Murder and Robbery in Return for Hospitality.

Columbia; S. C., Oct. 21.—Last night a stranger rapped at the door of Burton Brown's house in a lonely part of Marlborough county and asked permission to go in and warm himself. He was a one-legged man and was riding a bicycle. Brown and his wife lived by themselves and were reputed to have considerable money in their possession; but they let in the stranger, whose name was Witherspoon. Mrs. Brown was in bed in another room. Her husband and Witherspoon sat by the fire until Brown fell asleep. He awakened with a scream when Witherspoon plunged a knife in his throat. He sprang up to fall under repeated mortal blows. Mrs. Brown ran out to him and had her head crushed with an axe. Witherspoon then robbed the house and escaped.

How to Judge.

The man who accumulates capital by honest thrift and economy and employs his capital in the promotion of industry is a blessing to his community. The man who wastes the money that he ought to use as capital in the establishment of industry is just as culpable as he who oppresses to make money or uses capital to oppress. A man should be judged by what he does and not by his riches or poverty.—Gaston News.

Doing the Right Things.

The trouble begins with a tickling in the throat and a nagging little cough. Soreness in the chest follows and the patient wonders if he is going to have an all winter cold. Probably, if he does the wrong thing or nothing. Certainly not if he uses Perry Davis' Painkiller, the staunch old remedy that cures a cold in twenty-four hours. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'.

Why Not Take All?

Raleigh, Oct. 21.—Judge Purnell has signed an order allowing the receiver and attorneys $1,600 in fees, costs, etc., in the case of Briggs vs. Neal, involving extensive lumber mills and timber lands at Morehead City. Some of the attorneys wanted $4,500 out of an $8,500 estate.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1901.

We have heard the suggestion that the President's home in Washington should be changed in name from White House to black house.

The South criticizes the President, and it has the right to do so, but the South had no part in selecting him as President, and if his party can stand it the South does not care a continental who he entertains.—Durham Herald.

True in part, brother, but not entirely true. While the South had no part in selecting the President, we are nevertheless a part of the Union, and the President is President of the entire Nation and not of the people only who put him in office. Therefore the criticism in the South is most timely, for just because we are in the minority when it comes to voting nationally gives the President no right to throw an insult in our teeth. He may undertake to bring about social equality, but his efforts in that direction will prove a dismal failure and receive deserved criticism.

We are led to think the opinion is growing that our courts are too lenient with convicts. There may be reason for it. Light penalties are pleasing to the friends of the convict and to counsel. In it also is a feeling that apparent blood-thirstiness has been avoided. Our judges are all men of kindly impulses. It is not agreeable to the disposition of such men to be imposing severe penalties. The consequences that fines and penalties should be easier than is wise is not unnatural. But do not the ends of justice, as well as the claims of order and the enforcement of the law, call for severer fines and penalties? Courts are called on to make the law a terror to evil doers. They are not called upon to play the role of reformatories. Such is not their work. There is too little dread of arraignment and trial among the people because, perhaps, the penalty of wrong doing if convicted is so mild. "Penny and cost" is heard too often. It looks like getting fees is the end aimed rather than so enforcing the law as to repress crime.—Lumber Bridge News.

In driving storms the clouds hold the rains.

Welcome as Sunshine

after a long storm is a feeling of relief when an obstinate, pitiless cold has been driven away by Allen's Lung Balm. Only people who have been cured of throat-ache and sore lungs by this remedy can quite realize what the feeling is. There is no opium in the Balm; its good effect is radical and lasting. Take a bottle home today.

DANGER IN CHILD DREAMS.

"There is more danger in child dreams than one would suppose," said a well known physician, "and really but few persons understand how close to death the child is when passing through one of these fearful frights of the night. Night mares frequently kill grown persons, and these horrible dreams which come to the child life are of the same kind. This is why I have always bitterly opposed telling children horrible tales. There is nothing to be gained by it. The average child cannot be frightened into doing the right thing. If a child is inclined to do the wrong thing, a horrible tale will not keep him from doing it. On the contrary, horrible results may follow the horrible impression which the child gathers from the story told. Bad dreams, a night of nervousness and tumbling and rolling and broken sleep will follow.

