YOU know our policy concerning the cleaning up of seasonable merchandise in its season. To make thorough work of a clearance sale every item must suffer the severest cuts. Not an item in this store that has not suffered with the "price knife." If you will take the time to make a careful investigation the economy of buying now will impress itself upon you.

THE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE—WEDNESDAY

In the senate Wednesday a bill was passed to do away with the old custom of kissing the Bible in taking oath in court. It may or may not become a law.

Among the new bills introduced were the following:

Hoey, of Cleveland: To provide for holding municipal elections. This provides that the County Board of Elections shall appoint registrars and judges of election for towns prior to April 1st of each year, and that registration books be opened for such elections.

Warren, of Jones: To authorize the appointment of special coroners in certain cases.

Webb, of Cleveland: To encourage professional public school teachers. This provides that after seven years of teaching, the holder of a first grade certificate be given a life certificate to hold good as long as they teach each year successively in public schools.

HOUSE—EDNWESDAY.

In the house a bill was passed prohibiting the sale in the state of pop crackers larger than 3 inches in length, sky rockets, toy pistols, air and spring guns. This is a good bill and should pass the senate also.

Among the new house bills introduced were these:

Parker, of Wayne: To give justices of the peace jurisdiction of petty larceny.

Morphew, of Graham: To amend chapter 666, laws of 1901, relating to injunctions.

Daughtridge: To incorporate the North Carolina Farmers' Protective Association.

A number of other bills of only local importance were introduced in both branches, and many more petitions for temperance legislation were presented.

Young Lady Drowned.

Oxford, N. C., Feb. 4.—Miss Ethel Royster, daughter of Mr. L. A. Royster of this place, and a teacher in one of the county schools, was drowned this morning in Hatchett's run while on her way to school. In the buggy with her were a young man named Tillotson and his sister, who escaped a similar fate by clinging to bushes overhanging the creek. The horse was drowned. The body of the young lady has been recovered.

Burned to Death

Two colored children, aged 3 and 5 years, met an awful death on Mr. Wright S. Uzzell's place about 15 miles from Kinston, in this county, this morning. The mother, Maggie Gray, a tenant on Mr. Uzzell's place, locked her two children in the house, a quarter of a mile distant, and while she was away the two children were burned to death, in the house, which was burned to the ground.—Kinston Free Press, 5th.

Robbers Stole the Vault

New Bern, N. C., Feb. 4.—The post office at Havelock 12 miles below New Bern, was robbed last night. Postmaster John Russell used a trunk as a vault to deposit his money and stamps. The midnight visitors captured the entire vault, containing $29 in stamps and some cash. An investigation is being made as to the robbery.

Shade of John Brown!

A statesman in the Kansas legislature has introduced a bill to amend the election laws of that state so as to eliminate the negro vote. And this is in "Bleeding Kansas." What does fire brand Hayes think of that?—Wilmington Star.

BILLS HELD UP.

Emergency Committee to Look After Them

The Board of Alderman held its regular monthly meeting, Thursday night, but there was nothing of interest transacted outside of the regular routine business of reports of committees and officers and allowing accounts.

It having come to the knowledge of the Board that Representative King was holding up the Greenville bills for improvements and schools, that have already passed the senate, an emergency committee consisting of Mayor Whedbee and Aldermen Ficklen and Arthur was appointed to go to Raleigh in the interest of the bills in case their presence should be necessary.

Maj Lipscomb Shot.

Mr. W. T. Lipscomb has received information that his son, Maj. C. T. Lipscomb, who is cashier at a large cotton mill in Columbia, S. C., was accidentally shot on Tuesday morning. Maj. Lipscomb was descending the stairway to the mills when he made a misstep and fell. His pistol dropped from his pocket and in striking against the step was discharged, the ball striking his leg between the ankle and knee. The latest intelligence is that he is getting along very well and in no danger of serious results from the wound.

Dead in the Road.

