SEASONABLE BARGAINS.

YOU know our policy concerning the cleaning up of seasonable merchandise in its season. To make thorough work of a clearance sale every item must suffer the severest cuts. Not an item in this store that has not suffered with the "price knife." If you will take the time to make a careful investigation the economy of buying now will impress itself upon you.

Our Raleigh Letter

Notes from the State Capital

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 26, 1903.

As usual with the North Carolina Legislature, very little business of general interest was transacted before the third week of the session. Even the democratic caucus could not agree upon a nominee for United States Senator earlier—and that fact of itself has operated to clog the legislative machinery.

THE SENATORIAL CONTEST.

And the baby is not yet born! The caucus having adjourned Friday night until next Tuesday (tomorrow) night, it is a political impossibility to elect a United States Senator before Wednesday—and the chances are that he will not be elected then, unless some combine is affected or understanding reached that does not exist at this writing.

While Mr. Watson came within six votes of receiving a majority on the last ballot taken, there were nine votes not cast, so that on a full ballot (148) there is an apparent majority against him of twenty, even assuming that he will hold the 64 votes cast on the last ballot Friday night, which is three more than he received on the first ballot that night.

It has been remarkable how closely and steadfastly Mr. Overman's 56 supporters have stuck to him, none of them wavering with the exception of one hitherto (who came back) and two on the last (53rd) ballot. It is predicted that they will return to him Tuesday night. If so, Mr. Watson will be still further from the goal. It is therefore difficult to see a way out of the deadlock, so long as the voting is confined to the present candidates, unless all of Craig's supporters leave him at once and divide between Overman and Watson. And in that no impossible event, what? The Overman men say that all of the Craig men who would vote for Watson at all have already done so. If that is true, and the seventeen left should go to Overman, he would be nominated. And there you are!

However, taking everything into consideration as it exists at this writing, so far as my knowledge extends, the chances are that Messrs. Overman and Watson will measure swords for the last time Tuesday night, and one of them will probably be our next junior United States senator. But this result will rest chiefly with the Craig contingent.

OTHER MATTERS OF INTEREST.

Senator "Joe" Brown, of Columbus, has again introduced his "prison parole" bill, which failed to reach the ratification point at the last session of the legislature. It is a splendid bill, that gets right at the heart of the question involved, is approved by Gov. Aycock and many of our leading men, and ought to be enacted into law.

"To provide for the preservation of song and game birds of the State" is the title of a bill now in the hands of committee that is of interest and concern to land owners and hunters and lovers of birds and most all of us. It is designed to regulate the killing and shipping of game birds. With some amendments it will probably pass.

A bill is in committee that peculiarly affects merchants and store-keepers. It proposes to amend the present revenue law, in re merchants' tax, as follows: On sales of $1,000 or less 50 cents on all over $1,000, 50 cents for each $1,000. As it now stands, merchants are taxed 50 cents on sales of less than $500; $1 on sales between $500 and $1,000; $1.50 on sales between $1,000 and $2,000; $2.50 on sales from $2,000 to $5,000, and so on.

Another bill to amend the revenue law affects the state tax on liquors. It proposes to levy on every gallon of vinous liquor five cents, malt liquor three cents, whether such liquor is bought as principal or agent or through a commission merchant. The present law imposes a tax of $50 for each six months on those selling less than five gallons, $100 on those selling more than five gallons, and $25 for each six months on sellers of malt liquors exclusively.

The liquor question is receiving its full share of attention and this week something definite will result. The dissimilarity of the two bills in the hands of the joint committee on propositions and grievances (Senator Vann, chairman) complicated matters so that both sides were unwilling to proceed, especially the attorneys for the "liquor dealers' association" and other whiskey interests—and there are a number of such "attorneys" and agents and lobbyists here. So Representative Watts, the author of one bill (embodying Senator Simmon's proposition to prohibit the manufacture of whiskey except in incorporated towns, etc.) and Senator London (who has charge of the bill of the "anti-saloon league,") are to confer and agree today (Monday), if possible, upon a measure satisfactory to both. Then the fight before the committee for a favorable report will be made, to be transferred to the legislature proper later on.

Twenty Years for Utley

Fayetteville, N. C. Jan. 23.—At 10:30 this morning the jury rendered a verdict in the Utley case of murder in the second degree. A motion for a new trial was overruled. After a moving plea for leniency by Col. Broadfoot, Judge Cooke sentenced Utley to twenty years at hard labor in the penitentiary. The defendant appealed to the supreme court.

Opera House.

The Dunbar hand bell ringers and male quartette will appear in the opera house Thursday night, Feb. 4th, for the benefit of the the Methodist church lot. Speaking of them the Chillicothe Democrat says:

"The Dunbar Co. delighted a large audience at the Luella Theatre last night. It was one of the most artistic and enjoyable entertainments ever heard in this city. The bell music was simply superb and voices of the quartette blend beautifully."

