FALL SELLING.

Putting it Strong.

And why not? When the merchandise and prices will back up the statements made concerning them, we have every right to "Put it Strong." There is nothing wrong in emphasizing excellence when the emphasis is within the bounds of truth, when facts are given without misrepresentation.

Our "Ad" States Facts.

Just facts, something well worth remembering. Counters and tables piled high. Stacks and stacks of mens, boys and youths clothing. Every place rambled and packed with shoes. We can show you to your entire satisfaction. Counter room needed in our dress goods department. Selling must continue to relieve the pressure. Come early before the best things are gone. All the latest styles and weaves in dress goods. Agents for Standard Patterns.

SKINNER AND THE ANGELS.

A Fireside Tale.

"Shove up them chunks, ole 'oman
An' set down by me, here,
An' 'bout that man I'll tell yer,
That Skinner-man, my dear:
His name is Mister Skinner,
He lives here, in the South;
They call him Harry Skinner,
The man with talkin' mouth;
He's talked for every party
The South has ever seen,
An' standin' in the middle,
He's often talked between.
Some say this Mister Skinner
First walked up ter the bat
An' 'stood there lookin' mighty proud
A Ku Klux Democrat
And then that Mister Skinner—
Well, Skinner stepped behind
As ketcher for the Populists
Upon their hayseed nine,
A-ketchin' uv the offices,
A-ketchin' what was good,
This mister Harry Skinner,
A-ketchin' what he could,
An' now this mister Skinner
Haf tuck another stand
A-ketchin' at them offices,
As a Republi-can;
An' with them colored angels,
He's mighty quick an' strong
A-grabbin' fer them offices
Fer which them angels long,
But which them colored angels
Can never ketch, they know,
Because that Mister Skinner's
A-grabbin' at 'em so."

The tale was told and silence fell,
Tale-teller went to bed
But museful over dy ng fire
Sat wife, with low bent head,
And as she brushed, from furrowed cheek,
A tear that stole down there,
She softly prayed that Skinner might
Some office grub yet spare
For wingless, colored angels here,
With wool instead of hair,

A STRONG SERMON.

On Worldiness and Its Effects.

Better sermons are not heard than the one delivered by Rev. C. A. Jenkins in the Baptist church, Thursday night, on worldiness as it relates to young women. He preached on a similar topic to young men on Wednesday night, and this might be called a companion sermon to it.

Mr. Jenkins made three divisions of his sermon—uncongenial marriage, bad books and the dance. No young woman, more especially the Christian woman, should enter into the married state lightly. More unhappiness and disgraceful separations result from uncongenial marriages than any other cause. The speaker said he sometimes believed that the church suffered more from such marriages than it did from the barroom. Several apt illustrations were used to more deeply impress the line of argument.

Bad books, he said, are doing much to sap the life of our women and to ruin their influence for usefulness to the church or the world. To read a thing in print made a much deeper impression on a person than the mere statement of a matter. Most of the current literature of the present day is bad, unfit to be read and unworthy a place in the home.

Mr. Jenkins' argument against the dance was convincing beyond dispute. Some say there is no harm in the private dance with a select circle of friends. This might be true if the influence and effect went no further. He gave statistics from several homes for fallen women in which the large majority traced their fall to the dance.

At the close of the sermon he asked any Christians present who were willing to deny themselves and consecrate their lives more fully to Christ to come forward and give him their hand in token of this. A large number went forward.

Mr. Jenkins' subject for tonight will be "The Unpardonable Sin." Service begins at 7:15, sermon at 7:30.

Say, Jack

That's a swell looking Suit you have on--mind telling me where you got it? "I got it at Frank Wilson's." I'd like to have one about like it--mind telling me what it cost? "Of course not, $15.00. Great Scott! I would have guessed $25.00. Are there any left? "Yes, but you had better get one quick for they will all be closed out very soon--everybody likes them."

The above conversation was heard on the street yesterday.

BABY BAZAAR.

The Boys Take all the Prizes.

The Ladies of the Methodist church scored quite a success at the baby bazaar which they held in the opera house Thursday afternoon. When the curtain went up it showed a stage full of babies, all kinds and sizes, some crying, some laughing, but all sweet and pretty. There was a large crowd present and the little tots were much admired.

Then the ladies sold ice cream and cake while the voting for babies was in progress. When the votes were counted it was announced that William Cherry, little son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cherry, had won the prize in the class under one year old, a set of gold baby pins; Larry James, little son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. James, in the one to three-year old class, a silver spoon, and Charlie Munford, little son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Munford, in the three to six-year-old class, a silver spoon.

Maud Hooker, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. U. Hooker, received the second highest vote in the first class. Adelaide Taft, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Taft, and Dorothy Norman, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Norman, tied as second highest in the second class. Helen Laughinghouse, little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Laughinghouse, was second highest in the third class. Every baby present at the bazaar received some votes, but only the highest in each class received prizes.

The total receipts of the bazaar was $43 95.

It is eminently characteristic of Republican ideas that of all the members of that party who have pointed out means of disposing of the surplus not one, so far as is known, has recommended a reduction of taxation that may prevent its piling up again.

