THURSDAY AND FRIDAY EVENINGS.

The Herald Square Opera Company Here Two Nights.

The Opera House management received a telegram last night from the manager stating that the above attraction was compelled to open their engagement here on Thursday night, November 14th, and not Friday night, November 15th, as was advertised. So secure your tickets from J. B. White's dry goods store on Thursday morning for "The Village Bride" for Thursday night and Friday morning for "The Circus Girl" for Friday night. Remember the Herald Square Opera Company will appear in the Opera House on Thursday night, November 14th. See what the Wilmington Messenger, of November 10th, says of them:

"The Herald Square Opera Company, composed of first class fun makers and quite a number of chorus girls, gave two performances at the opera house yesterday. In the afternoon they presented the "Village Bride" in a satisfactory manner to a good audience that was more than pleased. The "Circus Girl" was presented last night to a more than good Saturday night house. The company is a good one, embracing many pretty girls, and judging from the applause that greeted them at every turn, we should say that their performance was appreciated to a very great degree."

Great Light For Diamond Shoals.

Washington, Nov. 9.—An experiment of great interest to the lighthouse system of the world is to be made on the Diamond Shoals lightship, off the North Carolina coast, next month, through which the officers of the lighthouse board expect to project a great 13-inch beam of light from the sea to the sky and visible to mariners from 30 to 40 miles. The cluster of white electric lights now shown from the masts of the ship can be seen but 13 miles, and it is proposed that shipping passing Hatteras may be able to pick up the lightship three times this distance by the powerful beams of light playing on the heavens from a searchlight apparatus arranged between the two stationary masthead lights now displayed. The apparatus now being fitted to the Diamond Shoals light vessel will project a powerful light straight toward the sky and the rolling of the ship in the rough waters off Hatteras will play it about wig wag fashion.

Some system of wireless telegraphy will be applied to the Diamond Shoals and Nantucket Shoals lightships.

Should Work Both Ways.

When the price of cotton went to ten cents last year the Republican speakers and papers claimed the credit of it, and many Populists voted for McKimley because they professed to believe that he had raised the price of cotton. That was their excuse in this country.

But now that the price of cotton has gone down to nearly seven cents we do not hear so much said about "McKinley prosperity." If the Republican party claimed and received the credit for the increased price of cotton, surely that party should now be censured for the present low price!

It is a bad rule that does not work both ways.—Chatham Record.

Our $15.00 Suits are so good that we say to you, buy one and you will get the $15.00 back if you don't like the suit.

If we make any sort of mistake, bring the suit back and let us make it right.

Call it our generosity, call it your generosity, call it fairness, call it anything you like.

But do it.

By the way, $15.00 is the place where we can put the most value into our suits. Why?—that's a long story.

The suits tell it.

We do what we say we do.

LAZINESS—A DISEASE.

If Mrs. Demouth President of the Alton Provident Association, succeeds in securing the passage of a law declaring laziness a disease and providing a compulsory cure, she will have solved one of the problems of the ages.

Yet there is some difficulty in determining the course of reasoning that Mrs. Demouth followed in deciding that laziness is a disease. The man who will not work is, according to Genesis, striving to get around a divine injunction which decreed that only by the sweat of the brow should man eat.

Still, the better a man is the harder will he work. The worse he is the more prone he is to live off the sweat of some one else's brow. Of course, the argument may be made that this way of looking at the bread and butter problem is purely a mental point of view.

There will be some trouble in making an affectual division of the three kinds of men who will not work because they cannot find a job to their liking. And, last of all, but probably to Mrs. Demouth's mind the most important class of patients, are those who will not work because the world owes them a living.

Mrs Demuth proposes to cure the diseases of laziness by compulsory labor, preferable in a stone-yard or over a saw buck. This course of treatment is no rest cure and so will probably be considered unfavorably by the afflicted fraternity. Yet as the medicine prescribed by Mrs. Demuth will pay for 50 cents' worth of provisions a day for a married man's family, the end might justify the means.

Always set your face firmly toward health. Say that you are better when people inquire: the very declaration will assist in making you feel so. Persistent good cheer and hopefulness are remedial agents very hard to defeat in the conflict between illness and health.—November Ladies' Home Journal.

In view of the fact that about half a million postal cards are mailed every year in Germany without any address, the authorities recommend that the address should always be written first.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.

Hundreds of government employes, of whom the most distinguished is the President, have returned from the various states where they want to vote and the echoes of Tuesday's elections had not died away when those returning from New York brought news of a conference between Hon. David B. Hill and a delegation from the five burroughs of Greater New York, with John C. Sheehan, at its head. The democrats here say that in the triumph of victory over Richard Croker and Edward Murphy, who was defeated in the mayoralty race in Troy, N. Y., Mr. Hill will be content to let bygones be bygones and forget all the snubs he has received in times past. It is confidently predicted that Mr. Hill will be a factor in the next national Democratic convention.

