Progress

Progress is the law of life. When things cease to grow to betterment, decay begins. The store which stands still is dead. The good store of yesterday is commonplace today and out of date tomorrow. To do better today the thing done well yesterday, to serve better today the public which we served well yesterday, is the day-by-day labor that makes this store progressive.

We are determined to close the ends of winter goods. There has been much buying for the last few days, but there are lots of winter goods left yet. Every item in the store has the true economic ring. Low prices predominate through this week and next. All winter goods must be closed out by March 15, as we need the space on our floors for spring goods.

Saturday, February 28th,
we will sell Ladies' Fine
Shoes, sizes 2 to 4 $\frac{1}{2}$, worth
2.50, for

39 cents

20% REDUCTION
at B. Fleishman & Bros.

We are overstocked with Fall and Winter goods, and in order to close them out to make room for new spring goods have put the knife to prices and will give 20 per cent. Reduction on all these goods. There are bargains in the prices we are offering and it will pay you to buy now.

Our stock was bought low, and this reduction makes our prices far below what you will have another opportunity to buy for.

Come early and get the benefit of this great reduction. All winter goods must be disposed of quickly.

Our Raleigh Letter

Notes from the State Capital

RALEIGH, March 2, 1903.

The pay of the legislators ends with the close of this week, but the present session of the general assembly will not come to a close before the middle or latter part of next week, if all the business that demands its attention is attended to—and it will be, provided a quorum of the solons can be kept here on no pay for a few days.

The average legislator gets mighty "home-sick" about the time his pay stops, though of course there are many unselfish and patriotic members of every legislature who are willing to remain as long as they are actually needed, which is hardly ever exceeding a week after the expiration of the sixty days.

An enormous amount of work has been accomplished during the last two weeks, and this week the senate is at work on the revenue bill, as it came from the house.

The passage of the Watts bill, by the combined forces of the Watts and London bills, is being followed up by considerable local temperance legislation. The temperance people did not get all they wanted, but the Watts law is a great improvement on old conditions.

One of the important measures of the session passed the senate Friday and is now in the house. It provides for a State Literary Loan Fund to build and repair public school houses in various counties where needed. At present $200,000 (derived chiefly from the sale of swamp lands belonging to the educational fund) is locked up in the state treasury, practically idle. The object is to loan this fund out to such county boards of education as desire to borrow, to build school-houses. The principal is to draw four per cent. interest and to be paid back, ten per cent. each year. The county boards and state board of education are made responsible for the loans.

The resolution providing for the immediate payment of $100,000 for keeping the public schools open four months has passed the senate and will pass the house.

Thus far the number of 1ouse bills is 1,541. At the session two years ago it ran over 2,200.

The finance committees think the new revenue act will raise annually $150,000 more than that of 1901.

An anti-jug law is now before the committee on propositions and grievances.

The bills proposing to tax the property of whites and blacks separately, for the maintenance of the schools of each, go by the board, as usual.

Pembroke is giving Lumberton a stiff fight for the county seat of Robeson county. The bill passed second reading Saturday afternoon in the senate by the vote of 21 to 14, and is made a special order for Tuesday. It will meet with stronger opposition on final reading, and some predict its defeat. Authority is given to issue $40,000 in bonds for new court house and jail if Pembroke wins at the election. Senator McBryde of Robeson tells me that Lumberton will probably win (if the bill passes) at the election, but he voted for the bill because he thinks the people should be allowed to vote on the question.

There are no new developments in the recent horrible Haywood-Skinner tragedy here. No one except Ernest Haywood and his counsel know the real reason why Haywood killed Ludlow Skinner. The trial promises to be a "cause celebre," and many of the most eminent lawyers of the state have been engaged to defend and prosecute.

New Store.

Mr. J. F. Davenport, of Pactolus, will soon locate in Greenville to conduct a dry goods store. Mr. C. M. Jones, one of the best salesmen of the town, will be associated with him. They have both gone to the northern markets to purchase stock and will open in one store of the Bernard building which has just been nicely fitted up.

Throws Lasso For Sinners.

The Rev. S. C. Buttes, who styles himself "The Cowboy Evangelist," is creating great excitement at Amos, Va.

In order to demonstrate that sin lassoes a man or woman before they know it, he stands in the pulpit and uses a lariat. He singles out a person in the congregation and with a swing of the rope encircles it about the person's neck. The entire town is stirred up and hundreds are being converted.

