GREENVILLE QUEEN OF THE GOLDEN BELT.

BY O. L. JOYNER.

Notwithstanding Greenville has had the hardest up-hill road to travel of any eastern market, she stands today pre-eminently in the fore-front of the world's greatest bright tobacco markets, with the proud inscription written on her banner, "The Brightest Queen of the Golden Belt."

For the past ten years she has sent the bright product of this section to the distant parts of the earth, and Greenville today is known by the superiority of her tobacco in almost every habitable part of the globe. The delicate little paper roll has crossed strange seas in search of new lovers and amongst the almond eyed orientals of the Mikado it has been warmly embraced, while the dreamy celestial is begging to pay court to its soothing entreaties. It has forced its way and with favor amongst the inhabitants of far away ocean islands beyond the tropics, and in a few more years the characteristic push and pluck of the American manufacturer will place it within easy reach of the inhabitants of every clime.

Looking ten or twelve years backward there are many of us who can appreciate the present magnificent proportions of the Greenville tobacco market. From a small warehouse with only one or two very insufficient prize houses we have gone forward 'till now there is not a market on earth possessing more and better facilities in every way than Greenville. We are frequently asked how much tobacco we will sell, or how much can we handle? The Greenville market, it is safe to say, is in a better position than ever before to take care of tobacco and is easily able to handle twice as much as she has ever before sold in a single year, for in addition to our former capacity we have two of the largest steam plants in the world now nearing completion which gives us a capacity for handling more tobacco than all of the eastern markets combined have handled heretofore. Such a thing as overcrowding the market is a thing of the past. Under the present arrangements we can easily and conveniently sell over a quarter of a million pounds daily. Farmers need not hesitate to bring their tobacco to Greenville. We are ready and able to protect their interest whenever they come. With banking facilities surpassed by no town in State, and buyers representing concerns worth many millions, we again assert that there is absolutely nothing to keep us from leading the markets in highest prices, as the quality of our tobacco has been proven superior to all other in point of color and texture.

Now in conclusion there is no one in the whole state that rejoices more than the writer in the bright prospect that the farmer has for good prices this season. No one feels more keenly or deeply the effects of low prices, and no one rejoices more earnestly in the hopes which the present speaks for future than I do.

The farmer has worked hard and my most earnest hope is that his labors will be abundantly crowned with a golden harvest.

Trestle on Fire.

The passenger train for Greenville left Parmele on time Friday evening, but when near Grindool a trestle ahead was discovered on fire. The train backed to Parmele and took on a working crew, returned to the scene, put out the fire and made sufficient repairs to cross the trestle. It occasioned a delay of some over an hour.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Aug. 9.
J. F. Harrington, one of our clever merchants, who has been on northern markets is back home and as polite as ever which means yours to serve.

The nice showers recently are making crops look fine and the farmers are cheerful. We rejoice with them for they truly are "The salt of the earth."

Mrs. Will Hammond, of Greenville, is visiting Mrs. J. D. Cox.

Prof. Dawson, of Washington, came in to see us this week. He is selling some of the best pianos and organs on the market and tells us his sales are unusually good. While here he took occasion to see Prof. Lineberry and arrange to send his grandson to school this year.

Miss Laura Cox spent yesterday in Greenville.

The "Mothers' Union" held their regular session at the academy yesterday evening, which was a very pleasant hour for those present and we trust profitable.

The new dormitory for boys is nearly completed and is not only a beauty, but a model building for convenience and comfort.

With a good school building well equipped and dormitories as good as the best and a large faculty of the best trained, and most successful teachers in the State, we can afford to hope for a good school. And the students are coming to one of the most thorough and best equipped schools in the State, is what people say who have seen it and know of its work, and we would like to add that the morals and health of our town is unsurpassed.

Rooms in the dormitories are being engaged nearly every day. Five counties have been represented this week in engaging rooms.

When you wake up with a bad taste in your mouth, go at once to Wooten's drug store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, and get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. One or two doses will make you well. They also cure biliousness, sick headache and constipation.

WE OPEN THE BALL

At the end of last year it was shown by facts and figures that the

led the whole market by over a quarter of a cent a pound for the entire season.

This year the Sales Committee selected the to open the new season with the first sale, and our prices on that day have already told their tale.

We take this occasion to thank our many friends who in the past have given us their patronage. To every one, rich and poor, without distinction, we are profoundly grateful, and to our past record we point with pride and the consciousness of having done our best.

