What Constitutes Satisfaction?

The Century Dictionary is the most able authority and we will give it first say. "Satisfaction—the state of being satisfied; a gratified or contented feeling or state of mind; tranquility resulting from a gratified desire: content; gratification."

It is so simple to say "satisfaction guaranteed" the motto is trite, though its justification is rare enough. The mere returning of money paid for goods that prove unworthy is by no means satisfaction. This slight act of justice by no means repays a customer for the time spent in making the purchase, and for having to go and do it over again. It gives no gratification, produces no tranquility of mind. This kind of questionable satisfaction can be obtained almost anywhere nowadays, demanding varying degrees of insistence and inconvenience to secure it. The assurance of real satisfaction before the event as well as afterward is secured only in a store that is particular about its merchandise. This store has established a standard of quality that is universally maintained by expert knowledge. Thus we know, and that part of the public familiar with this store knows, that all purchases made here will, in the matters of quality, price and service throughout, give the satisfaction that produces in the purchaser a gratified or contented feeling or state of mind, tranquility resulting from a gratified desire.

Trot Them Out.

THE REFLECTOR has been asked by a statistical agency to furnish a list of people residing in Greenville who are worth $300,000 or more. We cannot think of anyone with that much lying around, nor does the tax list give an insight to such individual wealth. However, if any are playing mum on their wherewithal and are worth that much, not in imagination only, they can let it be known and we will forward their names. Don't all speak at once.

No Court.

The condition of the wife of Judge Ferguson will prevent his getting here at all for the March term of court, so no court will be held next week. Jurors and suitors need not attend. A special term of court will be held later to make up for this lost term.

Mr. Jesse L. Thigpin Dead.

News reached here today of the death of Mr. Jesse L. Thigpin, a native and former citizen of this county, who for the past year resided in Martin county. He was good man.

N. C. Soldiers in the War.

Raleigh, N. C., March 17.—In response to the letter sent out by Secretary of War Root concerning the proposed compilation of the rosters of the Union and Confederate armies during the war between the states, Governor Aycock today appointed Major B. F. Dixon, state auditor, to collect the material asked of North Carolina. Meetings will be held in each county of the state May 10th, to assist in securing the information required.

In speaking of Secretary Root's letter, Governor Aycock said it was one of the most graceful and courteous communications ever sent out from the north, in relation to the Union and the Confederate armies.

Here's Another Disciple.

The information that Webster's original blueback spelling book is in use in the Greensboro graded schools will doubtless be as sweet unction to the souls of the editors of the Observer, the Statesville Landmark, the Gastonia Gazette and other disciples of real scholarship. After learning the modern methods of spelling, as taught by Harrington and other authors, the pupils in the Greensboro schools are required to go through Webster's blueback from "bake:" to "incomprehensibility," nor is the illustrated fable of the boy and the apple tree omitted.—Greensboro Cor. Charlotte Observer.

This is The Truth.

When a fire burns well you can stop blowing it, but you've got to keep on feeding it to keep it alive. If you have a good thing and people believe in it you can safely stop blowing about it, but you'll need to keep on publishing the facts about it to keep it alive in the public mind.—Advertising World.

Notice to Jurors and Witnesses.

The March term of Pitt Superior court has been adjourned. All jurors and witnesses who were summoned for next week need not attend. O. W. HARRINGTON, Sheriff.

The water at Wrightsville Beach below Wilmington is warmer now much above 60 degrees F., than it is on the coast of Maine in mid-summer—and March sea bathing is a luxury our lower Cape Fear friends indulge in, so the Dispatch tells. All of North Carolina even out to the 3-mile limit, affords more good comfort and comforting things than any other spot on earth.—Raleigh Post.

PITT COUNTY STOCK LAW.

Section 1. That after the first day of January, 1904, it shall be unlawful for any live stock to run at large in that part of Pitt county lying west and south of the following line or boundary to-wit: Beginning on the west side of the public road leading from Greenville to Johnson's Mills at the stock law gate near Green's old mill and about one mile south of the town of Greenville, and running from thence with the west side of said road a southerly course down to Willis Cox's upper line; thence a straight line to Mary Gardiner's lower corner on the Washington road; then with her line to Sallie Bland's land; then with her back fence to the lower corner of her field; then a straight line to the northwest corner of M. M. Stoke's field; thence with the back fence of said field to the northeast corner of said field; thence a straight line to the northeast corner of J. G. Wilson's field; thence with said Wilson's fence to the new road; thence with the back fences of J. G. Wilson, J. W. Kirkman and J. W. Cannon to the Vanceboro road; thence with the fence on the east side of J. W. Cannon's farm to a point opposite the upper corner of Gardiner's fence; thence with his back fence to Gardiner's bridge; thence with the Craven county line to the stock law fence near Charles Dudley's.

