TIN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. King Celebrate Their Tenth Anniversary.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. R. W. King, at their residence on Dickinson avenue, were at home to their many friends, it being the tenth anniversary of their marriage. The occasion was one of ease and elegance, affording great pleasure to all in attendance.

Dr. R. L. Carr and Miss Clara Bruce Forbes received the guests in the front hall and passed them on to Capt. R. Williams who conducted them to the several rooms.

In the front parlor were Mr. and Mrs. King who were assisted in receiving by their two little daughters, Misses Mattie Moye and Amine, and by Mr. S. T. White and Miss Nannie Moye. Across the end of the parlor was a tripple arch of flowers, Mr. and Mrs. King standing in the centre arch underneath a large bell of white chrysanthemums, Mr. White occupying the small arch on the right and Miss Moye the arch on the left. Over the arch burned ten candles, and on one side were the figures 1891 and 1901 opposite.

In the second room Senator and Mrs. F. G. James served the guests with oyster cocktails from a huge block of ice, and Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Wooten presided at the lunch bowl.

In the third room salads, sandwiches, beaten biscuits and olives were served by Col. and Mrs. Harry Skinner and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moye.

In each of these rooms the floral decorations were exquisite, in the latter a table banked with bright dahlias and sprays of fern with a mirror in the center and lighted tapers all around being particularly beautiful.

In the opposite room across the hall was a large tin ship laden with the many wedding presents from friends. In this room ice cream and cakes were served by Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. King and Mr. Jesse Speight and Miss Bessie Patrick.

There were many who called to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. King and wish them many more happy anniversaries.

Baptist Services.

Rey. C. A. Jenkins, of Goldsboro, arrived Monday evening to do the preaching at the meeting in the Baptist church this week. He preached his first sermon Monday night, his subject being faith. He said there were those who believed their works would save them, while others believed they would be saved by a mixture of works and faith, but he was ready to tell them, with the Bible as the only source of authority, that only through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ are we saved. He said man is not saved by his works, but his works are a result of his being saved, and by his works is the measure of reward given. But without faith it is impossible to please God, and except ye believe on the Lord Jesus Christ ye are condemned already.

Mr. Jenkins is an earnest speaker, giving the truth just as he finds it in God's Word, and recognizing this as the only source of authority.

Services tonight at 7:15 o'clock, with sermon at 7:30

The war against trailing skirts as means of communication of diseases is carried on with vigor in Germany. Thus, at Ems the authorities have put up a notice that no long skirts are to be admitted within the precincts of the gardens, and the keeper excludes ladies whose skirts are in his opinion too long, while in Saxon Switzerland, outside Dresden, notices are posted on the trees that wearers of trailing skirts will be fined.

More Letters Soon.

A private letter from Mr. T. C. Davis, of Wilson, says that in a few days he will send THE REFLECTOR another series of his "Recollections of Greenville." We know this announcement will give pleasure to our readers. Mr. Davis expresses regret that the old Masonic Lodge building is burned and says he will miss it when he comes to Greenville. He also says that from the many letters he has received about his "recollections" he is convinced that THE REFLECTOR has a wide circulation.

As we come toward the Christmas holidays, larger space in the magazines is given to fiction. The Cosmopolitan includes a tragic story of the Mexican foot hills by Thomas A. Janvier, a very clever society story by Carolyn Wells, one of the Old Romances by Richard Le Gallienne, an unusually interesting Indian narrative by H. T. George, and a weird story by S. R. Crockett.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 25.

The Secretary of War returned to the city on Wednesday and the President on Thursday, and they found awaiting them a condition of affairs that caused them no little disappointment. The news of continued trouble in Samar, the constant friction between the Civil Commission and the military authorities, and the impossibility of reducing the military force now on the islands, notwithstanding the fact that some 10,000 men will have to be brought home, because of the expiration of the terms of their enlistment, all combine to repudiate Republican predictions and worry the administration. According to the latest advices we are trying Weyler's Cuban reconcentrado policy in Samar. All persons found outside of the towns will be treated as outlaws. It's not surprising that Roosevelt squirms at the pass to which Republican colonizing policy has brought us.

Senor Baretto, chief translator for the provost marshal general of Manila is in the city. He is a native Philippine and knows the Philippine character well, and he says that the United States has been premature in undertaking to control the islands by a civil commission, that the insurrection has not been put down and that the strong arm of the military is essential to the maintenance of peace. He intimates that the Commission has been duped in the choice of their native advisors and of their appointees and he cited the case of one Fedix Roxas "who having failed in the position first assigned him, that of Governor of Batangas, has been appointed judge of one of the provinces in spite of the fact that he has never practiced law."

