OVER THE COUNTRY.

The wholesale and retail jewelers of Cincinnati are to have a float in the great industrial parade in that city on September 20, and have chosen Mrs. W. N. Cox, of Mason, O., to be "queen" of their display. She will wear gems valued at $500,000.

George Newnes, of London, has started a fine art quarterly the subscription price of which is $50 a number, or $190 a year. It is called The Ideal.

Dainty people who have been said to have "only the appetite of a canary bird" will be shocked to learn that the average canary eats thirty-two times his own weight every month, or actually more than his weight every day.

The town of Shumway, Ill., has but one saloon, which pays a license of $700 for the exclusive privilege of selling drinks. This money is used in building brick sidewalks. The town has no regular policemen, but each Alderman, the Mayor and the saloonkeeper have police powers. The only salaried official is the City Clerk, who gets $18 a year.

John B. French, who has been City Clerk of Galena, Ill., for forty years, has just been re-elected. He is eighty years old. His father was City Clerk for four years before him, and died in office.

The Ginseng Root.

Many of our readers will probably be surprised to know that the ginseng root is quite an important item on the list of our exported agricultural products; and another interesting fact in connection with this commodity is that almost the entire output is exported to China.

Last year our foreign shipments of ginseng aggregated 160,900 pounds, valued at $833,710. This year our exports will be even larger.

Though ginseng is produced in large quantities in Asiatic countries, the Chinese are such firm believers in the efficacy of the root that they stand ready to purchase the world's entire output. Our American ginseng is not quite as good as Asiatic ginseng, but it nevertheless suits the purposes of the Chinese and they pay for it in large quantities at the rate of $8 per pound.

Strange to say, the ginseng root possesses no medicinal qualities which our best American physicians have been able to discover, unless it be that it possesses certain tonic effects; but the Chinese use it for nearly all the ills of the flesh, and the reason why they put so much faith in it and attribute to it so many marvellous cures is that when it comes from the ground it is forked in shape and bears some slight resemblance to the human form.

Several years ago the ginseng root was quite plentiful in this country, but the demands of the Chinese upon our sources of supply have become so heavy of late that the product is now becoming rather scarce. Farmers have undertaken to cultivate it, but without success, and eventually it will disappear entirely.—Atlanta Constitution.

A MEAN LOOKING LETTER-HEAD

Has lost many a dollar for business men. If a man is judged by the coat he wears, he is also judged by the letter-head he uses. An artistic, nicely printed letter head may be looked on as a good investment.

It will be done right.
The price for doing it will be right, too.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1901.

The Landmark says Statesville people have much trouble getting firewood cut, and as there are several traction engines around the town it is suggested to rig up a saw to one of the engines and have it move from house to house to cut the wood. The idea is not a bad one to be adopted in every town where this trouble is met.

Teachers for all the public schools of the county are soon to be employed, and it is the plain duty of committeemen to secure the very best talent available. Do not employ a teacher because he or she will teach for a small salary, and do not be afraid to employ an efficient teacher because good pay is asked. A man or woman who is fit to teach school is worth a good salary, and it is the falsest of false economy to look at it in any other light. Let us all, authorities, parents and the public generally, do what we can to make the public schools of the county.—Wadesboro Messenger.

Two valuable text-books by Prof Charles L. Coon, superintendent of the public schools of Salisbury, have just been turned out of The Observer Printing House. One is entitled "Course of Study for Primary Schools;" the other, "First-Year Spelling and Preparation for Reading," in two parts. Prof. Coon is a patient worker, a scholarly man and a successful teacher. He is not in the school work, as so many teachers are, as a makeshift, until something else offers, but is in it for life because he loves it. These are the only people, after all, whatever their occupation, who leave enduring results behind them. Doubtless school committeemen and teachers will find these text-books all that is claimed for them and all that they ought to be.—Charlotte Observer.

The Correct Position.

President Charles E. Taylor in his address to the students at the opening of Wake Forest College last week boldly declared that no hazing will be tolerated at that institution. He said that if any students are found guilty of imposing indignities upon the new students they will be expelled from college.

This is the correct position and the authorities of every college in the land ought to take the same position and stand to it. It is highly inconsiderate of the feelings of another, yes it is ungentlemanly and cowardly to engage in the practice of hazing as is sometimes done, even nearer home than West Point.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

JUST MARRIED.