We Don't Propose to be Behind

We shall spare no effort this year to take the best care of our customers. In backing this assertion we have the best facilities of every kind. Mr. Joyner this year will look exclusively after the sales.

We have secured the services of Mr. W. H. Jenkins, that veteran warehouseman of the Henderson market, whose genial smile and cordial hand shake is pleasantly remembered by many of our farmer friends. For twenty years he has been connected with the warehouse business of Henderson and thoroughly understands it from start to finish. He will assist, and as auctioneer will see that no pile goes until it has reached the top notch.

Mr. W. H. Dail will have charge of the office and see that you get your check as soon as your tobacco is sold.

We have a competent man for every place and if you will bring us your tobacco we will guarantee you fair treatment, honest weights and the cream of prices at all times. Thanking you for past favors and hoping to be remembered by you again, we are
Your friends,

JOYNER & DAIL, PROPRIETORS,

TAX DISCRIMINATION.

The Board of Aldermen have not acted justly towards the property tax payers of the town of Greenville. For sometime there have been heard complaints and criticism of the inequality of the tax on liquor licenses and the tax on property, and other special taxes. The charter of the town places a minimum limit of $100 per year and maximum of $500 per year as the license tax for retailing liquors in the town, and the constitution fixes the maximum on each $100 valuation of real and personal property at 66 cents. Our recollection of the first tax levied under this charter by the Aldermen of the town is that it was $125 on liquor license and 41 cents on property. Even then people wondered why the liquor license should be placed so near the minimum while the property tax was put at nearly two-thirds the limit. Something near an equal ratio would have looked more reasonable.

As time went on the property tax got up to 50 cents while the liquor tax only went to $150. Again later the property tax got to 60 cents while the liquor tax went no higher. And now, to cap the climax, the property tax is raised again, this time going to 66 cents, the full limit that can be levied under the constitution, while the liquor license tax remains the same, $150. At the same time nearly all other license taxes have been raised.

There is no justice in the liquor dealers, the very ones who ought to pay the most taxes, being assessed at almost the minimum limit under the law, while other subjects of special taxes and property are assessed to the full limit. It is against the best interest of the town that such inequality of taxation exists.

It is not so much the amount of taxes the property holder has to pay as the gross inequality of the levy that causes complaint. THE REFLECTOR doubts if there is another town anywhere in which the liquor tax is placed almost at its lowest limit while property is taxed at the highest limit. Such discrimination against property is discouraging to investments and works against the progress of the town.

The Best Prescription for Malaria
 Chills and Fever is a bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. It is simple iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure no pay. Price 50c.

Thursday night fire broke out in the livery stable of Dorset & Bridle, at Lexington, destroying the building, 25 head of horses and a lot of buggies, carriages and machinery. The flames spread to several adjacent buildings, the Methodist church being among those destroyed. The church was a brick building valued at $8,000 with no insurance.

Judge John Gray Bynum, who stumbled and fell down a flight of stairs in Greensboro, Tuesday night, died Thursday from injuries received in the fall. While on the Bench he held several courts in Pitt county and was greatly esteemed by the people here.

Mr. O. L. Joyner contributes an interesting article on the Greenville tobacco market to this double edition of THE DAILY REFLECTOR. No man takes more interest in the market than he, and his excellent articles have many times done the market much good.

In making up one of the inside pages of last Saturday's paper half of an article was left out by mistake. The whole article is given over again today so as to make it complete.

The old Oceanic Hotel at Carolina Beach, below Wilmington, was wrecked by a cyclone Wednesday night. Fourteen people were injured, some of them seriously.

This large edition of THE DAILY REFLECTOR again today shows what can be done with a little help from the business men.

King Edward, of England, was crowned today with imposing ceremonies.

Don't Treat Symptoms

Go after the cause. Stimulants and cathartics will never cure indigestion. They may temporarily relieve the system but the next meal clogs it again. The food should be digested. The nourishment—health—strength it contains should be appropriated—absorbed by the system.

Children Thrive on Kodol

KODOL purifies, cleanses, strengthens and sweetens the stomach. This new discovery digests all classes of food and assists the stomach and digestive organs in assimilating and transforming it into the kind of nourishment that is taken up by the blood and fed to the tissues throughout the various organs of the body. Kodol cures indigestion and dyspepsia, thus removing the cause of all stomach troubles. Kodol gives such strength to the body that it is invaluable in all wasting diseases.

