A THRIVING VILLAGE.

BUNYAN, N. C., Feb. 26, 1902,

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

If admittance may be found in the columns of your valuable paper we will give a few items from this part of Beaufort county.

Our prospective village Bunyon bears the memory and name of John Bunyon the great author of "Pilgrim's Progress," and is centrally located in a thickly settled community notable for its healthfulness. It is the most elevated point between Washington and the historical town of Bath. We are in three miles of the broad Pamlico river where salt fish are daily caught in abundance.

For a country village we enjoy church advantages seldom found in the country. We claim the benefit of four different denominations, all harmoniously tolerated in our midst.

Zion's Episcopal a distance of two miles with a neat Rectory occupied by its Lay Reader, Mr. C. D. Malone, who also assists Miss Lucy Joyner in conducting a Parish school at the church for 10 months in the year, also services once a month by Rev. N. Harding, of Washington.

Asbury M. E. church, distance one half mile, has a parsonage occupied by Rev. D. A. Wadkins, who preaches once a month with good attendance and Sunday school.

Beaverdam Disciple church distance one fourth mile, has service once a month, by Rev. W. O. Winfield, of Bath, who is heard by large and appreciative audiences.

At the Charitable Brotherhood Lodge one half mile distance, once a month the Missionary Baptists have service by Rev. Mr. Crudup, of Washington.

Our Postmaster W. S. D. Eborn, has a good line of dry goods and groceries, and furnishes us good meal at his water mill, saws our logs into plank, and gins our cotton. He is a hustler right, and a good farmer. As an evidence of his last year's work on 16 acres he made and sold $1900 worth of tobacco. We have the finest of tobacco and trucking land.

So our prospective village bids fair to development, considering its natural advantages combined with additional prospects now presented by the Washington and Plymouth railroad which is nearly completed and making our point an important depot. This awakens enterprise and gives unexcelled advantages for transportation.

We all are pleased at the coming of this road and believe much good attends it. Its general manager Surry Parker, of Pinetown, is a man of zeal and energy, who has brought to light many avenues of industry. With public spirit and generous heart, he commands the admiration and respect of all who know him. We hail with delight his success, and desire more of such material to awaken our country from its lethargy.

A co-operative enterprise is on foot and will soon start up with us.

Good churches, good schools and good health offer inducement for those who would wish to locate here. Lots can be bought on reasonable terms. J. M. COTTEN.

AT THE CLUB.

On the street, at social gatherings, anywhere, where ever a number of good dressers are gathered and the clothes question is the topic of conversation, you will learn, if you lend an attentive ear, that we are quoted as being the store that always has snappy toggery for the up-to-the-hour man. The store that he looks to for new things; the store to which he first turns for a new cut in a suit, a new shape in a hat or tie. In short, the store where the good dresser always finds the thing he wants without paying an extra price for style. If you are interested in Clothing and Haberdashery with character, come in.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1902.

February storms have cost telephone, telegraph and electric companies hundreds of thousands of dollars by wrecking wires. They have been the worst in many years.

Several county convicts in Charlotte were removed from the jail to the smallpox house of detention, they having been in contact with the disease, and three of them made their escape. Good way to spread the disease, for ordinarily one negro will harbor another from officers, even at the risk of catching smallpox.

Raleigh ladies are making an effort to establish a day nursery in that city to care for the children of mothers who have to go out and work during the day. Charlotte is conducting one very successfully and it is a blessing to both mothers and children. Such are human institutions and should be liberally encouraged.

The United States government sold to the people in the year 1901 postage stamps, stamped envelopes and postal cards to the value of $109,794,413. In 1899 the amount of $95,042,712. If periodical postage be added, the amount of last year's receipts comes up to $113,500,000. It is a remarkable fact that ten years ago the postal receipts of the government were only a little more than half as much as they are now.

A very remarkable discovery has been made within the present month. In 1886 Congress passed an act, which was much discussed by the press and the people at the time and has been since, providing for the succession to the presidency in the event of the death or disability of both the President and Vice President. It put the Secretary of State next in line and after him one member of the cabinet after another until all are named. Now, after sixteen years, it is ascertained that this act contravenes the constitution, which provides that after the Vice President the Speaker of the House shall succeed to the presidency. The act of 1886 ignores this officer. Such an oversight on the part of the gentlemen who are supposed to be students and custodians of the constitution is incomprehensible.—Charlotte Observer.

The chronic borrower is inclined to be touchy about it. You can't tell the size of a man's trouble by his sighs. The successful man never regrets the cost of his experiences.

THE COST OF TRAINING CHILDREN AND OTHER ANIMALS.

