STATE NEWS.

Happenings In North Carolina.

The Masons of Rocky Mount will hold a bazaar and fair the last week in November.

A little three-year-old girl, near Salisbury, while playing with matches set her clothing on fire and was burned to death.

Fire broke out among the booths in the midway at the Raleigh fair, Friday night, and a colored boy locked up in one of them was burned to death.

Newspaper "Ads" Only.

When the great English advertiser (Harmsworth) was asked whether he used street car and omnibus advertising and posters he said: "No, I don't because I don't believe in them. They may do for some advertisers, but we have tried them and found they did not pay us. We put our faith to newspapers, and we know that our investments pay."—Philadelphia Record.

Lawrence Ward and Peter Blount, riotous and disorderly conduct and assault, bound over to Superior court.

Jas. A. Sutton, drunk and down, fined $1 and cost, total $3.60.

Noah Hardy, fast and reckless driving, fined $1 and costs, $4.25.

Win. Moye, assault, fined $1 and costs, $5.25.

Ed. Fleming, assault, fined $1 and cost, $5.15.

Henry Stickland, reckless driving fined $1 and cost total $3.25.

The size of the cotton crop last year and the price it was sold at brought enough money to many to enable them to save an adequate amount to buy their groceries and guano this year for the cash. But they did not save it. We are told by many in honest confession that they recklessly bought this and that they could have done without and felt no discomfort thereby. The consequence is that they have occasion to lament their folly in the light of the size and price of the cotton crop they are now marketing. A full crop next year can leave no net earning, for it will take all clear gains to pay up losses sustained this year. The wisest course is for the farmer to resolve firmly that he will accumulate enough over current needs to pay cash for his fertilizers and groceries. A life of mortgaging crops in advance, as is the custom, affects the very manhood of our people, and along with this evil is a long train, such as impaired energies, dissipated aspirations and temptations to dishonesty.—Lumber Bridge News.

Judge Connor, of Wilson, is held in high esteem and repute at home and in the state at large. He is a candidate for the associate justiceship on the Supreme Court bench. He would make a wise, faithful, prudent, honorable judge, and there would never be any smell of corruption on his official robes.—Wilmington Messenger.

Seasonable Song.

The melancholy days have come, the saddest of the year. The small boy leaves the swimming hole, the farmer stuffs the steer. The urchin trudges off to school, the pullets begin to lay, the preacher gets a move on him, the coal men have their day. The trees put on their sombre hue, the grasshopper ascends on high, the little ant its cellar fills, the toper calls for "rye." The lonely church oyster laughs in glee, for now his time has come; the girls have terrible appetites, the boys must spend their "mon;" and the meat barrel is empty, and the butcher's short of liver, and the thought of icy winter makes your spinal column quiver. And Johnny gets his little gun and sallies through brush and stubble, and shoots the agriculturalist's colt and has no end of trouble. The days are full of sunshine and the nights are full of frost, and the house is full of stove pipes and half the joints are lost. O, spring time has its drawbacks, but it doesn't have them all, for the worst part of the year is just before the fall.—Orange, Va. Observer.

The Cosmopolitan has endeavored to make itself known by timely contributions to all important controversies. Frank Moss, so well known in the Lexow and Mazet investigations, contributes "Municipal Misgovernment and Corruption: A warning to Patriots" to the November issue. This considers a serious difficulty in a way that will be found interesting not only to New Yorkers, but to residents of every part of the United States.

The Judge can pronounce a very long sentence in a very few words.

ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS

Made By The Orange, Virginia, Observer

The devil is always entertained free in the mansion of a mean man. As corn is high this fall, why not let your hogs "laugh and grow fat?"

Some men think the best place for a red button-hole bouquet is on the end of the nose.

Some Orange people are engaged in raising ache-corns all the year—on their feet.

The world accords more room and greater respect to the heels of a wide-a-wake mule than it does to the head of a lazy man.

It appears that President Roosevelt is color-blind—at his dinner table. Wouldn't another pair of eye-glasses help him to a better discernment?

Suspicious Emigrants.

The rapid increase in the negro vote in Indiana is significant. The fact that during the last five years the increase in the negro vote has exceeded that of the white by almost 5 per cent. can only be accounted for by the supposition that the negroes are coming to this State from the South. It is very suggestive that the Southern negroes never emigrate to Indiana in such numbers as just previous to an election. Is there any natural reason for this? In this city we have negroes who have proven themselves worthy citizens of the community—but are the average Southern negro emigrants especially desirable?—Indianapolis Sentinel.

When autumn comes we see the autumn leaves.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1901.

The present remarkable demand for novels and the influence of that demand on the literary product are discussed by Dr. Talcott Williams in the Review of Reviews for November. The number of novel-readers has been enormously increased, while the cost of publication has been cheapened. In short, all the conditions of literary production have been transformed. This fact was pointed out by Dr. Williams a year ago, in the Review of Reviews, and the past twelve months have only confirmed the predictions he then made regarding the prosperity of the American book trade. Following Dr. Williams' review of "Fiction Read and Written in 1901," there is a survey of the American history and biography of the year, by William B. Shaw, together with a brief discussion of some of the recent changes in publishers' methods.