Commissioner of Pensions Evans has issued his annual report and although it is a well and carefully prepared paper it contains some incontrovertible facts as to the injustice that is being done to the people of the United States by the present pension laws. Commissioner Evans very fearlessly denounces the pension attorneys, of whom the number is twenty thousand, notwithstanding the fact that only the succession of Mr. Roosevelt saved from them his official scalp. He points out that the present law encourages "an army of attorneys, solicitors, and drummers, practically licensed by the government, with the promise of $25 for each claim allowed." And he goes on to say that "No blame or criticism should be attached to the soldiers who are importuned and persuaded that it is their duty to file claims whether disabled or not." Although the Civil War lasted four years and the casualties were frightful and the Spanish war lasted four months and the casualties were comparatively few, three years after the Spanish war twenty per cent of the soldiers engaged have filed claims for pensions, while in 1872, seven years after the close of the civil war, only six percent of the soldiers engaged in that war had done so.

The death of the famous Earl Li Hung Chang is a matter of sincere regret in Washington for, though he was regarded as a very wily politician, it was recognized that he represented the more progressive faction in China and it was believed that his influence could always be counted on to protect treaties and those foreigners who happened to be within the limits of the Empire. The latest news in regard to his death is that his demise was immediately precipitated by a terrible rage into which he flew while in consultation with M. Paul Lessar, the Russian Minister to China. Mr. Rockhill, who was special commissioner to China for the United States, gives it as his opinion that Yuan-Shi-Kai, who has been selected to succeed Earl Li, is the best man that could have been chosen for the position.

At Budapest a man of eighty-eight attempted suicide by jumping from a bridge the other day because he found himself no longer able to maintain his father and mother, aged respectively one hundred and fifteen and one hundred and ten. Police investigation resulted in a corroboration of the old man's story in every particular.

The landscape photographer isn't always liberal with his views. Any doctor will tell you the difference between theory and practice.

ARE YOU DEAF? ANY HEAD NOISES? ALL CASES OF DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable. HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY. F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion. About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely. I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever. I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours, F. A. WERMAN, 730 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Look out for counterfeit money! Spurious coin is known to have been passed in at least two places Saturday. Two strangers appeared in town Saturday morning, claiming to be carpenters and looking for work. One of them, who gave his name as Jas. A. Smith, attempted to pass a counterfeit quarter on Mr. Joshua Byrd. Mr. Byrd notified Chief of Police Rouse, who arrested Smith. He was given a preliminary hearing, but there being no evidence to prove he passed the money knowing it to be counterfeit, the charge was dismissed. Later it was learned that he had a partner and Policeman Rouse went in search of the pair. He found them at the A. & N. C. depot. Smith seeing the officer, scooted behind a box and made off, leaving his satchel on the depot platform. His companion was arrested and gave his name as Samuel Caswell. He was lodged in jail until this morning, when he was given a preliminary hearing. While it was considered almost a certainty that these men were guilty, the evidence was not sufficient to hold either and they were turned loose.—Kinston Free Press.

Lonely Homes

A home is never complete without children. Yet many homes are childless. Many wives are desolate for the lack of a child to love. Their lives are aimless—void of the high motives of motherhood. While barrenness is causing incalculable sadness and sorrow, it exists in most cases on account of some little female trouble, which Wine of Cardui would speedily set right. This pure Wine regulates the disordered female organs by building up the worn out nerves and regulating the menstrual flow. It restores the fallen womb to its proper place. By strengthening the generative organs, it makes pregnancy possible where barrenness exists. You can depend on

WINE OF CARDUI

Suffering women all over the land have been depending on it for seventy-five years. No more convincing proof can be given than the testimony of Mrs. Benson, who is only one of thousands of women to whom Wine of Cardui has brought a permanent cure. Many cases of miscarriage—those which rob mothers of their hopes—have been avoided by timely use of the Wine. You are asked to try Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, its companion medicine. Nine out of ten cases of female trouble, barrenness included, yield to them. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

Vandervoort, Ark., April 2, 1900.
Last May I had a miscarriage, which was followed by flooding. I read your Almanac and my husband got me a bottle of Wine of Cardui and it stopped my flooding and restored my fallen womb to its place. Now I am cured after taking three bottles and have another to take which I got this morning. I am expecting to become a mother and Wine of Cardui will be my doctor.

Cut Out The Ball.

About two years ago Mr. B. E. Parham was accidentally shot by Mr. G. J. Woodward, the ball, as was supposed at the time, lodging under the skin near the temple. Recently the ball has been giving Mr. Parham some trouble, and he decided Monday to have it cut out. Instead of being just under the skin the ball was partially imbedded in the skull and required considerable probing to dislodge it.

Have a Home of Your Own.

They are a wise young man and woman who start out in their married life in a home of their own in some place where they will have green grass about their house even if it is only a few feet. It makes no difference how humble or how modest the house may be. The smallest box of a house with a plot of green is a temple of common-sense compared to the finest "flat" or "boarding house" in the city. If there is anything appropriate in this life it is that young people should live somewhere where each day they can see their own unfolding lives reflected in the unfolding workings of Nature. There is no beginning, in the home sense, to a young married life so true, so wise, so lasting and so satisfactory as that. No life in a city is comparable with that which is lived in a small house with green things growing over and around it, where God's pure sunshine bathes and sweetens every side of the house during the day, and where the surest life-giving odors that God gives to His children, the odors of soil and growing things, are blown into the house while we sleep.—Edward Bok, in the November Ladies' Home Journal.
