REGISTER.

Let Everybody Register Who is Entitled To Do So.

There is an entirely new registration this year. Your old registration will not entitle you to vote this year. Unless you register before the books close on the 25th of October, you cannot vote this year. The books are now open for registration, and will be open for that purpose every day, Sunday excepted, until sunset, Saturday, October 25th. Let everybody who is entitled to vote under the amendment register at once. Register yourself and get your neighbors to register.

Note first: The adoption of the Constitutional Amendment made an entirely new registration necessary. The disfranchised negro registered in the campaign of 1900, and if the Legislature had not provided for new registration this year the names of all these negroes would remain on the registration books.

Note second: An entirely new registration this year was necessary to put the amendment in operation in this election.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

Read It Carefully Before You Vote.

Below are the names that appear upon the Democratic State ticket that will be voted on the 4th of November. When you go to vote read your ticket carefully and see that every one of these names are on it. There is reason to fear that bogus tickets will be circulated on election day and every Democrat should be careful not to vote one with a wrong name on it.

Winterville Department.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C. Oct. 18, 1902.

Henry T. King, of the King's Weekly, passed through here Wednesday on the freight on his way home from Raleigh.

We "boys" of the Tar Heel Band went down to Ayden Thursday night and made our best music for our friends of that thriving little town. We were treated nicely and some of these days we are going to see them again.

Mrs. "Polly" Smith who has been visiting friends down in Craven for several days has returned home.

The little daughter of Mr. Mac Smith was buried at the Byrd burial ground last Wednesday afternoon.

G. A. Kittrell has a car load of cotton seed meal and a car load of cotton seed hulls for sale.

Several of our Baptist friends are making preparation to attend the association at Falling-Creek church, above Goldsboro, next week.

J. L. Hamilton, while standing near the freight train Thursday night had a nail stuck in his right arm by a negro working carelessly throwing a piece of board with the nail in it. The wound is right painful but not serious.

There were a large number of Masons present at their meeting in Ayden last Thursday night, and judging from the racket they kept up some one seemed to be passing from the lower to the higher plane of Masonry with all the pomp and and glory necessary to such an occasion.

The moon was in total eclipse at 12:30 o'clock Thursday night. For awhile it was quite dark.

Herbert Willoughby and family, who have been living here for some time, will move to Greenville.

Mac Smith and family, of Vanceboro, have rented the Dixon house and will come here to live. There are several families to move here in a short while.

Large streams from little fountains flow, tall oaks from little acorns grow, small investments carefully placed make a big business in life's busy race and so the Cox Factory Co., are now rejoicing because they have always found it so, to convince a needful public of their good intent they extend to them an invitation to visit their plant and they will show the best wagons, carts, cart saddles and back bands on the continent. If you don't know the way write them a letter and they will send you a reply that will make you feel better. Their address is A. G. Cox Mfg Co., Winterville, N. C.

R. G. Chapman is home from Greenville court having been excused as a juror for the term.

Mr. Moseley, of Ayden, was here yesterday buying cotton.

There seems to be no hold up to pupils coming in to attend the Winterville High School. New ones come in every week. Another dormitory and an enlargement of the school building is a necessity not to be avoided.

Anti-Saloon League.

The Anti-Saloon League will meet in the Baptist church Sunday evening at 4 o'clock. The ladies of the town are earnestly requested to be present. Subject for discussion will be, what should be the attitude of the women of the town towards the Anti-Saloon League.

Circus Date Changed.

Owing to the existence of small pox in New Bern the Walter L. Main circus has canceled its date for that place. This has necessitated a change of date for Greenville, and the show will be here on Wednesday, Oct. 29th, instead of on 30th as first announced. This change has also made much trouble for the bill posters, as they had already put up bills for the 30th. Today they had to go around and take down all of the bills and now they are putting up new ones for the 29th. Don't get confused on dates now, but bear in mind that the show will be in Greenville on Wednesday, Oct. 29th.

President Roosevelt's opinion that the tariff should be revised by its friends is the result of mature deliberation. That seems by long odds to be the best thing for the tariff, for the trusts, and for the G. O. P., if it is to be revised at all.

Ex-President Cleveland seems to be very much afraid the republicans will steal the democratic issue of tariff revision before the latter party can get in position to put it into effect.—Wilmington Messenger.

Wouldn't it be funny if two great parties should agree on any one thing as best for the country? But we should still have the issue as to who shall do the revising; which is really the matter of importance, Mr. Cleveland.

Comparison of cost of Transportation over Good, Bad and Medium Roads.

An argument for good roads has been made by an engineer, who has estimated the cost of transporting goods over the highways. He figures that the cost of moving one ton by horse power over one mile of dry sandy road is 62 cents; over wet sand, 32 cents; over ruts and mud, 39 cents; over broken stone and ruts, 26 cents; over an earth road that is dry and hard, 18 cents; over a broken stone road in good condition, 8 cents; over a compact gravel road, 8.8 cents; over stone paving, 5.33 cents; over asphalt, 2.7 cents. It is argued that many millions of dollars would be saved and many tons of merchandise would be available in the markets, if the roads were such that transportation by wagon would cost not more than five cents a mile.

Natural Anxiety.

Mothers regard approaching winter with uneasiness, children take cold so easily. No disease costs more little lives than croup. Its attack is so sudden that the sufferer is often beyond human aid before the doctor arrives. Such cases yield readily to One Minute Cough Cure. Liquefies the mucus, allays inflammation, removes danger. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Cures coughs, colds, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung trouble. F. S. McMahon, Hampton, Ga.: "A bad cold rendered me voiceless just before an oratorical contest. I intended to withdraw but took Oge Minute Cough Cure. It restored my voice in time to win the medal." Jno. L. Wooten.

