly increasing trade.

A cream puff—the milkman's add.

It may seem peculiar but the average actor would rather have a long rod than a short walk.

GREENVILLE N. C.

If you put a sign on the fence or tree or side of the house people must go to it to read it, hence few read it.

SEND YOUR SIGN TO

the people by putting it in

THE REFLECTOR

and you will see the difference. THE REFLECTOR goes to the people and carries your sign with it, and they all read it.

Advertising

in THE REFLECTOR will bring you success. Don't lag behind in the race, but let the people know what you are here for.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what you have to sell and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people.

The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part.
