It is now thought that Sam Phillips colored, the supposed cow thief who tried to escape and was shot yesterday morning, did not steal the cow, as first thought, from Mr. Geo. Tilghman, in this county, but from somewhere in Pitt county. THURSDAY, MARCH 27, 1902.

Cecil Rhodes, the man who was the prime cause of the war between England and South Africa, is dead.

Wednesday at New York Patrick was sentenced to be electrocuted for the murder of millionaire Rice. The trial has been a notable one.

On May 20th the island of Cuba will become a free country. On that date the United States will turn over the island to the government of its own people. All the details for the transfer have just been arranged at Washington.

As the pickpocket gentry are reported to be getting in their work at the Charleston exposition, it is suggested that the North Carolina newspaper men do not take along all the cash they have when they go down to take in the show. It might be too great a temptation for the pickpockets.

"It is apparent," said a Charlotte man a few days ago, "that a man can't drink liquor and keep up with the procession. Temperance is preached from platforms and pulpits, but the ruthless, merciless fight on drinking and the drinking man is being made by the business world. In this warfare there is no cant or sentiment. The drinking man gradually lags behind, and then he is shelved. Ten years ago it might have been said that all young men in Charlotte drank, and the business world forgave occasional intoxication. Now the heads of commercial houses in this city, in their reckonings, divide the sober men from those who drink; and no man in the latter class escapes silent criticism or a judgment that will hurt him if it be put to the touch. Everybody in Charlotte has seen the noiseless working of the system. The man who drinks simply steps down and out, and a sober man takes his place. The first might not have been a constant drinker, but the latter surely finds the highest premium placed on teetotalism. And you must notice that among business men here drinking is decreasing all the time, and drinking men are becoming more and more marked and hurt in reputation. The creed of the business world demands the survival of the fittest, and no drinking man is fit for the fight. He simply can't keep with the procession."—Charlotte Observer.

BLACK JACK ITEMS.

BLACK JACK, N. C., Mar. 26, 1902. Miss Mamie Buck, who has been visiting here the past week, returned to her home in Ayden Sunday. Miss Maggie Smith accompanied her home.

A. O. Clark came in Saturday evening from Mt. Olive where he has been attending school.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mills arrived Friday from Illinois to spend some time with friends and relatives here.

W. F. Evans came in Monday from Greenville as usual.

Mrs. Mary Ann Haddock, from near Ayden, is visiting Miss Sudie Haddock who is teaching school near here.

Quite a large crowd out to the Literary Society Friday night. Everybody expressed themselves as having spent a most delightful evening.

Programme for Friday evening March 28: Recitation by W. F. Evans. Recitation by Heber Dixon. Locals by Miss Lucy White. Recitation by E. L. Clark. Current Event by S. W. Tyson. Recitation by Miss Annie White. Query for debate. "Which deserves the most honor, Columbus for discovering America or Washington for defending America." Affirmative, Miss Annie White and W. F. Evans. Negative, A. Clark and W. H. Wynne.

One swallow may not make a summer, but a grasshopper can make a spring.

Pocket Picked.

Mr. Herbert Smith, a young man of Kenansville, N. C., well known in Wilmington, arrived here last night at 6 o'clock and registered at The Orton. After supper he attended the performance by the Grand Opera Company at the opera house and when he came out he missed a big pocket book which he carried on his inside coat pocket on the right side. He found that a slit had been cut across the bottom of his pocket from the outside and the pocket book thus extracted. The pocket book contained about $1,600 in currency and about $1,000 in checks and drafts which he brought to Wilmington to deposit for himself and others.—Wilmington Messenger.

Neglected Opportunities.

Probably in every large community there are many lines of business in which no enterprising man or firm has had the courage to carry on an advertising campaign. Yet such a campaign would result in an enormous increase of business to the advertiser, and would place him far ahead of all competitors. The lack of enterprise and courage alone prevents any one of the establishments from achieving a notable success.—Philadelphia Record.

TO THE PUBLIC.

We the undersigned, constituting the Local Board of Underwriters, in the town of Greenville, N. C., and Pitt county, hereby give notice that on account of excessive fire losses caused by the use of Terra Cotta flues, we cannot accept risks in or on any building in which there is a Terra Cotta flue, or a brick flue improperly constructed. So many fires originate from this source that all of the first class companies condemn them as a menace to property, and the insuring public carrying as they do, one fourth of the value of the property insured, it is to their interest to have brick flues safely arranged.

Merry Makers.

I will organize on Saturday evening at 2 o'clock at my home, a society that will go under the name of "Merry Makers" in which I wish all the children in town to take a part, both boys and girls.

We will devote a part of the time to some literary course suited to the members. It will cost to become a member 10 cents and 5 cents monthly dues, to keep up the expense of the society such as buying music and things which will be necessary.

I hope that everybody will read this, and consider the matter before they send their children.

It does not make any difference how small or large you are, as there will be something provided for all to do. We also would be glad to have older people who are interested in such work unite with us as we will gladly make them honorary members.

We know it is most time to wear old or go barefooted but don't do it too soon or you may have pneumonia. Buying shoes is cheaper than paying doctor's or undertaker's bills, and you will be more comfortable and live longer.

Don't Miss It.

Hazel Kirk, a beautiful four act drama, charmingly rendered by home talent, will be the attraction at the opera house Tuesday night, April 1st, for the benefit of The King's Daughters and the Osceola Band.

Hazel Kirk.

Greenville sees no better plays than that to be presented in the opera house, next Tuesday night, by home talent under the management of Mrs. A. L. Blow. The cast has been carefully selected and there are splendid actors on the program. Be sure that you attend.

Worth Seeing.

Ricks & Wilkinson have a most attractive display of new and stylish goods at their spring opening today, and because of the threatening weather they have decided to continue the opening tomorrow, Friday, so as to give all their friends an opportunity to see the grand display.

Town Gets New Trial.

The Supreme court has given the town a new trial in the case of E. C. Williams against Town of Greenville. This is the case in which Williams sued the town for $10,000. The case was tried at October term of Pitt Superior court when the jury gave Williams a verdict for $300. The town took an appeal to Supreme court, and the decision of that court gives the case a new trial.

Advertise the Town.

At the special called meeting of the Board of Aldermen, Wednesday afternoon, to consider a proposition from the Raleigh News and Observer to take a page to advertise Greenville in the Charleston exposition edition of that paper, the Board approved the plan but did not feel at this time they would be justified in making an appropriation from the town treasury for this purpose. However, several of the Board made individual donations toward raising a fund to secure the page for Greenville. Such an advertisement will do much good to the town and county.

When it comes to the social scale a lot of people don't weigh much.

The lawyer rather encourages other people to tell him their troubles.

Even the puglist who spends his money is inclined to be close fisted.
