Our Raleigh Letter

Notes from the State Capital

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 27, 1902.

This is the red white and blue week of the year in Raleigh, and the buildings along the principal streets are ablaze with flags and bunting and all kinds of pretty decorations, while the streets themselves are thronged with people from all over North Carolina and a number of other States besides—all in honor of the great Semi-Centennial State Fair.

The Fries plan of merging a number of Southern cotton mills grows apace. The examining committee, which has to pass upon each mill's application to enter the combine, was in session in Raleigh last Thursday and Saturday, and performed a great deal of work, but they are not yet through. It is learned that there are nearly 150 mills which have signed the option agreement, but all of them will not be accepted by the committee.

The following figures from the office of the State Superintendent of Instruction are of interest: Total disbursements to the public schools of the State for the last fiscal year, $1,276,036.30; receipts, $1,311,301.21; balance, $35,264.91. Paid white teachers, $695,567; paid negro teachers, $256,562. Spent on school buildings for white children, $76,969; for negro school houses, $12,274. Paid to county treasurers (in commissions), $24,058.63. If this last item of expense could be eliminated the school children in the country would gain considerable by it.

A big $100,000 furniture company is to begin business at Winston-Salem.

The Republicans and "independent Democrats" are making a hot canvass in the Durham-Greensboro district to elect Lindsay Patterson over Congressman W. W. Kitchin. Outside of the Fifth, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth Districts there's little doing and the Democratic nominees will have a walk over.

In response to an invitation sent by the authorities of Princeton University to Trinity to send a representative to the inauguration of Woodrow Wilson as President, Dr. W. P. Few has gone to represent the College on this occasion. The Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Southern States will meet in Jackson, Miss., November 6th. Dr. Edwin Mims of the English Department of Trinity College is President of the Association. He will attend and deliver the President's address.

Mayor's Court.

Mayor H. W. Whedbee has disposed of the following cases in his court since last report.

Thomas Gatlin, drunk and disorderly, fined 20 days in jail, and costs, $3.

Alex Aldridge, drunk and disorderly, and using vulgar and profane language on streets, fined $1 and costs, $3.30.

Andrew Lunsford, assault with deadly weapon, bound over to Superior court.

W. M. May, drunk, and down, fine one penny and costs $2.21.

Oliver Wilson and Joseph Kaws, assault, bound over to Superior court.

Bill Anderson, drunk and down, fined $2 and costs, $4.20.

Dixie Dunn and Lonnie Harris, reckless driving, fined $2.50 each and costs, $4.58.

John Allen Kinion and N. W. McGowan, assault, fined $2 each and costs, $4.73.

Works For the Market.

There is not a buyer on the Greenville tobacco market who takes more interest in the market than Mr. Theo. W. Skinner, buyer for M. P. Jordan Co. He buys wrappers principally, and while there is less competition on his grades than any other he always does lively bidding and pays good prices. He is a great help to the market.

Looked the Wrong Way.

S. E. Ross, one of the workmen in the John Flanagan Buggy Co's shops, lost the end of two fingers while running the planer. He was reaching over the knives to remove a piece of plank, when some one entered the shop. Mr. Ross turned his head, and his hand came in contact with one of the knives. The accident, while not very serious, will lay Mr. Ross off duty for a few days.

Two stock companies were chartered yesterday by the secretary of state. The one of most public interest is the Audubon Society of North Carolina Company, incorporated, J. Y. Joyner, F. Gilbert Pearson and Z. V. Taylor. The principal office is at Greensboro and the purposes of the society are to promote a proper appreciation for the value of song and insective birds to man and commonwealth; encourage parents and teachers to give instructions to children on the subject; educate public sentiment against the destruction of wild birds and their eggs; create a sentiment for the enforcement of proper laws for the protection and preservation of birds and game; distribute literature bearing on this subject. There is no capital. —Raleigh Post.

Carnegie Joins With the Goulds.

Philadelphia, Oct. 27.—It developed yesterday that Andrew Carnegie is taking active part in the plans making and about Pittsburgh for the entry there of ore-carrying railroads in opposition to the Pennsylvania, and in the extension of the Gould roads to the seaboard.

He is said to have formed an alliance with John D. Rockefeller and with Geo. J. Gould to chastise the Pennsylvania for the bad treatment he received at the hands of that company just before the steel trust was organized.

