WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 5.

From chance remarks dropped in hotel lobbies and government corridors, it may be easily surmised that Republican leaders, that is the Republican party workers, are very much of the impression that they have in the White House an entirely unknown, not to say erratic quantity. When Roosevelt was Civil Service Commissioner he was enthusiastic for Civil Service reform, insisting that merit was the only qualification for governmental employment and, at times, seriously irritating those politicians who considered that party fealty should receive its reward in patronage.

When Mr. Roosevelt became governor of the State of New York, he found himself so seriously obligated to the politicians that it was impossible to disregard their advice and their claims. Nevertheless in his attitude towards the great corporations, in his efforts to effect State civil service reform and in his defeating the scheme for making the New York police force the tool of the Republican politicians, he so antagonized "the machine" that Senator Platt exerted his utmost effort to "lay him on the shelf" by shoving him into that political graveyard, the vice presidency.

So far nothing has been brought out which reflects seriously on Admiral Schley although a series of coincidences seem to have operated to prevent his receiving information and instructions which the Navy Department attempted to communicate to him.

As a result of all this Mr. Roosevelt has assumed command untrammelled by any promise or debt to any individual or faction and while he has proved urbanity itself to those politicians who have had occasion to call upon him, no one can in the least foretell how he is going to handle the practical side of Republican politics and every faction is on the anxious seat.

While it is hard to locate any particular blame for the failure to deliver the important dispatch announcing Admiral Cervera's presence in Santiago Harbor and instructing Admiral Schley to go there, the experience should prove a warning to the Navy Department in the future. The imperative necessity of constant ability to establish communication between the Commander-in-Chief and his subordinate officers is one of which no successful campaigner ever loses sight.

Another source of anxiety is the probability of the Democratic candidate being a dark horse. If Mr. Roosevelt will subordinate his personal views to the party good the party will, its leaders believe, stand every chance of re-election but if the administration is erratic from the politician's standpoint, if the President does not do all in his power to conciliate the varying factions and does not enable the party bosses to properly reward the line workers there is no telling what havoc a good Democrat, brought forward at the last moment and properly managed may play.

On the other hand the politicians are trying to reassure themselves by the report that Mr. Roosevelt has summoned Mr. Platt to Washington for a conference on the situation in New York and that he will bring to Platt's aid all the resources of his experience both as candidate for Mayor and as Governor of New York. It is certain that, if he will, the president can put some valuable ammunition into the hands of the New York Senator, in the way of patronage. But will he? that is the question.

It certainly looks as if the Steel Trust ought to add a little more water to its stock. The spectacle of this gigantic "infant industry" showing a profit of nearly $55,000,000 on the six months' business just ended and that notwithstanding it was during those six months the great strike occurred, is not one that is likely to prove of benefit to the Republican party. After the all too realistic pictures we have seen of the suffering among laboring men caused by the strike and the comfortless, cheerless and crowded condition of the laborers' homes even before the strike, we cannot help asking where is the benefit to the American laboring man which this Government fed "infant" is supposed to work? This is a question the Republican party will probably have to answer in the next campaign.

Start Girls Right!

Many beautiful girls become invalids for life, because at the crucial period of puberty they pay no attention to the laws of health. Mothers should protect their daughters' health by giving them necessary information and proper treatment. When the menses come on a girl unawares in her inexperience she is either frightened into convulsions, or scared into trying to check the flow. Many girls have checked the flow and it has never started again. And as a result they have grown pale-faced, with "crow-tracks" on their cheeks, and dark half-moons under their eyes. A dose of taken every morning after a girl is twelve years old will bring the menses on properly and keep them regular. It will help her to develop into attractive womanhood and equip her for the duties of wife and motherhood. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

The Hollywood, Asbury Park, N. J., February 3, 1900. I read your advertisement in regard to Wine of Cardui in the Baltimore American, and it so favorably impressed me that on my visit to Baltimore during the holidays I purchased a bottle of it for my adopted daughter, who was suffering with female troubles. She had been under the doctor's care for some time, and when her periods would come on her suffering was something terrible. I induced her to try it and the first dose brought on her menses. She took it regularly according to the directions, and was greatly relieved. To use her own words, "It saved my life." J. WESLEY CROSS.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER.

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 7.

Your correspondent spent last week at the National Capital, and while there gathered information which will serve as the basis for several letters in the future that will treat of certain North Carolina men and measures political—when the proper time comes.

I found the politicians congregated there, all making love to the new President, who seems to be entering pacifically and optimistically enough upon the discharge of the high duties which he was so suddenly and unexpectedly called upon to perform less than a month ago.

ABUSE OF PRESIDENTS.

There have been few Presidents during the last half century who (if the gossips and Smart Alecks were to be believed) were not more or less influenced by a "power behind the throne"—a number of them have at least enjoyed (?) that reputation, though in most cases, I make no doubt, it was a rank piece of injustice done them.

Why, up to the very day Mr. McKinley was shot some of the "yellow" journals kept up the campaign slander of declaring he was the "tool" and "puppet" of Senator Hanna and was the "slave" of and "owned body and soul" by the trusts.

Indeed, you can turn to the files of at least a few North Carolina newspapers, not a year old, and find similar assertions against one of the very best men, and best of friends to our Southern people, that ever filled the Presidential office. And, to my personal knowledge, some of these very papers are today the loudest and most pronounced of those which have lauded the dead President most and paid him the highest tributes—at the same time and in the same breath convicting themselves as liars or hypocrites.

ONE WAY TO CREATE ASSASSINS.

There is entirely too much of this defamation of personal reputation and honor—of character assassination in politics, and it ought to stop. If one-hundredth part of the infamous charges brought (in print and on the stump) against every candidate for President from Lincoln to Roosevelt was true, all of them were grossly undeserving of the office and utterly unfitted to perform its duties—a long term in a penitentiary would have been more in keeping with the deserts justly due them, apparently. I honestly believe that the license allowed a certain class of politicians and newspaper to vilify and abuse the head of our government and his subordinates occupying high positions in managing the affairs of the Nation, has and will yet have more effect in creating assassins (without plan or purpose or arrangement, so far as the stability of the existing form of government is concerned) than all the clansmen yeapt "anarchists" will ever manufacture, in this country. And, in a less degree, the same is true in State politics.

PRESIDENT IN PERSON.

But what I started to say was that the yellow newspapers and politicians have not, as yet announced the name of the "owner" of Mr. Roosevelt (that's the way to pronounce it). From all that could be learned in conversation with many of the Washington newspaper correspondents (the best informed set of men on this continent), it is actually possible that no political boss of "Teddy" will be trotted out—for the present at least—and even the yellows are about willing to admit that Mr. Roosevelt will be President in propria persona, for a while. But he will unquestionably be a candidate to succeed himself and therefore sure to form certain alliances to further the effort to secure the nomination in 1904. It is hardly likely, though, that "boss" Platt of his own State will be given the seat of honor at the table of his political affections. And yet Mr. Roosevelt owes Senator Platt much—for had he not forced the Vice-Presidential nomination upon him (in order to kill him off as a Presidential candidate, it is true) he would not be President today and possibly no time in the future.
