S. A. Redding Dead.

On last Monday morning S. A. Redding, of this county, Mr. Redding was the son of Dr. J. P. Redding, who passed over the river a little over a year ago. Shade, as he was familiarly called, was in the prime of life, about 43 years of age, and was happily married last winter to Miss Lilly Cherry, who survives him to mourn his loss, besides he leaves two sisters and mother. He died of Hiccoughs, he had them for about ten days and medical skill seemed to avail nothing in the efforts to relieve him, and truly Pamlico has lost one of its best and most useful citizens.—Bayboro Sentinel. (2nd)

Mr. Redding was once a resident of Greenville, and many here will learn of his death with sincere regret.

Mule Found.

The lost mule belonging to Mr. J. A. K. Tucker, advertised in Wednesday's paper, was found in one of the stalls at the Jeffress Warehouse Wednesday evening.

CANDIDATES AT PACTOLUS.

They Have a Good Day Down There.

The Democratic candidates in this county, at least most of them, spoke at Pactolus Wednesday. There was a fair sized crowd present and good attention was given the speakers.

J. B. Little, one of the candidates for the Legislature, being at his home precinct and chairman of the township executive committee, acted as master of ceremonies and made the opening speech. He referred to his having been the nominee of the party for the Legislature six years ago and meeting defeat with the rest of the ticket that went down under the fusion landslide, but that Democracy had come to the front again and he was once more before the people as their candidate. He urged all to be true to their principals and stand together for the ticket. He told the few negroes in hearing that their course in the past is what brought about the constitutional amendment which deprives them of voting.

J. W. Page and J. R. Barnhill, two of the candidates for County Commissioners; J. J. Moore and W. H. Ross, for Justices of the Peace; O. W. Harrington, Sheriff; E. Williams, Register of Deeds and D. C. Moore, Superior Court Clerk, were introduced in the order named and each made brief announcements touching his candidacy.

Henry T. King, the other candidate for the Legislature, was more lengthy in his remarks, touching the different points of what he referred to as his platform. He spoke in favor of a division of the school money between the races in accordance with the taxes each race paid, and referring to the inequality of taxes paid by corporations and individuals said he favored all being taxed according to what they had. He also favored the enactment of plain laws which the people could understand, enlarging petit juries to eighteen jurors, twelve of whom could find a verdict; putting convicts on public works instead of the State running farms; a law that will make it a misdemeanor for a laborer to fail to keep his agreement, and a law that will prevent indiscriminate summoning of witnesses.

A. L. Blow, candidate for the Senate, made the closing speech, and his was the real speech of the day. He took up the records of two parties in this State and gave them a comparison, showing the economy and clean record of the Democratic party against the extravagance and corruption of the Republican party. He showed how the Republican leaders were dodging in an effort to annul the constitutional amendment so they could get the negroes to voting again and get their party back in power. He met and answered the charges made in the Republican platform against the Democratic party and showed that the latter is the only party that merits the confidence of the people. He urged every white man to register and to do his duty at the coming election.

Pactolus will be all right on election day and give the ticket a good majority.

It May Come Up.

If the whites should not pay taxes to educate the blacks, then why should the rich pay taxes to educate the poor? You may be called upon to answer this question some time in the future.—Durham Herald.

End of the Century Book Club.

Reported for The Reflector.]

The End of the Century Book Club held its first meeting for the ensuing year with Mrs. James L. Little, at her pretty new home on Fifth street, on Tuesday afternoon 7th. The lovely young hostess did the honors of the evening with easy and charming cordiality.

The new President, Mrs. R. R. Cotten, presided and the club entered upon its year's work with an air that meant business.

The programme mapped out is one of unusual depth and breadth, and the papers read by Mrs. Cotten, Mrs. Little, Mrs. Laughinghouse and Mrs. W. F. Harding, would furnish interesting matter for any current magazine.

The book of which a synopsis and criticisms were given, was that superb novel, "A friend of Caesar," the master piece of Prof. Davis, of Harvard.

The Club will hold its next meeting with Mrs. R. R. Cotten, on Tuesday, the 21st inst.

The conference of the coal strikers and the miners' representatives with President Roosevelt on last Friday and the utter failure of the last named to make any impression on the mine owners has attracted the attention of the entire country. The press has almost universally condemned the action of the latter in declining all efforts to bring about an amicable settlement of the dispute and resented their insolent manner of treating the president on that occasion. The action of these men is rapidly building up a strong sentiment in favor of the strikers.—Wilmington Messenger.

Head Cut Off.