When J. P. Morgan organized the steel trust he remarked that he had by that act prevented a national disaster. The situation at that time was that Carnegie had joined with the Lake Erie & Wheeling and Wabash not only to have a new line into Pittsburgh, but also a new line from Pittsburg to the seaboard. He had arranged for the building of a large tube plant at Conneaut, Ohio.

This meant not only a fight in the steel industry, but one among the railroads. Morgan was quick to grasp the situation and by the formation of the steel trust he put an end to Carnegie's scheme.

The American woman is restless, dissatisfied. Society, whether among the highest or lowest classes, has driven her toward a destiny that is not normal. The factories are full of old maids; the colleges are full of old maids; the ball-rooms in the worldly milieus are full of old maids. For natural obligations are substituted the fictitious duties of clubs, committees, meetings, organizations, professions, a thousand unwomanly occupations.—Everybody's Magazine

BEST SALE YET.

Joyner & Dail Break the Record.

Talk about your puff sales, your brag sales, your big sales and your advertising sales, but here is one made last Friday by Joyner & Dail for Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse that knocks the spots off any sale of loose tobacco made by any market by any concern we ever heard of. In fact Mr. Theo. W. Skinner, the buyer of all the fine tobacco in this lot says he has been following tobacco sales for the last fifteen years, on the markets of Virginia, North and South Carolina, and in all his experience never saw or heard of anything to compare with this one. Of this entire lot of tobacco Mr. Joyner, who conducted the sale, never purchased a pile, although he started the tobacco all at fancy prices and kept pushing the bid till satisfied it had brought its worth. Such a snappy spirited sale was never before witnessed in Greenville, and as for that, we don't believe any where else on so large a quantity of tobacco. As stated above Mr. Theo. W. Skinner, buying for the M. P. Jordan Co., purchased every pound of the wrapper grades, twenty-two hundred and nineteen pounds, at an average of over forty two (42) cents a pound, the prices ranging from twenty-eight (28) to sixty-five (65) cents a pound.

Mr. Laughinghouse had on the floor of the Farmer's Warehouse that day something over 6,000 pounds of tobacco and carried away a check for two thousand, eighty-two dollars and thirty-five cents ($2,082.35) Has anyone ever heard of a sale like this Hurrah for Pink Skinner, Joyner and Dail.

All of the tobacco sold by Mr. Laughinghouse that day was cultivated by Thomas Mills, colored, and out of this one sale of 6,000 pounds, something over 2,500 pounds of it were good wrappers that brought an average of 42¢. Mills cultivated 15 acres in tobacco that has sold for near $3,000.

When you go to vote read your ticket carefully and see that every one of these names are on it. ON STAGNATION.

The more one thinks about it the less likely it becomes not to agree with the little boy who thought that a man might miss a good part of his life by not knowing how to swim. It is absolutely fatal, under very ordinary circumstances, to become rooted to one spot. If some crank didn't pop up every hundred years or so and shake the world out of its boots, we should be in a very bad way indeed. About half of us, as nearly as may be figured out, would be in jail, and the other half in the asylum.

Whyfore? We settle down—like a turtle in the mud; forget the world, the flesh, and the devil; grow lean with narrowness—the starvation of the soul—and would never see the surface again but for some fellow's gig. The best thing that may be said of our last state, in many instances, is that we furnished good soup for a glutton. Which, at least, is better than petrification.

Strenuous! Yes, indeed. The biggest turtle in the bunch. Wedded to one idea, it may be, and seeing with one eye only one side. Never walked around to get an opposite view. Born with some formula in the mouth, and nourished by some nipped creed sucked dry generations gone. Absolutely certain there isn't room for anything different in the universe. Past giging. It would take the devil's pitchfork and a derrick to raise one of these to the light of the glorious sun.

Or squatting on one nest a life time; hatch or not. A veritable old hen. Sitting on a gourd, perhaps, and expecting a posterity that will multiply and replenish the earth. Shedding feathers, and fat, and swearing to budge not until Gabriel blows.

And what profiteth? Why eyes, if not to see ears, if not to hear? Is gray matter of the same consistency, and of no more worth, than flesh of the toe?

The street parade of the Walter L. Main Show is over a mile in length and a revelation. It is new, clean and refreshing. Five bands of music are in line and Mr. Main is generous in opening a number of cages. Greenville, tomorrow, 29th.

