FALL SELLING.

Putting it Strong.

And why not? When the merchandise and prices will back up the statements made concerning them, we have every right to "Put it Strong." There is nothing wrong in emphasizing excellence when the emphasis is within the bounds of truth, when facts are given without misrepresentation.

Our "Ad" States Facts.

Just facts, something well worth remembering. Counters and tables piled high. Stacks and stacks of mens, boys and youths clothing. Every place rambled and packed with shoes. We can show you to your entire satisfaction. Counter room needed in our dress goods department. Selling must continue to relieve the pressure. Come early before the best things are gone. All the latest styles and weaves in dress goods. Agents for Standard Patterns.

GRIMESLAND ITEMS.

GRIMESLAND, N. C., Oct. 30. Rev. Mr. Tingle, of Ayden, filled his regular appointments at the Christian church Sunday morning and night.

We are glad to know that Miss Jesse Holiday is well again.

A. B. Smith, of Washington, was here buying cotton Monday.

We had quite a number of visitors at Sunday school Sunday.

Misses Mattie Wooten, Lizzina and Sussie Moore, of Chocowinity spent the day here Sunday.

Mrs. J. O. Proctor and Mrs. C. M. Jones left Tuesday to attend the convention at Kinston.

We are sorry to know that Ned Laughinghouse is very sick.

Little Fred and Wesley Jones are visiting their grand parents Mr. and Mrs. F. Ward near Pactolus this week.

Miss Crick Buck spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Moore.

John Johnson, of Goldsboro, was in town Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Spain and little daughter, Berthe, from near Mt. Pleasant church spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Proctor.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tucker spent Sunday here.

Dinkie Boyd is on the sick list this week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Powell spent Sunday at Vanceboro.

Billie Reaves and Mrs. Dunn and son, Julius, from above Greenville, visited Mr. and Mrs. Dunn, of this place Saturday night and Sunday.

Dr. C. M. Jones and wife spent Monday at Pactolus.

We are sorry to know that Mr. and Mrs. Noah Campbell are still on the sick list.

Mrs. Haul Haddocks' mother died Sunday night at their home near here. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Misses Lucy Galloway and Bessie Pugh were in town Sunday afternoon for a few hours.

Bombshell in the Fire.

A negro named Holly while plowing in a field a mile and a half of town the other day, unearthed a bombshell and threw it out on the side of the field. Yesterday afternoon it was found by a crowd of colored children, who were delighted with the beautiful plaything, and after rolling it around the floor for a while, decided to place it in the fire and sit and watch it melt. This took place at the house of Jim Kirk on East Market street, and a few minutes after the bomb had been deposited in the fire there was a terrific explosion and a sound of wailing in that household. Jim Kirk's little girl, Corrinna, had two fingers torn off and her brother received a serious wound on the leg. The exploded bomb which was filled with minnie balls, etc., wrecked the mantle, tore a hole in the roof of the house, set fire to a bed and several other pieces of furniture, and played havoc in general.—Greensboro Record.

That's It.

The press of the South has no occasion to regret the favorable opinion it at first formed of the President, but has rather to regret that he did not prove deserving.—Durham Herald.

Say, Jack

That's a swell looking Suit you have on--mind telling me where you got it? "I got it at Frank Wilson's." I'd like to have one about like it--mind telling me what it cost? "Of course not, $15.00. Great Scott! I would have guessed $25.00. Are there any left? "Yes, but you had better get one quick for they will all be closed out very soon--everybody likes them."

The above conversation was heard on the street yesterday.

FRANK WILSON, THE CLOTHIER.

BLACK JACK ITEMS.

BLACK JACK, N. C., Oct. 30, 1901.

At the home of the bride's parents, Sunday morning at 9 o'clock Miss Geneva Smith and Mr. George Haddock were married. The couple have many friends throughout this section to congratulate them and wish them a bright and happy future.

The constable of our township was "captured" by a "Daisy" last Sunday.

Little Miss Sudie Edwards had the misfortune to get two of her toes shot off Sunday morning. While tying her shoe a gun fell from the rack and fired while falling.

*Miss Annie White and Jodie Dixon spent Sunday afternoon at Newtown.

Bernard Greene and Will Smith, of Greenville, were here Sunday.

Miss Daisy Cox spent Sunday night with Miss Maie Galloway.

Mrs. Alice Bailey, of Ayden, is visiting her mother Mrs. Galloway.

Miss Annie White and little Becca Mills spent Saturday in Greenville.

Rev. Mr. Eare will preach his closing sermon at McGowan school house Sunday night.

Miss Julica Tyson is visiting Mrs. Abram Galloway.

Accidentally Kills Himself.

A most distressing accident occurred in Rocky Mount Tuesday. Tom Davis, the eighteen-year-old son of Sid Davis, one of the most efficient policemen in the State, dropped on a doorstep a double barreled shot gun which he was handling. The hammers struck and discharged the gun. The load went through his stomach. The young man only lived an hour after.—Tarboro Southerner.

Josiah Turner and His Fights.

Mr. Turner's accounts of his street fights were the funniest things in contemporaneous literature. Judge W. A. Moore, of the Supreme court, "laid" for him one day, but in starting to assault him slipped and fell. Turner, greatly amused—if he could be amused at anything, for he never cracked a smile—stood over him and punched him in the ribs with his umbrella, and never got tired afterwards writing about "the man who fell down at us." Wm. H. Bailey, then of Salisbury, challenged him to a duel. Turner replied to the challenge through his paper, signing the name of his office devil, a boy named Hall, to the letter. Hall was supposed to take the difficulty off his chief's hands, and wrote frequent open letters to Mr. Bailey, inviting him to mortal combat. Turner could take the most trivial incident of a man's life, or the slightest peculiarity in his personal appearance, and make him a laughing stock.—Charlotte Observer.