"I wish to thank you for what Kodol has done for me," writes Clifton Gilton, Collett, Ind. "It cured me of dyspepsia after everything else had failed. When I tried Kodol it helped me right away. I cheerfully recommend it."

Kodol Digests What You Eat.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers the famous little liver pills for biliousness or constipation. Safe, thorough. They never gripe.

Not Over-Wise.
 There is an old allegorical picture of a girl scared at a grass-hopper, but in the act of heedlessly treading on a snake. This is paralleled by the man who spends a large sum of money building a cyclone cellar, but neglects to provide his family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a safeguard against bowel complaints, whose victims outnumber those of the cyclone a hundred to one. This remedy is everywhere recognized as the most prompt and reliable medicine in use for these diseases. For Sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy Farmville, N. C.

His Sight Strengthened.
 "While picknicking last month my 11-year-old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Iowa. "He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for a while we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finally a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is cure. Relieves piles at once. Beware of counterfeits. John L. Wooten.

Brigadier General Frederick Fausch, is confined to his home by illness, having undergone an operation for fistula.

It Needs a Tonic.
 There are times when your liver needs a tonic. Don't give purgatives that gripe and weaken. DeWitt's Little Early Risers expel all poison from the system and act as tonic to the liver. W. Scott, 531 Highland ave., Milton, Pa., says: "I have carried DeWitt's Little Early Risers with me for several years and would not be without them." Small and easy to take. Purely vegetable. They never gripe or distress. John L. Wooten.

If we could perform the wonderful feats when awake we do in our dreams, what geniuses we would be!

A Necessary Precaution.
 Don't neglect a cold. It is worse than unpleasant. It is dangerous. By using One Minute Cough Cure you can cure it at once. Always inflammation, clears the head, soothes and strengthens the mucus membrane. Cures coughs, croup, throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Children like it. Jno. L. Wooten.

The greatest gambler the world ever knew was Solomon, for he took the most chances in the marriage game.

To My Friends.
 It is with joy I tell you what Kodol did for me. I was troubled with my stomach for several months. Upon being advised to use Kodol, I did so, and words can not tell the good it has done me. A neighbor had dyspepsia so that he had tried most everything. I told him to use Kodol. Words of gratitude have come to me from him because I recommended it.—Geo. W. Fry, Viola, Iowa. Health and strength of mind and body depend on the stomach, and normal activity of the digestive organs. Kodol, the great reconstructive tonic, cures all stomach and bowel troubles, indigestion, dyspepsia. Kodol digests any good food you eat. Take a dose after meals.—John L. Wooten.

Dysentery Cured Without the Aid of a Doctor.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux" (dysentery) says Mr. T. A. Pinner, a well known merchant of Drummond, Tenn. "I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

Boy Cured of colic After Physician's Treatment Had Failed.

My boy when four years old was taken with colic and cramps in his stomach. I sent for the doctor and he injected morphine, but the child kept getting worse. I then gave him half a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and in half an hour he was sleeping and soon recovered.—F. L. Wilkins, Shell Lake, Wis. GOOD RESULT OF THE INSTITUTE.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

Will you please allow me through your paper to say a few words about the recent institute for the colored teachers of Pitt county. I have attended several institutes for the colored teachers, but this one was the best of them all.

Prof. Ragsdale needs no commendation at my hands, everybody knows he has been the right man in the right place ever since he has been connected with the schools of Pitt county.

Prof. Brown is to be commended for the manner in which he performed his duty in the institute. As to Prof. Bruce he is a competent teacher and a wise leader of the negro race. I think I speak the sentiment of every teacher that attended the institute that he gave just such advice as the negro race needs. The education of the negro does not consist of a knowledge of the text books alone, but of moral and industrial training. When the negro learns that education is not intended to make office-holders of them, but better citizens, then they will have learned a lesson that will be of benefit to them. Prof. Bruce did not make himself what he is by holding office.

We approve the advice given us by those white gentlemen who addressed us during the institute. They gave us some plain, practical advice. If the negro had taken such advice twenty years ago as was given us during the institute, we would have been better citizens to-day. If the sixty teachers that will soon be at work in the various parts of the county will teach us as they have been taught, and lead the youth of the negro race to move in their own appropriate sphere, and that sphere is not politics nor social equality. There is not an intelligent negro in Pitt county that wants social equality. But we want social contact, by coming in contact with white people during this institute we learned more of what is expected of us. I believe that the white people are the true friends of the intelligent and industrious negro.