Fifty uniformed ushers are in attendance at the Walter L. Main Shows to care for its patrons. An efficient corps of Pinkerton's men are present to keep out all objectionable characters. Greenville, tomorrow, 29th.

The Worst Form.

Multitudes are singing the praises of Kodol, the new discovery which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what they eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you feel good all over. Mrs. Cranfill, of Troy, I. T., writes: For a number of years I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol and after using four bottles I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers of indigestion and dyspepsia. Take a dose after meals. It digests what you eat. Jno. L. Wooten.

Most people only talk when they should act and act when they should only talk.

Do Good—It Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

Little girls begin to look at little boys the same time they begin to look into mirrors.

Natural Anxiety.

Mothers regard approaching winter with uneasiness, children take cold so easily. No disease costs more little lives than croup. Its attack is so sudden that the sufferer is often beyond human aid before the doctor arrives. Such cases yield readily to One Minute Cough Cure. Liquifies the mucus, allays inflammation, removes danger. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Cures coughs, colds, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung trouble. F. S. McMahon, Hampton, Ga.: "A bad cold rendered me voiceless just before an oratorical contest. I intended to withdraw but took One Minute Cough Cure. It restored my voice in time to win the medal." Jno. L. Wooten.

Some of the miners probably feel that they are returning to an ice plant.

He Learned a Great Truth.

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for the same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

The wise turkey will now begin to look with suspicion upon an extra food supply.

Ran a Ten Penny Nail Through His Hand.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and occasionally afterwards. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

The strike commission will take the centre of the stage for a few days at least.

Forty Years' Torture.

To be relieved from a torturing disease after 40 years' torture might well cause the gratitude of anyone. That is what DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve did for C. Haney, Geneva, O. He says: "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me of piles after I had suffered 40 years." Cures cuts, burns, wounds, skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. Jno. L. Wooten.

Among the distinguished visitors, who will spend some time in our midst we note the arrival of Tom and Jerry.

THE FEAR OF DEATH

IT SHOULD FIND NO LODGMENT IN ANY RATIONAL MIND.

Yet This Dread of Meeting the Inevitable is So Universal That Our Entire Social Fabric is Largely Built Upon It.

Do we dread death on the same principle that half a flock of sheep leap through a certain hole in a fence—because the other half has done so? For unless the fear be traditional and hereditary it is hard to account for it.

Death is a change, occupying a moment, from one form of life to another. Whether it come in the course of nature or by accident or design, it is seldom painful; never probably so painful as a bout of the toothache. It brings us from a condition of bondage and uncertainty at best to one of freedom and security. But often it is a change from slavery, both physical and moral, to emancipation comparatively perfect, or, if we hold the materialist view, to everlasting unconsciousness. The spiritual state is emancipated from the inertia of matter and the tyranny of space; therefore thought will be presence, and a man's surroundings as to both thing and person will be inevitably such as are most desirable to him. The evil will be emancipated from the opposition of the good, and the good will not be grieved and hampered by the machinations of the evil. The whole chapter of accidents which here looms so large will there be eliminated. Time, which now makes us long for the arrival of an appointed hour and now dreads its too speedy coming, will be no more. But we shall measure life by its intensity and by its opportunities. In other words, we shall be the makers of our own times and seasons.

Death takes us from a world of effects to one of causes. The soul is made of will and thought, and, as we may daily perceive, it is only the obstruction of material conditions that prevents us from immediately accomplishing our desires and beholding the realization of our thoughts. Again, death is inevitable to all and to any one who chooses is at any moment attainable. By what logic can our fear of it be defended?

Yet we fear it so much and so universally that our entire social fabric is built largely upon that fear. Our law makes death the supreme penalty. Our funerals are occasions of mourning, and the medical profession, one of the most numerous extant, spends its existence in combating death. We seek eagerly all nostrums or elixirs that promise us continuance of life. We ascribe supreme merit to the soldier who risks his life for his country or to the individual who sacrifices it for others. We laud the stoicism which affects to despise death, but which bases the virtue of that despising upon the acknowledged terror of the event. Our humanitarians spend sympathy and money in attempting to prolong the miserable condition of the poor and diseased. We shudder to hear of a vast natural calamity like that of Martinière or of avoidable accidents such as are furnished daily by railways and other instruments of civilization. And all the while it is the survivors who suffer, if any one does, though they, too, are soon comforted by time or the insurance companies. The dead man, the man who has entered upon the new and spiritual life, whom we absurdly pity, is free, and his troubles are over.