RHEUMACIDE CURES RHEUMATISM TO STAY CURED. THE MEDICAL WONDER OF THE Nineteenth Century.

A vegetable remedy that positively cures recent and long standing cases. The greatest blood purifier known. Has the hearty endorsement of leading physicians after thorough trial. Cures 98 per cent. of the cases treated. Price $1 per bottle. Sold by BRYAN & NICHOLS.

FOR HARNESS and Saddle Sores Mexican Mustang Liniment is just what you need. It takes effect at once, and you will be astonished to see how quickly it heals sores.

It's this way:

You can burn yourself with Fire, with Powder, etc., or you can scald yourself with Steam or Hot Water, but there is only one proper way to cure a burn or scald and that is by using

Mexican Mustang Liniment.

It gives immediate relief. Get a piece of soft old linen cloth, saturate it with this liniment and bind loosely upon the wound. You can have no adequate idea what an excellent remedy this is for a burn until you have tried it.

A FOWL TIP. If you have a bird afflicted with Roup or any other poultry disease use Mexican Mustang Liniment. It is called a STANDARD remedy by poultry breeders.

Mrs. White Hurt.

During the past week Capt. C. A. White has been having some repairing done about his residence on Dickinson avenue. A part of the work was taking up the floor of the rear porch. Tuesday night Mrs. White started to go out on the porch, forgetting that the floor had been removed. She fell across the sleepers and broke two ribs. She has suffered greatly from the accident and since been confined to her home. Her many friends hope she may soon recover.

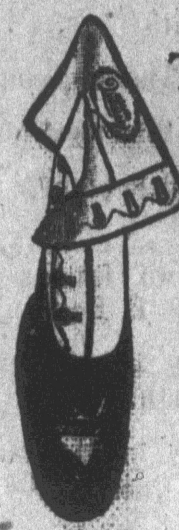

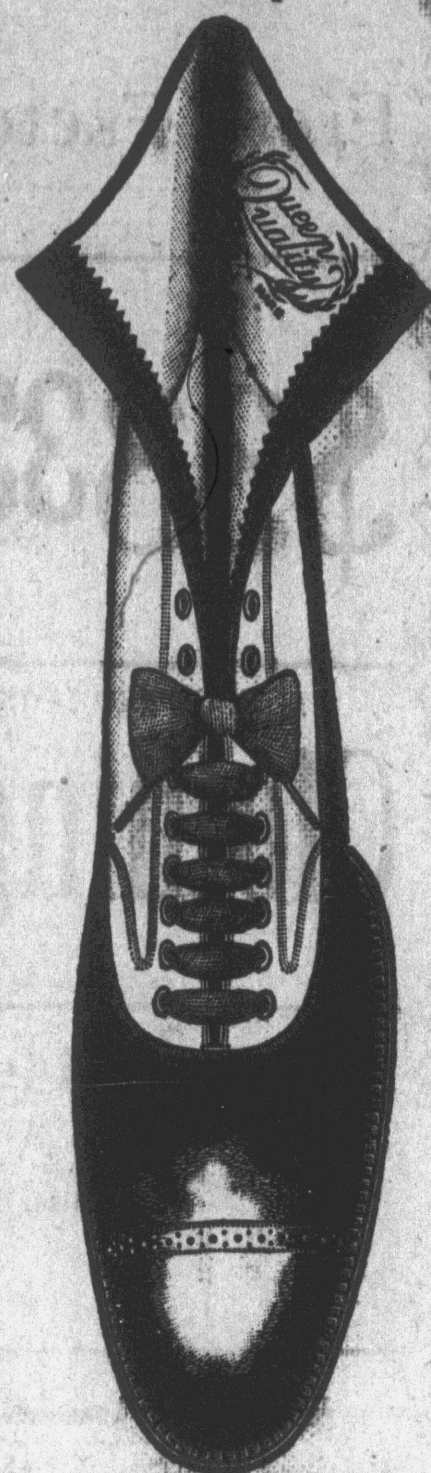

If Shepard is elected Mayor of Greater New York, and the Democrats get the State ticket in the next election, what's the matter this ticket in 1904—Sheppard and Schley—Wilmington Star.

Park Wooten, of Craven, is here. C. H. Gaskins has moved in his new store next to J. R. Harvey & Co.

J. C. Gaskins is erecting a shed to one side of his store.

Paul W. Brooks went to Greenville Wednesday.

F. M. Pittman and C. H. Gaskins went to Kinston Wednesday. The rural free delivery starts in today. W. S. Blount, Frank Mewborn and Robt. Quiverly have a route each.

O. W. Gaskins arrested John Manning, Wednesday night, under suspicion as to the theft of an ox over in Lenoir, near Kinston. The ox was stolen from H. V. Williams and sold to Moore & Hooker, butchers, at Kinston. Manning was held until an answer to a wire to Kinston could be received and was then taken over to Kinston. We have not heard how the case came out, but are sure it must have gone against Manning as Mr. Moore recognized the man as the one he bought a beef from. This is the same man that played so many tricks with the Sheriff of Craven, as he broke jail five different times.

R. C. McCotter has been assigned to the J. C. Griffin distillery as store keeper and gauger.
