AT WINTERVILLE.

Union Meeting and Other Notes.

We went down to Winterville Saturday evening and had the pleasure of attending the sessions that night and Sunday of the Union meeting held in the Baptist church there. There were interesting discussions on the Orphanage & Sunday schools upon which addresses were made by Revs. Jackson, Faulkner and Bookhart, Messrs. A. G. and J. D. Cox, Prof. Lineberry and others. Rev. Mr. Bookhart of LaGrange, preached Sunday morning and Rev. Mr. Garner, of Pollocksville, Sunday night. We learned that the entire Union had been quite interesting and all the visitors were much pleased with their stay in Winterville. The next Union goes to New Hope church, in Lenoir.

While in Winterville we visited the excellent High School and found everything progressing admirably. The enrollment is already above eighty with a large number of boarding pupils. The new dormitory is a splendid building. Prof. Lineberry is doing fine work in the school and patrons and pupils are delighted with him. He has the best assistants in every department.

The A. G. Cox Manufacturing Co. are putting up a large annex to their factory and equipping the plant with new machinery to meet their constantly growing patronage.

"Bud Joe" Blow, THE REFLECTOR's clever correspondent has not been drowned in the meandering Tar, but says he came mighty near getting a "ducking." However, "all's well that ends well."

One cannot go to Winterville without seeing new signs of improvement. There is not a more enterprising little town anywhere.

TRINITY COLLEGE NOTES.

Thursday, Oct. 3, is Benefactor's Day at Trinity College, and will be observed here as a holiday. All college work will be suspended during the day, and at night a public meeting will be held in the Craven Memorial Hall. To this meeting the public is cordially invited. Many visitors are expected from various parts of the State. An address will be delivered by Bishop E. R. Hendrix, of Missouri. After the address, announcement will be made of all gifts made to the college during the year ending October 3rd. The music will form an attractive feature of the occasion. In addition to the orchestra, an excellent program of vocal music has been arranged, in which the best musical talent of Durham will take part. The speaker of the evening is a man of national reputation as a speaker and preacher. Bishop Hendrix is the most versatile of the Southern Methodist Bishops. Being a man of long business experience, he has a knowledge of men and affairs that has given balance and proportion to his work. He has travelled extensively in all parts of the world, thus amassing a fund of information that few men have. He has been a very careful student of literature and history, and in recent years especially has put himself in touch with the best thought of the world. Lately he has written several stimulating books, notably "Skilled Work for the Master," in which he has made an effective plea for a more cultured ministry. As a preacher, he has been in demand in England, and the leading universities of the North. With all of his accomplishments, he is a man of magnetism and personal charm—a delightful man in social life, and a most interesting public speaker.

Apples in North Carolina.

A correspondent of The Cotton Plant states that few Northern people know what a fine apple-growing section lies, largely undeveloped, in North Carolina. Apples, especially in the elevated valleys and plateaus west of the Blue Ridge, grow with a luxuriance seldom seen. The elevated regions of the foothills east of the Blue Ridge are also an excellent section and only need to be developed. One man is now planting an orchard at Blowing Rock, and has 40,000 trees at an elevation of about 4,000 feet. There is a great future in the apple culture in North Carolina, and with the markets of the cities to the South, and their nearness to export points, there is no reason why the culture of the apple should not grow to great and profitable proportions in the western part of North Carolina. Some orchards are now being planted, but there is room for thousands who have capital and to work up a great and remunerative business. Write us for information about tracts of land for sale, very cheap and well adapted to the raising of apples.—Southern Industry.

Four drummers were hauled up in Charlotte and fined heavily for indulging in a game of "set back", making the stake just large enough to make the game interesting. This is alright as far as it goes, but if there are not men walking the streets of that city who follow gambling for a livelihood and are not molested by the police, then it is different from most towns.—Durham Herald.