Saturday evening in South Rocky Mount a white man named Ben Jones had his head cut off by a passing train. It is presumed that he was under the influence of liquor and stumbled just as the train was about to pass, his head falling upon the rail. It was cut diagonally. Part of the head above one ear remained with the body.

Mr. Jones has a brother who is a merchant of that place.—Tarboro Southerner.

BLACK JACK ITEMS.

BLACK JACK, N. C., Oct. 8. Mrs. Beaa Smith and daughter, Miss Lula, left Monday for Vanceboro to visit friends and relatives.

Mrs. L. H. White and daughter spent Wednesday in Greenville shopping.

Abram Dixon went to Washington today.

Johnie Moore accompanied by Miss Lula Smith attended services at Bear Creek Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnie Williams spent Saturday night and Sunday here.

The Usual Campaign Stuff.

It will be well observed that the "effective" speeches the candidates are making are again creating a profound impression. The different orators are tearing each other into shreds, the people are tumbling over each other to grasp the hand of the spellbinder, and scores and hundreds of the opposite party are making haste to say that they see things in a different light, and will give their enthusiastic support to the man they once hated. All these things are going on now, but in November the same old citizens will line up right enough at the usual time and place when the voting begins.—Charity and Children.

Governor Stone seems to have done what the operators appealed to the President to do—called out the national guard to protect the mines. But that is not settling the strike nor will it relieve the coal famine. The operators, by this move, are getting the protection of the dear people whom they delight to plunder, for the militia is formed of the people. Gov. Stone's latest action will probably only make a bad matter worse; men can be led when they will refuse to be driven. There is but one way to settle the strike—arbitration. If the operators or the miners refuse a mild, agreeable adjustment of differences, then force the arbitration. Patience will soon cease to be a virtue with the American public—they must have coal.—Charlotte Observer.

A Duluth man wrote "I have just found out what an ass I am," and then proceeded to kill himself, says the Wilmington Star. Many relatives will mourn his loss.

Every day now shortens the time in which there will be an opportunity to register. Keep it in mind that only those who register can vote in the coming election:

President Roosevelt has expressed his disapproval of the "lily white" Republicans in North Carolina and Alabama excluding negroes from the councils of the party. Teddy knows that the negroes compose the biggest end of the voting strength of the Republican party in the South.

Only Four Ballot Boxes.

At the next election there will be four ballot boxes at every precinct or voting place and every voter will be entitled to deposit four ballots as follows:

1. On one ballot will be the names of the candidates for Corporation Commissioner, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Justices of the Supreme Court and Judges of the Supreme Court.
2. On another ballot will be the name of the candidate for member of Congress.
3. On another ballot will be the names of the candidates for Solicitor, members of the General Assembly, and all the county officers.
4. And on another ballot will be the names of the candidates for township offices, such as magistrates and constables.

It will be noticed that the names of the candidates for the Legislature and for the county offices will be on the same ballot, and not on separate ballots as at last election. The ballots must be on white paper without any device, and may be printed or written, or partly written and partly printed, so that the voter may scratch any name and write another in its place if he wishes to do so.—Chatham Record.

What One Boy Has Done.

Billie Moore, who is a mere scrap of a boy and an orphan at that, has shown what a boy can do when he has pluck and grit. Last spring he traded a game rooster for an old plug of a mule that nobody thought would live two weeks, paying 50 cents to boot. Billie's friends were sure he had gotten the worst of the trade but Billie himself seemed to know better. He began feeding up that old plug and rented a small farm. As a result he will make two bales of cotton, 100 bushels of corn and 1,250 bundles of fodder. He did all the plowing with the mule in question, and now holds the animal at $25, and refuses to take less.—Raleigh Correspondence.

I. O. H.—Greenville Conclave No. 540, meets every second and fourth Monday night in Odd Fel- lows Hall. W. B. Wilson Archon, D. S. Smith Sec.

Natural Anxiety.
Mothers regard approaching winter with uneasiness, children take cold so easily. No disease costs more little lives than croup. It's attack is so sudden that the sufferer is often be- yond human aid before the doctor ar- rives. Such cases yield readily to One Minute Cough Cure. Liquefies the mucus, allays inflammation, re- moves danger. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Cures coughs, colds, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung trouble. F. S. McMahon, Hampton, Ga.: "A bad cold rendered me voice- less, just before an oratorical contest. I intended to withdraw but took One Minute Cough Cure. It restored my voice in time to win the medal." Jno. L. Wooten.

Do Good—It Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real es- tate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than sub- stantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medi- cine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold at Wooten's Drug Store, Green- ville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

No one can vote in the approach- ing election unless he registers on or before October 25th.

The Worst Form.

