'Be careful,' but we must all go from heated houses into to chill outer air, and change sets us coughing and wheezing. Avoiding winter colds is difficult; curing them is not hard if you take Allen's Lung Balsam. Better begin when the cold is young and not wait until it settles deep into the lungs, for then, even with Allen's Lung Balsam, complete relief will be slower.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 25.

When President Roosevelt left Washington on Monday afternoon for New Haven he left behind him a sadly disgruntled politician in the person of Senator Platt of New York, who was nursing his wrath in his apartments at the Arlington Hotel. When the Senator was in Washington some weeks ago he discussed New York politics with the President and, while Mr. Roosevelt did not actually commit himself, he went home with the impression that he was to have things pretty much his own way. His most important request had been for the removal of Appraiser Wakeman who is said to have shown too keen an appreciation of his duty to the government and far too small an appreciation of the allegiance due to the Republican dictator of New York. For the good of the machine discipline it was essential that Wakeman's scalp should dangle from the dictator's belt. Mr. Roosevelt had diplomatically promised "to look into the matter" and Mr. Platt supposed his object was accomplished.

It seems as if the Fifty-seventh Congress would be compelled to investigate the Navy Department. On top of the Schley-Sampson affair comes the report from the captain of the Alabama that a large percentage of the shells, which of course had been inspected and marked "O. K." by representatives of the Department, was found to be defective and that the premature bursting of one of them completely disabled the port, thirteen inch gun. Moreover, the story of the Department's permitting the cruiser Columbia to go to rack and ruin in the League Island navy yard will not stay as completely buried as Secretary Long thought it would, as is evidenced by inquiries into the subject that are being made by some of the Congressmen who are coming to Washington. Altogether there is ample warrant for an investigation and if some unruly Congressman, with more regard for his own standing with his constituents than for the good of the party, does not persist in dragging Secretary Long's skeletons out of the closet it will be surprising.

The Marquis Ito, who was for a number of years Prime Minister of Japan, lunched with the President on Monday. Mr. Roosevelt urged him to return to Washington after receiving his degree at New Haven as he wished to give a dinner in his honor, but the Marquis declined the invitation, alleging the condition of his health and the political situation in Japan as his excuse. The Marquis told the President that the commerce of his country now amounted to more than $250,000,000 per annum, that Japan had 846 steamers with an aggregate tonnage exceeding 528,000 tons and that she had built up all this within the last thirty years, that the time would come and that it was not far off when, next to the United States, Japan would be the greatest commercial power on the Pacific Ocean and he expressed gratification that the relations between the United States and Japan were so cordial and assured the President that Japan would lose no opportunity to more closely cement the bond of friendship.

has stood the test for 20 years.

One Million Six Hundred Thousand bottles were sold last year.

Do you think it pays to try others?

Postmaster Coyne, of Chicago, was in Washington this week urging the Department to give him more space as he says he is sorely cramped in the present temporary post office and that it will be from three to four years before the new government building is ready for occupancy. Mr. Coyne also predicted that by that time the new post office would be too small for the requirements of his force, a statement which rather startled the authorities until they remembered that Mr. Coyne was from Chicago and that, as one of them expressed it, "his statements must be taken cum grano salis." The recent robbery of stamps amounting to over $75,000, from the Chicago Postoffice and various stamp robberies of smaller amounts all over the country are likely to lead the Postmaster General to ask the coming Congress to enact a law prohibiting the sale of stamps by anyone than a government agent. Such a law it is believed, would to a large extent, remove the incentive to rob post offices.

Baby's Coming

McDonald, Ga., July 18, 1900.
I advise every suffering woman to take Wine of Cardui. While I was going with my other children I was compelled to stay in bed for days at a time, but this time I have taken Wine of Cardui and Theford's Black-Draught and have been able to do all my housework without any trouble. I am expecting every day to be confined. My husband thinks Wine of Cardui is the best medicine in the world. He takes a dose of Theford's Black-Draught every night and gives some to the children. He has not lost a day from work this year. He tells his friends about your wonderful medicines and I tell my lady friends to use your Wine of Cardui.
Mrs. GEORGIA LEE.

WINE OF CARDUI

There are thousands of women who shrink in terror at the thought of the baby's coming, and the period of pregnancy is necessarily distressing under those conditions. Wine of Cardui will regulate the menstrual function perfectly and eventually make the generative organs strong and healthy. Pregnancy and childbirth have no terrors for the woman who takes this pure Wine. A strong healthy womb will bring its precious burden to maturity with little or no pain. A healthy woman need not fear childbirth. Wine of Cardui completely cures all these troubles familiarly known as "female diseases" and equips the sensitive generative organs for pregnancy and childbirth. It will save any mother much pain and suffering. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles.

WILL CONTINUE THE SCHOOL.

The Old Eborn House Secured for That Purpose.

THE REFLECTOR is glad to give the good news to its readers today that notwithstanding the loss of their building by fire the Masons have decided to continue the Masonic Hall school for girls, and have secured the building better known as the old Eborn house, corner Greene and Second streets, for that purpose.

The Trustees of the school held a meeting Friday afternoon, and decided that the responsibility of continuing the school, under the circumstances, was greater than they should assume without the concurrence of the Lodge, and asked that the Worshipful Master call a special meeting to consider the matter. The meeting was called for 8 o'clock P. M., and though only a short notice could be given there was a large attendance of the members, showing the interest they felt in the school.

The matter was discussed fully, when the Lodge ordered that the school be continued if the Trustees found it practical to do so. The Trustees were given full authority to see what building could be secured, consult with the teachers, and take whatever action they deemed best.

The Trustees met again this morning and with the teachers looked at the only available places for carrying on the school, and decided to take the Eborn house. In this decision to continue the school the Masons should have the fullest support and co-operation of the citizens of the town. It is the welfare of the town and desire not to deprive the children of school facilities that prompted the decision.

The pupils of the school are asked to be present with their books at the usual hour Monday morning at the Eborn house.

Burned With Grease.

Mrs. W. H. Ricks, who lives just east of town, was painfully burned Friday evening. She was in her kitchen superintending preparation for supper, and stooping to pick up something from under the stove accidentally turned over a frying pan of hot grease. This hot grease struck her face and one arm, burning her very painfully. Her many friends are glad that the accident was not more serious.

Some men are so skeptical that they won't believe in chicken salad unless they see the feathers in it.
