

1902 Happy Greeting.

To my friends and customers of Pitt and adjoining counties. Wishing each and every one a happy and prosperous

New Year.

Thanking each one for their patronage and kindness and ask a continuance of the same.

We wish to Say

We are still knocking out high prices. Our motto always will be Down with high prices.

W. T. LEE & CO.

IS THE CASH WHAT YOU ARE LOOKING FOR?

Then you want the attention of the people who have cash to spend. They are the people who read and you can attract their attention and their cash in no better way than by putting your advertisement in this paper.

THE REFLECTOR

Advertising

in THE REFLECTOR will bring you success. Don't lag behind in the race, but let the people know what you are here for.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what you have to sell and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people. The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part.

The Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt county, having issued Letters of Administration to me, the undersigned, on the 1st day of January, 1902, on the estate of Charlotte E. Mangum, deceased Notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the Estate to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and to all creditors of said Estate to present their claims, properly authenticated, to the undersigned, within Twelve Months after the date of this Notice, or this Notice will be plead in the bar of their recovery. Exposure to Wet, dampness and cold, invariably results in a sudden chill, which if not attended to immediately will cause a cold. By mixing a teaspoonful of Perry Davis' Painkiller in half a glass of warm water or milk, the whole system will be heated and the danger of a cold avoided. A substitute, there is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis', price 25c and 50c.

THE STAY ONS.

Quite a Good String of Them.

THE REFLECTOR has given a list of changes among the clerks in town, and today took another trip around the stores to note those staying on in their old places, and let our readers know, as "Bo" Cherry says, "that the stand-bys are yet in the land of the living, doing business at the old stand."

We found this string of them, all apparently contented and happy in their old places:

C. E. Rountree with E. E. Griffin.
A. S. Moore and O. E. Warren with I. Seligson.

J. M. Reuss and Jesse Smith with E. H. Shelburn.

J. J. Harrington and W. J. Teel with W. S. Fleming.

Miss Emmie Smith with Ricks & Wilkinson.

Hassell Daniel with J. S. Smith.
R. D. Cherry, E. G. Barrett, W. H. Ricks, H. A. Sutton, Misses Ada Wooten and Lena Harriss with C. T. Munford.

Harvey Jones with J. L. Wooten.
Miss Loraine Horne with W. B. Brown.

L. H. Rountree with A. E. Tucker & Co.

J. L. Hearne and K. T. Whitehurst with C. S. Forbes.

B. H. Hearne with Laughing-house & Son.

Ernest Baker with J. H. Starkey.

E. A. Ormond and W. W. Jackson with Sam White.

Mrs. M. T. Cowell and Miss Olive Daniel with H. C. Hooker.

M. Cherry, Z. P. Vandyke and Miss Addie Taft with A. H. Taft & Co.

No changes have taken place at the banks, the same force continuing at both, and the entire REFLECTOR family is just like it was.

A Deal of Wisdom Here.

It is announced that a Southern furniture exhibition will be made at High Point next Spring. No doubt it will be a most creditable affair, if held. A full presentation of the beautiful work turned out by furniture manufacturers of the South would be a revelation to to many people living in the South, who buy their furniture after it has been shipped North and re-shipped South and are unaware that the work was done in this or some other Southern State. We hope the exhibition will be held. The people of the South need to become better informed of the resources of their section in this, as well as other lines.—Twin City Sentinel.

DISSOLUTION.

The firm of W. R. Whichard Bro. doing business at Whichard, N. C., was this day dissolved by mutual consent, D. E. Whichard withdrawing from the firm. The business will be continued by W. R. Whichard, who will settle all indebtedness of the firm and to whom all persons owing the firm are requested to make immediate payment. This Jan. 2nd 1902.

W. R. WHICHARD,
D. E. WHICHARD.

Christmas

Neckwear.

Our Furnishing Department

Is fairly abloom with bright, handsome Christmas Neckwear the prettiest creations that the combined efforts of the weaver and silk worm ever produced. Every shape, too, that fashion allows. There is scarcely a man, young or old, who will not receive a Christmas Tie from his wife, sister, or best girl, and we believe that if every lady who buys a Christmas Tie would look here first, that we would sell every Christmas Tie sold in Greenville.

FRANK WILSON,

THE KING CLOTHIER.

Book Club.

