NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Sept. 25.

The funeral services last Sunday afternoon over the remains of the late Mr. M. L. Morgal in the Baptist church were conducted by Rev. J. N. Booth, of Greenville. There was a very large crowd in attendance to attest the appreciation of a moral worth and Christian character of this good man.

Since the additional new machinery has been placed in the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co's. factory, it is a lively place over there. Such a whizzing, buzzing and sawing well illustrates the progressive age in which we live and this company is fully abreast with the times. The lightning-like rapidity with which cotton planters, wagons, carts and the like are turned out is truly wonderful. It is really interesting to visit this mammoth concern. Already orders for cotton planters for the next season are coming in and no time or expense will be spared to promptly fill each and every order as they are required. Mrs. W. B. Wingate and child left Tuesday to visit friends at Grindool.

Miss Clyde Cox, of Ayden, who has just returned from a visit to the Buffalo Exposition, is visiting Miss Rosa Cox.

Land for Sale—One tract of land, known as the Fred White place, said to contain 175 acres with ordinary buildings, can be bought on reasonable terms by applying to A. G. Cox.

W. A. West, of the Beaufort County Lumber Company, was visiting J. D. Cox Sunday.

Mrs. J. S. Overton and son, of Oakley, who have been visiting at

Mr. Highsmith's, have returned home.

Mrs. Aldridge, of Kinston, is on a visit to the family of W. E. Hamilton.

Hogs for Sale—A. G. Cox has 10 or 15 hogs he would like to dispose of at a reasonable price. They are in fine condition to fatten, weighing from 100 to 125 pounds each.

Grand Opening—On Saturday, 28th, I will have the grandest display of fall and winter hats, caps, &c., ever shown in Winterville. Come to see me.—Mrs. C. A. Fair, the ladies' outfitter.

Miss Maggie Clark, from near here spent Sunday with the family of J. R. Cooper.

Leon Hardy and mother, from near Greenville, were on a visit to Mrs. L. L. Kittrell Sunday.

Mrs. Susan E. Tucker, of Greenville, is spending the week with the family of her son-in-law, J. F. Harrington.

Mrs. S. G. Nine spent part of Monday in the city on the meandering Tar.

Mrs. W. M. Dixon, of Scotland Neck, came last night and will remain for a short while with the family of her husband's father, Capt. H. M. Dixon.

Importance of Advertising.

That advertising in the newspaper has become essential to success in most enterprises appears from many indications. A striking proof is the extraordinary development of the business of writing advertisements for the newspapers. One of the oldest and most successful schools of this city has found it expedient to establish a department for the training of "ad" writers. It is only a question of time when every kind of business will make its announcements regularly through the newspapers.—Philadelphia Record.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 25, 1901.

Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree. The trial at Buffalo was started Tuesday and finished, a little less than eight-and-a-half hours actual time being consumed upon it. Czolgosz entered a plea of guilty, but the court would not accept this plea and put him on trial. Sentence will be passed upon the prisoner on Thursday. This is another case of the quick meting out of justice in the courts that takes lynching ideas out of the heads of the people. No death could be undeserved by this assassin, but should come through the proper channel of the law, and when this is done quickly the public is satisfied.

Believing that the teachings of his vile New York Journal have had much to do with encouraging the spirit of anarchy in this country, the people in two sections of Greater New York last week hanged its publisher, Wm. R. Hearst, in effigy, and then jeered at and stoned the figure, and a number of clubs and reading rooms throughout the country have, since the assassination of President McKinley, banished it from their tables. But Hearst is pleased rather than mortified by these demonstrations of hatred of him and his pestilent product. Upon every such occurrence he orders the pressman to daub on more red and yellow ink and sells more Journals to chambermaids, boot-blacks and stable boys. And this is all he is after—to sell papers. What cares he for the reputable sentiment of the country so long as the canaille and the lazaroni buy Journals?—Charlotte Observer.

Brains and great executive ability are potent factors in a man's success, but without the firmest and most thorough grounded principles of cardinal honesty they are factors which cannot make for success. It is the combination of great ability and sterling integrity that places men in control of large interests and keeps them there.—October Ladies' Home Journal.

Husband and wife are equal: the one not inferior to the other: the wife not a slave: not a housekeeper—but an equal: a companion. And just so far as a young man starts out with that idea fixed firmly in his mind—to make a companion, a comrade, a chum of his wife—just so far does he start out right.—October Ladies' Home Journal.

A fellow is not a lobster just because he suffers from boils.

OPERA HOUSE.