Ingletarre Dairy.

We are now prepared to furnish all kinds of dairy products in quantities to suit the purchaser. Butter, thirty cents a pound; milk by the gallon, twenty five cents. Call phone 69.

MRS. O. L. JOYNER.

Last call.

If you wish to escape cost, be sure and pay your taxes by March 15th.

C. D. ROUNREE,
City Tax Collector.

Greensboro may be called even-tempered. The city election comes off the first Monday in May and though several correspondents have tried hard to get up some excitement the people refuse to get excited. They will remain in this attitude until a week or two from the time, then we can raise enough racket to last two years. Why stir up a lot of talk, mostly rot, so far in advance! Short, sharp, decisive campaigns result in the best officers and are the best all around.—Greensboro Record.

Editors out west still occasionally sling ink with breezy emphasis. For instance, a rival journalist recently aroused the ire of Editor Hayse, of the Belleville (Kan.) Telescope, and this is how the man named began his reply: "From time immemorial it has been customary for ants and fleas and flies and fools, scoundrels and scallwags and skunks, Januses, jackasses and Judases, lizards, leeches and lice to assail mankind in general and their superiors in particular. The attack last week," etc. Indianapolis News.

Well Again.

The many friends of John Blount will be pleased to learn that he has entirely recovered from his attack of rheumatism. Chamberlain's Pain Balm cured him after the best doctors in the town (Monon, Ind.) had failed to give relief. The prompt relief from pain which this liniment affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

Mr. Titus Carr Dead.

On Saturday afternoon Mr. Titus Carr, of Castoria, Greene county, died of Bright's disease. He had been in declining health for some time. Mr. Carr was about 62 years old, and was a leading citizen of his county.

Pulled Two.

This morning's train had on board about a hundred colored people who were going from Kinston to some point up the road to work on truck farms. After the train left Kinston Chief of Police J. T. Smith received a telegram from that town to arrest two of the darkies, who were wanted there for some crime. Capt. Smith met the train and when his brass buttons shined in the car one negro made a start to run, but got nabbed. The other darkey was also found and both of them were escorted down to the lock up.

Two Children Hurt.

Saturday morning while the wind was blowing hard a little girl of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lee went to pass through a gate. The wind blew the gate on the child, the force of the lick throwing her some distance. Her shoulder and face were painfully hurt.

Sunday afternoon Mr. J. N. Hart was out driving with his family. His little daughter was sitting on a box in the foot of the buggy, and as the horse made a short turn around a corner she was thrown out and one wheel of the buggy passed over her. Fortunately her injury was not serious.

MONDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 2, 1903.

THE HOOSIER SENATOR'S TILT WITH HISTORY.

Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, in a recent article in a Northern newspaper, reminds one of the type of Americans against whom J. Fenimore Cooper used to direct his scathing invective and satire. The subject of the youthful Hoosier is the greatness of our country, its superiority over every other land, and various other heads which would be termed "jingo" in war time. The article would be remarkable if it were not written in the author's unreasonably extreme view. With one hand grasping the American flag and the other squeezing the almighty dollar, the senator heroically brushes aside the history of thousands of years and declares that the supremacy of the United States is to be permanent—that for once history will slip a cog in repeating itself and allow us to rule the commerce, industry and civilization of the world even until the last blast from the horn of Gabriel. No one will deny the greatness of our country, and no one with a large view of things will agree that our country can have its rise and escape its fall. It is the way of the world—has been ever since man set up a government for his fellows. The voice of the Indian is Brodianagian, but his vision is the vision of the Lilliput.

"It may be nothing new for lawyers to refuse to prosecute a man because of friendship, but in these times you never hear of one refusing to appear for a man because of a belief in his guilt," says the Durham Herald. And where a lawyer tries to acquit a man in whose guilt he believes, there are two guilty ones, both deserving the punishment which our beautiful civilization too often withholds.

"But in all seriousness, it looks a little like Mr. Haywood is overdoing the thing by gobbling up all the local attorneys. Outraged public sentiment is a bad thing and this is what it may lead to," says the Greensboro Record. But not so bad a thing as public sentiment that can't be outraged.

The republican editors who, in convention in Washington, refused to endorse Theodore would do well to make some other arrangements for having their papers delivered to readers, as the United States post office department is the bogie man Theodore uses to punish naughty folks.

