What Constitutes Satisfaction?

The Century Dictionary is the most able authority and we give it first say. "Satisfaction—the state of being satisfied; a gratified or contented feeling or state of mind; tranquility resulting from a gratified desire: content; gratification."

It is so simple to say "satisfaction guaranteed" the motto is true, though its justification is rare enough. The mere returning of money paid for goods that prove unworthy is by no means satisfaction. This slight act of justice by no means repays a customer for the time spent in making the purchase, and for having to go and do it over again. It gives no gratification, produces no tranquility of mind. This kind of questionable satisfaction can be obtained almost anywhere nowadays, demanding varying degrees of insistence and inconvenience to secure it. The assurance of real satisfaction before the event as well as afterward is secured only in a store that is particular about its merchandise. This store has established a standard of quality that is universally maintained by expert knowledge. Thus we know, and that part of the public familiar with this store knows, that all purchases made here will, in the matters of quality, price and service throughout, give the satisfaction that produces in the purchaser a gratified or contented feeling or state of mind, tranquility resulting from a gratified desire.

Circumstantial Evidence.

Monday night March 23rd, Sun & Flower will present their melodrama "Circumstantial Evidence" in 4 acts at the opera house. The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot correspondent at Suffolk on Thursday night, March 19:

"Circumstantial Evidence held the boards at the City Hall theatre this evening and quite a large crowd attended the performance. The characters being all good, the show was very good. The scenery was beautiful. It was a show that everyone should have seen and it has doubtless caused a great many not to have jumped at conclusions to soon. It was one of the best dramas ever presented to the public in Suffolk."

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 21, 1903.

A negro, black as the one-spot of spades, married a white girl in a fashionable Washington church recently. The girl is American born but of Swedish extraction. There is a lesson for the South in this incident—we must keep our country's best and purest blood free from the taint of mongrel-blooded foreigners. The majority of immigrants to this country which come from Teutonic countries are not born with the same repugnance to such mesalliances as is the first instinct of the Southern-born. They often adopt our views but in their hearts they fail to see why blacks are not as good as whites. North Carolinians are a pure-blooded race, and the happiness of the commonwealth depends, in a great measure, upon keeping up the purity of the best we breed.

Says the Morning Post:

The Wilmington Messenger raises the question, "Can Mr. Roosevelt visit Hawaii?" of course referring to the unwritten law that the incumbent of the White House can not depart the territory of the United States.

He certainly "can," so far as we are concerned, and, without waiting for our permission, he can keep right on a goin'.

SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP

Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

"When I had an attack of the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, Editor of the Enterprise, Shortsville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I at times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy caused it to not only be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bid me adieu." For sale by Wooten's Drug Store.

A woman never realizes how many men she could have married until she finds herself left at the post.

The Stomach is the Man.

A weak stomach weakens the man, because it cannot transform the food he eats into nourishment. Health and strength cannot be restored to any sick man or weak woman without first restoring health and strength to the stomach. A weak stomach cannot digest enough food to feed the tissues and revive the tired and run down limbs and organs of the body. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cleanses, purifies, sweetens and strengthens the glands and membranes of the stomach, and cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Jno. L. Wooten.

An old bachelor says that a marriage dowry is a lump of sugar intended to nullify the bitterness of the dose.

Danger of Colds and Grip.

The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure a cold or an attack of the grip in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I run down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Jno. L. Wooten.

PROCLAMATION

—BY THE—

Mayor of Greenville,

Giving Notice of an Election to be held in said town on the 7th day of April, 1903.

Whereas, the General Assembly of North Carolina, at its present session has passed an act entitled "An act to authorize the town of Greenville to issue bonds," to an amount not exceeding sixty-five thousand dollars, for works of internal improvements, if approved by the voters of said town;

And another act entitled "An act to establish a Graded School in the town of Greenville," and providing for the issuing of ten thousand dollars of bonds for the erection and equipment of the necessary buildings therefor, if a majority of the qualified voters of the said town shall so direct;

And whereas, by the terms of said acts, the board of aldermen of the town of Greenville were required at a meeting to be held on or before the first Thursday in March, 1903, to appoint a registrar and two judges of election for each of the wards of said town, to hold and conduct said election;

And whereas, the mayor of said town is required by said acts to issue his proclamation at least 20 days before said election, giving notice of said election and designating therein the persons chosen to conduct the same, and the exact place in each ward where said election is to be held;

