AUGE-HADDOCK.

Brilliant Marriage At Ayden.

At the Baptist church in Ayden N. C., on the evening of Oct. 22, Mr. Arthur Auge led to the hymeneal altar, Miss Sudie Haddock.

The church had been beautifully and attractively decorated, with autumn leaves, ferns and palms, interspersed with exquisite chrysanthemums, which under the soft candle lights produced a splendid touch of grand old nature as seen in the landscape just as the last rays of the sun are kissing it good night. The effect was truly inspiring to the large audience assembled. At 8 o'clock, under the deft touch of Miss Emma Cooper, of Kenansville, N. C. Lohengrin's wedding march was charmingly rendered. The ushers, W. O. Bilbro, G. F. Morrison, C. M. Holton and Marcellus Smith, proceeded down the central aisle. The bridal party entered in the following order:

Miss Myrtie Moon, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Dellie Burruss, of Richmond, Va. Prof. Stancill Hodges, of Washington, N. C., and J. J. Hathaway, of Petersburg, Va.

Miss Lizzie Anderson and Miss Willie Smith, of Ayden, D. H. McLawhorn, of Ayden and O. L. Whichard, of Parnele, Miss Clyde Cox, of Ayden, and Miss Bertha Dawson, of Littlefield, T. G. Bughman, of Ayden, and A. M. Moseley, of Wilmington, N. C.

Then came the lovely bride leaning on the arm of the groom.

Rev. J. R. Tingle pronounced the beautiful ceremony in an impressive style, while the gentle strains of "O Promise Me," came from the organ sweet as the song of a bird.

The bride was gowned in an elegant costume of white satin and chiffon and carried a bouquet of lovely roses.

The bride's maids were richly attired in white organdy and lace, each carrying a superb bouquet of pink roses.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride, where a reception was given.

The presents were numerous and handsome.

The bride is one of Ayden's most beautiful and attractive ladies. Mr. Auge is a young business man of energy and pluck, who has the confidence and esteem of many friends. May the blessings of heaven follow them through life. A. M. JAMES.

For years the students of social and industrial problems have been viewing with alarm the fact that the sons of men employed in agricultural pursuits do not as a rule follow in the footsteps of their fathers. The bad roads of the country are in part responsible for this. "Why do these boys leave the farm?" is the question they ask. Well, it may be the boys leave the farm because they don't wish to take the mean old thing with them when they go to the city. Bright boys may prefer to live in the city rather than on the farm for the reason that with the miserable roads found in most communities, to be removed a few miles from town means almost complete isolation from the centres of thought and activity.

THE STATE PRESS

News and Opinions.

The Gazette, Gastonia, tells of a remarkable case of insomnia. Mr. Levi Smith, a native of Big Long Creek, and who now lives with his daughter, Mrs. J. A. White, beyond the Ozark, recently went without sleep for forty-six consecutive days and nights, with apparently no serious results. Mr. Smith is in his 75th year, and is a veteran of the Civil War, having served two and a half years in the Fourth North Carolina Cavalry. He is now said to be going through another period of wakefulness, twenty days of which have already passed. He says that a slight dizziness is the only result he notices.

The President is fairly confronted with the negro problem. If he gives the negro in the South the recognition he has won by fidelity and service to the Republican party he must abandon hope for the growth of that party in the South. If he throws the negro overboard or permits others to do so, he subjects himself and his party to the charges of ingratitude and abandonment of friends in trouble, and risks the loss of the negro vote, which in normal conditions holds the balance of power in several important States of the North and Northwest, that is in the dilemma.—Winston Journal.

One trouble that a new political movement has to contend with is that there are a lot of people who have been kicked out of all other parties standing ready to attach themselves to it and there seems no way of keeping them out.—Durham Herald.

President Long, the able and patriotic President of the State Fair Association is in the city giving his personal attention to the last touches preparatory to the great event next week. President Long, Secretaries Pogue and Denson and their assistants have worked without ceasing to make this Fair the triumphal event of the Association, and their success will be abundantly demonstrated in each and every department next week. The people can come expecting to see something creditable to the State and most encouraging to all whose aspirations are for the highest development.—Raleigh Post.

Those cities and towns in North Carolina are most prosperous whose citizens are most enthusiastic over the achievements and prospects of their respective communities. Talking a town up is a very real and useful thing. Enthusiasm kindles enthusiasm and confidence begets confidence. To believe in your own community is a first essential, and then it is further necessary to inspire others by your faith and enthusiasm.—Winston Sentinel.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

Read It Carefully Before You Vote.

Below are the names that appear upon the Democratic State ticket that will be voted on the 4th of November. When you go to vote read your ticket carefully and see that every one of these names are on it. There is reason to fear that bogus tickets will be circulated on election day and every Democrat should be careful not to vote one with a wrong name on it.