Mr. Hopkins proposes to do his share towards the dissipation of the surplus by the establishment of a permanent Census Bureau. That a permanent Census Bureau might be maintained without any increase of cost and with perhaps an increase of efficiency, is not denied but Representative Hopkins's bill will not do so. His bill provides for a salary of $7,500 for the Director, Ex-Gov. W. R. Merriam, an assistant director at $4,000 per annum, and numerous other positions with salaries varying from $2500 to $1200. Undoubtedly with the present republican majority in Congress there will be no trouble taking care of the surplus.

The report comes from the White House that the President is going to introduce two innovations in his present message. First, that he proposes to write it all himself, instead of assigning to the members of his Cabinet, those portions dealing with their respective departments, and secondly, that he is going to send it to Congress in typewritten form, it having been the custom, heretofore, to typewrite it and then have it transcribed with pen. The manuscript copy was then sent to Congress, which body immediately turned it over to the Government printer who set it up and furnished, within an almost incredibly short time, printed copies to the House and Senate. I understand, too, that the President will recommend the establishment of a Department of Commerce and Industry.

It has been made known at the Navy Department Rear Admiral Crowninshield is to be succeeded as Chief of the Bureau of Navigation, by Rear Admiral Henry C. Taylor. Rear Admiral Crowninshield will be given command of the European station, so that the transfer will be in the nature of a promotion, rather than otherwise.

An old prize-fighter who died in Boston recently, got a first-rate eulogy from the preacher who conducted his funeral. This prize fighter, said the preacher, died a Christian man, and in vindication of this claim it was stated that this dead boxer "was never a drinker, had always spoken against the saloon, work against it, voted against it and invariably gave his earnings to his family." It is rather strange to hear a prize-fighter eulogized from the pulpit, but the subject of this Boston preacher's triouze was an exception and was about the only one on record who didn't own a saloon. He did not belong to the class of latter day artists whose names, in big letters of incandescent lights, illuminate the streets of New York.—Charlotte Observer.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

Men who have married sisters seem to have a great deal of genuine sympathy for each other.

The rule which women have about secrets is always to keep those that are not worth telling.

Generally the woman who knows how to cook dislikes to do it as much as the woman who doesn't know how likes to do it.

What a woman can't understand is how a man will stay up every night for six weeks running all over town trying to make votes for a candidate he doesn't know, but gets hopping mad if he has to run across the street to get some paregoric for his own baby.—New York Press.

"What this State needs," said a prominent visitor the other day, "is commercial lawyers. We want men who practice law for law's sake; men who expect to rise merely as lawyers and to make their living only from the law. The profession and hundreds of individuals are badly hurt by the fact that a large proportion of our lawyers run their offices as a side line to cheap politics."—Idle comment in Charlotte Observer.

Within the past two years $5,000 has been spent for poison with which to kill prairie dogs in Western Kansas. The little animals appear to relish poisoned food, and are increasing in numbers so rapidly that in a few years the whole State will probably be overrun with them.

Coal may go up in price, but it always goes down in chutes.

Told by Pain

If you have pains you should look after them quickly. Pain shows something is wrong. The sharper the pain the more danger there is in delay. There are thousands of women to-day who are bearing awful pain almost continually, rather than tell a physician about the shooting pains in their lower abdomen, about the agony of falling of the womb and the distress of leucorrhoea. They let the months pass and their trouble becomes harder to cure and more distressing. But modest women can secure exemption from the embarrassment of a private examination. When pain tells them of danger they can cure themselves by the use of in the privacy of their homes. You can be cured without distressing publicity. With these facts before you there is no reason for the delay which is increasing your misery and wasting the days of your life. Why not stop the pain today?

WINE OF CARDUI

Belen, Miss., March 9, 1900.
I have used one bottle of Wine of Cardui and one package of Theford's Black-Draught. Before I began to take your medicines I had pains in my back, hips, lower bowels and my arms. Sometimes I thought I would go blind. My head ached and I was so weak I could hardly walk across the floor. Now I can only feel a little of the pain in my side and I am going to use your medicines until I get cured, for I believe they will certainly cure me. I have been married twelve years and am the mother of seven children. I thank you for your wonderful medicine and what it has done for me.

Baby Bazaar.

The ladies of the Methodist church will have a baby bazaar in the opera house, Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, for the benefit of their church lot. The names of about 75 babies have been enrolled. These will be divided into three classes—one year old and under, between one and three years old, and between three and six years old—a prize to be awarded by ballot in each class. The ladies will also have ice cream and cake on sale during the bazaar.

Rev. Mr. Tidball sold his crop of apples on the trees last week for $550. His orchard is located on the Brushy Mountains, one of the finest fruit sections in this country. This is a fair example of what can be made out of good orchards.—North Wilkesboro Hustler.
