COTTON FARMERS' ASSOCIATION.

The cotton farmers of the State held a convention in Raleigh this week, twenty-five counties being represented.

The following was adopted as the plan of organization:

"This body shall be known as the North Carolina Cotton Farmers' State Association.

"It shall consist of a president, vice-president and secretary and treasurer, and an executive committee of seven to be appointed by the president.

"In every county there shall be local organizations.

"The county organizations shall consist of a president, vice-president and secretary and treasurer.

"The township organizations shall consist of president, vice-president and secretary and treasurer.

"We invite the co-operation of all farmers' organizations in furthering the purposes of this association, and extend to them a hearty welcome to all our meetings.

"All cotton farmers, ginners, and others interested in securing to the farmer better values from cotton seed may participate in its meeting.

"Delegates or representatives from five or more counties shall constitute a quorum.

"All meeting to be held in the city of Raleigh at such time as the president or executive committee shall designate."

President—Dr. E. H. Speight of Edgecombe.

Vice-President—Hector McLean of Scotland.

Secretary and Treasurer—T. B. Parker of Orange.

The following resolution was also adopted.

"Whereas, The cotton crop is short and there is an increased demand for cotton seed for feeding, fertilizer and other purposes; and whereas, the present offerings of prices and terms of exchange for seed are below the real value of the seed:

"Be it resolved, That it is the deliberate judgment of this convention that seed are now worth to the farmers at home 25 cents a bushel or should be exchanged on a basis of 200 pounds of seed for not less than 1333 1/3 pounds of cotton seed meal to analyze 8 1/2 per cent ammonia, and we advise and urge the cotton farmers of North Carolina not to sell or exchange at less than above prices, and we ask the earnest co-operation of every cotton grower in North Carolina to this end.

"That we invite the cotton growing States to form the Cotton Farmers' associations and assist us in securing and maintaining these prices for cotton seed."

The recent denial of the story that President Roosevelt had announced that he would not be a candidate at the next election was unnecessary, for the reason that the story could not have kept the spark of life in it beyond the day of its birth. It was contrary to the common sense of past and present. Theodore Roosevelt will in the nature of things be a candidate for re-election to the office of President, unless his Administration proves to be a failure so inordinate as to forbid support. Being healthy in ambitions as in mind and body he must desire that the people should elect him to the great office in which he has been placed by assassination and in this he will be backed by a peculiarly favorable situation.—New York Sun.

There are even fall styles in wrestling.

Striking Coincidences.

Striking coincidences are noticeable in the assassination of James A. Garfield and William McKinley.

Garfield was shot in the summer of 1881. McKinley twenty years later.

Garfield died September 19, 1881.

McKinley was buried September 19, 1901—twenty years later to the day.

Garfield lived eighty days after being shot; McKinley lived eight days.

The most sanguine bulletins were announced concerning Garfield's condition.

The doctors frequently declared that Garfield was convalescent and would recover.

Other physicians said the same about McKinley.

Six days before Garfield died his physicians said he would almost certainly recover. He was sitting up. The change for the worse was announced on the 15th.

McKinley's held out that his condition was all that could be desired up to twentyfour hours before his death.

Both patients sank rapidly when their strength once began to fail.

Both were men from the people who rose from humble surroundings.

Both were men of noteworthy purity of private and public life.—Richmond Times.

By pulling together a community prospers. By fussing and fighting each other a community is damaged. Help your neighbors and when you need help maybe your neighbors will help you. Any way by doing your neighbor good you do your duty and have the approval of your conscience.—Kinston Free Press.

Preacher Says Czolgosz Ashes Should Be Scattered in Ocean.

If the fate of Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, were left with the ministers of the country, he would certainly receive the punishment he so well deserves.

A prominent Charlotte pastor Sunday took occasion to make the following remarks regarding the assassin.

He said: "If Czolgosz is executed his remains are not worthy to be buried in American soil. His body should be cremated and the ashes strewn over the waters of the ocean.

If I did not believe in eternal punishment for other reasons I should do so on account of this assassin.

"Of course the state of New York will electrocute him but this is not a punishment to be compared to the offense.

"Burn him, you say? "Suppose he should be burned. His punishment in this case when compared to the monstrosity of his crime would be as a little blaze of fire compared to a bottomless lake of flames."

In the preacher's opinion nothing but eternal punishment could in Czolgosz' case begin to meet the demands of justice.—Charlotte News.

An able lawyer from a distant county in the State told us not long since that he knew every member of a mob that had lynched some negroes, and there was not one in the crowd who would not freely give today all of his worldly goods to wipe the deed from memory. It had brought remorse into their lives; and their faces now always turn pale as judges from the bench are charging juries upon the subject of lynching. More than a decade ago a mob hanged a negro to a tree, and as it began to turn away from the lifeless form to scatter and go home a greater part were heard to avow openly that that was their last lynching.—Rev. P. R. Law in Lumberton Robesonian.

The largest single item of tax ever collected in Buncombe county was recently paid the sheriff by George Vanderbilt for his county taxes for 1901, the amount being $12,000. This large sum for taxes is a help to Buncombe county and its citizens, yet when Biltmore was being established we remember there were some who wrote in opposition to it. All reasonable encouragement should be given men of wealth to come to our State and make investments.—Kinston Free Press.

While a boy was attempting to board an incoming train, at Goldsboro, he fell under the car and both legs were cut off.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

The Way to Keep the Cellar Clean and Free From Bad Smells.