The society woman who obtained a divorce because a fortune teller told her she would be unhappy if she didn't probably helped the old man out of a hole. He would have been the unhappy one, without any assistance from the fortune teller.

Of course Smoot is a Mormon, but he washed away the stain by dining negroes.

Doubtless Booker Washington could give Theodore the address of a worthy colored gentleman who would consent to accept that cabinet position for the good of the party.

Just think of the possibility of having to choose between Hearst and Roosevelt for the presidency! Great snakes! What a magnificent place to take to the woods!

In the statehood matter the democrats may have been short on harmony but they were long on results.

We would suggest that everything that's coming to North Carolina be offered to Greensboro first.

The great statehood contest of the fifty-seventh congress is concluded without admission for any of the territories. While parliamentary tactics may keep the omnibus statehood bill, or the Spooner compromise, nominally before the senate for the remainder of the session, it is admitted by the friends of statehood that the battle is lost. The republican leaders now announce that next session they will secure the passage, on a strict republican vote, of a two-state bill, ignoring the democrats in the legislation. The final defeat of all statehood legislation at this session came as a result of the action of a democratic caucus which voted unanimously to reject the so called compromise proposed by the republican minority and which was never intended to be accepted.—Washington cor.

Mr. George S. Pritchard, of Goldsboro, representative of the Imperial Tobacco Company, of London, Eng., has been in Wilmington a couple of days. He came here to make a proposition to the Wilmington Tobacco Warehouse Company to lease the stemmery and prize house which the company will erect in connection with its big warehouse. The board of directors of the company have his proposition under advisement.—Wilmington Messenger.

A Baptist minister at Sparta, Mich., tore loose the other evening and said a number of true and unpleasant things of our public men. He offended those members of his congregation who placed their politics above their religion.—Washington Post.

Miss Cutting—She suffers a great deal for her beliefs. Morton—What are her beliefs? Miss Cutting—She believes she can wear a No. 2 shoe on a No. 4 foot and a 25 inch corset on a 32-inch waist.—Baltimore World.

Probably if our criminals could be tried in South Carolina and hers could be tried here they would stand a chance of getting what should be coming to them.—Durham Herald.

"Don't you think that a billion dollars is too much for any man to have?" "Yes," answered Senator Sorghum; "that is, for any other man to have."—Washington Star.

READ IT THROUGH.

'I would Spoil this Story to Tell it in the Headlines.

To use an 18th century expression, this is an "o'er true tale." Having happened in a small Virginia town in the winter of 1902, it is a story very much of the present. Up to a short time ago Mrs. John E. Harmon, of Melfa Station, Va., had no personal knowledge of the rare curative properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "Last January," she says, "my baby took a dreadful cold and at one time I feared she would have pneumonia, but one of my neighbors told me how this remedy had cured her little boy and I began giving it to my baby at once and it soon cured her. I heartily thank the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for placing so great a cure within my reach. I cannot recommend it too highly or say too much in its favor. I hope all who read this will try it and be convinced, as I was." For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

When the coal strike commission gets through with the strike case why not submit to it the Delaware deadlock.—Tarboro Southerner.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I run down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Jno. L. Wooten.

Mrs. Muggins—Is your husband a sound sleeper? Mrs. Buggins—Yes, indeed; the sound is something terrible.—Philadelphia Record.

Wakeup Children.

For a long time the two year old child of Mr. P. L. McPherson, 59 N. Tenth street, Harrisburg, Pa., would sleep but two or three hours in the early part of the night, which made it very hard for her parents. Her mother concluded that the child had stomach trouble and gave her half of one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which quieted her stomach and she slept the whole night through. Two boxes of these Tablets have effected a permanent cure and she is now well and strong. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

As to the Hearst presidential boom, the sooner it is the hearsed presidential boom, the better for the democratic party—Norfolk Landmark.

The Stomach is the Man.

A weak stomach weakens the man, because it cannot transform the food he eats into nourishment. Health and strength cannot be restored to any sick man or weak woman without first restoring health and strength to the stomach. A weak stomach cannot digest enough food to feed the tissues and revive the tired and run down limbs and organs of the body. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cleanses, purifies, sweetens and strengthens the glands and membranes of the stomach, and cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Jno. L. Wooten.