This is an entirely new registration. Don't forget to tell your neighbor about it.

Do Good—It Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

Look Out For Fever.

Biliousness and liver disorders at this season may be prevented by cleansing the system with DeWitt's Little Early Riser. These famous little pills do not gripe. They move the bowels gently, but copiously, and by reason of the tonic properties, give tone and strength to the glands. Jno. L. Wooten.

Don't fail to have your name recorded on the permanent registration record.

The Worst Form.

Multitudes are singing the praises of Kodol, the new discovery which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what they eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you feel good all over. Mrs. Cranfill, of Troy, I. T., writes: For a number of years I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol and after using four bottles I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers of indigestion and dyspepsia. Take a dose after meals. It digests what you eat. Jno. L. Wooten.

He Learned a Great Truth.

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for the same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. FOR THE CHILDREN

The Game of Wanderers.

When we were children and went to the "real country," where there were woods and long stretches of sand and the bay splashing in at our very front door, we used to invent many games that we could never play anywhere else.

One of these we called wanderers. We always had as many as eight in the game, and we usually counted out to see who would be the leaders. We had to count out twice, for we needed two leaders. Then each leader chose his men in turn, just as we used to choose sides for a spelling match. When we were all chosen, the leaders would toss up to see who should be the first to go forth in the woods. You see, we had everything very fair, so as not to waste any time in disputing.

If Ralph's side won the toss, then Harry's party all turned their backs while Ralph's party went wandering off into the woods. We in Harry's party kept our backs turned and our eyes shut till we had counted 200 straight—one, two, three, four, not five, ten, fifteen, twenty or any of the other short cuts. We all counted together out loud, and this gave the other party time to steal away silently in any direction it pleased, and when we had finished counting they were nowhere in sight and we had no idea of where to look for them, but we started out all together through the woods hunting them. We went as silently as we could so as to come upon them unawares, and they went as silently as they could so we would not get on their trail. If one of our party saw even one of their party, we gave a big Indian warwhoop, and they knew they were discovered. Then they turned their backs just where they were and counted, and we went stealing off through the woods. Sometimes we spent whole mornings evading each other in the woods. The silence and the mystery of following up the wood paths, perhaps to victory, perhaps to defeat, were very fascinating to us all, and if I were a little boy again I should like nothing better than to steal through the woods, with the shy wood birds and rabbits all about me, playing a game of wanderers.—New York Tribune.

A Child Bishop.

A curious custom formerly prevailing on St. Nicholas day was the election of a boy to maintain the state and authority of a bishop, for which purpose he was clothed in rich episcopal robes and wore a miter. Dean Colet, in the statutes of St. Paul's school, expressly ordains that "his scholars should every Childermas (Innocent's) day come to Paul's church and hear the chylde bishop's sermon and after be at the hygh masse, and each of them offer a penny to the chylde bishop." On Nov. 13, 1554, the bishop of London ordered that all the churches in his diocese should elect boy bishops to take part in processions in the streets of the metropolis. With the rise of Protestantism this election was suppressed, but the Eton montem was a continuance under another form. The "boy preacher" was known in England before he came from America.—London Telegraph.

The Shoe Nail.

A farmer saddled his horse to ride to town, and, though he saw that one of the shoes needed a nail, he only said, "It does not matter much about a nail," and rode away.

He had not yet completed half his journey when his horse cast his shoe. "If there were a forge near at hand," said he, "I should have the horse shod. Meanwhile, there are still three shoes to go on with."

But the horse next hurt his hoof upon the stony ground and began to go lame. Suddenly there sprang forward two robbers from the forest to plunder the traveler. He was unable to escape on a horse that limped, and so they took from him his horse, with bridle, saddle and portmanteau.

"I could not have expected," said he, "to lose my horse and my property on account of a single nail!"—From German of C. von Schmid.

Got There at Last.

The bright boy applied for a job. "Do you want a boy?" he asked of the magnate of the office, standing before him cap in hand.

"Nobody wants a boy," replied the magnate, eying him sharply.

"Do you need a boy?" asked the applicant, nowise abashed.

"Nobody needs a boy," came the discouraging reply.

The boy stuck his cap on the back of his head.

"Well, say, mister," he inquired, "do you have to have a boy?"

"I'm sorry to say we do," he said, "and I guess you're about what we want."—Detroit Free Press.

A Natural Question.

Teacher—For what is the city of Lynn noted?

Small Boy—For its great amount of seed.

Teacher—Oh, no.

Small Boy—Then where does linseed come from?—Boys of the Empire.

Magie.

Three little kittens, out at play, Scampering about the lawn one day.

Three little kittens, as white as snow, Hunting for mischief, high and low.

A piece of stovepipe lying near, Dropped by the rubbish man, I fear.

Three little kittens, with snow white fur, Crept in at one end with contented pur.

Then a strange thing happened, as you'll agree, And wonder how such a thing could be.

For out of the other end into the light Crept three little kittens as black as night.

Save the Children

All stomach and bowel troubles in child or adult are due to a single cause—Indigestion.

Flux, colic, cholera morbus, diarrhoea, dysentery and all complaints of like nature, are the result of undigested foods fermenting in the stomach. The only way to prevent fever and to cure such troubles without injury to the membranes lining the stomach is to restore perfect digestion.

KODOL Digests What You Eat

Kodol is the new discovery which cures all stomach and bowel troubles by removing the cause. This famous remedy checks fermentation, cleanses, purifies and sweetens the stomach. Kodol digests all classes of food and gives to the body all of the nourishment, health and strength it contains.

Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all Stomach Troubles. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just the thing for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. It has helped me more than anything else in a long standing case of catarrh of the stomach.
