EPISCOPAL CONVOCATION.

In Session With St. Paul's Church.

The Convocation for the District of Edenton met today with St. Paul's Episcopal church, in Greenville, and continues through Sunday.

There was morning prayer at 10:45 with introductory sermon by Rev. L. L. Williams, of Elizabeth City.

A business session was held at 3 p. m., and there will be evening prayer with sermon at 7:30. Sermon Saturday at 10:45 a. m.

Those who have so far arrived to attend the Convocation are Rt. Rev. A. A. Watson and Mrs. Watson, of Wilmington; Rev. N. Harding and Mrs. Harding, of Washington; Rev. L. L. Williams, of Elizabeth City; Rev. N. C. Hughes, of Chocowinity; Rev. J. H. Griffith, of Kinston; Rev. Henry Wingate, of Plymouth; Rev. Dr. Drane, of Edenton.

Favors the Rod.

It is healthful, at times, to get within sound of a strong man's voice, and to hear good, old-fashioned ideas stated without apology.

Such a man is Mr. F. L. Soldan, superintendent of the public schools of St. Louis. He is in favor of making the teacher the centre of authority, and initiating the pupils into the first principles of obedience thereto. He holds the interference of parents with crank ideas as out of the question. The school room contains a large family. It is just as necessary that these children should be instructed in submission to rule as that they should move forward daily in arithmetic or grammar. The most powerful agent of authority is the rod, all the more needed in controlling some children because of the absence of it at home. The pampered child grows up into the rebellious citizen, and it is only a question of time as to when the penalty will have to be administered. Well laid on in youth it might displace disgraceful punishment in maturity. "Freak punishment," says the superintendent, "should never be allowed in the schools. A good, old-fashioned whopping such as obtained in the times of our fathers is the thing when severe punishment is needed. We still use it in the St. Louis schools. I believe in suasion to a certain extent, but there are times when it falls flat. Then the switch is mightier than the tongue. The expulsion of pupils from public schools for any cause is a thing I heartily disapprove. A change of schools would be much better. It is the disobedient and unruly pupil who stands in need of the school, and educators have no right to shirk their debt to the public."

There is no doubt but that plain hard sense accomplishes more good than all the coddling of human passion that can come from dreamers and impracticables.—Atlanta Constitution.

Marion Butler is one of a company, organized for the manufacture and sale of liquified air. A fellow that has been frozen out as hard as Marion has ought to know something about the freeze business.—Wilmington Star.

Our $15.00 Suits are so good that we say to you, buy one and you will get the $15.00 back if you don't like the suit.

If we make any sort of mistake, bring the suit back and let us make it right.

Call it our generosity, call it your generosity, call it fairness, call it anything you like.

But do it.

By the way, $15.00 is the place where we can put the most value into our suits. Why?—that's a long story.

The suits tell it.

We do what we say we do.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1901.

The Sheriffs of twelve counties in the State have not made full settlement of taxes for 1900, and the State Treasurer is talking of entering suit against them. The Sheriff of Ashe county has paid nothing at all.

Labor and Industrial organizations throughout the country are moving to have a new Cabinet position made, to be called the Department of Commerce, the President to appoint a head for the department along with the other members of the Cabinet. The commercial interests of the country are of sufficient importance to have an official representative in the councils of the Government.

An Egg Trust.

Chicago, November 13—Local packers are planning to corner the egg markets and have five hundred thousand cases in cold storage. The combination expects to have the market completely under control before the middle of January.

[Christmas will be over by then and nobody cares if they do make a corner. And while the trust is holding their stale eggs maybe the hens can be persuaded to lay some new ones.]

There is by far too much criticism of men and their policies and actions. It is the easiest thing in the world to criticise. Some one said, perhaps it was Sam Jones, that any fool can criticise other people. It matters very little who said it—it is a very strong truth. So many people with little or no knowledge of the person of whom they speak hurl scathing criticism as mercilessly against good and worthy people as they would against a vile criminal. The habit of criticising right and left any and everybody and everything not in accord with one's own views or wishes, is very deplorable in any one. It is harmful many a time when the person who passes the criticism scarcely knows he has done it. It detracts from the person who is criticised whether it be a person in private or public life. To criticise a private person weakens his influence, and to criticise a man in public diminishes the dignity attached to such position. Of course no person, private or public, should be considered above deserved criticism, but too free criticism is to be condemned and ought to be discouraged.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

The Best Prescription for Malaria Chills and Fever is a bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure, no pay. Price 60c.

SEVEN TIMES THREATENED.

Seven different attempts were made to assassinate Queen Victoria. The first was on the 16th of June, 1840, about 6 p. m., when she was taking a pleasure drive with the prince consort through London. The last was in March, 1882, on the way from Windsor station to the castle. None of the shots took effect upon her person. In only one instance was her vehicle hit. The queen always kept perfectly cool when fired upon, and generally insisted upon driving again the next day, to show her courage and bravery.