Now therefore, I, Harry W. Whedbee, mayor of the town of Greenville, do, in accordance with said acts, issue this my proclamation giving notice to the qualified voters of the said town of Greenville as follows:

1. That an election will be held in the town of Greenville, at the several places in the several wards of the said town, on Tuesday, the 7th day of April, 1903, (it being the first Tuesday in April, 1903,) for the purpose of taking the sense of the voters of said town on the ratification or rejection of the provisions of said acts. Those who favor the issuing of said bonds for the purposes specified in the act entitled "An act to authorize the town of Greenville to issue bonds" will vote a ticket on which shall be written or printed the words "For Bonds," and those desiring to vote against them shall vote a ticket on which shall be written or printed the words "Against Bonds." Those persons who favor establishing graded schools in accordance with the provisions of an act entitled "An act to establish a graded school in the town of Greenville" shall vote a ballot on which shall be written or printed the words "For the Schools," and those who are opposed thereto shall vote a ballot on which shall be written or printed the words "Against the Schools."

2. That at the meeting of the board of aldermen of the said town held on the first Thursday in March, 1903, (it being the 5th day of March, 1903,) it was ordered that said election be held in the several wards at the following places to-wit:

- First ward, at the old Eborn house on the corner of Second and Greene streets.
 - Second ward, at the residence of J. N. Booth on Third street.
 - Third ward, at the court house.
 - Fourth ward at J. H. Stikey's store at Five points.
 - Fifth ward, at the Farmers' warehouse, on Dickinson avenue.
- That at said meeting on said 5th day of March, 1903, the said board of aldermen appointed the following named persons as registrars and judges of election, to register the voters and conduct the said election in the several wards as follows to-wit:
- First ward—Henry Harding, registrar. B. T. Bailey and W. J. Cowell, judges of election.
 - Second ward—J. N. Booth, registrar. Allen Warren and J. L. Starkey, judges of election.
 - Third ward—L. W. Lawrence, registrar. G. E. Harris and J. D. Garden, judges of election.
 - Fourth ward—J. G. Bowling, registrar. T. E. Hooker and G. C. Moore, judges of election.
 - Fifth ward—J. C. Lanier, registrar. W. H. Dail, Jr., and J. S. Tinstall, judges of election.
- I therefore give notice that said election will be held at the places designated above in the several wards and conducted by the persons above designated as registrars and judges of election.
3. It is also provided in said acts that there shall be an entirely new registration of the voters of said town, and that the registrars of the several wards shall attend at the above designated voting places on Thursday, Friday and Saturday next preceding the election, from 2 o'clock p. m. to sunset each day, for the purpose of registering all persons entitled to register, and who have not been registered, but the said registrars may, for convenience, register any person entitled to register at his home or at any other place in said town. Notice is therefore given that all who desire to vote must register before the day of election, as only those can vote whose names are found on the registration books.

4. It is provided by the 9th section of the act entitled "An act to authorize the town of Greenville to issue bonds" that at the same time and places as above set out there shall be elected five citizens of the said town, who shall be known and designated as the Board of Internal Improvements for said town. Notice is therefore given that each voter entitled to vote for or against bonds will also be entitled to vote in a separate box for five citizens to constitute said Board of Internal Improvements.

5. That it is provided by the 6th section of the act entitled "An act to establish a graded school in the town of Greenville," that at the election above provided for, to be held on the 1st Tuesday in April, 1903, there shall be also a separate election to determine and select fourteen trustees of said school and a separate box provided for same, which trustees shall be the trustees of the said school for the terms for which they have been elected. In the event the said schools shall have been established as above provided, to-wit: Two persons whose terms shall expire on 30th day of June, 1904; two persons whose terms of office shall expire on 30th day of June, 1905; two persons whose terms of office shall expire on 30th day of June, 1906; two persons whose terms of office shall expire on 30th day of June, 1907; two persons whose terms of office shall expire on 30th day of June, 1908; two persons whose term of office shall expire on 30th day of June, 1909; two persons whose term of office shall expire on 30th day of June, 1910.

Notice is therefore given that all persons who are entitled to vote for or against the schools will be entitled to vote in separate box for trustees as above set out.

Given under my hand at the mayor's office in Greenville this 6th day of March, A. D. 1903.
HARRY W. WHEDBEE,
Mayor.