REGISTER.

Let Everybody Register Who is Entitled To Do So.

There is an entirely new registration this year. Your old registration will not entitle you to vote this year. Unless you register before the books close on the 25th of October, you cannot vote this year. The books are now open for registration, and will be open for that purpose every day, Sunday excepted, until sunset, Saturday, October 25th. Let everybody who is entitled to vote under the amendment register at once. Register yourself and get your neighbors to register.

Note first: The adoption of the Constitutional Amendment made an entirely new registration necessary. The disfranchised negro registered in the campaign of 1900, and if the Legislature had not provided for new registration this year the names of all these negroes would remain on the registration books.

Note second: An entirely new registration this year was necessary to put the amendment in operation in this election.

Well Trouble.

The well-boring was checked today by the breaking of the rope to the bucket. An effort to get the bucket up this morning brought a piece of rope to the surface, but the bucket is still 160 feet under ground. It will be gotten out no doubt, but it isn't quite plain just how it may be done. The bucket is a section of iron pipe about five or six feet long and perhaps three inches in diameter, with a valve at the bottom. As the well is but little larger in diameter than the bucket, the problem of getting a sufficient hold on the bucket to raise it out is a very nice one.

After all, the consumer pays the freight.

To "be sure you are right" is often more difficult than to "go ahead."

"Experience is a dear school," but its graduates generally get the best jobs.

The worst thing about New Bern's smallpox is, that it seems likely to leave a scar on Kinston.

The independents are probably laying up for themselves treasures which they will not live to enjoy.

Anybody suppose an increase of wages is coming out of the coal barons? Just keep an eye on the price.

When a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of coal, he is in a fair way to appreciate a chill tonic.

Of course "there are as good fish in the sea as were ever taken out," and they may remain there, for all you care.

It is generally conceded by leading scientists that if catfish didn't have a large mouth they wouldn't be catfish.

Yes, a woman changes her mind; occasionally; but, much better than that, she more frequently changes a man's.

When a man begins to vote as he prays it doesn't much matter whether he puts an "amen" to his supplications or not.

Tomorrow is the last day for registering. If you fail to get your name on the list you are out of it when voting time comes.

When we get through with the horse shows probably we may be able to figure out what our women are wearing this season.

Durham seems to have the worst case of independentism of any town in the State, and Republicans are nursing it with much diligence.

Don't know exactly how it was, but when we learned that the tariff is to be revised by its friends, we didn't feel like we had experienced any relief.

The fellow Glasgow, who sold Bibles, organized Sunday schools, and stole horses must have been either an expansionist or a victim of mixed drinks.

When a man adopts the conclusion that "all is fair in love and war," he is more than apt to have gotten into a hole that it will take the devil and Tom Walker to get him out of.

The Worst Form.

Multitudes are singing the praises of Kodol, the new discovery which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what they eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you feel good all over. Mrs. Cranfill, of Troy, I. T., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol and after using four bottles I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers of indigestion and dyspepsia. Take a dose after meals. It digests what you eat. Jno. L. Wooten."

November 4th is election day. Are you a qualified voter? Have you registered?

Do Good--It Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds--some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

This is an entirely new registration. Don't forget to tell your neighbor about it.

Forty Years' Torture.

To be relieved from a torturing disease after 40 years' torture might well cause the gratitude of anyone. That is what DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve did for C. Haney, Geneva, O. He says: "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me of piles after I had suffered 40 years." Cures cuts, burns, wounds, skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. Jno. L. Wooten.

Have you registered?

Natural Anxiety.

Mothers regard approaching winter with uneasiness, children take cold so easily. No disease costs more little lives than croup. It's attack is so sudden that the sufferer is often beyond human aid before the doctor arrives. Such cases yield readily to One Minute Cure. Liquefies the mucus, allays inflammation, removes danger. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Cures coughs, colds, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung trouble. F. S. McMahon, Hampton, Ga.: "A bad cold rendered me voiceless just before an oratorical contest. I intended to withdraw but took One Minute Cough Cure. It restored my voice in time to win the medal." Jno. L. Wooten.

Don't fail to have your name recorded on the permanent registration record.

Look Out For Fever.

Billiousness and liver disorders at this season may be prevented by cleansing the system with DeWitt's Little Early Riser. These famous little pills do not gripe. They move the bowels gently, but copiously, and by reason of the tonic properties, give tone and strength to the glands. Jno. L. Wooten.

He Learned a Great Truth.

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for the same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

Ran a Ten Penny Nail Through His Hand.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

THE MASTER OF MAGIC...

