WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 17. It is something of a commentary on republican diplomacy that, while the administration is endeavoring to establish cordial relations with the Filipinos and inspire in them respect for American institutions, Governor Taft is testifying in Washington that they are "a lazy, indolent people incapable of performing jury duty" or determining questions of justice. Of course, the press of the islands publishes these statements and doubtless the people will be flattered into an immediate appreciation of the American sense of justice, quickness of perception and keenness of judgement.

Since the passage of the majority anti-oleomargarine bill by the House, that body has been engaged in the consideration of private bills—"doing odd jobs," as one of the members expressed it when I asked him what was going on inside. Today the Ways and Means Committee will consider the Cuban reciprocity question, not because it wants to but because the unpalatable truth has been forced upon the Committee that, in the words of a member, "It must,—or the Senate will." It is probable the Committee will report some measure of relief to Cuba. What its terms will be cannot be foretold but, whatever they are, they will be made to conform to the well-known views of the President who the measure is taken up in the Senate committee.

Today the House will take up the repeal of the war revenue taxes. Before introducing the measure, however, an attempt will be made to pass a rule limiting the debate to two days and prohibiting the offering of any motion during the discussion. This is intended, of course, to prevent Mr. Babcock and others who advocate tariff reform from amending the bill. It is a sample of the gag law with which the republicans control the party and is, needless to say, in direct violation of the spirit of the constitution which intended that the House should be a deliberative body. The party whips have been actively engaged and it is believed that the rule will be adopted.

The President, through the Postmaster General, has struck a severe blow at partisan politics by a determination to resist the removal of fourth class postmasters except for cause. If the President persists in his present intention there will be an insurrection in Congress of immense proportions as these appointments now form the chief perquisites with which politicians pay political debts.

The campaign for government ownership of the Pacific cable is being vigorously pushed. Representative Corliss, of Michigan, recently addressed the House on the subject and yesterday he told me he believed he would be able to carry the bill. He has won over his committee until it stands 12 for and 5 against, although the original vote of the committee was 8 for and 5 against with 2 members absent. Mr. Corliss' speech in the House in support of his views was an able effort and appeared to be received with marked approval by many members on both sides of the chamber.

AT THE CLUB.

On the street, at social gatherings, anywhere, where ever a number of good dressers are gathered and the clothes question is the topic of conversation, you will learn, if you lend an attentive ear, that we are quoted as being the store that always has snappy toggery for the up-to-the-hour man. The store that he looks to for new things; the store to which he first turns for a new cut in a suit, a new shape in a hat or tie. In short, the store where the good dresser always finds the thing he wants without paying an extra price for style. If you are interested in Clothing and Haberdashery with character, come in.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1902.

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 17.

Two unusually important meetings were held in Raleigh within the past week—the good-roads convention (in connection with practical road building demonstrations by the crew and machinery of the Southern Railway good-roads train, under contract with the city of Raleigh); and the conference of leading educators of the State with the Governor and other State officials, aimed more and better rural schools and improved rural school facilities—both of them particularly successful.

An excellent plan of work was mapped out by the Educational conference and a vigorous campaign of education is to be undertaken. Committees were appointed to look after and perform the details of this work. The executive committee is composed of Governor Aycock, Superintendent of Instructions Toon and Dr. Charles D. McIver. Another committee, with Professor J. Y. Joyner as chairman, is appointed to "collect, write and distribute to every newspaper in the State once a week, consecutive articles bearing upon better schools," and as publication of same, etc. Each clergyman is to be written to by another committee, with Dr. Charles F. Taylor as chairman, asking that he preach at least one sermon each year on public education.

FEDERAL AID AND USE OF CONVICTS FOR BETTER ROADS.

Money! Aye that is what will "make the mare go" along a new and improved system of county roads, said the good-roads delegates, and accordingly the aid of the United States Government, though appropriations, was invoked by the good-roads congress, which also urged a more liberal and extended use of convict labor on the public road work.

A number of excellent speeches were made during the three days the Congress was in session, and a strong and enthusiastic sentiment for good roads is unquestionably being worked up in this State, and the meeting here has had the effect of greatly aiding and pushing it.

Shooting at Grifton.

Grifton, N. C., Feb. 18th.—Last night a crowd of negroes were in Griffin's bar room, when from some cause John Canady and another negro named Walter Jones got into a dispute. Canady got after Jones and they went together, when Jones drew his pistol and shot Canady twice, one ball hitting him in the knee and the other going in the forehead and coming out the top of the head. Up to noon today the wounded man was doing well and is not considered dangerously hurt. Both negroes were arrested.

You Know What You are Taking When you take Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic because the formula is plainly printed on every bottle showing that it is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No Cure, No Pay. 50c.

Correction.

In the report of the meeting of the Sunshine Sisterhood, published a few days ago, were some errors caused by omission of words.

In the third paragraph it should have read "to turn the conversation to the boutling he is known to fondle"

In the fifth paragraph it should have read "the first lines are reproduced" instead of "reduced" as it appeared.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks, the long range weather prophet predicts unpleasant wintry weather for February and March. He advises farmers to exercise all reasonable and possible precautions for the sheltering and feeding of live stock, and suggests that wise planning for out-doors work should be done. He believes that the months of April, May and June will be propitious above the average for agricultural and out door avocation.

Stands By His County.

"I did not expect to have my residence changed by coming to the Good Roads Congress," said Mr. R. R. Cotten, of Pitt. "The chairman, in naming me on a committee, put my residence in Edgecombe county."

"You ought to thank him for putting you in as a resident in the best county in the State," said Representative Shelton, of Edgecombe, who was standing by.—News and Observer.