Trade Carnival.

This unique entertainment, to be presented at the Opera House on Friday night Sept. 27th, promises from its many novel features to be exceedingly interesting—purely as a stage performance. All the leading firms of Greenville and tobacco town are to be advertised in original verse and "living picture" show, as well as in prose dialogue. The public are cordially asked to attend, when an interesting evening is promised.

The proceeds of this entertainment are to be added to the large fund already raised by the Confederate veterans for the building of a home for indigent and helpless children, grand children, &c. of the Confederate soldiers. The home is to be called "The Davis Memorial Home." All old soldiers should help this noble cause.

Tickets on sale at Wooten's Drug store. Reserved seats 35c, general admission 25c. Give us a full house.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY.

President Roosevelt.

Theodore Roosevelt assumes the duties of the Presidency under conditions calculated to call out the best that is in him, conditions which will make more ardent his natural desire to fulfill the expectations of his countrymen. While he was in perfect accord with Mr. McKinley in regard to public question, his strong individuality will doubtless cause some uncertainty until his administrative policies are developed. He enters office more free from political obligations than he could have done had he received a party nomination after a long contest. Mr. Roosevelt has a high conception of civic virtue and his opponents will probably find more to criticize in his doctrine than in his methods. There will be no disposition to prejudge him, but an earnest wish that the governmental policies for which he and his party stand may be tested upon their merits.—W. J. Bryan in the Commoner.

SAVES LIFE

Willard, Ill., August 1, 1900.
 I was in bad health this spring and could not sit up in bed for four weeks. When I was confined my child died. When I began to sit up I felt so weak and had such terrible pains in my back and hips. I had kidney trouble and falling of the womb. I also had hysterical spells. I was in a bad condition when I received your "Ladies' Birthday Almanac" and read the advertisement of Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught. Since April 20th, I have taken four bottles of Wine of Cardui and three packages of Thedford's Black-Draught. I feel like a new person now. I can do all my work and can walk out to see any of my neighbors. I believe I would have been in the grave had it not been for Wine of Cardui. IT SAVED MY LIFE.
 Mrs. ALICE DAVIS.

It is well that women are more patient than men. Few men could bear the bitter pangs, the agony and distress that women endure. Thousands of women have come to look upon suffering as a duty of their sex. But there are many instances of this heroic fortitude which now renders unnecessary. Women need no longer suffer for modesty's sake. Wine of Cardui brings relief to modest women in the privacy of their homes. Many of the best homes in this city are never without this great medicine. It cures whites and falling of the womb and completely eradicates these dragging periodical pains. Mrs. Davis' cure shows you conclusively what you may expect if you follow her example and take Wine of Cardui. Thedford's Black-Draught aids Wine of Cardui by regulating the stomach and bowels. When you ask your druggist for these medicines, be sure you get them. It was Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black Draught that saved Mrs. Davis' life. Never take a substitute.

Mad Dog.

There has been much mad dog talk going around in the last few days. Two dogs said to be mad have bitten other dogs and also gave some people a narrow escape. This morning one of Mr. O. Joyner's fox hounds was bitten and both the mad dog and the hound were shot.

Card Of Thanks.

We take this method of returning our thanks to all who have been patrons of our excursions the past season, which has been a very gratifying one in every particular. It affords us great pleasure to state that our patrons have been genteel in deportment, courteous to one another and considerate of the difficulties of the management. That we have aided in giving our patrons an occasional day of healthful pleasure is a matter that affords us no small degree of satisfaction. With best wishes, we are respectfully yours,

Its All Wrong.

Every term of court makes it plainer that an old law on the statute books needs re-enactment. Attorneys in a case are unrestrained and can speak all day if so disposed, thus consuming the time of the court. Formerly power was vested in the presiding judge to limit debate, and it was done without prejudice or injury to either side, while much more business was transacted. No doubt the act was repealed during reconstruction days because of the personnel of the judges, many of whom had scarcely been inside of a law book and whose prejudices were great, causing fear with such power vested in them. As now constituted the attorneys often consume more time in addressing the jury than is required to try the cause at issue.—Greensboro Record.

Whatever work a boy undertakes he should do [it heartily for the work's sake. The boy who rises to the top is the boy who does more than he is obliged to do, who is all-around in his intelligence, and who thinks of something besides the end of the day and his weekly wage.—October Ladies' Home Journal.

A man never knows until after he is married how many things there are which it is improper for a married man to do.

When a man pays a compliment to a woman he usually whispers it and when scolds, the neighbors can hear him.
