Same Trouble Elsewhere.

The school book commission appointed by the last legislature is an elegant institution in theory; but practically, it is a snare and a delusion. It established such arbitrary prices and rules for the selling of school books that they cannot be had at any store in Mount Olive or Goldsboro; hence each scholar must order books by mail, thus making the cost higher than ever before. The legislature of 1901 was a glorious one and the children of this school district are paying their part of the cost.—Mount Olive Advertiser.

Why Do Negroes Suicide?

The New Orleans Times-Democrat discusses the fact that in recent years it has become common in Louisiana for negro women to commit suicide, but that negro men seldom fall on the bared bodkin, and despairs of giving a reason. Until recent years suicide among negroes was unknown. The reason now is perhaps because of the responsibility that rests upon them to care for themselves and their children—a responsibility which is often too heavy for them.—Raleigh News and Observer.

We have heard attention called to the fact many times that the negroes would always try to imitate white people in everything. So possibly they have seen the white folks take themselves off until they have caught on to it and try to imitate them.

"The weather has been so hot in this county," wails a Southern Missouri paper, "that liverymen have had to stand their horses in water an hour a day to keep their shoes from coming off, and wagons are going around with their tongues out. The catfish kick up such a dust in the bed of the Gasconade river that the river has to be sprinkled before you can go fishing. A spark from an engine set the big railroad pond on fire and burned up a wagon load of bull frogs. The ground is so hard and dry that the crawfish holes in the low places are being pulled up and shipped off for gas pipes."

A Dying Miser's Secret.

Asheville, August 31.—Jonathan Newman, an old and respected citizen of Henderson county, died yesterday at his home on Mud Creek. Ever since the war Newman, who was eccentric in some respects, was known to have had a considerable sum of money. He has several times added a lot to his sum of late years by the sale of land. When he had but a few hours to live, Newman revealed places where he had money hoarded.

Part of his story was verified today when more than $4,000 in greenbacks was found between the ceiling and the weatherboarding. He said a bucket of gold was buried in the garden, and today all his relatives, of which he has a host, wielded picks and shovels with Klondyke assiduity. At last accounts, however, they found nothing more valuable than Irish potatoes.

The pedestrian is one man who puts his whole soul into his work. The easiest way to get a hen out of a garden is slow but shoo'er.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2.

General Wood's report as Governor General of Cuba, has just been made to the War Department. It reviews the administration of the affairs of the islands during the past fiscal year, paying attention to resources, education, the judiciary, the steps taken for a new civil government, etc. But the most significant portion of the whole document contains an unconscious arrangement of the high tariff policy of the United States Government. He said that the present system does not favor good commercial facilities on account of unfavorable duties on tobacco and sugar. They keep the prices up in this country and if they are persisted in regard to Cuba it will mean that development of Cuba will be slow if at all, as the changed conditions in commercial relations since the time of the Spanish War make her now market her principal products in the United States, and she must have lower duties "if she is to live and prosper." Comments like this are the best arguments that low tariff can have, and they are particularly forcible when they concern the vital welfare of an island that our promises and our national honor compel us to foster and protect.

The summer is Uncle Sam's house cleaning time, when there is nothing else in Washington of sufficient importance to distract his attention from his imperative task. During the hot months the annual renovation takes place, and about the first of September sees the work completed. This year the changes have been particularly sweeping, almost all the interior of the Capitol building being repaired and made modern. The Supreme Court room was about to emerge from a chaos of plaster, when only a few days ago the temporary plaster ceiling, under the new steel one, fell and hurt several workmen. A party of tourists under the direction of one of the Capitol guides, got out in the nick of time. One of the most ticklish jobs has been the putting in of a steel counter-part of the plaster ceiling of Statuary Hall. This hall has peculiar acoustic properties, there being many "whispering galleries" that are the delight of the young married couples that make Washington their honey moon Mecca. These galleries are also prolific sources of income to the Capitol guides who reveal their mysteries to the uninitiated. On account of all this there was a clause in the ceiling-builder's contract that the change should in no wise impair the whispering properties. A recent test shows the mystic echoes still intact. The usual new carpet will appear in the Senate and House, the old ones having been removed. Absolutely unique carpet designs,—though always in red—are luxuries that Uncle Sam allows his legislators.

The Schley-Sampson controversy is attracting but little attention now, and everybody is letting it drop for a breathing spell until the Court of Inquiry convenes at the Navy Yard, September 12. On account of the dearth of news just now the yellow journals are trying to keep the feud alive, but the public is apathetic.

The politics of Virginia are attracting some local attention for one of the candidates for lieutenant governor Mr. Willard who is furnishing the campaign "bar" is a business man of this city and the owner of the historic Willard's hotel. He gained a legal residence in the Old Dominion, it is said for the express purpose of getting into

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

The Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt county, having issued Letters of Administration to me, the undersigned, on the 2nd day of September, 1901, on the estate of Joseph A. Dupree, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the estate to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and to all creditors of said estate to present their claims, properly authenticated, to the undersigned, within twelve months after the date of this notice, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery. This the 2nd day of Sept., 1901. JUDITH D. DUPREE, Administratrix on the estate of JOSEPH A. DUPREE.

politics, and seems to have succeeded.