New lot of blank books and stationery for the business man. Reflector Book Store.

Colds are Dangerous.

How often you hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. It always cures and is pleasant to take. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

If it's a bilious attack, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and a quick recovery is certain. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

The Bible and Its Contents.

There are no less than 3,566,480 letters in the Bible, 773,697 words, 31,108 verses and 1,180 chapters.

The number of verses in the Bible commencing with A are 12,638; B, 2,207; C, 183; D, 17; E, 207; F, 1,797; G, 209; H, 1,164; I, 1,449; J, 158; K, 65; L, 411; M, 437; N, 961; O, 592; P, 149; Q, 4; R, 127; S, 1,088; T, 5,286; U, 83; V, 37; W, 1,396; X, none; Y, 359; Z, 17.

To read the Bible through in a year means reading three chapters every weekday and five chapters each Sunday.

All the letters of the alphabet are contained in the twenty-first verse of the seventh chapter of Ezra. The Bible was not divided into chapters, as it is now, until the thirteenth century. Early Hebrew Bibles were marked into sections and verses by means of accents, which served as marks to be observed in the eastern manner of reading. The work of dividing the Bible into chapters has been attributed by some to Stephen Langton. The division into verses was made by a printer of the name of Robert Stephens in 1548 and was adopted throughout all editions.

The American Language.

"It used to be considered a witticism to ask a man whether he spoke United States," said an English university man at the Lawyers' club the other day, "but there is in fact an American language, distinctive from the king's English not only in idioms and in the use of particular words, but in the clipping of words to save time and breath. On this side of the Atlantic one scarcely ever hears 'I have' and 'you are.' You hurrying Americans say 'I've' and 'you're.' You shorten up 'cannot' into 'can't,' and your purest speakers use 'don't' and 'won't' and it is almost a universal habit among Americans to clip the 'g' off words ending in 'ing.' Even your professors of English fail to sound the 'e' in 'righteous' and 'courtroom' and shorten 'knowledge' into 'knowledge.' I might recite scores of words that are practically shortened by a syllable in usage, and as usage makes language you Americans are gradually constructing a speech that is quite distinct from that form of English which Oxford and Cambridge are preserving with such care."—New York Times.

Falcon Lore.

No one can pretend to any acquaintance with English literature or even with the English language without being aware how deep an impress has been left upon them by the art and practice of falconry. Such words as "haggard," "eyrie," "mews," "cadger," "to 'lure," "to 'stoop," "to 'reclaim," all belonged originally to the falconer's jargon and were thence adopted into common parlance.

A whole host of well worn quotations, including the long misunderstood passage in Hamlet about the "hand saw" (heron saw), can only be properly explained by reference to the falconer's craft, and several of the most picturesque metaphors used by our best poets derive their virtue from the hawking field.—London Saturday Review.

Had His Money's Worth.

On one occasion when a boarder had devoured almost everything eatable on the table within his reach and when the landlady had supplied him until her strength and patience were well nigh exhausted she suddenly broke out with: "I shall certainly have to raise the price of your board!" "Don't think of doing such a thing," he replied. "It is nearly killing me now to eat all I pay for, and should you raise my board and compel me to eat more it will be the death of me."

How He Declined.

Lady—Doctor, I wish you would call around to see my husband some evening when he is at home. Do not let him know that I asked you because he declares he is not sick, but I know he has consumption or something. He's going into a decline.

Doctor—I am astonished, but I will call. What are his symptoms?

Lady—He hasn't any except weakness. He used to hold me on his lap by the hour, and now even the baby tires him.—West Union Record.

Something He Couldn't Invent.

Harold—That is Bessler, the famous inventor of the triple expansion engine, the automatic, double, back action, reversible, rapid fire gun, the compound electro hydro heated dynamo, the—

Rupert—But he looks distracted.

Harold—Yes; he can't invent a plausible excuse to give his wife for being late, and he daren't go home.

A Happy Hour.

He—Do you remember the night I proposed to you?

She—Yes, dear.

"We sat for one hour, and you never opened your mouth."

"Yes, I remember, dear."

"Believe me, that was the happiest hour of my life!"

He Was Lucky.

"Young man," said the pompous individual, "I did not always have this carriage. When I first started in life, I had to walk."

"You were lucky," chuckled the youth. "When I first started in life, I couldn't walk."—Chicago News.

