Mrs. Tom McLawhorn, of Grifton, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. L. House, since Monday, left for her home last Thursday.

W. B. Ricks and family, of Greenville, arrived Wednesday and now occupy their new residence on Church street.

C. D. Hooks while on his way to Goldsboro, one day last week, had his horse, a valuable one, to die by the way.

Hugh Lassiter, of Lizzie, was here a short while yesterday.

B. W. Moseley, of Greenville, was on our cotton market yesterday. He purchased some 70 bales at from 8 to 8 1/2.

Miss Effie Kittrell is visiting Miss Tessie Speight in the country.

That was a nice gathering of young people at the home of Mrs. J. D. Cox, Thursday evening. The occasion was pleasantly spent and wound up with a regular old fashion candy stew. My! they said it was ALL nice.

W. J. Wyatt and family left for Raleigh Thursday morning, where they will make their home in the future. They have many relatives and friends here who were loathe to part with them and sincerely wish them the best of success in their new home.

The young gentleman of the Vance Literary Society will give a public debate on Friday evening, 21st inst. The query is, "Resolved that the signs of the times indicate the overthrow of the Government." This will prove a treat to those who attend. The public are cordially invited.

A. G. Cox didn't go to Raleigh. We're a little "hatchet boy," hence the correction.

Mr. Pridgen, of Lizzie, was here yesterday on business.

Snow Delays Trains.

The passenger train had much difficulty in plowing along through the snow this morning. More than half an hour was lost between Kingston and Greenville, and several efforts to move were made before it could get out of the depot here. It reached Weldon an hour late.

The Best Prescription for Malaria Chills and Fever is a bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure, no pay. Price 50c.

AT THE CLUB.

On the street, at social gatherings, anywhere, where ever a number of good dressers are gathered and the clothes question is the topic of conversation, you will learn, if you lend an attentive ear, that we are quoted as being the store that always has snappy toggery for the up-to-the-hour man. The store that he looks to for new things; the store to which he first turns for a new cut in a suit, a new shape in a hat or tie. In short, the store where the good dresser always finds the thing he wants without paying an extra price for style. If you are interested in Clothing and Haberdashery with character, come in.

SATURDAY FEBRUARY 15, 1902.

The University of Nebraska has invited Book T. Washington as commencement day orator at the commencement next June. A number of the senior class students have announced their opposition to the selection of a negro for orator.

Governor Taft says that high salaries are a necessity in the Philippines. The investigation brought out the facts that he lives in a palace, that his servant hire is $3,000 a year, and that he has 14 horses in his stables. Imperialism naturally involves imperialistic methods.

C. A. Snow & Co., of Washington, D. C., patent lawyers and mechanical experts, report that there are more than ten thousand rejected applications for patents in the United States Patent Office, and that by proper amendment and prosecution many of them can still be patented.

Any other member of the ground hog committee having a dissenting opinion from that expressed by the chairman, is advised that the same had better be withheld for the present. This big snow is further evidence that the chairman and Col. Ground Hog are agreed that he saw his shadow on the 2nd.

On Thursday the lower house of Congress adopted a resolution for an amendment to the constitution of the United States for the election of Senators by direct popular vote. This is the fourth time the House has adopted a similar resolution. Getting the Senate to pass a similar resolution is where the hitch may come in, but such a change ought to be made.

When Admiral Schley returned from his recent triumphal tour of the South he found that he was the possessor of a new piano, with a receipted bill for $1,000 in payment therefor. The persons from whom the piano was bought absolutely refuse to name the donor and efforts to find the identity of the unknown admirer have been unavailing.

There is a room for the blind in the Congressional Library at Washington, where there are not only books printed in raised type for "finger reading," but where there are regular readers who take turns in reading to those who cannot see. On certain days in the week musicales are held for those whose loss of sight renders them most appreciative of good music.

A California judge has decided that the vagrancy law is unconstitutional as it denies to a certain class the "pursuit of happiness." If its provisions were logically carried out, says the judge, it would be possible to place under arrest the millionaire taking a pleasure trip in his private car. The brotherhood of the road who dwell in "Vagabondia" have now a legal as well as a poetic defender.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 14.