Multitudes are singing the praises of Kodol, the new discovery which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what they eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you feel good all over. Mrs. Cranfill, of Troy, I. T., writes: For a number of years I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol and after using four bottles I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers of indigestion and dyspepsia. Take a dose after meals. It digests what you eat. Jno. L. Wooten.

Gained Forty Pounds in Thirty Days.

For several months our younger brother had been troubled with indigestion. He tried several remedies but got no benefit from them. We purchased some of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and he commenced taking them. Inside of thirty days he had gained forty pounds in flesh. He is now fully recovered. We have a good trade on the Tablets. —HOLLEY BROS., Merchants, Long Branch, Mo. For sale at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

He Learned a Great Truth.

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for the same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. Ran a Ten Penny Nail Through His Hand.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately ap- plied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and occasionally afterwards. To my sur- prise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

Forty Years' Torture.

To be relieved from a torturing dis- ease after 40 years' torture might well cause the gratitude of anyone. That is what DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve did for C. Haney, Geneva, O. He says: "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me of piles after I had suffered 40 years." Cures cuts, burns, wounds, skin diseases. Beware of counter- feits. Jno. L. Wooten.

TWO CASES OF TYPHUS.

Story of a Turkish Doctor and a Modified Prescription.

Mr. Oscanyan in his book, "The Sul- tan and His People," says that a Tur- kish physician was called to visit a man who was very ill of typhus fever. The doctor considered the case hopeless, but prescribed for the patient and took his leave. The next day, in passing by, he inquired of a servant at the door if his master was dead.

"Dead!" was the reply. "No, he is much better."

The doctor hastened upstairs to ob- tain the solution of the miracle.

"Why," said the convalescent, "I was consumed with thirst, and I drank a painful of the juice of pickled cab- bage."

"Wonderful!" quoth the doctor, and out came the tablets, on which he made this inscription: "Cured of typhus fever, Mehemed Agha, an uphol- sterer, by drinking a painful of pickled cabbage juice."

Soon after the doctor was called to another patient, a yaghligkee, or dealer in embroidered handkerchiefs, who was suffering from the same malady. He forthwith prescribed "a painful of pickled cabbage juice."

On calling the next day to congratu- late his patient on his recovery he was astonished to be told that the man was dead.

In his bewilderment at these phe- nomena he came to the safe conclusion and duly noted it in his memoranda that "although in cases of typhus fever pickled cabbage juice is an efficient remedy it is not to be used unless the patient be by profession an upholster- er."

A Poor Compliment.

"People don't often insult you when they mean to be gracious," said an artist the other day. "Insults are the crea- tions of ill nature and not mere mat- ters of words. But I had an experi- ence that made me laugh and yet irri- tated me."

"Somebody take one of your snow scenes for a spring landscape?" in- quired an amiable friend.

"No," replied the artist; "this was not a matter of professional pride. A tradesman sent me a bill in which he unintentionally charged me only about a third of what I owed him."

"Thought he stood a better chance of getting it, I suppose," interrupted the facetious friend.

"Now, hold on, Billy, and let me tell the story. Well, that was the second time he had sent a bill for less than I owed, and I wrote him a note calling his attention to the error. This morn- ing I got a letter from him in which he 'thanked me for my honesty.' A man may thank you for your courtesy or for your kindness, but when he thanks you for being honest it is an insult. One might as well praise a man for not beating his wife."

The Soil Was Not Congenial.

It was Aunt Rebecca's first visit to her niece, a city girl who had married a few years before and begun house- keeping in a pretty town in southern Michigan.

"Myrtle," she said, looking out of the kitchen window one morning, "you have a fine patch of ground here that seems to be going to waste. Why don't you plant peach trees? They grow beautifully in this climate."

"No, aunty," replied the young wife; "the soil is too poor. I have tried it. You remember those canned peaches you sent me year before last? They were the finest I ever saw—finer than any that grow here. Well, I saved the stones, and, without saying anything to Robert about it, I planted them out there in the yard, but not one of them ever came up—not a single one!"

The Royal Color.

Purple has always been considered the royal color. The ill fated Charles I. was, however, at his own desire, crowned in a robe of white. Although he was seriously reminded that of the two exceptions to this rule, Richard II. and Henry VI, who wore white satin robes at their coronations, both had come to a violent end, one at Ponte- fract castle and one in the Tower, Charles I. was resolute in his decision, and, when, twenty-three years after- ward, almost to a day, his body was conveyed to its grave through a heavy snowstorm, the superstitious could not help remarking that the third "white king" had suffered a violent death.—St. James Gazette.

An Optimistic View.

The invalid looked out of the window just as a hearse went by, and he smiled happily.

