STATE NEWS.

Happenings In North Carolina.

A recent census of High Point gives the town 5,465 population. This is a gain of 1,200 over the census taken by the government a year ago.

E. L. Powell, the manager of a branch brokerage business at Wilson for Murphy & Co., of New York, has absconded, leaving his accounts short $40,000. He left a note saying he was going to commit suicide, but that is believed to be a blind. Some Wilson people lost heavily by him.

A negro woman sent to the penitentiary for burglary committed in the disguise of man's clothing and who some time ago escaped in the same disguise, was captured Monday night in Raleigh, having been discovered in the person of a cook for a prominent family there. There was a row in the kitchen before she was subdued and captured.

Indianapolis is frightened at the increase of crime among her boys during the past few years. During 1899 eighty-nine boys were arrested by the police. During eleven months of this year 235 boys have been arrested. Of this number 140 were charged with crimes which would send adults to the penitentiary.

When young lovers make up their minds to get married the old folks may as well surrender, for there will be an elopement or something else. In Maine the other day Joseph Felton, aged 86, and Miss Caroline Griscom, aged 82, quietly slipped off and got married without saying a word to the old folks about it.

It is said that the Senators in Washington are somewhat perplexed as to how they will place Senator McLaurin, of South Carolina, as they are not sure whether he is a Democrat or a Republican. Nothing strange in that, for he doesn't know himself. He calls himself a Democrat and performs like a Republican.—Wilmington Star.

All Times and Places.

A leading retail clothier in New York tells why "the most successful advertisers the world over pin themselves to the newspaper as being the best method." The chief reasons are that "the newspaper goes into the homes at all times, in all weather; travelers read it, and so do stay-at-home; all other kinds of advertising are lost to those who are confined to the house, but these read their newspaper, and their influence is strong. The certainty of its being read by the general public is the great advantage of the newspaper advertisement."—Philadelphia Record.

The dignity of labor is not always represented by the man who digs.

"Well I'll be hanged!" exclaimed the stocking when told that Christmas was only two weeks off.

The vain turkey is already thinking of how he will be dressed for Christmas.

No, Mande, dear; army officers do not use field glasses to drink from.

Our $15.00 Suits are so good that we say to you, buy one and you will get the $15.00 back if you don't like the suit.

If we make any sort of mistake, bring the suit back and let us make it right.

Call it our generosity, call it your generosity, call it fairness, call it anything you like.

But do it.

By the way, $15.00 is the place where we can put the most value into our suits. Why?—that's a long story.

The suits tell it.

We do what we say we do.

The King Clothier.

A Quiet Christmas in Prospect.

There will be no fireworks in Charlotte the coming Christmas. The no-fire-works ordinance was enforced for the first time last year, and the relief from the ear-piercing and nerve-destroying noises of the previous celebrations was something to be remembered. The enforcement of the ordinance was brought about by the introduction of the dynamite crackers, and after the city had to pay an expensive bill for shattered plate glass. The ordinance stands, and unless a special meeting of the board of aldermen is called to suspend it, which is very improbable, there will be no cracker-popping in Charlotte on the 25th.—Charlotte Observer.

All towns in the State might very profitably follow the example Charlotte has set as regards to fire works. It is a wonder many towns where dangerous fireworks are permitted do not have bills to pay for damages caused by them.

Merchants here say that people in cities and towns in the considerable area in North Carolina and South Carolina where there are such deplorably short crops do not realize the conditions existing among a very considerable number of the people in the rural districts. Every day now there are appeals for aid. After the holidays these appeals will be even more urgent. An attorney here says he saw a letter today from a New York firm which does a million dollar business, largely in, the most affected district in South Carolina; saying it would lose a great sum there. The situation in South Carolina is declared to be even worse than in this State, bad as affairs are in some 30 counties here. The farmers have a heavy bill for fertilizers to pay, no less than six millions of dollars, and this is an added strain. A great number of them simply cannot pay.—Raleigh Correspondent.

The Greenville REFLECTOR is now twenty years old and Editor Whichard yesterday reviewed the growth and progress of his excellent paper. It began in 1882 in a small wooden building. It is now published in a handsome, two story brick building, the property of Mr. Whichard. His success has been due to well directed industry, capacity and to publishing an honest journal. Long may the REFLECTOR live that the people may gain light from its columns.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The Greenville REFLECTOR has entered its 21st year. The Southern heartily congratulates it upon its lusty adolescence. It is an excellent paper.—Tarboro Southern.

The Old Man's Christmas Letter.

"Marse William, I done thought ter write you a letter wishin' you a Merry Christmas, en many returns er de day, en I ain't got no overcoat, en de one you been a wearin' so long'll des fit me, en I ain't got nuttin' ter keep de col' out, en 'bout two gallons—same ez you takes—will do me, ef you ain't done dranked it all up, en ef you don't want dem ol' boots what you seen de snakes in, dey'll des fit me comfortable, en some er yo' standin' collars'll gimme courage ter preach, w'ich I long had a call ter, en any yuther good t'ings what you don't want'll he'p de ol' man out won'erful, en not havin' no mo' ter say at dis time I will come ter a close, en you kin des put it down dat nobody ain't never needed cloze wuss'n what I does, en tell Miss Fanny de ol' man ain't fergot her, en she kin sen' any en all what she kin think of, ef you please, suh!"—F. L. Stanton in Atlanta Constitution.