No important legislation has been enacted in the Senate since the date of my last letter, although the resolution changing the date of the inauguration from the 4th of March to the last Thursday in April was adopted by the necessary two-thirds vote and the Committee on Judiciary has reported a bill providing for the protection of the President and those in the line of succession from attacks by anarchists and others, a novel feature of which is the commission to the Secretary of War of the safety of the Chief Executive and the authorization of that official to assign a guard composed of members of the regular army to carry out the provision. The Secretary is empowered to prescribe a suitable costume or uniform and make such rules governing the guard as may be deemed appropriate.

The House of Representatives has devoted itself to the consideration of the oleomargarine bill to the exclusion of all other business and the debate has been spirited and at times amusing. Only the manifestly prejudiced decisions of the chair prevented the bill from being amended out of existence.

Referring to the Hill bill, which was recently introduced in the House and referred to the committee on Banking and Currency, Mr. Cochran, of Missouri said today: "The bill provides for the coining of all the seigniorage in the Treasury discretionary power to coin silver dollars into subsidiary coin and makes silver dollars exchangeable for gold at the Treasury, just as greenbacks are now exchangeable for gold.

"In my judgment it is a travesty on reason and common sense. If the silver dollar is to become a mere token like the greenback a sight draft on the Treasury gold reserve—why continue it in existence? If our Treasury is to adopt this policy why not fabricate demands upon the gold reserve of paper at a cost of a small fraction of 1 per cent instead of making a token out of silver at a cost of 50 cents? What a grotesque proposition it is! What a commentary upon the statesmanship that has in hand the reduction of our financial system to order!

"And even a greater absurdity would be the enactment of this law without changing the banking law so as to require the banks to keep their reserves in gold. To allow the banks to keep their reserves in silver would be to subject all to the gold standard except the banks. No such change is likely. Nobody knows better than the great bankers that there is not gold enough in the world to carry the great volume of credits in existence. The mere mention of a law requiring the bankers to keep their reserves

Rev. J. B. Morton came down Friday evening from Tarboro to hold services in the Presbyterian church Sunday.

BIG SNOW STORM.

Twelve inches on a level—Largest in Twenty-Five years.

About 1 o'clock this morning the first snow storm of the winter set in. Early risers found the ground covered to a depth of several inches, with the flakes continuing to come down thick and fast. All the morning it kept falling, but at this writing, noon, looks like it is about to stop. The wind was brisk from the north, driving the snow fiercely and making it disagreeable to be out in. The temperature is as high as 30, which is not very cold. Measurements taken at noon show the depth of the snow to be 12 inches out on a level. The ground, being dry and frozen, could not have been in better condition to receive a snow to stick.

THE REFLECTOR telephoned to Mr. Allen Warren, who has kept a weather record the past several years, for a comparison of this with former big snows.

This is the heaviest snow here since the winter of 1876-'77, when about Christmas is fell to a depth of 18 to 20 inches on a level and remained on the ground until the middle of January. The heaviest snow previous to that was in 1857.

The nearest snow in size to the present one that has fallen in late years was three years ago, on February 11th, 1899, when it reached a depth of 10½ inches. On that day the temperature was 11, being then 19 degrees colder than today. Three days after that snow, on the 14th, the temperature fell to 2 degrees below zero, the coldest record here, and touched that point again on the morning of the 15th.

Other places we have heard from today show the depth of snow in inches to be as follows: Tarboro 12, Kelford 8, Norfolk 6, Richmond 3, Springhope 12, Kenly 12, Fayetteville 10, Kinston 8, New Bern 4, Washington 8. There was none at Wilmington and none at New York.

Interesting Meeting.

The meeting in the Methodist church Friday night was full of interest. Rev. H. M. Eure preached a forcible sermon, his theme being, "Who is on the Lord's side?" At the conclusion of the sermon several went forward to make request for prayers.

There will be no service tonight, but services will be held both morning and night Sunday.

The snow has been cleared off the sidewalks for some distance around the church and the building will be comfortably heated tomorrow. Do not anyone stay away from the services because of the weather. Your absence may cause the interest in the meeting to decline that much.