BY ELIAS LISLE

Copyright, 1901, by A. S. Richardson

"So you're the fire king," said the proprietor of the town's one hotel as he examined the register from a heap of empty bottles.

"Fire king and master of magic, known to a large public as Pyro," said I politely, ornamenting my signature with lambent flames in ink.

"You've struck Campbelltown at a good time," said mine host. "So my ascendant star informed me," I replied.

"The miners are in from all around, Old Kanawha's in flood and that means knock off work at the mines."

"Seven days shall the flood endure; then shall the waters subside and those in the depths of the earth shall walk dry shod," I pronounced in my best manner.

"Dry shod, your eye!" said the hotel man scornfully. "It ain't the water that does the damage."

"He's taken to the water," said one. "Then we've got him," cried another.

"I kept on till the water was at my shoulders. Then something choked me like a rope around my neck."

"Pearl" it certainly was. There were two shooting affrays and a general fight that afternoon.

"I believe, of working in darkness, but they served my purposes by spreading abroad the fame of my gifts."

"Earth born villains," I shouted, "behold how the avenging Orens spouts forth flames from the face of the waters to protect its own!"

"There were answering shouts from all around the pond: 'There he is!'"

"Silence," I yelled, "and behold!"

"I had an overflowing house that night, and in the third row I beheld Mr. Turner's forbidding face."

"After the performance, as my assistant was out in the box office and I was getting my apparatus packed, the door burst open and Turner had me by the throat with both hands."

"M. Marchand investigated the brains of 1,173 persons immediately after death. The weight of the brains is influenced by the disease."

"The River Was Overflowing." Last summer Minnie took a trip with her papa and mamma, and they visited many beautiful places.

The sight of a scarlet and black devil leaping at them from out the blackness of night was enough. Like rabbits they plunged into the brush, and the sound of their frantic prayers bore me company as I sprinted past the fire.

I wasn't in the river, for I could hear the flood roaring well to the right of me; besides, this water was stagnant. The true nature of the pool flashed into my head; it was a backwater from the river that had flooded the road and was probably but a short distance across.

Before I had got waist deep there was a flicker of light on the bank, and by the glow of a brand which they had snatched from the negroes' fire I saw a group of my pursuers peering out toward me.

Of course I had to have some talk. You don't get the full effect of these things without a good spiel. The only thing I could think of was a patter from a book called "Last Days of Pompeii," so I gave 'em that.

By vote of the executive committee of the League of American Wheelmen the once powerful New Jersey division of the organization was recently abolished.

It is believed to foreshadow a general shakeup of the league. In other states in which apathetic officers retain titles, but perform no service, it is expected that the ax will also fall and their affairs be taken over by the national officials until aggressive men are found in the several districts.

Big Auto Race in America? New York automobilists believe it to be not impossible that next year's race for the international cup won by S. F. Edge, an Englishman, on the course of the Paris-Vienna contest, may be run in this country.

British automobilists, great though their pride is in his possession, are finding the championship trophy somewhat of a white elephant. The laws of the United Kingdom are very stringent against speeding on the highways.

The Weather.
For North Carolina:
Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday.

A Smart Boy May Make a Tin Can Locomotive and Matchbox Cars.

The following is instruction for making a tin can locomotive, which is very simple:
The boiler of the locomotive is a baking powder can, the rear wheels are covers of the same, the cab is an oblong tin box, the smokestack is a spool and the forward wheel is another spool. Cut along the lower edge of the tin box only and turn up the tin for three-fourths of an inch and at right angles to the plane of the box. Bore two holes in the sides of the cab for the knitting needle axle. Bore a hole in the center of the wheels, slip the axle through the holes in the cab, slide the wheels over the ends of this and fasten securely to the axle. Fasten the boiler to the cab, resting the back of it on the turned up tin. Fasten two pieces of cardboard to the forward part of the boiler and bore a hole through the lower ends of these. Plug the holes of the spool to be used as the front wheels with wood, place between the cardboard strips and stick ordinary pins through the holes in the strips and in the center of the plugs for axles. The headlight is supported on a square of cardboard fastened to the boiler. Carefully fasten a piece of elastic in position as follows: Tie one end around the center of the axle inside the cab, pass the loose end through the long, narrow opening in the lower part of the cab and fasten it with plenty of sealing wax to the front end of the boiler. The elastic should be as long as from the front of the boiler to the axle. An elastic band cut in two at one end or a number of small elastic bands tied together will answer admirably. To set the locomotive in motion turn the tin wheels backward until quite a lot of the elastic is wound up on the axle; then, holding the wheels firmly, set the locomotive on the floor, when it will travel for a distance of twenty-five feet or more. Cars are made of matchboxes.