Opportunity is Knocking

SOON it will be time to say farewell to old Winter and welcome the incoming Spring. Modern retailing knows no better time to close out stock than these between season days. We have cut our prices to move out the stock on hand and here's your opportunity. The prudent buyer will read this ad and call at once. The profit to us is in disposing of goods that, while new now, would be "last season's" next season. Your profit is in the money saved—and where else would you look for such splendid styles as we offer, at such small prices? Reductions touch all Clothing, Hats and Haberdashery—Boys' and Men's.

Don't let this opportunity get away from you.

FRANK WILSON,
The King Clothier.

THE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE FRIDAY.

The following were among the new bills introduced.

Bellamy, of Brunswick: To amend section 2, article 9 of the constitution, which provides for a system of public schools, the separation of the races and no discrimination in favor of or the prejudice of either race. This amendment provides that special taxes from either race are to go to schools for that race.

Lamb, of Cumberland: To amend section 3782 of the code by increasing the penalty for violation of Sunday by labor or sport from one dollar to ten dollars.

Gilliam, of Edgecombe: To submit to the voters of Edgecombe township No 1 (Tarboro) the question of dispensary or no dispensary. This repeals chapter 247, laws of 1901, establishing a dispensary in Tarboro and leaves the question to a vote of the people.

Blow, of Pitt: To amend sections 3 and 4, chapter 550, laws of 1901, relating to changes in details of the permanent registration of voters.

Pollock, of Lenoir: To amend chapter 338, laws of 1901, establishing a state board of embalmers and regulating the practice of embalming and the care and disposition of the dead. This permits persons holding diplomas from any college of embalmers dated previous to March 4th, 1901, or any persons practicing embalming prior to the same date, to have the rights and privileges of persons obtaining a certificate from the state board of embalmers.

HOUSE—FRIDAY

Among the new bills of general importance were these:

Roberson, of Guilford: To incorporate the Audubon Society and provide for the preservation of song and game birds of this state.

Hamilton, of Cabarrus: To abolish the custom of kissing the Bible in taking oaths.

Ought to Shave Their Whiskers off.

The legislature is very tender hearted. Rather than turn the germs out into a cold world before they are of age, the senate and house have decided to let the microbes infected carpets remain. They are only twenty years old.—Winstoh-Salem Sentinel.

Just the Thing for Coal Trust Robbers.

A new grain has been heralded from the west. It is called "corn-wheat," because it has the nature of both of these cereals, though it is a true wheat. Its grains are twice as large as the ordinary grains of wheat, and it will be used for fattening hogs.—Durham Sun.

Mr. M. P. Jordan Dead.

A telegram was received here Sunday announcing the death of Mr. M. P. Jordan, of Danville, Va., who was the head of the M. P. Jordan Company, dealers in leaf tobacco, who have a branch establishment in Greenville. He was father of Mr. Julian C. Jordan, who resided here as a buyer for the firm several seasons.

Assignment.

H. H. Proctor, dealer in general merchandise at Grimesland, this county, has made an assignment to F. G. James for the benefit of his creditors. The liabilities are stated at $17,500 with assets at about $10,000. It is remembered that Mr. Proctor was burned out in the big fire at Grimesland last year, and no doubt his assignment is due to the heavy loss he sustained then.

LETTER TO B. FRANCIS.

Greenville N. C.

Dear Sir: You take interest in your work and you want every stroke of the brush to do all it can. Devoe Lead and Zinc makes every stroke of the brush count. Mixed paint wastes fifteen to eighty per cent. of every stroke—depends upon the amount of adulteration in the mixed paint.

That's what we mean by "fewer gallons." We can't dwell on every reason for using Devoe Lead and Zinc. There are too many.

E. R. Bowman, Girard, Pa., writes:

Mr. Burt Young bought one gallon of Devoe Lead and Zinc in halves to paint rooms on which he had always used one gallon of mixed paint; one-half gallon of Devoe did the work and he returned the other half gallon.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOE & Co.

IS IT WORTH WHILE?

There is something pathetic in the death of Julian Ralph, the great war correspondent. He was the foremost war correspondent since the famous Stanley expedition in search of Livingston, and his stories of battles have been read in all the languages of the civilized world. He went into the Boer war as correspondent for a London paper a strong, robust man and came out a hopeless wreck, his mind and body shattered and crumbling in melancholy ruin. Here is the story of his misfortunes from his own pen:

"Battered, internally, disordered inside, unable to digest food for weeks, nursing bruises and ailments a half dozen at once, I look upon this war as having ill repaid me for the kindly and jubilant tone in which I have dealt with it.