Wilmington, N. C., Feb. 4.—Mr. Harvey Cox, a prominent citizen of Onslow county, son of the late Sheriff Harvey Cox, was found dead in the road yesterday morning, half way between his home and Jacksonville. He spent Monday in Jacksonville and was drinking heavily all day. That evening he started home, driving in a buggy. He lived 12 miles from Jacksonville. Yesterday morning his dead body was found. It was evident that he had fallen out of the buggy and was dragged some distance, there being plain evidence of the fact along the road.

A Wild Prophet.

Some person, evidently more than a crank, has distributed the following circular in Raleigh.

"Prophet George speaking to all nations!

"Wilmington, N. C., will be destroyed by fire August 15th, 1904. Get ye out of the city, all nations, for the Lord God will destroy the city August 15, 1904.

"Also James City will be destroyed on the above named date by water. Flee ye to the city of refuge.

The crown heads of every nation that will see Prince George, of Newbern, N. C., crowned. King Edward (VII); Queen Alexander; King Leopard; Prince of Wales; Lord Kitchener; Leo (VIII); King Italians; Pope Pius (X); Queen Wilhelmina; Queen Amelia; Queen Kuhnoor; Prince Henry; Pope Paul (III).

"Prince to rule the country, so says messenger of God. You can get the book named 'Road to Heaven from Prince George VII.'

Then follows a list of future rulers headed by George White.—Raleigh Times

Tobacco Sales

The sales of tobacco on the Greenville market for the month of January were 1,048,296 pounds. This makes a total for the season up to the first of February of 15,723,189 pounds, and the average price paid has been $10.25 per hundred. This is a record that will not suffer in comparison with any other market, and Greenville is proud of it.

FRANK WILSON,
The King Clothier.

Temperance and Politics.

For the past forty years the church members—good men, too—have been voting their party ticket, without much, if any, praying over the result. They have done this because they believed their party was in jeopardy, and they were told by the party leaders, "that if they would only help the party this time, at the next election they would help the temperance people," some of them going so far as to pledge themselves to vote for local option or dispensary.

But their party has always been in jeopardy on election day, and "the next time"—with the politician, is like "tomorrow," it never comes. With the democrats the negro was always in the way. He is out now, and the present general assembly owes it to the long-suffering, long-party-saving temperance men to get liquor out of politics. The London bill will do this. But will it pass?

The liquor men, with their paid attorneys and thousands of dollars of "blood money" are doing their best to buy some, intimidate others with their same forty-year-old party cry—help us in this crisis. The temperance men are there too with attorneys, prayers and petitions (signed by thousands) trying to give backbone to the weak and timid.

The saloon is doomed! And if the present legislature fails to meet the issue squarely and give the temperance people a fair chance to crush the liquor traffic, it will be in politics in such force from now on, that all who vote for the saloon as against the temperance issue, will find the question facing them in every election from that of constable to aldermen, from state legislature to congressman. The cry of the W. C. T. U. "For God and Home and Native Land" has been taken up by the voters and woe be the political aspirant who believes he can sneer it down. The temperance voters hold the balance of power in this state and intend to be heard in the future.—Jas. W. Albright in Asheville Citizen.

All members of the Presbyterian church are requested to meet at the church at 10:30 o'clock, Sunday morning, to consider the matter of calling a pastor.

Hold a Mass Meeting.

The friends in Greenville and community of the temperance question ought to hold a mass meeting and give further expression of their desires as regards the pending temperance legislation. The next meeting of the Anti-Saloon League is set for Sunday afternoon in the Baptist church. Why not turn this in a general temperance mass meeting? What influence is brought to bear upon the legislature must be done quickly.

ROCKS AHEAD.

Not a few lawyers are hanging around Raleigh lobbying against the movement for temperance legislation. When questioned some of them profess to be there only as "visiting statesman" or on some other business, yet on the quiet they are working, and are exerting every influence possible, for the whiskey interests. The people are not much fooled by the "visiting statesman," and a day of reckoning will come.

Senator Hanna is endeavoring to make himself solid with the negro element of the country and whatever negro delegation that may get to the next republican national convention. He has introduced a bill in congress to pension all ex-slaves who were freed by the proclamation of President Lincoln during the civil war. His bill provides that those between 50 and 60 years of age shall receive a bounty of $100 and a pension of $8 per month; those between 60 and 70 years to receive $300 and $12 per month; those over 70 years $500 and $15 per month. An amusing feature in connection with the bill is that Senator Hanna says he introduced it by request, and President Roosevelt refers to such legislation as a "wildcat pension scheme."