A young man at York, Pennsylvania, is alive and in fair way to full recovery after a bullet passed completely through his brain. His case is unusual, but not unique. Many years ago a New England blaster had a crowbar driven full length through his head and survived. The eagerness of the Boston surgeons to obtain his skull for a surgical museum troubled him so that he went to California (then very remote) and became a stage driver. His exile, however, did not profit him. A Boston surgeon traced him and kept informed as to his condition, and when he died his skull was brought East. It may now be seen among the ghastly treasures of the museum. It is to be hoped that the York young man does not have the same prejudice against having his skull repose on a shelf after he shall be done with it. There is little doubt that some surgeon will consider it a sufficiently rare and interesting specimen to be kept in sight.—Philadelphia Record.

The Germans do some things pretty well. The Government has instructed to hygienic associations in Berlin to open offices in which instructions in hygienic and sanitary matters will be given free. Competent doctors will be employed to deliver lectures, give instructions and answer questions as to the best ways of preserving health, the best food to be eaten the best clothing; different seasons, and numerous other things in which people interested. The idea is to teach people how to take care of themselves, of their health and of their family.—Wilmington Star.

One of my children, says a writer in Good Works, was reading to me in her English history how the Mayor killed Wat Tyler. "I suppose it kicked him," she remarked. I explained that the Mayor was a man. "Oh," she said, "I thought a mare was an old gray horse. My mother told me that the word 'sundry,' which she heard in church in the exhortation, puzzled her much till she decided in her own mind it referred to the hot, arid land of Palestine where the Bible was written—a sun dry place.

A. I. Britt, the keeper of Robeson county's chaingang, was accidentally killed Monday afternoon, near Red Springs. Mr. Britt was standing with his back to the fire resting on his gun and the fire heated the gun, causing it to discharge. The shot took effect in the back and ranged upward. He lived four hours after the accident.

ON A WHEEL the rider frequently meets with disaster. A very handy and efficient doctor to have with you when an accident happens is a bottle of Mexican Mustang Liniment.

Ulcers or Running Sores need not become a fixture upon your body. If they do it is your fault, for will thoroughly, quickly and permanently cure these afflictions. There is no guess work about it; if this liniment is used a cure will follow.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT

YOU DON'T KNOW how quickly a burn or scald can be cured until you have treated it with Mexican Mustang Liniment. As a flesh healer it stands at the very top.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Those Who are Passing This Way.

Ex Judge M. L. Eure, of Gates, is in town.

Mation Tucker returned to Norfolk today.

B. W. Moseley went to Bethel this morning.

A. M. Perry went to Rocky Mount today.

W. F. Harding went to Kinston Thursday evening.

J. E. Green returned to Winterville Thursday evening.

J. S. Jenkins and little daughter, of Scotland Neck, came in Thursday evening and returned this morning.

The last Legislature in redistricting the State, made the Seventh district entirely new without a Congressman. There are nine counties in the district and six of these already have candidates in the field for the nomination next year.—Raleigh Times.

While Mr. J. K. Carter was counting out money just received for tobacco he had sold in the Eagle Warehouse today, a man unknown to him snatched $20 of it and ran and at last accounts had not been caught, although the officers of the law are hot on his trail.—Kinston Free Press.

Married.

Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the home of Mr. J. L. Cherry, about five miles from Greenville, his daughter, Miss Mamie, and Mr. Tobe Hardee were married by Elder James Corbitt. Immediately after the ceremony they left for the home of the groom where the wedding supper was served and a reception held. A large number of friends attended both the marriage and reception.

Opera House.

The Goodwin Young Stock Company had a large audience in the opera house Thursday night and the play was very enjoyable, pronounced among the best that has been here. Tonight they will present "Quo Vadis." This is a thrilling story of the dawn of Christianity and the collapse of Paganism, and has been well received wherever presented.

There will be a matinee Saturday afternoon.

Looking Bright for Skinner.

Republicans at Greensboro are said to believe that it is on the cards that Col. Harry Skinner is to be District Attorney in place of Claude M. Bernard, Esq., present incumbent. A story comes from Greenville that Col. Skinner returned from Washington with a broad smile upon his face, and confident of getting the plum. From Washington comes news of the same character. Is there anything in all this?—Raleigh News & Observer.

In Line With Instruction.

A commercial traveller well known in the cycle trade on both sides of the Atlantic adds this to the collection of jokes on newly made happy fathers:

"The hero is the manufacturer of the wheel which the narrator sells. Being compelled to go away on a business trip about the time an interesting domestic event was expected, he left orders for the nurse to wire him the results according to the following formula:

If a boy: "Gentleman's safety arrived."

If a girl: "Lady's safety arrived."

"The father's state of mind may be imagined when, a few days later, he received a telegram containing the one word "Tandem."—Rocky Mountain News.