The Real Thing.

Hewitt—I borrowed a policeman's uniform and put it on the other day.

Jewett—What did you do then?

"I don't know; I immediately fell asleep."—Smart Set.

If you would abolish avarice, you must abolish the parent of it, luxury.—Cicero.

His Own Crafty Way.

Fuslby—Human nature is a funny thing. It was said I had quit drinking, and everybody I met asked me to take something.

Glassly—And you couldn't accept? Poor fellow!

Fuslby—Oh, yes. I accepted every time. It was I who started the reformation story, you know.—Boston Transcript.

She "Hoped" For Their Happiness. The Newly Wed—Edith did the latest thing at our reception, and I'll never forgive her.

Cousin Jane—Why, what could it be? The Newly Wed—She addressed Charles in the most plying manner and said, "I hope you'll be happy." The way she uttered that word "hope" was positively unbearable.

She Wanted One Saved For Her. Young Miss Wilgus—Where are you going, papa?

The Rev. Mr. Wilgus—To the temperance meeting. We intend to inaugurate a movement to save the young men of the country.

Young Miss Wilgus—Try and save a nice one for me, will you, papa dear?—Portsmouth News.

Commercially Expressed.

The father of ten daughters listened silently to the solemn words that united his eldest to a millionaire.

"There!" he murmured as the tying of the knot was successfully concluded. "That's 10 per cent off for cash!"

Wrote a "Bad Hand."

During the war a paper from General Meigs passed through the hands of General Sherman and is today preserved with this indorsement upon it in General Sherman's well known hand: "I heartily concur in the recommendation of the quartermaster general, but I don't know what he says."

Generous.

Father (visiting son at college)—Pretty good cigars you smoke, my boy. I can't afford cigars like these.

Son—Fill your case, dad; fill your case!—Harvard Lampoon.

He Has to Work Hard Too.

Miss Sweetly—What's Mr. Hardup doing for a living now?

George—Oh, anything that his rich wife tells him.—Comic Cuts.

There Are Exceptions.

"It is said that all parsons' sons turn out to be worthless. Do you believe it?"

"Oh, dear, no! Some parsons have to sons, you know."

My Refuge.

The day has been long and dreary,
With ceaseless patter of rain,
And the dragging hours have brought me
Only some heartache and pain.
As I turn my sad face homeward,
The night drops down from above,
And my heart is yearning, yearning
For a touch of the arms I love.

The arms that have never failed me,
The refuge to which I flee;
All day, 'mid the jar of the city,
I dream of them waiting for me—
Dream of their rest and their welcome,
After a daytime of care;
O arms, outstretched in the gloaming,
O arms of my easy-chair!

Shad and Molasses.

Shad and herring are beginning to make their appearance in the markets in quantities, and daily our fishmongers are shipping them north but the price is so high none but the more well-to-do of our citizens can afford to buy them. We met a colored man Saturday afternoon taking home a large roe shad, for which he said he paid 80 cents. Asking him if he could afford to eat shad, he replied: "Boss, I get 60 cent a day, and shad is cheaper than meat. You see this is the way of it, I can stew this shad and put a pint of molasses in the gravy, and while the children eat the gravy me and the old woman can enjoy shad, and it will feed my family four days. You will never know how good shad is until you eat one sweetened with West Indian molasses."—Washington Messenger.

TRAGEDY AVERTED.

"Just in the nick of time our little boy was saved," writes Mrs. W. Watkins of Pleasant City, Ohio. "Pneumonia had played sad havoc with him and a terrible cough set in besides. Doctors treated him, but he grew worse every day. At length we tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and our darling was saved. He's now sound, and well. Everybody ought to know it's the only sure cure for Coughs, Colds and Lung diseases. Guaranteed by Wooten's Pharmacy. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial Cottles free.

MYSTERIOUS CIRCUMSTANCE

One was pale and sallow and the other fresh and rosy. Whence the difference? She who is blushing with health uses Dr. King's New Life Pills to maintain it. By gently arousing the lazy organs they compel good digestion and head off constipation. Try them. Only 25c, at Wooten's Pharmacy.

NEARLY FORFEITS HIS LIFE.

But Bueblen's Arnica Salve had no trouble to cure him. Equally good for Burns, Bruises, Skin Eruptions and Piles, 25c at Wooten's Pharmacy.
