Pre-Nuptial Reception.

On Monday evening, Oct. 13th, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Forbes, Miss Clara Bruce Forbes gave a farewell reception to the Sans Souci book club, of which she has been a favorite member since its organization.

Shortly after 9 o'clock, the members of the club with a few special friends assembled at the charming and hospitable home of the bride elect.

Visitors were cordially received by Mrs. Quinerly, a sister of Miss Forbes, assisted by Mr. Forbes and Miss Hines, of Kinston. In the Reception room the guests were again welcomed by Miss Winnie Skinner and Mr. Wooten, of Kinston. Just beyond this couple Mr. Sutton, of LaGrange, stood with Miss Forbes, on whom as a matter of course the interest of the evening was centered.

Miss Forbes always, lovely and attractive, had never appeared to greater advantage, as with gentle yet smiling courtesy she welcomed her young friends for the last time, in her girlhood's home. She was attired in an exquisite form of white taffeta of rare quality and richness. The home had been elaborately decorated displaying the dexter fingers of an artist at every turn. An elaborate supper, consisting of seven courses was served to seated guests, in the dining room, which reflected the beautiful service and the elegantly dressed men and women in a dozen gorgeous mirrors. The occasion was one long to be remembered and hundreds of good wishes were showered upon the lovely young hostess, mingled with feelings of regret that the club and society are to lose her from our midst, to all of which the successful man listened with a radiant smile at his own good fortune.

Mr. Hadley has made many warm friends here, despite the fact that this his priceless gain is to be a sore loss to Greenville.

Death in Kinston.

Mr. W. C. Fields, one of Kinston's most prominent men, died at his home at 7:30 this morning, Board of Education.

The Board of Education at its meeting Monday, in addition to its regular routine business, considered the proposed removal of the school house in district number 1, white, in Bethel township. Lengthy and lively discussions by interested parties were heard upon the subject, the Board finally deciding against removal.

A number of new school houses were reported completed and paid for. The board is making an earnest effort to improve the school houses in the county, about 20 new buildings having been erected within the last two years.

All schools are ordered to be opened by the first Monday in November.

Washington Letter

Special Correspondence from the Capital of the Nation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 11.

A violation of precedent and statute, paralleled only by his own recent rulings in regard to government reserves in national banks, has just been perpetrated by Secretary of the Treasury Shaw in his orders to the collectors of customs in regard to the importation of coal. Secretary Moody recently stated in Wisconsin that the duty of 67 cents per ton on anthracite coal was "smuggled into the Dingley Tariff law in a sneaking and cowardly manner" and ought to be repealed at the short session of Congress. Secretary Shaw, however, does not seem to deem it necessary to await congressional action. By his own ipse dixit he has practically repealed the law. He has issued orders which are interpreted by Collector of the port Stranahan of New York to mean that Welsh coal, much of which is known to contain less than 92 per cent. fixed carbon, the limit fixed by the Dingley tariff bill, is to be admitted free of duty.

Mr. Frank Campbell, chairman of the New York democratic committee, has made public a statement in which he says that the coal strike will insure democratic victory in his state in the coming election. He says the people will hold the republican party responsible for the scarcity of coal. Governor Stone first abstained from sending the militia in sufficient strength to prevent disorder and then when the President had made a proposition to the union which would in all probability have been accepted, Gov. Stone sent the whole military strength of the state to the scene so that the strikers could not accept the President's proposition without appearing to yield to the show of the military strength. He further says that Governor Odell has it in his power to disrupt the coal trust in New York state by process of law the trust clearly violating the Sherman law. The efforts of Governor Odell, and Senators Platt, and Quay and Penrose to secure an adjustment of the differences between the miners and the operators would seem to give color to Mr. Campbell's prediction.

COAL STRIKE SETTLED.

(Special to Reflector.)

New York, Oct. 14.—Advices today from the scene of the coal strike state that the strike is practically settled, and the miners are preparing to return to work.

The basis of the settlement is not known, but it is believed that the strikers have sustained their position, though both sides have made concessions. There is widespread good feeling at the termination of the long struggle.

Notice.

There will soon be a change in the firm of the John Flanagan Buggy Co., and all persons indebted to us are requested to settle at once. By so doing you will save us trouble and yourself cost.

Our Raleigh Letter

Notes from the State Capital

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 13.

The joint canvass between Senator Pritchard and Hon. Locke Craig closed Saturday, but the fight for the Senatorship may be said to be in its prime just now, and it will be kept up till the Legislature settles it. Most of the members of the General Assembly will come to Raleigh in January not only unpledged but without having settled in their own minds which one of the half-dozen and more aspirants for the Senatorship it will be best for the State and for them to support.

SOME BAD BLUNDERS OF REGISTRARS.