"Children are very much shocked by bad dreams. They sometimes find themselves pursued by a wild animal, and they dream that they are unable to run and wake up in a most horrible condition mentally and physically. But probably the most dangerous form of child dream is the thought, very common among sleeping children, that they are experiencing a long fall. They generally wake up before they strike the bottom of the place into which they are falling, and the heart resumes its normal action. These dreams are very dangerous, and it is a wonder to me that more children are not killed. They get awfully close to death's door, and the walking is generally a fortunate thing."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

MUST BE DRIVEN TO GET RESULTS.

Mankind from infancy and through the years when strength and health permit, must be forced to the tasks set before it.

It is the forcing process, the constant and increasing push from behind that has made man get results, and made the seeming impossible, possible.

Against climate, savages and uncompromising and rugged nature, this driving process has made man accomplish results, has given him success and triumph, when without being driven he would have accomplished nothing.

Applied to communities, this same driving process is needed for upbuilding and the best kind of development.

The town or city pleasantly located for climate, with easy transportation access to the outside world, will accept these local benefits and just drift along.

Let some calamity of wind, fire or storm visit such a community, and the probability is that it will be aroused from its slumber of self complacency, and arise from its ruined state with better buildings and highways, and with its commercial spirit stirred into activity that will cause a bustle in all its business circles that was never known before.

Stricken down, it was driven to fight for life, and the very struggle forced upon the community gave it strength, and aroused its people from their previous indifference to strive for development and progress.

It is the driven man or community that finishes the task, and accomplishes real things.

And on the other hand it is the man or community that refuses to recognize the value of being driven, and considers it a hardship to be forced, that will never accomplish anything.—New Bern Journal.

FOR HARNESS and Saddle Sores Mexican Mustang Liniment is just what you need. It takes effect at once, and you will be astonished to see how quickly it heals sores.

It's this way:

You can burn yourself with Fire, with Powder, etc., or you can scald yourself with Steam or Hot Water, but there is only one proper way to cure a burn or scald and that is by using Mexican Mustang Liniment.

It gives immediate relief. Get a piece of soft old linen cloth, saturate it with this liniment and bind loosely upon the wound. You can have no adequate idea what an excellent remedy this is for a burn until you have tried it.

A FOWL TIP. If you have a bird afflicted with Roup or any other poultry disease use Mexican Mustang Liniment. It is called a STANDARD remedy by poultry breeders.

The Best Prescription for Malaria Chills and Fever is a bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure, no pay. Price 50c.

Ex-Governor B. R. Sherman, of Iowa, says for his State that it has a larger percentage of teachers to scholars in the public schools than any other Commonwealth in the Union. There are in round numbers 28,000 school teachers in the State and 540,000 school children.

When loves dies it must be a case of heart failure.

The man who never smiles is the centre of gravity.

The man who thinks himself bright is not inclined to keep it dark.

A man can weigh his words and find out they have no weight.

Time will tell, but the woman with a secret doesn't give it a chance.

Love may be blind, but it knows when the parlor lamp is too high.

People who jump at conclusions are apt to go limping back to the starting point.

There is no accounting for taste except on the ground that some people haven't any.

You Know What You are Taking When you take Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic because the formula is plainly printed in every bottle showing that it is simply iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. No Cure, No Pay. 50c.

Whistle Again.

"George, George, mind; your hat will be blown off if you lean so far out of the window!" exclaimed a fond father to his little son who was traveling with him in a railway carriage. Quickly snatching the hat from the head of the refractory youngster, papa hid it behind his back.

"There, now, the hat has gone!" he cried, pretending to be angry, and George immediately set up a howl. After a time the father remarked:

"Come, be quiet. If I whistle your hat will come back again."

Then he whistled and replaced the hat on the boy's head. "There, it's back again, you see." Afterward, while papa was talking to mamma, a small, shrill voice was heard saying:

"Papa, papa, I've thrown my hat out of the window! Whistle again, will you?"

What Reciprocity Means.

Reciprocity does not mean favors to Cuba, France or any other country without a corresponding benefit in return. It means increased sales as well as increased imports, lower prices to American consumers as well as profit to the foreigners. In short, reciprocity is a national advantage and a national necessity.—Chicago Post.