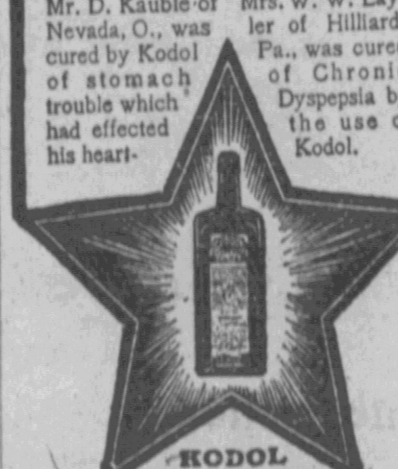

Colds are Dangerous.

How often you hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. It always cures and is pleasant to take. Sold by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

A MYSTERY OF FORT FISHER

(Original.)

One of the unsolved problems of the storming of Fort Fisher related to Commander Hervey. It will be remembered that there was a naval attack by bluejackets which was repulsed with considerable loss. Hervey's body was found in a depression in the sand in the extreme advanced position reached by his men of the Junata. A handkerchief (not Hervey's) had been used for a tourniquet to stop the flow of blood from the commander's left ankle, which had been shattered and the artery cut by a rifle ball. The wounded man must have been killed subsequently by a fragment of a shell which had struck him in the head. Who had saved the captain in the first instance? It must have been some one who had been killed in the action, for no one claimed the credit.

Some time before the Junata, which Hervey commanded, joined the fleet she was refitted at the Portsmouth navy yard. Commander Hervey's family were there in one of the officers' residences, including his daughter, Irene, a girl of seventeen. There was a petty officer—not commissioned, but an enlisted man—named Edgar Foristall, who was coxswain of the captain's dingy. He used to carry Irene in the dingy to and from the Junata. On such occasions she sat in the stern of the boat beside the coxswain. Though very young, she knew well the difference in station between enlisted men and officers and that it was not becoming to have anything to say to the coxswain. When any of her family, associates or officers were in the dingy, she never made a remark to young Foristall, but when none of these was present she waxed quite friendly. Later Foristall was in the action at Fort Fisher, was severely wounded and was promoted for bravery.

Ten years passed. One day Irene Hervey was present at the launching of a United States cruiser. A superintendent of one of the departments of the works that had built the vessel stepped up to her and asked her if she remembered him. She did not, and he informed her that he was the coxswain who used to carry her in her father's dingy to and from the Junata. Irene's face lighted up at once. She was especially pleased at meeting Foristall as a citizen and not as an enlisted sailor.

"I have never seen you," she said, "since the Junata left us for the attack on Fort Fisher. I saw the notice of your promotion for bravery, however."

"Oh, everybody was brave on that occasion," said the young shipbuilder. "But it is pleasant to be singled out from the throng."

At that moment the ship was launched and the remarks were interrupted. Nevertheless they were the beginning of a renewed acquaintance on a different basis from that of blue-jacket and captain's daughter. Irene had treasured a remembrance of the black-eyed boy who used to sing out the orders to his oarsmen so lustily, though he had changed so much in appearance that she had not recognized him. The new man proved so attractive to her that her heart slipped into his possession. Then she was pleased that he offered her his own in exchange. But what was her delight when he opened the case of his watch and showed her a little lock of her hair that he had surreptitiously cut from her "pigtail" one morning when she was on his dingy.

They were engaged, and in time the day was set for the wedding, but, unfortunately, one evening when Irene was in a bad humor she let fall a remark indicating that she still had some of the feeling that a captain's daughter might have for a bluejacket. Foristall at once broke the engagement. Irene when she had cooled longed to recall him, but it is not an easy thing for a woman thus to humble herself. So she pined and moped till her mother found something for her to do in getting up material for a biography of her father to be published with those of other naval officers who had fallen in the civil war.

She was thus engaged when she came upon a packet marked "Papers found on Commander Hervey's body." Opening it, she took out several letters, shuddering that they had been drenched in her father's blood, and examined them in turn. Suddenly she came upon a few scarcely legible words on the back of one of the letters scrawled with some blunt instrument, possibly a finger tip:

"Coxswain saved me. They will hit me yet."

Like a flash from heaven the secret attending her father's death burst upon her. For years she had wondered who was the man who had carried her father to a less exposed position and had bound up his wound. Was he young or past middle life? Was he dark or fair? Why had fate deprived her of the satisfaction of taking his hand and expressing something of what she felt with her lips and her eyes? And now she knew that this man was the young tar who had stolen a lock of her hair, whom she had wounded by a reference to their former relative positions.