Voters are registering very slowly in this neck o' the woods. Only ten days left in which to attend to this important matter. The letter of Chairman Simmons, scoring the Rutherford registrar who refused registration to an intelligent negro solely on the ground that he misspelled a word, and advising him to recall the applicant and register him, is generally commended. Other errors of misguided registrars in other counties are now being reported, on a par with the above cited case. Such conduct only injures the Democratic party, the suffrage amendment and the cause of white supremacy. The negroes qualified to vote under the new election law should be promptly registered when they apply. Both the law and Democratic integrity are involved, and both demand a faithful, honest and intelligent execution of the new constitutional amendment. Indeed the legality and existence of the amendment itself depend upon it.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction has made a compilation of county superintendents' reports which shows that the total enrollment in the rural public schools during 1902 was 291,727. This is a gain of about 1,500 over 1901.

The Southern Railway, Seaboard Air Line, Atlantic Coast Line and Norfolk and Western have made a rate of one fare fifty cent coupon admission to fair grounds for the great State Fair. Tickets to be sold October 25th to 30th, inclusive final limit November 3rd.

President J. S. Cunningham, of the North Carolina Tobacco Growers' Association, has called a meeting of that body to be held in Raleigh during Fair week.

There are now only three negro postmasters in North Carolina, and two of these are at negro villages where not a single white person receives mail. The other (at Wilson) whose term has expired, will soon give way to a white successor, it is said.

Hope Fire Co.

Hope Fire Company held its regular meeting Monday night. There was a large attendance and a very enthusiastic meeting. Several applications for membership were received, and three new members were elected. The names of members who had joined another company were dropped from the roll. The company will hold its next regular monthly meeting the second Monday night in November.

Two Girls Hurt.

While at play, Monday afternoon, two little daughters of Mr. A. L. Blow—Margaret and Florence—were painfully hurt. They run together and struck their heads with such force as to give each a severe cut.

His Clothes Seem Part of Him.

This is the remark that is so often made about the man wearing a suit bought here. It's the utter absence of the ready-made look that does the business. The new swagger cut garments in the latest fabrics are here.

Suitings this season are handsome but not loud in style. Our suits are equal to any high price, tailor-made garments. Every one bears the stamp of merit, and, remember, we guarantee every garment from stuff to stitches. May we suit you this season? Our prices wont prevent our doing so.

It is to be hoped that the two fire companies will be able to get together on a blaze.

There is still time to have your suggestion for the settlement of the coal strike tested.

Wouldn't it be well to advertise for plans for damming the pond at the corner of Fourth and Main streets?

Now that it has been discovered that peach stones will make "a quick, hot fire, and one that will last," two measures of stones being equal to one of coal, the situation begins to be relieved. With peach stones and oil-soaked brick, we can still holler for Mitchell.

If you are determined to live up to your opportunities, and expect eyes to have any part in subduing the obstreperous Philipino on the other side of the world and the coal barons on this, it is of the greatest importance that you register before the 25th is over. Won't cost you a cent. If these questions, with the tariff, do not interest you, there is still the probability that somebody will spring the dog tax. Oh, my beloved speculators, what would you do then, if you hadn't registered? Be warned in time.

Today's Kinston News has an article which leaves little doubt that smallpox is raging in New Bern. "Numerous houses have been quarantined." Smallpox is bad enough, but New Bern will indeed be open to sympathy if it should turn out that the town had been quarantined before the "wild man" got away.

Pluck, Not Luck.

You hear a great deal said in this day and time about "luck." It is a common expression that So-and-So is a "lucky dog." Some men say, "If I only had the chance that So-and-So has what I would do." It is all nonsense to talk that way. Success comes to him who pursues it. Some people have riches thrust upon them and some inherit, but the vast majority of mankind that are successful are so from the fact that they work and save what they work for. The reason some people never have money is because they are spend-thrifts. Many persons, professional and artisan, who have acquired the habit of spending all they make remember that there was a time in their boyhood days when they worked for almost nothing and as a rule had more money than they have now when they are making fairly good wages. It is all due to the fact that they have acquired the habit of spending their money as fast as they make it and sometimes faster. There is no such a thing as "luck" about acquiring such a habit. Along this line an unknown writer says:

"There is nothing so false in life as the idea that the fates choose victims to which shall be given only failure. Each man chooses for himself. Luck is an unknown quantity in life's vast problem, while 'pluck' solves all. The fates are only given to the habit of paying each man as he values himself. Place two boys at school together, of equal advantages as to birth, breeding, educational surroundings, etc. The one will rise as high as humanity can rise, socially and financially, and die lauded of all men, the other will go down into his grave unwept, un-honored, and unsung, a beggar. Why? Because the one believed the world owed him a living, and would be proud of the chance of elevating him; while the other believed that world owed him nothing, and would only give him what he wrested from its hands by sheer force of will and determination. Nine-tenths of the successful men in this country today have made their money by continuous strokes. They started out on life's journey knowing nothing of life, but everything of their own power, and determined to work to the end. This is the true way to succeed."

We believe there is more genuine happiness in the log cabins of South Carolina than in the palatial homes of Newport.—Ed. H. De-Camp in Gaffney, S. C., Ledger.