The candidates in the judgeship made vacant by the death of Judge Thomas C. Fuller are springing up in every quarter. Spence Adam's cold "fing down" by the President makes it certain that a Democrat will get the appointment and "there is hope" that the appointment will come to North Carolina. It is understood that the names of these gentlemen will be presented to the President for appointment to the Land Claims Judgeship: Gen. T. F. Davidson, Hon. Frank I. Osborne, Hon. John S. Henderson, Hon. F. H. Busbee, Hon. Clem Manly, Hon. Ham Jones and Hon. Garland Ferguson.—Raleigh News and Observer.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1901.

People at the Weldon fair this week say if the fakirs, toughs and disreputable characters had been removed there would not have been anything else left. That is a pretty hard charge against the fair and again brings up the suggestion that unless the moral tone of the fairs can be improved it is better to abolish them.

For the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1901, the Western Union Telegraph Company handled 65,657,049 messages. The gross receipts were $26,345,150.85 and expenses $19,668,902.68, leaving a profit of $6,685,248.17.

Buffalo Bills Wild West Shows was in Charlotte Monday and during the night was shipping from that city to Danville where the next performance was to take place. About 4 o'clock Tuesday morning near Lexington, on the Southern Railway, one section of the show train had a collision with a freight train and caused a most disastrous wreck.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

A woman doesn't care near as much about having the last word herself as keeping her husband from having it. There are some men who never spend an evening home without acting like some barroom was being cheated of its rights.

The Circus.

Dr. J. B. Alexander has a sensible contribution in today's paper upon the circus—the institution which provides the entertainment of the masses. Our friend of the Greenville REFLECTOR recently had an excellent editorial in the same line, and it gives The Observer pleasure to endorse both.

Farmers Should Organize Themselves.

Yes, the farmer is the backbone of the country, but as yet they have been unable to effect an organization that has been of much benefit to themselves. If the men who follow the plow would organize, set a price on their products, and hold them until their price was paid, something might be accomplished.

Self Depreciation.

One of the things which keep some young people from rising is a habit of self-reproach, of self-criticism. They are always dissecting themselves looking for weak points in their characters, and constantly blaming themselves for not doing this or that.

Sometimes we hear the expression, "talking up" a thing. It is a pleasing afterthought upon leaving a town we have visited to recall how its people, with one accord, talked it up. We know by much experience that it does good to talk up anything warmly.

church or whatever they are connected with. Such talk has more force, perhaps, than talking up. Man is, by nature, prone to be glad to hear and believe in decadence and calamity.

A Noted Preacher's View.

Rev. Richard Melvaine, president of the Hampden Sidney College, Virginia, said last Sunday to a correspondent of the Washington Post:

"I shall not give any interview. I have nothing to say. It's none of my business. If Roosevelt or any other kind of Velt wishes to live with niggers, I can't help it. But he's got no business, as President, to be guilty of any such criminal folly.

Business Should Grow.

There are few business establishments to which more business would not be welcome. Location and display will insure a certain amount of trade, but a still larger volume can be attracted and created by bold and persistent newspaper advertising.

The new woman, if you look close enough will often be found to be an old woman.

Japanese Persimmons.

Today Mr. Allen Warren brought THE REFLECTOR some fine specimens of Japanese persimmons from Riverside Nurseries. There is a single persimmon that is the largest we ever saw, a cluster of three very large ones and another cluster of five. It is a treat to see this fruit growing at Riverside.

A Shrewd Trick.

George Ellsworth, one of the Morven safe crackers, who was convicted at the recent term of Anson criminal court and sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary, but whose case was appealed, received a lot of books by express this morning. Sheriff Graddy examined the books and discovered 12 burglar's saws bound in the back of one of them. The saws were concealed so cunningly that it was only by the sharpest scrutiny that they were found. These saws will cut the hardest steel, and if Ellsworth and Travor had gotten hold of them they would soon have been free men.—Wadesboro Messenger and Intelligencer.

Missed His Calling.

Today a business man in town gave his bunch of keys to a negro to go to the postoffice for his mail. The negro brought the keys to THE REFLECTOR and said here's a bunch of keys Mr. Soand So sent you. That is a smart "coon," and would make a better hand in the cotton patch than doing errands in town.

Sermons on Worldliness.

At the Baptist church Wednesday night Rev. C. A. Jenkins preached on the evils to which men are exposed and of their hurtful influence upon them. He spoke of only three. They were bad companionship, theatre going, and card playing. His argument against these was very strong and convincing and must have caused many to decide to let them alone.

Tonight he will preach on worldliness as it especially relates to women. All ought to hear him. The ladies especially in town ought to go to this service tonight. Service begins at 7:15, sermon at 7:30.

Mr. W. E. Fountain Dead.

A telegram to the editor from Tarboro today tells of the death of Mr. W. E. Fountain, of that town, which occurred rather suddenly at eleven o'clock. For some days past Mr. Fountain had been in feeble health, and last night he became unconscious and never rallied.

Mr. Fountain was one of Tarboro's leading business men, being President of the Fountain Cotton Mills and interested in other enterprises there. For several years he was Mayor of the town, and during his administration awakened the greatest progressive interest that town has known. He was also Treasurer of his county for some time.

It was he who built the telegraph line from Tarboro to Greenville and on to Washington in 1881 which gave these towns their only telegraphic communication for many years. The writer had business relations with Mr. Fountain dating back as far as 1884 and knew him well, and always regarded him as a warm friend.