"Come to me at once," she wrote. "I love the bluejacket better than the shipbuilder."

After the first transports of the meeting were over she said:

"Tell me, Edgar, why you kept the secret."
"It was because I loved you and knew that our stations were too far apart for you to return my love. I would not place you under an obligation nor be content with your thanks."

For the health she now enjoys she gives credit to Wine of Cardui. She writes:

"I have found Wine of Cardui an excellent remedy for female trouble. I suffered for three years with terrible bearing-down pains at the menstrual period. I could hardly stand on my feet and was never real well. Wine of Cardui was the only medicine that I could depend on to do me any good, as I tried several with no success. Wine of Cardui cured me and I have now enjoyed perfect health for two years, and give you all the credit for I know you deserve it."

For a young girl Wine of Cardui is the best remedy to guide her through womanhood by starting the menstrual flow in a healthy and natural manner. Menstruation started right is very easy to keep regular through the years of mature womanhood. Then the "change of life" need not be feared. Thus Wine of Cardui is woman's best relief from youth to old age. A million women have secured blessed relief from their sufferings by taking this treatment. It relieves menstrual troubles in an incredibly short time. In a simple case of deranged menses Wine of Cardui never fails. If you would have the same relief which Miss Markell secured try Wine of Cardui. You can take it without an examination and without any publicity whatever. You can take it in the privacy of your home and secure just as much benefit as if a doctor had prescribed it for you. NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., March, 21.

Miss Annie Stox, who has been spending some months in Raleigh with Mrs. W. J. Wyatt, returned Friday morning. Ben Manning didn't have no more sense than to tell sister Boney how glad he was to see her and he was not the only one. She says she never got so many hugs and kisses in her life before.

Rev. G. N. Cowan, of Kinston, preached in the Baptist church here Wednesday night. He also gave an educational lecture before the Winterville High School Thursday afternoon. Both the sermon and lecture were excellent.

Miss Clyde Dawson, of Grifton, spent Wednesday at Mrs. J. D. Cox's, returning home Wednesday evening.

Mayor Blow and little Leitha Fair, his best girl, spent Friday in Greenville.

When a farmer goes to select a tobacco truck about the first thing he wants to know is what they all cost. Nine cases out of ten he will select the cheapest one if he thinks he can make out with it. Realizing this fact and that the farmer cannot afford to pay fancy prices for a single truck when to use them to the best advantage he must at least have a set of three, the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. have invented and had patented a little truck, the name of which will be given later, that no man has yet and we predict that no one will, during the season, ask them to take a cent less than the price asked for it. If you don't know what that price is you can easily find out.

The Baptist church has a new organ. It just came this week. We will find out Sunday, no doubt, that it adds a great deal to the song service.

Miss Maggie Kollins, of Whichards, came Thursday to spend some time with Miss Mollye Bryan.

C. C. Dawson and little Irma Isabelle left Friday to spend Saturday and Sunday with their brother, Dr. Dawson, of Grifton.

Mrs. W. J. Wyatt and children, of Raleigh, came down Friday morning to spend the summer at G. E. Jackson's, near here.

Rev. Mr. Eure, of Ayden; Wiley Brown, of Greenville, and others met here Wednesday to lay plans for the erection of a Methodist church here at once. The lot has been selected for some time.

We see from the News and Observer that the Winterville Mfg. Co. is incorporated and we see from the way they are going ahead with their building that they will soon be ready for business. They inform us that orders are already coming in.

Dr. Livingston Johnson, of Raleigh, will preach at the Baptist church here tonight at 7:30 o'clock, also Sunday morning and night. We hope to keep him part of next week.

Buggy Damaged.

Mr. W. T. Mason drove his horse out to the depot Friday evening, and as he was about to get in his buggy, after the train passed, his horse ran away. The buggy was upset and considerably damaged. After getting free from the buggy the horse ran only a short distance before he stopped and went to nibbling grass just like nothing had happened.

Gov. Aycock has a kind heart and has perhaps made mistakes in his exercise of the pardoning power, but no one can criticize him on the score of showing mercy to those who have sinned against woman, the sanctity of the home, or the marriage tie. Seducers and adulterers find no soft spot in his heart; he has no patience with such offenders—Webster's Weekly.
