SATURDAY OCTOBER 5, 1901.

RECOLLECTIONS OF GREENVILLE IN MY BOYHOOD.

BY T. C. DAVIS.

On the lot adjoining the Episcopal church fronting the street Peter Ambrose had a shop in which he professed to make and repair buggies, wagons, &c. He was a friend of Mr. Ruff and famous in all the county around for his skill in curing balking horses. But Pete was a bachelor and being encumbered with debt he left one night to try his fortune in a new field and was never heard of afterwards.

At the next street, where Nelson Brothers afterwards had their carriage factory, Mr. Henry C. Chamberlain manufactured cotton gins when there were but two other factories in the country. Mr. Chamberlain lived on the hill on opposite side of the street. His wife was a daughter of Dr. Graham, of Kingston, an accomplished lady. She is remembered as is also her sister, Miss Eliza Graham, by all the old people of the town.

On the lot adjoining the factory Mr. Lewis P. Olds built a handsome residence which must still be one of the attractive places of the town. Mr. Olds married Miss Amanda Evans and after her death, Pauline, her sister, daughters of Mrs. Annie Evans. The Evans family are probably the oldest settlers of Greenville and at one time owned nearly all the land upon which the town is built. It was Alexander Evans, their ancestor who gave the ground on one corner of which the Court house is situated, the deed of gift being a square of several acres intended for the Court house and jail, market house and an Episcopal church and grave yard.

Mrs. Evans was a good Christian woman and a prominent member of the Methodist church and was frequently called on to pray in church. She lived in the old fashioned Dutch house nearly opposite Mr. Olds at one end of which stood a large wild cherry tree. She had three sons, Augustus, Stephen B. and Julius, the first two named were graduated physicians. The oldest, Augustus, was a fine specimen of the genus Homo, tall, erect, broad shouldered, black hair and eyes and strong features, just such a man as you do not often see. Stephens B. was not as handsome as his brother, but was said to be his equal in everything else. They married daughters of Mr. Richard Washington, of Goldsboro. Julius was afflicted with rheumatism and married late in life. I never knew his family. My father lived at one time in the house with the brick basement across the street. He sold it to Mr. Henry C. Jordan who sold to Dr. Goelet, who sold

CENTRAL BARBER SHOP. I have moved my Barber Shop to the shop in front of Munford's new big store. I have also associated with me Julius Fleming, who has been working with me for a long time. We have fitted up for the handsome shop in the town, and offer to the public the best service ever offered here. We appreciate highly the liberal patronage we have received in the past. We cordially invite all of our past customers and all others who desire first-class service to come to see us in our new shop. We intend to please you and will do so regardless of expense or labor. We are ready at all times to accommodate you with first-class shave or hair cut. EDMUNDS & FLEMING Opposite Munford's Big Store.

to Mrs. Parker.

There were three of the Goelet brothers, Dr. Peter Goelet, who married a sister of Mrs. Dr. W. J. Blow, Dr. Edward H. Goelet who succeeded him after his death in his practice, and John B. Goelet, who kept the hotel. Dr. E. H. Goelet married a Miss Lane, of New Hanover county, and I think married her sister his second wife. They were grand sons of Col. Buncomb, the revolutionary patriot and on their father's side were of Dutch descent and related to the Goelets of New York City.

Mrs. Parker was the widow of Mr. Richard Parker, her maiden name being Brooks. She came from Tennessee, if I am not mistaken, her father having moved from this State, and she may have been of the same family (some of her children can possibly tell) of the Mr. Brooks buried in Maj Selby's garden old place, whose grave was marked by a sand stone slab bearing date some where in the seventeens, probably 1790.

The Brickle house on the lot adjoining the Evans place is one of the old houses and a long time the residence of the venerable Mrs. Sally Brickle and afterwards of her venerable daughter, Mrs. Hoyt.

The house on the opposite side of the street from the Brickle place as you go down town is also very old. It was here that Mr. Lovejoy, the celebrated teacher, courted and married his wife, Miss Virginia Steptoe. Dr. Blow owned and lived in this house at the time of his death.

[This is the end of the first installment of his recollections that Mr. Davis sent us, but we hope to receive more of it—ED.]

Perry Davis' Pain-Killer.—Its valuable properties as a speedy cure for pain cannot fail to be generally appreciated, and no family should be without it in case of accident, or sudden attack of dysentery, diarrhoea or cholera morbus. O. J. Carroll Dead.

Mr. O. J. Carroll died suddenly this morning at Morehead City, while sitting on the porch of the Newbern House talking to a number of people there. It is thought he died of heart disease.

During Cleveland's second term Mr. Carroll was United States Marshall for the district of Eastern Carolina.

Mr. Carroll has spent most of his life as a traveling salesman for wholesale houses, and had strong friends in every town he visited, who will hear of his death with sorrow.—Kinston Free Press, 4th.

Rural Free Delivery Routes.

Postmaster J. J. Prkins gives us the following report for the month of September of the four rural free delivery routes supplied from the Greenville office, showing the number of pieces of mail collected and the number delivered on each route during the month:

No. 1—Collected 269, delivered 1384. No. 2—Collected 86, delivered 356. No. 3—Collected 80, delivered 645. No. 4—Collected 150, delivered 778.

The routes have been in operation only one month and this is a good record. The people are well pleased with the service of the routes which are proving a great convenience.

JOHN ROBINSON'S.

Ten Big Combined Colossal Shows.

There is certainly no traveling exhibition in America, perhaps in the world, which presents entertainment so varied, so attractive and so multitudinous as do John Robinson's Ten Combined Great Shows. Since the days of Noah, a more complete menagerie has never been seen. Poetical and enchanting scenes never before equaled are witnessed in the sublime biblical of Solomon, his Temple and Queen of Sheba.

Every act in the monster programme is a revelation to the people. The finest specimens of horse flesh in the world, the highest aerialists in the circus profession, all the champion riders, both male and female. The finest specimens of the cutest ponies in the world. The grandest specialties ever produced. The funniest clowns on earth are with the Robinson Shows. Coming to Greenville Tuesday Oct. 15.