If the white people will protect the negro in his life and property rights, I do not see why the negro is not in a better fix than he has been since 1865.

SALISBURY'S RETREAT

LORDLY Home to Which
Ex-Premier of Great Britain Has Retired . . .

WHEN Lord Salisbury laid down the reins of government the other day and retired from public life, he had not far to go to find the rest and seclusion for which he gave up the premiership of Great Britain. Twenty miles out of London, standing in the center of a great estate, is Hatfield House. It is the home to which the sturdy old statesman has retired, and it is one of the lordliest in all England.

Although past the allotted three-score and ten, Lord Salisbury is in good health and will doubtless enjoy many years of life in the quiet of his country home. He is a large landholder, owning about 20,000 acres and several fine country residences, among them Walmer castle at Deal, but Hatfield House, Hertfordshire, where he was born, will be the home of his declining years.

Hatfield House has been for centuries one of the notable homes of England. It became a place of interest more than 700 years ago, and since that time "the crown, the miter and the coronet," the armorial bearings of the house of Cecil, have held sway over its destinies.

The present structure was reared in the days of James I., but parts of the building antedate that period. Notable among these old parts of Hatfield is the "palace," which was the home of the Princess Elizabeth in the reign of her sister, Queen Mary.

The estate belonged to the Saxon kings until it was given by King Edgar to the monastery of St. Ethelreda at Ely. The manor house became the residence of the prelates and was occasionally used as a royal residence until the reign of Henry VIII., when it was deeded to the crown. Prince Edward, afterward Edward VI., lived

BIT OF DRAWING ROOM, HATFIELD HOUSE, at the palace, and it is said that he was there when the news of his father's death reached him, and that his accession to the crown took place at the stately hall. A few years after he became king the young monarch conveyed Hatfield to his sister, the Princess Elizabeth, afterward Queen

Elizabeth, and there she lived under surveillance through the greater part of Queen Mary's reign.

In the third year of the reign of James I. he exchanged Hatfield for the house, manor and park of Theobalds with his minister, Sir Robert Cecil, afterward Earl of Salisbury, whose descendant, the present Marquis of Salisbury, now owns the estate. Here he has entertained at various times the great personages of the earth in a manner befitting his great wealth and ancient lineage. The present king has been his guest on innumerable occasions when Prince of Wales, but only once since he succeeded to the throne.

Hatfield House, in which the Marquis of Salisbury will in future spend most of his time and where he will doubtless entertain his friends as regally as of yore, is a brick structure of vast extent. It was built between the years 1605 and 1611 by Robert Cecil, first earl of Salisbury. Later it suffered from neglect, but was restored and beautified in the middle of the last century by the sixth earl. In 1835 a great part of the west wing was destroyed by fire, in which the dowager Marchioness of Salisbury lost her life. After the fire a general restoration of the building took place.

The house forms three sides of a square, the hollow part turned toward the south. The center is looked upon as a fine specimen of the Palladian style and, although of mixed architecture, is highly pleasing to the eye. The wings are massive and comparatively plain, supported at each corner by square turrets seventy feet high. There is a central tower over the grand entrance, which is also seventy feet high.

The third story of the central tower contains a clock and the armorial bearings of the founder, with the date 1611, in which year the present house was finished. The southern front is 300 feet long, and the center is 140 feet. The wings are 80 feet wide and project 100 feet from the center.

The hall is spacious and lofty. It leads to the gallery, in which many interesting relics of former days are preserved, including the saddlecloths used by Queen Bess and by Sir Robert Cecil, the first earl of Salisbury. One of the most notable parts of the palatial house is the grand staircase. It occupies a space of 35 by 21 feet and has five landings. On the walls are portraits of the Cecils by Lely, Kneller, Vanduyke, Zuccherro, Reynolds and others. A marble bust of Lord Burleigh is over the entrance to the dining hall.

The dining hall in which Lord Salisbury dispenses hospitality is one of the most splendid banqueting halls in the kingdom. It is of noble proportions, hung with fine pictures, and in the past has seen many a great gathering of notable people.

The marble hall, 50 by 30 feet in dimensions, paneled with oak, lined with rare old tapestry and lit by an oriel window, is another notable feature of the house. Here among the armorial bearings, badges, decorations and relics are two banners presented to the owner of Hatfield by the Duke of Wellington. They were part of the spoil brought from Paris in 1814.