Quicklime, borax, charcoal, dry coppers and plaster are the things to make and keep a cellar sweet and fresh. Move out all things movable, sweep, take up dust, open bins and closets and set doors and windows wide. Then in every bin or inclosed space set an earthen vessel, dish or bowl with several lumps of quicklime in it. Strew grains of dry coppers all over the lime, then slack it, but do not wet it, yet be sure the slacking is thorough. Steam from the lime, rising up and out, will take away all bad air and ill odors.

Leave the cellar open and empty for two hours, then scatter dry powdered borax all around in corners and along the walls, and wherever there is a place where it will not be in the way hang a piece of net, such as fish net, with some lumps of fresh charcoal tied inside. Leave the borax until next cleaning time. Take the charcoal bags down every week, empty them, heat the charcoal very hot, return to the bags and replace them. The charcoal has a marvelous power to absorb all sorts of bad smells. The power is strictly proportioned to its freshness, which the heating restores.

Make cheesecloth pads of plaster, mixed with powdered slacked lime, and hang them against the walls that are likeliest to be damp. Lime and plaster are so thirsty they take all the spare water to themselves, thereby preventing must and mold.

A good way to make the pads is to stitch or run inch tucks in a length of cheesecloth or coarse lawn, then slip a funnel spout into the open end of the tuck and pour in the plaster and lime. Make the tucks an inch apart and fill them evenly. Powdered charcoal may be mixed with the lime and plaster for pads which are to hang where foodstuffs are kept.

Fruit Beverage.

Peel 12 lemons very thin, squeeze the juice over the peel and let stand two hours, then add one pound of sugar. Mash one quart of ripe raspberries with half a pound of sugar; pare a ripe pineapple, shred the fruit fine and mix with another half pound of sugar, then strain the lemon juice and mash the raspberries through a coarse sieve, then the pineapple and mix all together, adding three quarts of cold water. Stir until the sugar is entirely dissolved, then strain and serve with a little of the fruit in each glass.

Washing Cut Glass.

Standing in water or allowing water to remain in cut glass, no matter how clear, robs the cutting of luster and puts it almost on a level with pressed glass. Still one must make haste slowly. No matter if there is but a single bowl, wash it apart from everything else and in perfectly clear water. If it is caked and sticky inside from standing after use, fill it with warm soda water and shake vigorously for a minute, then repeat until the glass begins to show clear.

An Egg Separator.

A unique kitchen utensil separates the yolks and whites of eggs as they are broken without paying any particular attention to where each part is dropped. This little device can be fastened to an ordinary tumbler by means of the spring clip on one side. The contents of the egg are allowed to fall on the strainer, which has numerous slits opening into the glass through which the thinner white portion strains, thus leaving the yolk on the upper side.

Economizing Space.

An idea for economizing space is shown in the illustration, and this will appeal to those who have converted two small rooms into one large one. But you are confronted with two fireplaces, and you do not require more than one fire. Now, here is an excellent idea which you and your "land" man could easily carry out between you. The sketch is so simple, it needs no words to explain it.—Home Notes.

Mighty in Agriculture.

Col. J. B. Killebrew in Southern Farm Magazine of Baltimore for October:

The estimated value of all farm products of the United States for 1900 was $3,000,000,000. Should the demand ever come, the South could sell at present prices cotton enough to reach this sum.

Take the value of the Agricultural products of the South to be $1,220,500,000, as estimated, and it will approximate the value of nearly one half of all the agricultural products of the United States. In this estimate were not included, apparently, hemp, peas and beans, which would run up the aggregate several millions of dollars.

All these products have been made 166,610 square miles of improved lands (census of 1886) out of a total of 831,201 square miles in the South. That is to say, there is only 20 per cent. of the lands of the South improved. Concede that only 50 per cent. is susceptible of being improved, then the South should easily produce over $4,000,000,000 of agricultural products on 50 per cent. of its territory without any improved methods of cultivation or fertilization, and employing ignorant labor.

Finding Mrs. B. unable to help her out, she concluded thus: "Please, God, 'sense me; I can't remember my prayers, and I'm staying with a lady that don't know any."

Presidents of the United States.

The North has had sixteen Presidents and the South nine. The Executive office has been occupied by Northern men a few days than sixty three years, and the Southern men a few days over fifty three years. This is based on the supposition that Roosevelt will fill out his present term.

Only two of the Southern States have furnished Presidents—Virginia and Tennessee. Of the Northern Presidents, three have come from the New England States, six from the Middle States and seven from what is now called the Middle West.

No President has ever been elected from the territory west of the Mississippi river and the only two men have been nominated by the great political parties from that territory—Fremont from Missouri by the Republicans in 1856, and Bryan of Nebraska by the Democrats in 1896 and 1900.

Divided politically, nine Democrats, two Federalists, four Whigs and eight Republicans have occupied the Presidential office. In the above I do not include Washington, the first President. It is unjust to assign the first and only real non partisan President of the country to any political party.—Galveston Daily News.

OPERA HOUSE.

Trade Carnival.

This unique entertainment, to be presented at the Opera House on Friday night Sept. 27th, promises from its many novel features to be exceedingly interesting—purely as a stage performance. All the leading firms of Greenville and tobacco town are to be advertised in original verse and "living picture" show, as well as in prose dialogue. The public are cordially asked to attend, when an interesting evening is promised.

The proceeds of this entertainment are to be added to the large fund already raised by the Confederate veterans for the building of a home for indigent and helpless children, grand children, &c. of the Confederate soldiers. The home is to be called "The Davis Memorial Home." All old soldiers should help this noble cause.

Tickets on sale at Wooten's Drug store. Reserved seats 35c, general admission 25c. Give us a full house.