The leisure time of the farmer is almost at hand, the rush of crop gathering is over, and he has time to look about him and plan for the coming year. This time, however, should not be wasted, but should be employed in the proper preparation of the soil, composting fertilizers and taking such steps as are necessary for a more effective drainage than we have had heretofore. The past year, with its unusual rainfall, should have impressed the necessity of greater effort in this direction, and the experience of many should enforce it. Crops on thoroughly drained land suffer less from drought or excessive rains than those where drainage is less perfect. This has been lately taught us to be a matter of fact, not of theory alone.—Lumberton Robesonian.

Arthur Foley Winnington- Ingram Lord Bishop of London, contributes an interesting paper to the November Cosmopolitan on "The Overcrowding of Great Cities and Remedies for it." Apropos of the discussion of the invasion of England by Americans, Edmund Gosse furnishes in the same number an essay scoring Englishmen for their narrowness of intellect. Incidentally he has a hit at American intellectual life in the twentieth century.

The remains of Senator Cushman K. Davis, of Minnesota, and who was for so many years chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations were brought to Washington this week by his widow and interred at Arlington, in the officers' division, a lot having been set aside for him by the War Department.

FOR HARNESS and Saddle Sores Mexican Mustang Liniment is just what you need. It takes effect at once, and you will be astonished to see how quickly it heals sores.

It's this way:

You can burn yourself with Fire, with Powder, etc., or you can scald yourself with Steam or Hot Water, but there is only one proper way to cure a burn or scald and that is by using Mexican Mustang Liniment.

It gives immediate relief. Get a piece of soft old linen cloth, saturate it with this liniment and bind loosely upon the wound. You can have no adequate idea what an excellent remedy this is for a burn until you have tried it.

A FOWL TIP. If you have a bird afflicted with Roup or any other poultry disease use Mexican Mustang Liniment. It is called a STANDARD remedy by poultry breeders.

Should Be $20.

The attention of THE REFLECTOR is called to an error in printing the amount to be received by fourth class pensioners, it appearing in print as $40 when it should have been $20. We do not recall the article, but print this that those who call for their pension warrants may know that those in the fourth-class will receive only $20 each.

Marriage Licenses.

Register of Deeds, T. R. Moore, issued the following marriage licenses this week:

WHITE

Lillian Fulford and Sally Ann Windham.

G. B. Haddock and Geneva Smith.

COLORED

W. W. Humphrey and Hattie Simms.

Last week a Concord photographer advertised that on last Monday he would make baby pictures free between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. On that day between these hours there were swarms of baby carriages at his door. When the pictures were taken he would inform the mothers that he made no charge for taking it but would charge for all pictures wanted. There was much kicking at this unusual way of securing trade.—Concord Times.

Services in Baptist Church.

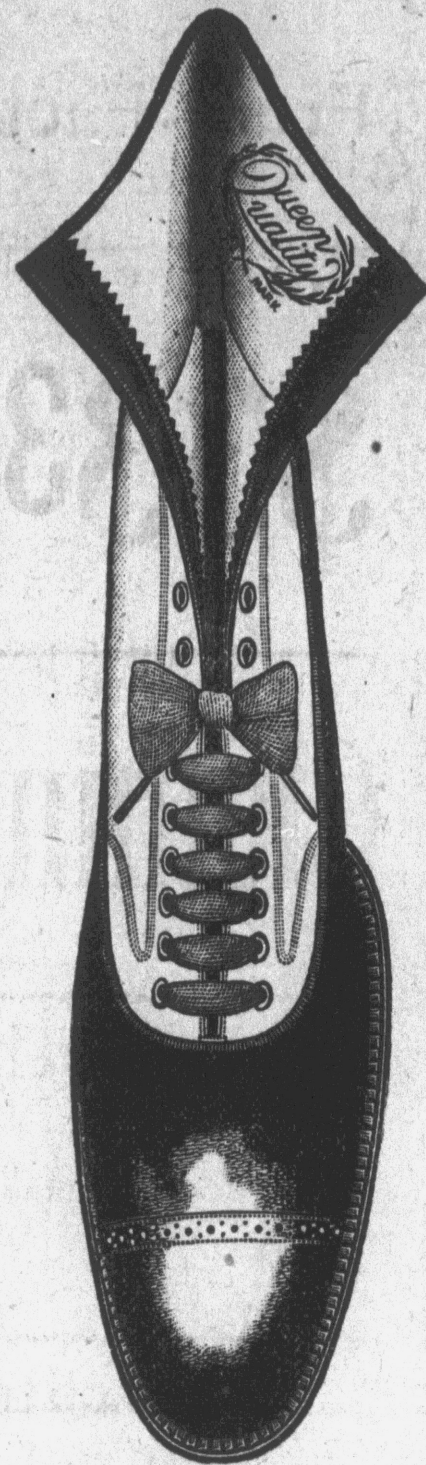

The Methodist and Baptist congregations worshipped together Sunday night in the Baptist church, preparatory to the serious of meetings in the latter church this week. Rev. C. A. Jenkins, of Goldsboro, will arrive this evening to assist in the meeting and will preach every night during the week. All Christians of the community should feel deeply interested in the meeting, for a genuine revival of religion is much needed in Greenville.