In the library are the oak cradle of Queen Elizabeth, the original proclamation of Sir Robert Cecil declaring James of Scotland king of England, a purse once the property of James I.

and hundreds of equally interesting relics of the days when Hatfield was a favorite retreat for royalty. In the days when the insolence of John Brown made Windsor castle uncomfortable for them the Empress Frederick of Germany and her husband, Kaiser Frederick, were frequent visitors at Hatfield House. At all times since the present owner became the lord of the place an invitation to Hatfield House has been most highly prized.

The Beetle and the Scale.

We are not so sanguine as some of our contemporaries that the recent imported lady beetles from China, which are said to have cost the government about $2,000 apiece, will clean out from our orchards the notorious San Jose scale. At the same time we are hopeful that this little natural enemy may be a factor in reducing the ravages of the pest. Fruit growers should not place too much confidence in the cannibalistic propensities of this animal and should leave nothing undone from the practical standpoint to protect their orchards. At the same time, wherever it is possible this sort of experimentation should be encouraged by fruit growers and others. It is a well known fact that in many cases natural agencies are responsible for the reduction and suppression of many outbreaks of destructive insects and other animals. If the Chinese beetle will live and thrive in orchards scattered over our diversified country under the varying climatic conditions and tend to keep San Jose scale in check, the price paid for its introduction will be insignificant as compared with the great benefits derived later.—American Agriculturist.

Saving Middlemen's Tolls.

The success of the farmers' elevator movement in the west is thoroughly established. In Kansas alone some eighty are in operation, and grain growers as a rule are highly pleased with the saving in tolls. This is usually 1 to 2 cents per bushel and not infrequently 3 to 4 cents, forming a snug sum in the aggregate to be turned back into the pockets of the farmers instead of going to city middlemen and their country agents. The chief drawback in enlarging the scope of the farmers' elevator is the lack of co-operative spirit among farmers. In working together much can be accomplished in marketing grain or other farm produce to best advantage and also in purchasing supplies. In the eastern states truck farmers in various sections group themselves into local organizations and buy fertilizers, tools, machinery, etc., in large quantities at considerable saving.—Farm and Home.

Quack Grass Experience.

This pest fills the soil with its long, round white roots, crowding and choking out other vegetation. In some sections it is called couch grass, witch grass, tucker grass, etc. At an experience meeting of New York state farmers the following remedies were offered:

Plow the land a few times in summer, not trying to raise any crop for one season.

Sow buckwheat thickly two years in succession.

Good, thorough tillage followed by buckwheat or peas.

Put on sheep enough to keep the tops gnawed close to the ground.

Fall plowing, not harrowing until spring. This plan killed a part of the roots.

Get the Education.

A young man asks if it will be wise for a young farmer to take a four year course at an agricultural college if it takes all the money he has and leaves him without funds at the close. Yes. You cannot invest the money in anything that will pay better than a thorough professional training. It is a capital you cannot lose and which will always bring in the dividends. Get the education if you have to borrow more money before you get through. "The world is always on the hunt for men with educated minds and trained hands," and the man with the college training will always be in the lead.—Practical Farmer.

Blood Relations.

Willie—Mamma, what does "blood" relations mean?

Mamma—It means near relations, Willie.

Willie (after a thoughtful pause)—Then, mamma, you and papa must be the bloodiest relations I've got.

The Man That Wakes Me Up.

I tell you w'at, I love my pa; I love him 'most as much as ma; He's awful good to me an' brings Me lots of toys an' kites an' things. Why, t'other day, as sure as fate, He brought me home a tarrier pup. I love my pa, but, oh, I hate The man that mornin's wakes me up!

My pa he takes me fishin', too; When he's got nothin' else to do; I ketched a catfish, too, one day; Though half way out he got away. But pa said I might count it, though. Ah' somethin' 'bout the lip an' cup. I dearly love my pa, but, oh, I hate The man that mornin's wakes me up!

I'm always hearin' 'bout the ant W'at gets up early, but I can't See w'at that's got to do with me; I ain't no ant, as I can see; I'm just a boy w'at likes to lie Abed until it's time to sup; Of course I love my pa, but I Don't love that man that wakes me up.

—William Wallace Whitlock.

$60 PRIZE

For Some Reflector Subscriber.