Sec. 2. That in order to determine the wishes of the qualified voters residing between said line and the stock law territory now in existence in Pitt county west of said line, the Board of Commissioners of Pitt county shall, on the first Monday in April, 1903, order an election to be held in said territory on Tuesday the 5th day of May, 1903, with polling places at Winterville and Coxville, and all voters in said territory residing north of the public road leading from Haddock's Cross roads to Hanrahan shall vote at Winterville and all voters residing in said territory south of said road shall vote at Coxville. That said Board of County Commissioners shall at said meeting on the first Monday in April, 1903, appoint one registrar of voters and two judges of election for each of said voting places, and it shall be the duty of said registrars to open books of registration from the 15th day of April, 1903, from sunrise to sunset, until the said day of election (Sunday's excepted), and they shall attend at their respective polling places on each Saturday during said time from nine o'clock in the morning until five o'clock in the evening for the purpose of registering the qualified voters, and only such persons as were registered for the election held on the first Tuesday in November, 1902, and such as may have since become entitled to vote shall be deemed entitled to vote. The said election shall be held and conducted in the same manner as provided by law for the election of members of the general assembly.

Sec. 3. That all persons who are entitled to vote at said election and who may favor the establishing of such stock law territory, shall vote a written or printed ballot with the words, "For Stock Law," and those who are opposed to establishing such stock law territory shall vote a written or printed ballot with the words "Against Stock Law." That after the polls of election shall have been closed, the said registrars and judges shall make out under their hand, a report of the result of said election and return the same to the Board of Commissioners of Pitt county on the following Thursday, and for the purpose of canvassing said returns the said Board of County Commissioners are hereby authorized and directed to hold a special meeting on Thursday the 7th day of May 1903, and at such meeting they shall open said returns and declare and publish the result of election.

Sec. 4. That if a majority of the votes cast at said election be in favor of establishing said stock law territory, then and in that event the said territory shall be established and be consolidated with the stock law territory created by Chapter 386 of the public laws of 1901 and shall be subject to all the provisions contained in said Chapter. But if a majority of the votes cast be against the establishing of such stock law territory, then the same shall not be established and the provisions of this act shall be of no force and effect.

Fined $50.

This morning Sam Bryant, colored, was tried before Justice C. D. Rountree on the charge of cruelty to animals. It seems that a horse and a mule belonging to Sam had been neglected and left to starve and when found were in such condition that both animals had to be killed. Sam was fined $50 by Justice Rountree, and counsel for the defendant, Mr. F. G. James, took an appeal to Superior court.

Sam has the reputation of keeping the worst looking stock seen in this section.

Hearing Friday.

[Special to Reflector] Tarboro, N. C. March 19.—A preliminary hearing in the Baker-Bass tragedy will probably be held Friday morning. The warrant on which Dr. Baker is now out on bail only charges assault. Another warrant on the charge of killing will be heard Friday by Judge Brown in the Superior court. Dr. Baker has been notified and will return from Richmond, where he went Tuesday morning on professional business.

A Norfolk dispatch to the Post says Dr. Baker is in Norfolk and the guest of F. S. Royster.

LETTER TO R. A. TYSON.

Greenville N. C.

Dear Sir: H. M. Hooker & Co., Cooperston, N. Y., have sold Devoe paint for 42 years. D. T. McGown, of that firm, built a house in '85 and painted Devoe, of course. The paint lasted ten years.

A year or two later, a neighbor built a house, and painted it lead and oil. The neighbor's house was repainted twice in the same time.

This looks as if the neighbor's house was painted three times in eight or nine years, and McGown's once in ten years. We are not quite sure—we tell the tale as it comes to us.

It is enough to say that Devoe lead and zinclasts twice as long as lead and oil.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 19, 1903.

GREENVILLE MUST HAVE IMPROVEMENTS.

It cannot be told yet what will be the result of the bond election to be held in Greenville on the first Tuesday in April. But one thing is certain—Greenville must issue bonds and establish the contemplated improvements or be content to rank far behind all neighboring towns in the march of progress and business. Nearly every town around us, even those as small as Ayden, is pressing forward in the matter of improvements, and if Greenville refuses to act a loss of prestige and business will inevitably result. Already this town has been the loser by indifference or opposition to these matters. While Kinston has electric lights and a fairly good water supply, that town is not satisfied to stop with these, but is taking steps to issue bonds to the amount of $150,000 to make further improvements. The amount of bonds contemplated for Greenville is only $75,000, and of this amount $10,000 is specified for graded schools.

Greenville's natural advantages are superior to those of any neighboring town, but we need to show the faith of our own people in the town before we can expect to interest others. This can be done in no better way than by progress and improvements that will keep us abreast with other towns, and we put obstacles in the way of our own advancement when opposition to improvements is manifested. We hope every citizen of the town will consider this between now and the bond election.