In moments of self righteousness we are accustomed to think, if we think about it at all, that we pay teachers in the public schools as much as their services are worth. Teaching, we may say, like any other commodity, brings what the condition of the market determines. If any teacher gives up his place a dozen others quickly apply for it. The salary, therefore, is enough; else there would not be such an eager demand for places. And this reasoning is sound. Teachers are got for half these salaries that are now paid. Teachers could be got for half these salaries. However low the salary, it could be cut in two and still teachers could be got.

But this purely commercial statement does not touch the most important question. Many public school teachers do not receive all they are worth—many, no doubt, receive more than they are worth. The question is not what a teacher can be got for, but what the best teachers can be got for. How good teachers do we propose to have? There is no doubt that by doubling the salaries now paid any community could improve its school beyond easy computation; for a higher grade of efficiency would go into the profession.

The truth is that many, perhaps most, communities are really not yet in earnest about public education. They have provided schools and teachers; and there they are resting. The next great movement forward must be to build up the teachers' profession to the degree of dignity that corresponds with an enlightened view of it. It is the least mercenary of all callings, but it can never be as dignified or as efficient as it ought to be and as it must become, except on the condition so admirably explained by Mr. McAndrew in his article in this magazine. Mr. McAndrew has given years of patient labor and an invincible moral earnestness to the agitation for higher salaries; and, so far as the influence of this magazine goes, it will stand with him and with those of like mind and purpose till public school education comes to have a new meaning. To insist on proper pedagogical methods and on the proper co-ordination of studies is well enough, and it is well to build better school houses and to equip them better; but the foremost need is of more capable men and women in the schoolroom. A great teacher makes a great school; but most men and women who might become really great teachers are not in the

ARE YOU DEAF? ANY HEAD NOISES?

ALL CASES OF DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable. HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion. About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely. I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever. I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours, F. A. WERMAN, 730 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Beauty is Health.

Walnut Lake, Ark., June 3, 1900.

I thank you for the benefit I received from your advice and the Wine of Cardui I took in my terrible condition. My life was no pleasure to me at all and I was of no use to anybody. After receiving your advice and medicine I commenced taking it and began immediately to improve. The pains left me and the menses, which came at the correct time, continued three days. I have gained strength and my weight has increased. My husband says the medicine has made me better looking than ever before.

Mrs. LIZZIE MANNELL.

Womanly health means bright eyes, rosy cheeks, clear complexion and elasticity of form. This is the youth unmeasured by years—the beauty of perfect womanhood. Beautiful women are happier and get more out of life than their sisters whose faces indicate suffering. Wine of Cardui made Mrs. Mannelle "better looking" and infinitely happier because it cured her of those terrible pains. But she is no exception.

WINE OF CARDUI

Is giving thousands of women health, beauty and freedom from the dragging pains which made their lives so miserable. Wan faces, haggard eyes and emaciated forms are the results of suffering. What suffering can compare with the torture of irregular menstruation, leucorrhoea and falling of the womb! Beauty flees quickly before the ravages of such disease. The sharp pains of falling of the womb deepen the crow tracks in the face. Menstrual irregularities rob the eye of its fire and the complexion of its transparency. Leucorrhoea drains the body of its strength, but Wine of Cardui restores the natural beauty, brightens the eye, clears the complexion, rounds out the figure and brings back the vigor of health. Every drugstore in this city handles $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

Push, But Don't Shove.

The advertising merchant is the one who does the business in these days of push and enterprise. There are more newspaper readers today than ever before in the history of the world. The newspaper places your business under the eye of the buyer. He sees what he wants and, knowing where to find it, looks up the wide awake merchant who asked him to come and see him. Success in these days of sharp competition calls for eternal vigilance. You can't keep a hustler down. Push, but don't shove. Get a move on you, but don't kick. Tell the truth, be honest, and use printers' Ink, and success will make your habitation its abiding place.—Lincoln (Ill.) Times.

FABIO ROMANI.

A Splendid Company And an Excellent Play.

"Fabio Romani" was presented in the Messenger Opera House last night by an excellent company. It is a spectacular production of much merit. The story of the play is sad, weird and interesting, but along with the sombre story are many intervening scenes that help to make it on the whole a pleasant entertainment. The gruesome picture in the mausoleum scene, when the wife realizes her helpless condition and has her reason dethroned, is relieved by the climax of the play when all at once the tomb sinks out of sight and Vesuvius in the distance belching forth huge columns of fire and smoke and red streams of lava on the city of Naples.

To the person in the audience it looks as if each artist assuming the different roles had been especially selected for the characters assigned them. They were all good, but of course, special mention is due Mr. Walter Lawrence and Miss Martha Buford. They assumed the leading roles and acted them to perfection. It is beyond doubt one of the strongest and best plays that has come to Goldsboro this season. That the audience who witnessed the play was no larger is cause for regret. They deserve good houses wherever they go and should the same company come to Goldsboro again they would get a crowded house.—Goldsboro Argus, Wednesday, February 26th.

The seats are going rapidly at J. B. White's for the above attraction here Saturday night.