Suicides, it is true, are said to increase with civilization. But few philosophical suicides occur. The majority are induced by dread of life overcoming dread of death. It may be doubted if suicide be ever the act of a man at once perfectly brave and thoroughly sane. The value of this life—and it is a real value—is in the discipline and experience it gives, which it is our honest and sensible duty to improve to the utmost and to the last. Life may be interesting and arduous; it may be disappointing and irksome. It is very seldom if ever uniformly and positively agreeable. Fear, on the other hand, is one of the worst and basest of evils, and fear of death the most irrational. It must have originated in sheer ignorance and thoughtlessness. It ought to vanish before our modern enlightenment and sagacity, and with its disappearance will appear social changes that cannot but be revolutionary and salutary.—Julian Hawthorne in Brandur Magazine.

Mighty in Titles.

The titles of the king of Spain suggest a large part of the history of the world. He is king of Jerusalem, which is Turkish; of Navarre, which is French; of Gibraltar, which is British, and of the East and West Indies, which are largely British; Duke of Brabant and Count of Flanders, now the two independent kingdoms of Holland and Belgium, and sovereign of numerous other lands long since independent or under the undisputed sway of other powers. He bears upon his person, indeed, an epitome of the glory and the fall of Spain.

Suture of the Heart.

Cures by suture of wounds of the heart are becoming more and more common. Hitherto, however, all the cases reported have been of wounds caused by knife or sword, but M. Launay has just related to the French Academy of Medicine a case in which the heart was pierced through by a revolver bullet. During the operation the bullet was found lying in the pericardial cavity. No drainage was employed, and the patient recovered without a single bad symptom.—Lancet.

Slow Starvation

is the fate of sufferers from dyspepsia and indigestion. If your food remains undigested it can't build up the body. In fact, it does actual damage by decaying in the stomach and poisoning the system.

KODOL Digests What You Eat.

Kodol is the sensible remedy. By digesting what you eat it strengthens the body and at the same time rests the stomach. This rest soon restores perfect health. Cathartics and stimulants only reach the symptoms. Kodol cures. It is Nature's tonic.

Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such a hold on me that I could scarcely go. I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines, but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grasps at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once, and after a few bottles am sound and well. GEORGE B. MANN, Attorney-at-Law, Nacoga, Tex.

It can't help but do you good.

The $1 bottle contains 2 1/2 times as much (actual measurement) as the trial size which sells for 50c. Prepared by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by all dealers.

Gained Forty Pounds in Thirty Days.

For several months our younger brother had been troubled with indigestion. He tried several remedies but got no benefit from them. We purchased some of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and he commenced taking them. Inside of thirty days he had gained forty pounds in flesh. He is now fully recovered. We have a good trade on the Tablets.

Time Cribbing.

What is called "time cribbing" is a common practice in English factories. It consists in running the machinery several minutes beyond the legal time limit. An inspector remarks that "five minutes cribbed at each starting and stopping time amount to a total of fourteen days of ten hours per annum, and this amount is practically stolen from those workers who are paid weekly wages." The fine for violating the law is so small ($2) that the factory owners laugh at it.

Fixing the Blame.

Mr. Snow was seen holding the weekly paper as far away as he could get it and working his head from side to side, with squinted eyes. "Soho! Your sight's begun to fail ye at last," said the visitor bluntly. "Well, 'tain't surprising at your age."

Mr. Snow glared. "My eyesight's all right" he roared. "The only trouble is my pesky arm isn't long enough!"—Youth's Companion.

Fame.

"When I grow up," remarked Bobby Toughmuscles, "I am going to be the people's choice."

"Pugilist or president?" asked Tommy Sharpboy.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

NOTICE.

Every one should occasionally say "Whoa" to himself. Because his friends do not say it does not indicate that he doesn't need it.—Atchison Globe.

FURNITURE DEPARTMENT.

It would take this entire paper to tell you what we have in this department, so we name only a few articles. Dining tables and chairs, bedsteads, bureaus, rockers center tables, safes, washstands, sideboards, chiffoniers, etc. Be sure to see our white enameled iron beds. They are beauties. We have 450 square feet of floor space devoted to this department. All we have to say is, come in and take a look.