Senator Vann has had the courage to introduce a bill in the legislature to tax dogs at $1 per head, requiring them to be listed just like any other property, the proceeds arising from such tax to go to the general school fund in the respective counties. There you have progress. It has been said ever and anon that every legislator who went to Raleigh was afraid of the dog. If a dog tax doesn't break the democratic party there is no danger of it going to pieces if it closes the barrooms.

Every since the criticism of President Roosevelt's pro-African policy some idiot has been saving up that joke about the ground hog's fear that the president would put a coon in his hole if the ground hog stayed out. The question is, How did he manage to spring the thing all over the state at the same time?

The glory of "Old Kaintuck" is departing. A revenue agent has discovered that the "genuine 20-year old" red eye is colored by foreign substances in Blue Grass distilleries. They'll adulterate the mint that made julep famous next.

Senator Baldwin introduces a bill in the senate prohibiting the wearing of high hats. If this bill becomes a law there are at least two human telegraph poles in Greenville who will have go hatless.

So far as we have seen, Alfred Austin has had the sense not to contribute to the general cussedness of the allied war against Venezuela.

The perpetual motion row between the Raleigh morning dailies has not as yet been referred to the Hague arbitration tribunal.

Stanley Waterloo, the fictionist, says the dog has joined the human commonwealth of community, thinking, with us and loving us. Now let the legislature enact a canine poll tax law.

If Cy Watson is correctly quoted he has achieved the usual sore spot of defeated candidates. We thought Cy knew better than to let the world know he's down.

We suppose the esteemed Wilmington Messenger will palliate the miserable Sampson-Schley mess by pleading destiny.

President Castro says he fears a world's war. He needn't worry. Venezuela wouldn't eat even a small figure in it.

Utley, the convicted murderer who escaped from the Fayetteville jail, is a good financier but a poor actor.

"Some folks say a nigger won't steal," but they probably said it before chickens were invented.

The Venezuelan muddle is becoming as tiresome as was the senatorial seance.

There is one man who will not weep over Teddy's follies—General Miles.

By this time the president has probably found out that something went wrong.

The Greenville REFLECTOR is the first paper to call for the impeachment of President Roosevelt, and based its argument on the assumption that he is insane. That is at least a charitable construction on some of his performances.—Raleigh Times.

Noblest Roman of Them All.

Representative Vann at least shows bravery in his effort to tax dogs for the benefit of the school fund. Similar bills have often been proposed in the past, but their supporters melted away when a roll call was ordered on the bill.—Raleigh Times.

Two Songs.

THE OPTIMIST.

Hurrah for the days that are drawing near,
When the hills will again be green,
When the sky will be soft and warm and clear,
With gladness spread o'er the scene;
When the dandelions will bravely glow,
Like golden dots on the slopes,
And all of the sweet south winds that blow
Will add to our fondest hopes.

THE PESSIMIST.

Ah, yes! The winter will soon be gone,
And the grass will begin to sprout;
The mower will rattle across the lawn
And the buds will be bursting out;
But after the flowers have bloomed,
Alas,
The days will keep slipping by,
And the first thing we know it will come to pass
That next winter's snow will fly.

Tendency of the times.

The tendency of medical science is toward preventive measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. It has been fully demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases medical men have to contend with, can be prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pneumonia always results from a cold of from an attack of influenza (grip) and it has been observed that this remedy counteracts any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proven in many thousands of cases in which this remedy has been used during the great prevalence of colds and grip in recent years, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. Pneumonia often results from a slight cold when no danger is apprehended until it is suddenly discovered that there is fever and difficulty in breathing and pains in the chest, then it is announced that the patient has pneumonia. Be on the safe side and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the cold is contracted; it always cures. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

A Weak Stomach.

causes a weak body and invites disease. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures and strengthens the stomach, and wards off and overcomes disease. J. B. Taylor, a prominent merchant of Christman, Tex., says: "I could not eat because of a weak stomach. I lost all strength and run down in weight. All that money could do was done, but all hope of recovery vanished. Hearing of some wonderful cures effected by use of Kodol, I concluded to try it. The first bottle benefited me, and after taking four bottles I am fully restored to my usual strength, weight and health."