Mrs. Mark Quinerly celebrated the closing afternoon of the first year of the new century with a reception to the Fin de Ceicle Book Club of Greenville. The entertainment was interesting from start to finish, with some unique and pleasing features, to carry the meeting in remembrance through the coming year—the hostess presenting each guest with a beautiful calendar of 1902. Among the literary features were poems, original and selected, several of unusual merit; noticeably so a local epic containing the names of each member running over with fun and pathos, composed by Mrs. Mattie Moye King.

The thanks of the club are tendered Mrs. Quinerly for a charming evening with the best of wishes for new year.

CONDENSED STORIES.

Coolness and Common Sense of the Late Ameer.

The late ameer of Afghanistan once received his European dentist in open court and asked him there and then to look at his teeth. There was one old stump which was giving him much pain, and the dentist suggested to the ameer that he should take "laughing gas" and have it out. The ameer asked what the effect of the gas would be and, being told, said, "I cannot risk being a dead man for five seconds, much less five minutes." So, with the whole Afghan court looking on and a regiment of the escort as well, the dentist had to struggle with the difficult stump while the ameer sat, never moving a muscle. The ameer was a man of strong common sense, and this most valuable quality once saved a war between England and Russia. When, after the Pendjeh incident, the ameer went over the border of his country into India to meet the viceroy, there was a moment when peace and war hung on a man's word. The viceroy told the ameer that the Russians had taken Afghan territory, that England had guaranteed him against such aggression and that England was prepared to fulfill its pledge. The ameer sat in the tent and pulled his beard and then asked for a map of Afghanistan. When one was brought, he asked that the territory seized should be pointed out to him. He traced with his finger the tiny fringe that had been taken and then swept his hand over the great space that represented the rest of his kingdom. "It is so little," he said at last, "that it is not worth making a great war about it."

Anecdotes About Dorothy Drew. Many interesting stories are told of little Dorothy Drew, the favorite granddaughter of Gladstone. Quite a host of notabilities have entered their names on Dorothy's list of friends. She coaxed an amazing autograph out of Li Hung Chang and has met Rudyard Kipling in one of his happiest moods. They had been in the grounds together when Mrs. Drew appeared. "Now, Dorothy, I hope you have not been wearying Mr. Kipling," said her mother, and Dorothy, the soul of frankness and honor, replied: "Oh, not a bit, mother. But he has been wearying me." When no other power on earth could tempt Gladstone from his books, Dorothy never pleaded in vain. He must have talked to her a great deal of Armenia, for Dorothy asked just after his death, "Do you think the Turks will be sorry grandpa is dead?" and to have added sadly, "I know the Armenians will."

Mexican Mustang Liniment

A toad under a harrow suffers no more than the faithful horse that is tortured with Spavins, Swinney, Harness Sores, Sprains, etc. Most horse owners know this and apply the kind of sympathy that heals, known far and wide as Mexican Mustang Liniment.

Never fails—not even in the most aggravated cases. Cures caked udder in cows quicker than any known remedy. Hardly a disease peculiar to muscle, skin or joints that cannot be cured by it.

Mexican Mustang Liniment is the best remedy on the market for Wind Galls, Sprains and Skin Lumps. It keeps horses and mules in condition.

A MEAN LOOKING LETTER-HEAD

Has lost many a dollar for business men. If a man is judged by the coat he wears, he is also judged by the letter-head he uses. An artistic, nicely printed letter head may be looked on as a good investment.

It will be done right.
The price for doing it will be right, too.

The Murderer's Claim.

Before a North Carolina sheriff pulled the lever the other day Cicero Harriis told the audience that he was not afraid; that he knew Heaven was his home. The murderers go right ahead claiming to have night keys to eternal glory.—Washington Post.

Married.

Early new year morning in Washington Miss Mamie Baynor, of that town, was married to Dr. Ira Hardy, of Richmond. The couple left on the morning train for a trip north and will later make their home in Washington. The marriage was somewhat of a surprise, not even their most intimate friends being advised of it until the evening before.

After-Holiday Advertising.

An increasing number of business men have discovered that it is as important to advertise after as during the holiday trade season. Indeed, there are some who maintain that there should be more attention to advertising after the great rush. This year especially the prosperity is so general and so positive that the holiday purchases did not exhaust the buying power of the people.—Philadelphia Record.

Notice to Merchants.

Under Section 77 of the Revenue Law of 1901 all merchants and other dealers in merchandise are required to file with the Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners within ten days after the first day of January a sworn statement of the amount of their gross sales for the previous twelve months or any part of said time prior thereto. Every merchant or dealer failing to render such list is subject to indictment. T. R. MOORE, Clerk of Board of Commissioners of Pitt county.