THE REFLECTOR has purchased a No. 9, ball bearing, rotary motion, drop head Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, the retail price of which is $60, and is going to make a present of this splendid machine to a subscriber of the paper.

The plan of giving away this valuable prize is as follows:

We have printed 1,000 tickets, numbered consecutively, and beginning the 1st day of August every person who pays $1 on subscription either to THE DAILY REFLECTOR or THE EASTERN REFLECTOR will be given one of these tickets. Those who pay $1 get one ticket, $2 two tickets, and so on. It matters not whether you are an old subscriber paying up back dues or a new subscriber paying in advance, every dollar paid counts the same and gets a ticket.

One blank ticket has been sent to a person outside of the State to be numbered, the number to be known to no one but himself. This ticket after being numbered is sealed in two envelopes, these two enclosed in another envelope and mailed to Mr. J. L. Little, Cashier of the Bank of Greenville, to be kept in the bank by him until all the 1000 tickets are out, when the one at the bank will be opened and the number announced, and the person holding the ticket with the same number will be given the machine.

If you are already a subscriber to THE REFLECTOR now is a good time to pay up all arrears and some in advance, getting a ticket for every dollar paid. The more tickets you get the larger number of chances you have at the machine. If you do not take THE REFLECTOR now is the best time to subscribe, get the campaign, home and general news, and at the same time have a chance to get this fine sewing machine. The sooner the tickets are out the sooner somebody will get the machine. Tell your neighbor about this and get him interested.

Everybody knowing anything about sewing machines knows that the Wheeler & Wilson is the best. If you want to see it and have its good qualities shown you go to Sam White's store any time after Aug. 15th and he will take pleasure in showing you how it works, and telling you that THE REFLECTOR is going to give some subscriber a valuable prize in this Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine.

Meaning of Irrigation Bill.

The irrigation bill which passed the house by the vote of 146 to 55, it is confidently predicted, will in its operation show itself a better measure than some of the eastern farm papers believe. It amounts to nothing more than an extension of the homestead act. It makes homesteads which are dry and uninhabitable fertile and productive, but the cost of this improvement has to be borne by the homesteader. The government simply advances the money and gives him ten years in which to pay it back. Again, it is shown that, while it is hoped to ultimately reclaim a great tract of western land, the process must under the most favorable conditions to the west be very slow. If 2,000,000 acres a year should be reclaimed—and this is four times the amount estimated under the bill just passed—it would take fifty years to reclaim that part of the west which can be irrigated. This would not be a sufficient addition of land to nearly keep pace with our increase of population.

This would be taking half a century to open up, for instance, an area equal to the single state of Colorado. Such slow development, it is claimed, will never be felt by the eastern farmer.

Again, it is shown that the surplus products of irrigation will go in the future, as they do now, to the orient instead of coming east to compete with eastern farmers.—Guy E. Mitchell in Tennessee Farmer.

Bonemeal and Cracker Crumbs.

My experience is that there is nothing better than bonemeal to make bone and muscle in young poultry, says Mrs. Mark Thompson. I feed one tablespoon to every twenty chicks morning and night mixed with the food. I also find cracker crumbs an excellent feed when mixed with equal parts of cornmeal and middlings. These I buy at the cracker factory for a cent per pound.

Boys Who Grow Very Tall.

The Norwegian boy has for his next door neighbors the Laplanders. When the Norwegian boy grows up, he becomes one of the tallest men in the world, for there is no other race of men as big as the Norsemen. The Lapland boy, on the contrary, never grows very tall, although he is right next door geographically to the Norwegians.

Will Be Buffalo Warden.

Charles J. Jones, popularly known as "Buffalo" Jones, has been appointed buffalo warden for Yellowstone park. Mr. Jones is well known as the chief exponent for a number of years of the proposal that the government do something to prevent the complete extinction of the American bison. He has been a hunter and trapper most of his life and as a resident of Kansas became familiar with the habits of the buffalo and noted with much regret the rapidity with which the king of the plains was passing away. Mr. Jones was largely instrumental in securing the appropriation at the last session of congress for the establishment of a government buffalo ranch in Yellowstone park. It is his establishment which will be under his charge.

Among certain people there is a strong idea that nothing does more harm to dogs than salt, but as a matter of fact when administered in small quantities it materially benefits them. There is no doubt, however, that to give dogs or any other animals broth in which salt pork or bacon has been boiled would be almost equivalent to giving them a dose of poison.