When you see the inscription "Gone to his long rest" on a tombstone, you may be pretty sure that the deceased was henpecked.

A Mother's Recommendation.

I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a number of years and have no hesitancy in saying that it is the best remedy for coughs, colds and croup I have ever used in my family. I have not words to express my confidence in this remedy.—Mrs. J. A. Moore North Star, Mich. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

The Easy Pill.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers do not gripe nor weaken the system. They cure biliousness, jaundice, constipation and inactive livers, by arousing the secretions, moving the bowels gently, yet effectually, and giving such tone and strength to the glands of the stomach, liver and bowels that the cause of the trouble is removed entirely. These famous little pills exert a decided tonic effect upon the organs involved, and if their use is continued for a few days there will be no return of the trouble.

The scratch of a pin may cause the loss of a limb or even death when blood poisoning results from the injury. All danger of this may be avoided, however, by promptly applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It is an antiseptic and quick healing liniment for cuts, bruises and burns. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

FARMERS' PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION.

Col. Grimes' Bill Will be Introduced This Morning by Mr. Daughtridge.

The joint committee on agriculture of the house and senate, met last night in the secretary of state's office, and heard Col. J. Bryan Grimes' bill to incorporate the North Carolina Farmers' Protective Association.

The bill was approved by both committees and it was decided unanimously to recommend its passage in both branches of the general assembly.

It will be introduced in the house this morning by Representative E. L. Daughtridge, of Edgecombe.

The bill names as incorporators of the proposed organization are Col. John S. Cunningham, of Person; Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse, of Pitt; Dr. R. H. Speight, of Edgecombe, and Mr. W. F. Parker, of Halifax.

The powers conferred upon the organization are wide. It may conduct through agents mercantile or manufacturing business; it may erect and operate stock yards, warehouses, grain elevators and packing establishments, mills and factories of any kind, publish newspapers, and in fact do anything that may be necessary or advisable for its advancement, or that may contribute to the accomplishment of its general purpose.

It may organize a department for mutually insuring the property of its members against loss by fire, wind or lightning; but no policy is to be issued until $100,000 in not less than 200 separate risk, has been subscribed for.

The association may authorize and regulate the formation of county and township associations. Prison That Jefferson Davis Was Held In Now Being Demolished

Hampton, Va., Feb. 4.—Carroll Hall, in which President Jefferson Davis was held a prisoner at Fort Monroe, is to be torn down and a large mess hall is to replace it.

The demolition of the old structure was begun yesterday under an order of the war department, and in a few days the structure that was the home of the most distinguished prisoner ever held in the South will be a pile of debris.

Carroll Hall, which was the first barracks erected at Fort Monroe, was constructed in the year 1819 under the supervision of General Simon Bernard, one of Napoleon's great engineers, who at the downfall of the emperor, offered his services to the United States. The building was found necessary after the English had destroyed the capital in Washington in 1814.

It was then determined to establish a fort at the mouth of the Elizabeth river.

Although it was 1821 when the general assembly of Virginia adopted an ordinance authorizing the governor of the state to enter a deed with the United States ceding to the federal government the present site of Fort Monroe, Carroll hall and the old hospital structure were erected in 1819 and given the name of Fort Monroe in honor of President James Monroe, of Virginia, who then occupied the chief executive's chair in Washington.

When you feel blue and that everything goes wrong, take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will cleanse and invigorate your stomach, regulate your bowels, give you a relish for your food and make you feel that in this old world is a good place to live. All's well that ends well, but it is well to begin right.

An Effective "Attachment."

Attaching a man's property for debt is supposed to be a legal process, but an incident which occurred years ago in the city of Natchez, as related by Davy Crockett in his "Life and Adventures," shows that there are other "attachments" which sometimes accomplish a beneficent purpose.