"Dye mind, Biddy," he said, "it's worth the dyin' to have a ride in a thing like that, with the feathers on top an' a man with a bug on his hat, an' you bein' greater an' more neces- sary than the marshal in a St. Pat- rick's day parade. There's wanst in ye're life ye're the whole thing, an' that's whin ye're dead."—Chicago Post.

The Sensible Thing.

Schoolmaster—What is the meaning of one twenty-fifth?
Boy—I don't remember.
Schoolmaster—If you had twenty-five friends visiting you and only one apple for them, what would you do?
Boy—I'd wait till they'd gone and then eat it myself.

Unfortunate.

Von Blumer—I wonder what kind of people have taken the house across the way.
Mrs. Von Blumer—I don't know. I was out the day they moved in.—New York Herald.

Why a Man Shouldn't.

There are two things that should keep a man from worrying—if he have no reason for worrying, there's no use worrying; if he have a reason, there is no use.—Los Angeles Herald.

Candlesticks.

Patent candlesticks have the ad- vantage of being practical and keep- ing the candle burning always at the same height. There is a tall silver piece extending above the candle- stick about the height of the can- dle. This is really a case for the candle, and beneath it is a strong spring. The candle is put inside the case, with only the wick appearing at the top. This is lighted, and as the candle burns down the spring below is constantly pressing up and holds the candle always in the same position, and there is no gradual lowering of the light, as is the case with the ordinary candlestick when the candle burns down.

The Sink.

Upon the proper care of the sink the healthfulness of the kitchen largely depends. It is possible to keep the sink fresh and clean by using copperas and water or by using ammonia. One pound of cop- peras dissolved in a gallon of boil- ing water is the right solution, and one cupful of this to a quart of hot water makes a good daily wash for the sink. Strong and cheap am- monia is first rate for cleaning out the pipe when poured down it undilut- ed, but if you like a painted sink nothing is much better than kero- sene oil to rub over the paint and brighten it.

Fire Screens.

Pretty fire screens are cheaply made by having the home carpenter fashion a frame of pine the desired size in one piece, which is generally 36 inches high and 30 inches wide, mounted on projecting feet finished with rollers. Enamel the frame with two coats of ivory, cream, gray, brown, turquoise or pale blue enamel paint and when perfectly dry add a curtain of plain or figured india silk in harmony with the furnish- ings of the room, running it on lit- tle brass rods, top and bottom, and having a tiny ruffle above the rod.

Things In the Ice Chest.

The ice chest will be in a much better condition, the food will keep better and the ice will last longer if care is taken to put away portions of left over food on small, clean dishes and not until they are thor- oughly cold. Wipe off the shelves or racks as soon as anything is spilled and be sure that the ice is clean before it is put inside. Many articles which would impart or ab- sorb odors and yet which must be kept in the ice chest may be kept to better advantage if tightly wrapped in rice paper.

An Emergency Closet.

In every house there should be an emergency closet carefully fur- nished and promptly replenished when supplies begin to lower. In it should be kept a cleaning fluid, tur- pentine, gasoline or benzine, ja- velle water, oxalic acid, prepared chalk, chloride of lime, ammonia, absorbent paper, alcohol and the thousand and one things which, if not used daily, are indispensable when they are wanted.

Care of Sheepskin Rugs.

Sheepskin rugs must never have the felt side made wet. To clean them tack them around a stout bar- rel and scrub them with a clean scrubbing brush and hot suds in which some good washing powder has been dissolved. Rinse thorough- ly, leave them on the barrel to dry and while they are drying use a clean currycomb to prevent the mat- ting of the wool. They will be fluffy and white as snow.

The Crow's Language.

Crows have no fewer than twenty- seven different cries, each distinctly referable to a different action.

Don't Treat Symptoms

Go after the cause. Stimulants and cathartics will never cure indigestion. They may temporarily relieve the system but the next meal clogs it again. The food should be digested. The nourishment—health—strength it contains should be appropriated—absorbed by the system.

Children Thrive on Kodol

purifies, cleanses, strengthens and sweetens the stomach. This new discovery digests all classes of food and assists the stomach and digestive organs in assimilating and transforming it into the kind of nourishment that is taken up by the blood and fed to the tissues throughout the various organs of the body. Kodol cures indigestion and dyspepsia, thus removing the cause of all stomach troubles. Kodol gives such strength to the body that it is invaluable in all wasting diseases.

"I wish to thank you for what Kodol has done for me," writes Clifton Gilton, Collett, Ind. "It cured me of dyspepsia after everything else had failed. When I tried Kodol it helped me right away. I cheerfully recommend it."