They were just married. Every one could see that. They were green; that too was evident. They boarded the train at Selma with many misgivings, but once seated, their thoughts abandoned everything else, and centred on each other. She was his'n and he didn't care a rip who knew it. He buckled right up to her, and begun to make up for lost time. He threw his arm about her neck awkwardly, just as if he were holding a lamp post, and gave a bear hug that made her wince. Of course the crowd was interested, and everybody was looking, and when the groom planted a rousing smack in her open mouth, everybody tittered. But they didn't care. He kissed her again, and a stock man yelled "get away from that horse's head." Everybody laughed except the loving couple, who kept right on at business. After a more demonstrative squeeze than ever a baseball man yelled, "hug your base there, or you will be put out." The crowd roared. Evidently the groom thought something was up. He turned around, and looked to see where the fun was, but seeing nothing he opened his arms to receive his bride. Just then the baseball man hollered "slide," and as the groom firmly fastened his arms about her the baseball man said "now hug your base, or you will be put out." The crowd fairly yelled, and even the school teacher who had been viewing the scene with severe countenance put her head out the window and laughed outright.

But the "lovin'" kept on, and then a drummer asked the conductor whether there was a charge for the "show" or whether the railroad used it as an inducement to draw travel over this line. Everybody saw the point and laughed, except the "lovin'" couple, who just kept on hugging and chewing each other's lips as though nobody was in sight. The boys decided the show must be broken up some way, so one went to the groom and said a man in the rear of the car wished to see him. Thereupon the groom set out to chase the man, and asked everybody in the car about that man. Each person passed the groom on to next neighbor, and he dutifully kept up the search, never once suspecting anything. Not finding anybody, he went back to "bugging his base" and was still at it, when the editor left the train at Uniontown.—Canebreak Herald, Uniontown, Ala.

Mandamus proceedings have been begun against the county commissioners to compel them to appoint a county treasurer, the petition stating that inasmuch as Treasurer J. B. Temple had been elected to the office of a Trustee of the Kinston graded schools and had accepted said office, he had forfeited the office of county treasurer, according to the State constitution; that the commissioners had been asked to appoint a treasurer to fill the vacancy, but they had postponed action saying that Mr. Temple wanted time to look into the matter. Judge Allen will hear the case in chambers in Kinston on Friday, September 13th.—Kinston Free Press.

Cigarettes Prohibited.

A railroad company has recently issued orders prohibiting cigarette smoking by its employes.

Here are the reasons:

1. That the smell of nicotine from the breath of the employes is annoying to customers, and to other employes who are not users.
2. That nicotine demoralizes the employe and effects his honesty.
3. That cigarets make the employe nervous.
4. That they stunt the his mental growth, befog his memory, and prevent an alert intellect.
5. That they effect the employe physically, so that he cannot give the best service to the employe.—The American Boy.

Notice of Dissolution of Partnership.

The firm of W. T. Lipscomb & Co., which has formerly been composed of W. T. Lipscomb, S. T. Hooker and B. E. Parham, has been dissolved. The said W. T. Lipscomb and S. T. Hooker will continue the business at Liberty Warehouse under the firm name of W. T. Lipscomb & Co., and the said W. T. Lipscomb and S. T. Hooker are now the owners of all amounts due the old firm of W. T. Lipscomb & Co., and will pay all the outstanding claims against the same. W. T. LIPSCOMB, S. T. HOOKER.

July 30, 1901.

Announcement.

The firm of W. T. Lipscomb & Co., is now composed of W. T. Lipscomb and S. T. Hooker, they having purchased the entire interest of B. E. Parham in the business. We the undersigned desire to thank our friends and customers for their past patronage and to state that we will continue to do business at the Liberty Warehouse where we will always be pleased to serve them. We are fully prepared to protect the interest of all our customers and to secure for them the highest prices for their tobacco. W. T. LIPSCOMB, S. T. HOOKER.

Everybody coming this way, who has not seen Greenville for sometime, marvels at the rapid growth and progress of the town.

R. H. Saulsbury, of Hassells, came in Wednesday evening and returned this morning. He was after a machinist, but said he found everything too busy in Greenville to get one.

The census bureau has issued a bulletin giving the number of persons of school, militia and voting ages in North Carolina, for the census year 1900.

In North Carolina persons of school age are practically all of native birth, the foreign born element of this class constituting only one per cent. of the whole number in the State.

Colored persons of school age constitute 34.9 per cent of the whole number of persons of school age and comprise chiefly persons of negro descent.

Males of voting age are substantially all of native birth, only six-tenths of one per cent. of the whole number being of foreign birth. Among males of voting age as a whole, there is a considerable proportion of illiterates, the percentage being 29.4. This somewhat large percentage is due principally to the presence among males of voting age of a large number of illiterate persons of negro descent.

The figures are as follows:

Children of school age, 753,826, of whom 450 are foreign born, 263,044 colored, 377,611 males and 476,215 females.

Males of militia age, 356,202, of whom 1,346 are foreign born and 99,626 colored.

Males of voting age, 417,578, of whom 2,530 are foreign born and 128,314 colored.

PERSONAL NOTES.

People Looking For Cooler Places.

Judge A. M. Moore left this morning for Edenton.

Rev. F. A. Bishop is back from a trip in Hyde county.