The Treasurer Bureau of Statistics, and the other departments of the government service, continue to receive proofs of the growing foreign trade of this country, and of the increase of cordial relations between this and other nations. This neighborliness is shown particularly in regard to the adjacent islands of the West Indies. Information from the Treasury Department shows a growing disposition on the part of the island of Jamaica to trade with the United States until now we have the bulk of the island's commerce. The facts and figures given out have an added interest because Jamaica is a British colony, and the data comes from the British colonial report. The value of exports shows a constant increase from the island to the United States, and where Great Britain has almost a third of the Jamaican exports in 1896 she gets now less than one-fifth, Americans taking the rest. Her imports to the island are also decreasing steadily in proportion to the volume of trade while the United States gain.

The Man Who Does Things.

Hon. John H. Small is the type of the Congressman who does things. He did not stop with his vigorous criticism of the Agricultural Department for not sending experts to Hyde and Beaufort counties to investigate the plague that is killing the horses. He went at once to Washington city, where he "secured a promise from the Agricultural Department at Washington to send an expert immediately to investigate the horse disease." That's the way to do things. In a great terrible epidemic like that which curses the farmers of the East, immediate action is necessary.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Averages that Count.

We watched the sale awhile today at the Greenville Warehouse and noticed how Moorman, Evans & Co., hustled for the farmers who sold with them. Mr. Pierce, of Contentnea, sold 50 pounds at $10.75, 35 at $21, 27 at $36, 41 at $27, 80 at $16.50, 76 at $11, 122 at $8.50. And Mr. Woolard, of Carolina, sold at prices running from $12.50 to $27, giving an average of $19. These are the sales that please the farmers and make them carry their tobacco to the Greenville Warehouse.

When and How to Paint.

The best time of the year to paint is when the spring rains are over and the wood is dry, but before flies get too plenty. After the bulk of flies are gone in the fall is also a good time. Most farm buildings can be painted by the owner or farm hands without employing an experienced painter at high wages. In applying the paint the two important points to bear in mind are to have it of the right consistency and to spread it thin and evenly. Always hold the brush and hand at right angles to the material which you are painting and do not be afraid to use plenty of elbow grease to brush in the paint. The most durable paint for outdoor work is pure white lead and raw linseed oil.

Feeding Young Chicks.

Chicks will do without food for the first 24 hours, but when they do begin to feed they should be fed constantly. At first their food should be bread crumbs dry or soaked in milk and the yolk of a hard boiled egg. Afterward give small grain, wheat, groats, canary seed, a little hemp seed, bits of cooked meat and sparingly of green stuff. Feed every two hours for the first two weeks, then gradually extend the time until the meals are given three or four times a day. When the chicks are a week old, they should be allowed to run about in the open air. Do not let the chicks out too early in the morning, even when a month old, as the wet grass is bad for them.

Control of Swine Disease.

The man with a sure cure for hog cholera can be "fired" off the premises without the slightest fear of injuring an inoffensive business enterprise or giving science a setback. Hog cholera is not understood even by our best veterinarians. Until they know something definite about it, can we expect some ignorant schemer with more enterprise than business honor to show us the light? This never has been true and isn't now. The judicious use of preventives, the giving of clean feed and pure water are our most effective weapons in fighting swine diseases.—Farm and Home.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

GREENVILLE, N. C., Sept. 2, 1901
Hall of Greenville Lodge No. 284
A. F. & A. M.

Whereas, on Friday August 23, 1901, at 9 o'clock p. m., our beloved friend and brother, Joseph A. Dupree, in obedience to the summons from the Giver of All Life, laid down forever the working tools of life and entered into the Eternal Presence.

Now therefore, the members of this Lodge being desirous of attesting their appreciation, love and respect for our departed friend and brother, do resolve,

1st. That while we deplore the loss of a faithful friend and exemplary Mason, we bow submissively to the will of Him who doeth all things well.

2nd. That the members of this Lodge wear the badge of mourning for a period of thirty days and that the Lodge room be properly draped and that a page of the minutes be set apart to the memory of our departed brother.

3rd. That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the wife of brother Dupree and that they be published in the Orphans Friend and the papers of Greenville.

The stage hand is not noted for rowdiness, but he occasionally raises a scene.

The wise man takes things as they come, and if they don't come he goes after them.

Parental Responsibility.

The sermon of Rev. J. N. Booth in the Baptist church, Sunday morning, from the text "Is the Young Man Safe," was most timely, and it is a pity that more of the parents in the community did not hear it. He pointed out many evils that endanger the youth of today, and warned parents of the responsibility resting upon them. One strong point made by the speaker was that many parents have more regard for the care of their stock than for their boys—if the animal has wandered off out of place there is diligent search until it is found and safe under shelter again; but if the boy is out of place and away from home at night he is given no concern whatever, but allowed to wander wherever his inclinations may lead.