"The first time she was fired at, the assassin stood within 6 yards of the phaeton—so near, in fact, that the queen, who was looking another way, neither saw him nor comprehended for a moment the cause of the loud noise ringing in her ears," says Sarah Tyler in her biography of the queen. "But Prince Albert had seen the man hold something toward them, and was aware of what had occurred. He called to the postillions to drive on, while he caught the queen's hands and asked if the fright had not shaken her, but the brave royal heart only made light of his alarm. The next instant the fellow pointed the second pistol and fired once more. Both the queen and prince saw the aim, as well as heard the shot on this occasion, and she stooped, he pulling her down that the ball might pass over her head. In another moment the man was seized by a bystander. The prince and queen went on to the duchess of Kent that they might be the first to tell her what had happened and assure her of the safety of her daughter. A little later, in order to show the people that the queen had not lost her confidence in them, the couple carried out their original intention of taking a drive in Hyde park. There they were received with a perfect ovation, a crowd of nobility and gentry in carriages and on horseback forming a volunteer escort on the way back to Buckingham palace, where another multitude awaited them, vehemently cheering, as the queen, pale, but smiling and bowing, re-entered her palace.—New York Mail and Express

A Notable Case of Purging the Church Rolls.

The third Sunday in October was a memorable Day in one church in the State. Its pastor read from the pulpit the names of seventy of his members who had been shut out. It took several months to investigate the several cases. The task was all in all a great one. The work was done justly and courageously. Many, if not most of the parties, were unwilling to complain at the findings. Some were upon careful inquiry, found to be in the church without a change of heart and their names were transferred to the unregenerated roll. Some were suspended definitely and some indefinitely. The offences were non-church going, profanity and various others. This is a notable case of the administration of discipline and church purging. It is an example it would be well for every church in the State to follow. There are too many worldlings or too few Christians in the churches. This is one of the great reasons for the wide spread coldness and lack of growth that good men lament everywhere. One of the reasons so many men of the world are in the church is found, perhaps, in the rush of protracted meetings and general lack of Bible study that has abounded throughout the country.—Rev. P. E. Law, in Lumberton Robesonian.

FOR HARNESS and Saddle Sores Mexican Mustang Liniment is just what you need. It takes effect at once, and you will be astonished to see how quickly it heals sores.

It's this way:

You can burn yourself with Fire, with Powder, etc., or you can scald yourself with Steam or Hot Water, but there is only one proper way to cure a burn or scald and that is by using Mexican Mustang Liniment.

It gives immediate relief. Get a piece of soft old linen cloth, saturate it with this liniment and bind loosely upon the wound. You can have no adequate idea what an excellent remedy this is for a burn until you have tried it.

A FOWL TIP. If you have a bird afflicted with Roup or any other poultry disease use Mexican Mustang Liniment. It is called a STANDARD remedy by poultry breeders.

Good Land.

ORMONDSVILLE, N. C., Nov. 13.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

We will, with your permission, speak in behalf of our section. At or about eight o'clock p. m., Nov. 11, Mr. W. H. Heath sold 98 acres of land to W. A. Darden for the handsome sum of $3,000. We claim to live in the best section of the State, proof of which is the value of our real estate. Town fever has not quite got us yet.

SCRIBE.

For the last two years members of the Baptist church of Saco, Me., have been annoyed by a sound in the church building. While it was not especially troublesome, it was annoying from the fact that it was constant and could not be located. The sexton hunted everywhere for it, but without success until the latter part of last week. In making a more thorough search than usual he found tucked away in a gable end a swarm of bees and about 50 pounds of honey.

A Worthy Cause.

We all love to honor him who was the first great advocate of the orphan cause in North Carolina and one who, for so many years, gave his heart and life in its behalf. We cannot better perpetuate his name than by cherishing that cause for which he lived. The orphans of the State have increased in number within the past few years and each one is trying to receive more children than in the preceding year. Can we better show our gratitude to God for His many mercies to us than by a liberal donation to these, His little ones, on Thanksgiving Day?

The Baptist University.

Dr. R. T. Vann, President of the Baptist University, Raleigh, arrived in Greenville Thursday evening and spoke in the Baptist church at night. He said he was going to speak and preach, too, and he did both in a manner that delighted his hearers. Dr. Vann is a charming speaker at any time on any subject, but he was never more eloquent than in this appeal for the University, for Christian education, "to give the girls a chance," as he put it. Subscriptions were taken to aid the institution, and he spent today working for the University. We are glad to know he has met with most hearty encouragement from the people of Greenville.