Paul Metrick returned Wednesday evening from Norfolk.

Mrs. Towne returned Wednesday evening from Tarboro.

C. A. White returned Wednesday evening from Oxford.

C. D. Smith took the train here this morning for Washington.

Miss Pearl Weeks, of Wilson, is visiting Mrs. W. H. Harrington.

Miss Carrie Mills, of Blounts Creek, is visiting Miss Mamie Cox.

J. E. Lipcomb, Jr., returned Wednesday evening from a trip to Danville.

D. C. Moore, Clerk Superior Court, left this morning for exposition at Buffalo.

Mrs. R. W. Best, of Wilson, who has been visiting Mrs. Julia Barrett, returned home today.

Mrs. W. H. Harrington and little son, Jesse, returned Wednesday evening from Wilson.

T. W. Bass, of Sellers, S. C. who has been visiting his cousin, L. B. Bass, left this morning.

Attention is called to the advertisement of sale of town lot by Alex. L. Blow Commissioner.

The day when the tobacco market fails to have a big break is an exception. Sales are heavy every day.

Misses Sadie and May Moore, of New Bern, who were visiting Mrs. H. C. Hooker, have returned home.

Train Late.

The passenger train was nearly an hour late getting here from Kinston this morning. The cause of the delay was the breaking of something about the engine, and there was a stand still until Engineer Smith could make the necessary repairs. There is nothing like having a good man at the throttle.

Unique Chums.

A unique friendship between an old gray goose and a small white rooster on the R. Kelsey farm in Clinton, Conn., was ended when the Kelseys, cooked the rooster for dinner. The goose has utterly refused to be consoled, wasting its life away and be wailing its late love at the kitchen door.

Walnut Plank for a Dying Centenarian's Coffin.

Winston-Salem, Sept. 3.—Six walnut plank, twelve feet long and about sixteen inches wide, were loaded on the freight train from Winston-Salem to North Wilkesboro, at Siloam yesterday afternoon. The planks were sawed fifty-five years ago by Mr. Richard Reeves, of Siloam, for Mr. Samuel Key, of the same place, to be used in making a coffin for the latter. Mr. Key is now 105 years old. He left home in July last and has been visiting relatives near Burch station, on the Wilkesboro road, and is not expected to live many days. The walnut planks were sent to Burch to be converted into a coffin in which to bury the old man.

W. K. Vanderbilt regrets that he was born rich, as he has nothing definite to strive for. He can get around that mighty easy by dividing his money out and then striking out to hustle for himself. Knowing how it is, the probabilities are that he would change his mind and not think it such a bad thing to be born rich at all.—Wilmington Star.

One way to have a housewarming is to put in lots of coal.

Truth is stranger than fiction because it is so much more rare.

Gov. Aycock Makes Requisition on the Governor of Georgia.

An Atlanta dispatch gives the following information.

The civil authorities of Cherokee county, North Carolina, are after a Georgia sheriff on the charge of kidnapping.

Governor Aycock, of North Carolina, has issued a requisition upon Governor Candler for the Georgia officer.

Sometime in May last a warrant was placed in the hands of Sheriff Lovinggood, of Fannin county, Ga., for the arrest of a white man charged with a petty offense.

The man stepped over the line into North Carolina and made faces at the Georgia officer. This was too much for the Fannin sheriff and he went over the line after his man and brought him back to Georgia by main force.

The friends of the prisoner, who it seems was a North Carolinian, had the Fannin county sheriff indicted for kidnapping.

Governor Aycock issued the requisition papers for the extradition of Lovinggood, and the deputy of Cherokee county, N. C., accompanied by Attorney Morton, of this city, but formerly of that State, called at the Governor's office today for the authority to get their man.

In the meantime, the Fannin sheriff got wind of the North Carolina proceedings and wrote Governor Candler to hold up a decision until his side of the case could be presented by his attorney.

In the Governor's absence today, Secretary Hitch explained the request of Lovinggood to the North Carolina sheriff, and he went back home without his prisoner.

The papers were left in Attorney Horton's hands for execution, and Governor Candler upon his return Monday will set one day next week no doubt, to hear the merits of the case.

It is sometime out of the usual to charge a sheriff of a county with kidnapping.

While crazed from excessive drinking, Eugene Wedford, manager of the Scotland Neck telephone exchange, committed suicide Wednesday morning.

Do You Believe In Signs

If you put a sign on the fence or tree or side of the house people must go to it to read it, hence few read it.

SEND YOUR SIGN TO

the people by putting it in

THE REFLECTOR

and you will see the difference. THE REFLECTOR goes to the people and carries your sign with it, and they all read it.

Advertising

in THE REFLECTOR will bring you success. Don't lag behind in the race, but let the people know what you are here for.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what you have to sell and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people.

The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part.