Speaking of the suggestion recently made by THE REFLECTOR, that the jury system should be reformed that in trials for high crime the state can have an equal chance with the party on trial, the Statesville Landmark says:

Such a change as the REFLECTOR suggests should be made; The Landmark favors it and has often urged it. But such a change will not be easily accomplished. After the trial of the famous Shemwell murder case at Lexington the state press rang with denunciations of the travesty on justice and there was a universal demand for a change in the law. The State Press Association adopted resolutions demanding a change and the effort was made at the next session of the legislature, but it failed ignominiously. At the legislature just ended a bill was introduced to reduce the number of jury challenges allowed the defence in capital cases, but the bill was promptly killed in committee. So long as lawyers compose any considerable part of the legislature the changes suggested will never be made.

We get the following news item from the Scotland Neck Commonwealth:

Mr. C. T. Lawrence says the dogs have killed 23 of his lambs and 8 grown sheep for him this season, and Mr. W. P. Darden has lost all his lambs but one. Mr. Lawrence says that he is so discouraged he will leave off raising sheep.

Notwithstanding the profit that could be derived from sheep raising, farmers are deprived of the benefits of such industry by the depredations of worthless dogs, and it seems we cannot get a legislature in this state to enact a law that will exterminate the dogs and encourage so profitable an industry.

The treaty with Colombia for the construction of the Panama canal has finally been ratified by the senate, and the battle of the giants passes into history. Senator Morgan, of Alabama, sees the work of his life practically lost. Almost since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary he has contended most valiantly for the selection of the Nicaragua route. The United States will build the Panama canal, and will manage it according to the ideas of the powers that be.

"The epidemic of crime and the record breaking flood in the Mississippi river are enough to shake one's faith in the betterment of human affairs. Let us hope the tide will turn soon, when peace of passions, human and otherwise, will prevail," says the Morning Post. It will be noticed that the Post credits the Mississippi flood and other works of nature with having passion. Now there's philosophy and science that will make the professors weep.

Says the Greensboro Telegram.

Another shooting scrape for the thoughtful to philosophize over! What are we coming to anyway? Laws against pistol-toting won't do the work. It looks terribly like total depravity. And if it is, there is nothing to do but quietly accept the situation and pass to more pleasant thoughts.

The best remedy for this kind of total depravity is total hanging until dead, dead, dead.

Senator A. L. Blow has furnished THE REFLECTOR copies of the stock law bills for portions of Pitt county enacted by the recent legislature. We publish one of these today. The people living in and adjacent to these stock law territories will be interested in the provisions of these bills and we are glad to have the opportunity of printing them.

The papers are saying the Durham depot is almost in sight. Yes, almost, but—you'll see it when the ticket window opens.

A Boston paper says Massachusetts does the thinking for the United States. We thought something smelled bad

Operatives in Lowell, Mass., cotton mills are about to go out on a strike for higher wages. Massachusetts has our word for it that North Carolina will not attempt to butt in.

A college professor of Buncombe county is spending awhile in jail for not paying a fine of $25 imposed on him for refusing to be vaccinated. A man so insubordinate to the law has no business being in a school room to teach others.

A Pennsylvania office holder died from "nervous collapse, superinduced by the unusual perturbed condition of politics." Pennsylvania politics is surely rotten enough to kill the toughest thing alive, which is generally a Pennsylvania office holder.

"Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt says she has in her pocket evidence which would send 10,000 New Hampshire men to jail. But no one ever finds a woman's pocket," says the Durham Sun. A lady with a name like that, warbles the Greenville REFLECTOR, ought to devote her talents exclusively to mice and let the men alone. And just imagine, gentle reader, how crowded the New Hampshire jails would be if ten thousand additional prisoners entered, and how quiet New Hampshire towns would be with seven-eighths of the population peering from behind the bars.—Charlotte News.

Alice's Subterfuge.

Little Alice had no objection to going on an errand for her mother if she could pronounce the name of the article wanted. She dreaded the laugh which usually followed some of her attempts at a hard word. "Vinegar" was one of the most difficult, and her mother never sent her for this if she could get it any other way. One day however, Alice was obliged to go. Entering the store, and giving the jug to the grocer, she said: "Smell the jug, and give me a quart!"—Glasgow Evening Times.

If it's a bilious attack, take Chamberlin's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and a quick recovery is certain. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

Niagara is worth one thousand million dollars as a source of electrical power.

The American shoe manufacturer pays higher wages than the English manufacturer, but the cost of making a shoe is less because of the greater efficiency of the American workman

It takes ninety threads of the spider to equal in size one of the silkworm.

German investments in Brazil are said to aggregate more than $150,000,000.

What's in a Name?

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co. of Chicago, discovered, some years ago, how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles. For blind, bleeding itching and protruding Piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases, DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. Jno. L. Wooten.