"The long months of sand diet and hard faring under Methuen took from me a stomach which an ostrich would have envied, and exchanged for it a second-hand, worn-out apparatus which turns upside down at the approach of any food except diluted milk.

"A bit of Boer shell which hit me in the chest made me faint and weary for many days, and then a novel method of alighting from a Cape cart into a trench, with the cart on top of me, left me one-legged for five weeks, after which I found myself with a low class, no account limb, in which I have no confidence. Upon my recovering this inferior and makeshift leg my horse shot me into a wire fence, which tore both arms into shreds, painted one thigh like an omelet and the other like a South African sunset, and left me an internal fracture which I must keep as a perpetual souvenir of what we are all beginning to speak of as "the bore war."

Of course some must bear the burden of the world, but after all is it worth while for a man to give his life for a fame that will not comfort the sorrowing wife and children who hover round the bier of the man who fell?

We see no cause for surprise in President Roosevelt's reception of negroes, at a White House function. He has virtually declared his belief in negro equality, and probably thinks it's up to him to go all the length of consistency. As a statesman he is a failure, and though he holds the office he is not enough of a president for anyone to care what sort of associates he chooses. It all depends upon how you are raised.

We extend a glad hand to Greensboro upon its celebration of North Carolina day, to be held on October 12, the occasion being for the purpose of having a reunion of North Carolinians who have become adopted citizens of other states. Greensboro is hospitable, original and "Johnny-on-the-spot."

And now the question arises, did the congressman who refused a bribe of $5,000 do so because he didn't need the money or did he wish to stimulate the bidding?

A magnetic healer in Shelby, a budding weather prophet in Winston-Salem, and a big republican daily in Greensboro. Which shall it be, the frauds or the fools.

We extend felicitations to the Rocky Mount Motor upon its enlargement to seven columns. The Motor is rapidly going up to the head of its class.

We hope the North Carolinians who are to revisit their native heath have not forgotten the taste of corn bread, hog jowls and collard greens.

We now see the wisdom of the republican managers who opposed the nomination of Roosevelt at Philadelphia in 1900.

It is doubtful if Mr. Craig's thoughts upon the way he has been treated, would look particularly elegant in print.

Rag-time and pasamala selections are doubtless very popular in the White House at present.

The art of letting go wasn't invented when the senatorial candidates were being brought up.

For the sake of the rats in the White House, we hope disinfectants will be liberally used.

How did Wilmington get in the line of fire of Carnegie's library battery anyway?

With Cy Watson in the lead the chances for a dark horse grow exceedingly slim.

Railroad to the Coast.

A Washington special says: There is to be a railroad from Raleigh to this city if energy and capital can get it through. A bill will be introduced in the legislature to incorporate the Raleigh and Washington Railroad within the next few days. Capt. J. M. Turner, formerly with the Seaboard Air Line, is the leading spirit back of the movement. Washington balked at the proposition until assured that either the roundhouse or shops would be located there and then it promptly subscribed $50,000. Illustrative of Washington's growth there have been sixty-two people added to its population since the first of the year, exclusive of the births of which there have been seventeen and one death. Net growth seventy-eight.—Raleigh Times.

Col. Cunningham's Views.

Col. John S. Cunningham, of Person, the most extensive tobacco grower in the world, arrived last evening from a visit to Washington. He is strongly opposed to the Cuban reciprocity bill because it would admit great quantities of Cuban tobacco to this country and prove hurtful to the American growers. Col. Cunningham says that another convention of the State Association of Tobacco Growers will be called shortly, but the date has not yet been determined.—Raleigh Times.

The bill to provide ex-Confederate soldiers with wooden legs is all right enough, provided it does not lead to glass eyes, false teeth, wigs and other well known devices for supplying bodily deficiencies.—Winston-Salem Sentinel.

A SUCCESSFUL DEVICE

In the autumn of 1876 I was traveling in Europe with my family, my wife and two little daughters, and the 30th of November found us at a small Russian village at which the railroad terminated.

"The landlord didn't mention wolves," I said. "Certainly not. It would have interfered with his furnishing you the tarantass."

"Horried at even a remote chance of encountering the hungry beasts, I was meditating turning back when there came a distant howl."

"Why did you risk our lives, knowing of this danger?" I asked.

"The wolves rarely come in this region before the middle of December. This year there has been more snow than usual to the north of us, and it has driven them down here for food."

"There was another howl, this time much nearer. My eyes met those of my wife, and both hers and mine said plainly, 'This means death.'"

"In passing through the more unsettled parts of Europe I carried in my hip pocket a medium sized revolver. This was the only weapon at hand."

"It was but a few minutes now before the wolves left the wood, and one could see them in the road coming with lightning leaps."

"I took it out and examined the six cartridges (I had no more) to make sure they were in order. I knew that every wolf killed would delay the pack to devour the carcass, and if I could kill six wolves at intervals there was hope that we might get through to the railroad station in safety."