An odd affair occurred when I was last at Natchez, says Mr. Crockett. A steambot stopped at the landing, and one of the crew went ashore to purchase provisions. He went into a saloon on the way, and the adroit inmates contrived to rob him of all his money. The captain of the boat, a determined fellow, went ashore in the hope of persuading them to refund, but they declined.

Without further ceremony, the captain, assisted by his crew and passengers, some 300 or 400 in number, made fast an immense cable to the frame building where the theft had been committed. Then he allowed fifteen minutes for the money to be forthcoming, vowing that if it were not produced within that time he would put steam to his boat and drag the house into the river.

The thieves knew that he would keep his word, and the money was promptly produced.

Parching May Flies.

On the banks of the Elbe a curious sight may frequently be seen. Men and women come there in the evening and light fires, near which they carefully spread spacious cloths. In a few minutes swarms of May flies, those delicate little creatures whose earthly life lasts only for a few hours, hover around the fires, and speedily hundreds—nay, thousands—of them are burned and fall on the cloths.

After a sufficient supply of flies has been gathered in this way the fires are extinguished, and the cloths are carefully raised from the ground and taken home. On the following morning they are placed in a garden on a sunny spot, the result being that the bodies of the flies become thoroughly parched. The flies are then ready for the market and are sold for a few cents a quart to dealers in birds, who say that there is no better food for nightingales, robins and other feathered pets. Only the bodies are used for this purpose, and therefore before they are sent to market the utmost pains are taken to see that all the wings have been removed.

Waterproofing Boots at Home.

I have for years used successfully a dressing for leather boots and shoes composed of oil and india rubber, keeping out moisture and uninjurious to the leather applied, leaving same soft and pliable. To prepare same, heat in an iron vessel either fish oil, castor oil or even tallow to about 250 degrees F.; then add, cut into small pieces, vulcanized or raw india rubber about one-fifth of the weight of the oil, gradually stirring same with a wooden spatula until the rubber is completely dissolved in the oil; lastly, add to give it color a small amount of printers' ink. Pour into a suitable vessel and let cool. One or two applications of this are sufficient to thoroughly waterproof a pair of boots or shoes for a season. Boots or shoes thus dressed will take common shoeblacking with the greatest facility.—Scientific American.

Balzac and Dumas.

It is said that Balzac detested Dumas. Once he brought to the Siecle the manuscript of a novel, which was to follow "Les Trois Mousquetaires," then being published. He asked to be paid 2 1/2 francs a line. The director of the journal hesitated. "You see, M. Dumas is being paid only 2 francs a line." "If you are giving 2 francs to that negro, I shall get out!" And Balzac stalked off.

Dumas was not ignorant of Balzac's feelings toward him and did not spare him. In the foyer of the Odeon theater Balzac was talking loudly in a group of literary men, "When I have written myself out as a novelist, I shall go to playwrighting." "You can begin right away," called out Dumas.

An Arabian Story.

An Arab and his wife were constantly quarreling, and the wife always went straightway to her father and made complaint. One day the Arab boxed the ears of his better half, whereupon she went again to her father and related her grievance, demanding revenge. The father, a wise old sheik, shook his head, and, after long reflection, boxed his daughter's ears and said: "Now thou art avenged. Thy husband has boxed the ears of my daughter, and I have boxed the ears of his wife!"—Lustige Blatter.

He Merely Made It.

"My boy doesn't seem to have got along here very well," said the office boy's father.

"Well, to be perfectly frank with you," replied the employer, "I must say no."

"Ah! What's his trouble?"

"He hasn't any trouble; it's the rest of us who have had that."—Chicago Tribune.

Satisfied.

The angular passenger stuck her head out through the car window.

"Why," she asked the man on the station platform, "did you speak just now of that singular looking machine as 'she'?"

"Because, ma'am," replied the man on the platform, "it's a mail snatcher." And she took her head in again.—Chicago Tribune.

The Real Truth.

"Didn't she marry a 'has been'?"

"No. She thought he was a 'will be,' but he turned out an 'isn't.'—Life.

Change.