Bites of insects, reptiles, dogs, and cats,—also the stings of bees and wasps—should be instantly treated with Pain-Killer, the quickest and surest remedy for pains, aches and soreness of any kind. In use for sixty years, and sold everywhere. A void substitute, there is but one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'. Price 25c. and 50c.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1901.

With due respect to the wishes of Judge Shepherd, we think that his friends should pay no attention whatever to his card declining to be a candidate for chief justice. No man should be a candidate, in the common acceptance of that term, for that high office. If any "office should seek the man and not the man the office," it is the office of the chief justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina; and because of Judge Shepherd's card we think his friends should the more earnestly press his claims, which are certainly paramount to those of any one spoken of for the position. We do earnestly hope that we are not to have dirty scrambling, wire-pulling and dickering for the nominations to the vacancies in our judiciary. Judge Gaston said: "To administer justice in the last resort, with a steady hand and upright purpose, appears to me among the highest of civil functions." To do this requires not only a great but a good man, and no good lawyer will act the demagogue to be elected judge. Machiavellianism should not be rewarded with any office, and certainly not with a judicial office.—The Concord Times.

Our colored friends have been disposed to make a great deal of the part played by Jim Parker, a member of their race, in the tragedy that resulted in President McKinley's death. Wherever they met, throughout the length and breadth of the land, to adopt resolutions of respect and sympathy, the negroes have almost invariably, and very naturally, inserted a paragraph eulogistic of Parker. And yet when the court sat at Buffalo to try Czolgosz, Parker was not called as a witness, and, when witnesses on the stand were questioned, they had no knowledge of the negro hero. The Atlanta Constitution pertinently asks whether this was due to a conspiracy on the white people of Buffalo against the colored man or whether Parker had been playing a false role and claiming honors not due him. It would be interesting to know about this. Why this sudden passing of Parker? Why has he so suddenly dropped out of the game?—Charlotte Observer.

Who invented the bicycle is a disputed question. Three Englishmen claim the credit, but they got the idea from a French inventor. This was over fifty years ago. The American bicycle is the outcome of a French toy bicycle exhibited at the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition in 1876. But the Chinese claim to have had the bicycle two thousand years ago. They had about anything that is going.—Wilmington Star.

President McKinley's assassination and Mr. Roosevelt's accession to the Presidency are the two dominant topics in the October Review of Reviews. Aside from the editorial treatment of those momentous events, a fully illustrated account of the last days of President McKinley is contributed by Mr. Walter Wellman, the accomplished newspaper correspondent, who was himself at Buffalo and writes from personal, first-hand knowledge of all the details of the tragedy. Mr. Wellman's comprehensive article is followed by a brief characterization of the last of our great trio of martyr Presidents, from the pen of Commissioner H. B. F. Macfarland, of the District of Columbia; there is also an article on President Roosevelt, with portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt and the six Roosevelt children. The Review presents the full text of Mr. McKinley's Buffalo speech, made on the day before the shooting, and of Mr. Roosevelt's Minneapolis address of September 2nd.

Little is thought and less is known by the average man concerning the lives and aims of the 400,000 men and boys who delve under the surface of the earth in places of darkness and danger, where hardly a day goes by without recording the death by falls of rock, coal or slate of more than one unfortunate miner. An article on this subject at once impartial and vitally interesting is contributed to The Cosmopolitan for October by John Mitchell, President of the United Mine Workers of America, whom every one recalls as the man who organized the miners and carried through to a successful termination the great anthracite strike of 1900.

Do You Believe In Signs

*If you put a sign on the fence or tree or side of the house people must go to it to read it, hence few read it.

SEND YOUR SIGN TO the people by putting it in.

THE REFLECTOR

and you will see the difference. THE REFLECTOR goes to the people and carries your sign with it, and they all read it.

Advertising

in THE REFLECTOR will bring you success. Don't lag behind in the race, but let the people know what you are here for.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what you have to sell and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people.

The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part.