"I fired my fourth ball, but as it was getting dark my aim was bad, and I missed."

"I have no more cartridges!" I cried to the driver. "Make him do all you can."

"Give me a knife, quick!" he cried. I took out my pocketknife and opening the sharpest blade, handed it to him.

"I have no more cartridges!" I cried to the driver. "Make him do all you can."

Unconscious From Croup.

During a sudden and terrible attack of croup our little girl was unconscious from strangulation, says A. L. Spafford, postmaster, Chester, Mich., and a dose of One Minute Cough Cure was administered and repeated often.

Some people are very liberal minded—they are always giving their friends a pie.

Don't Worry.

This is easier said than done, yet it may be of some help to consider the matter. If the cause is something over which you have no control it is obvious that worrying will not help the matter in the least.

The man who suspicious evil and wrong doing in others thus correctly tells on himself.

One Hundred Dollars A Box.

Is the value H. A. Tizdale, Summerton, S. C., places on DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. He says: "I had the piles for 20 years. I tried many doctors and medicines, but all failed except DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cured me."

Some men are like needles—they go through a great deal of work, but they have to be pushed.

A Scientific Discovery.

Kodol does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or over-loaded. Kodol supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach.

The peculiar cough which indicates croup, is usually well known to the mothers of croupy children. No time should be lost in the treatment of it, and for this purpose no medicine has received more universal approval than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"The nicest and pleasantest medicine I have used for indigestion constipation is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets," says Melard F. Craig, of Middlegrove, N. Y.

Rheumacide

Continues to make Miraculous Cures

READ THIS LETTER: ALMOST A MIRACLE.

DILLON, S. C., Aug. 28th, 1902.

Gentlemen—In September, 1899, I took rheumatism in a very bad form. In a month after the disease started I had to give up my work and go to bed. It continued to grow worse until my arms and hands were badly drawn, so much so that I could not use them. My legs were drawn back until my feet touched my hips.

Will say further that I began to walk in about six days after I began to take "RHEUMACIDE," with the aid of crutches; in about three months after I began to take it, I could walk as good as anybody, and went back to work again.

A Bit of Diplomacy.

An American from Texas got into trouble with a gendarme in the City of Mexico during the Spanish-American war, when foreign and local sentiment was against the United States. The offense consisted largely in the fact that the stranger was an American, but he landed in jail nevertheless. Not wishing to see the Texan spend the night in jail, his friends sallied forth to obtain his release. First they visited the home of the American ambassador and found he was out of the city. Then they went to the home of the English minister and found him in bed. By dint of insistence they succeeded in getting into the house and were met on the staircase by the minister himself, arrayed in official pajamas. Carefully disguising the fact that their imprisoned friend was an American, they appealed for assistance. "Ah," said the minister cautiously, "your man is in jail, is he? But tell me, is he a British subject?" "Your excellency," said General Asquith, who acted as spokesman, "the prisoner speaks English perfectly." "Ah," said the minister, "then the presumption is in his favor!" Half an hour later, thanks to the personal intervention of the British minister, the Texan was released from the Mexican jail.

In this mechanical age the mechanical man may not reach the highest honors. But he is generally able to pay for his education.—Evening Post.

Earthquake Last Night.

Last night about 8:15 o'clock an earthquake shock passed over Wilmington, shaking houses and rattling windows. Many people did not feel it but others perceptibly noticed the disturbance. At several residences the inmates felt their houses shaking and ran out to ask what was the matter. Windows rattled, and the trembling of the earth was especially felt in high places throughout the city.—Wilmington Messenger, 24th.

"A Wolf in Sheep's Clothes."

We have all heard of "wolves in sheep's clothing," but last Friday night a little incident happened near Popular Bridge that brings to mind the Scriptural quotation. A sanctification meeting was in progress and one of the preachers started to accompany a lady of the community home after service. By some means she had heard that he was a married man and, when on the way to the young lady's home he was confronted with the charge in such a strong way that he acknowledged to being a married man and left the young lady and took to the woods. Others were near by and heard the acknowledgement. We do not know what became of the preacher, but our advice to young ladies is beware of "wolves in sheep's clothes."—S. A. H. in Asheville Courier.

Dislocated Her Shoulder.

Mrs. Johanna Soderholm, of Ferguson Falls, Minn., fell and dislocated her shoulder. She had a surgeon get it back in place as soon as possible, but it was quite sore and pained her very much. Her son mentioned that he had seen Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised for sprains and soreness, and she asked him to buy her a bottle of it, which he did. It quickly relieved her and enabled her to sleep, which she had not done for several days. The son was so much pleased with the relief it gave his mother that he has since recommended it to many others. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.