A little change in the hand is worth more than a great change in the weather.—Philadelphia Record.

If the well on the court house square does not get in the ground right, it will not be due to the absence of plenty of overseers.

The Weather.

For North Carolina:
Rain and warmer to night and Saturday.

Going Down Fast.

Good progress is being made on the well on the court house square. The machine was started just afternoon yesterday and by noon today a depth of about 60 feet had been reached.

It Was Excellent.

The entertainment in the opera house Thursday evening by the Dunbar hand bell ringers and male quartette proved most enjoyable. The bell ringing was marvelous and the singing excellent. The quartette is composed of the best voices that have been heard here.

Not a Wedding.

This afternoon a young couple walking arm in arm, preceded by the old folks, coming from the direction of the court house and passing on down the street, created the impression that a wedding had taken place at the temple of justice. The reporter hurried over to get particulars, only to find out that it was not any wedding at all.

Smashed a Window.

Some boys were out amusing themselves, Thursday night, by catching any other boy they could find and "walking" him. They met up with one boy who bucked and did not want to be "walked." They gathered around to push him along when one of the "walkers" got pushed in the window in front of Mr. J. K. Corey's store. The window went broke, and right there the fun for the boys came to an abrupt end.

According to a staff correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, who is on the scene, many people in Fayetteville hope that Utley will elude the officers of the law and go unpunished, notwithstanding the fact that the killing of which he is guilty was without provocation. It is plead in extenuation of his crime that while drunk he was crazed and therefore not responsible for anything that he might do. Admitting this, it will also have to be admitted that he was aware of the effect of whiskey upon him and should have abstained. If drunkenness is to be made an excuse for crime, then drunkenness should be considered a crime under the law and punished as such, otherwise what protection has the public against criminals of this class.—Durham Herald.

Beheaded Cellmate.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 4.—Cornelius Busch, a 30 year old negro convict at the eastern penitentiary, beheaded his cellmate, James Pratt, another negro, in their cell early this morning. Pratt was serving a twenty years sentence, while Busch was completing a term of two years. They had been put in the same cell on the fifth block Monday night. Busch said he and Pratt had quarrelled over a question of religion. He waited until his cellmate was asleep and then picked up a stool and killed him. Having killed him, Busch, with a small sharp shoemaker's knife and a table knife, hacked out like a saw, severed the head from the body. He placed the head on the table and talked to it all night he said. Busch will be tried for murder, but pending trial will be kept at the penitentiary.

The Tune Was Familiar.

An interesting anecdote is told of the old tune to which a well known song is now sung. The story runs that when the army of the first Napoleon was in Egypt in 1799 the camp for awhile was near the pyramids. One afternoon about sunset the band was playing, and the natives of the desert had collected and were listening to the music. Nothing unusual happened until the band struck up a tune which we now hear under the name of "We Won't Go Home Till Morning." Instantly there were the wildest demonstrations of joy among the Bedouins. They embraced each other and shouted and danced in the delirium of their pleasure. The reason was that they were listening to the favorite and oldest tune of their people. The tune had been taken to Europe from Africa in the eleventh century and had lived separately in both countries for over 700 years.

What is Happiness?

Happiness is the greatest paradox in nature. It can grow in any soil, live under any conditions. It defies environment. It comes from within. It is the revelation of the depths of the inner life as light and heat proclaim the sun from which they radiate. Happiness consists not of having, but of being; not of possessing, but of enjoying. It is the warm glow of a heart at peace within itself. A martyr at the stake may have happiness that a king on his throne might envy. Man is the creator of his own happiness. It is the aroma of a life lived in harmony with high ideals. For what a man has he may be dependent on others; what he rests with him alone. What he obtains in life is but acquisition; what he attains is growth. Happiness is the soul's joy in the possession of the intangible. —William George Jordan.

Cheerfulness.

It is said there is nothing which diffuses itself more quickly in a family than the coolness, indifference and discontent which manifest themselves in the countenances of one of its members. This thought is not absolutely true. There are some things which communicate themselves with as much rapidity and more force. They are a bright smile, a frank and open manner, a cheerful face, a happy heart.—Selected.
