NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., March, 25.

Misses Hattie and Effie Kittrell spent Sunday at Maple Cypress.

Rev. W. E. Cox spent last night with his mother, Mrs. Evelyn Cox.

Looks like a pity to take a nice new Hunsucker buggy out in such weather as we have been having of late, nevertheless, some have gone out just the same.

Miss Annie Stocks has accepted a position in the office of A. G. Manufacturing Co.

Rev. Livingston Johnson, of Raleigh, preached for us Saturday and Sunday night. It is a feast to the soul to hear him.

Miss Lena Spain, one of the teachers of the Winterville High School, went home last night. We hope to have her back soon.

Matt. Slaughter & John Nichols, were in to see us today. Come again boys.

Miss Lena Hines' school closed last week. We know her home people are glad of it, if the school children are not.

Mrs. J. B. Galloway and "Aunt Patsy" spent Sunday with their children students here.

J. A. Jarrell, of Renston, was here Tuesday.

It is nothing unusual to see a big wagon load of wire fence pass by from the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.'s fence factory.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carroll spent Sunday with friends and relatives here.

Rev. Mr. Johnson lectured for the Ladies' Missionary Society Sunday p. m. at four o'clock.

Mrs. Lula Uzzell and children are visiting her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Cox.

Mrs. J. C. Cox is visiting her children here this week.

In addition to our churches we are hoping to have three more soon—Methodist, Free Will Baptist and Episcopal.

See, 'phone or write, A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. for wire fence, farm and garden any height. It will be woven promptly if not already on hand.

We may look for a little better weather than we have had lately, "Old Maids" are getting out some now.

Will Speak in Greenville.

Col. John S. Cunningham president of the N. C. Farmers Protective Association will be in Greenville and deliver an address the first Saturday in April at the meeting of the Pitt County Branch Farmers Protective Association.

Every farmer in the county and the public at large should come out and here Col. Cunningham he is a good speaker, a man of good sound common sense and is probably the largest farmer in the state.

Young Bond Holder.

Greenville possibly has the youngest bond holder in the country, in the person of little Miss Nancy Elizabeth King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. King. She is only seven days old, yet an investment has been made in her name in the Masonic temple bonds.

Street Concert.

The Star Boarder Company have a splendid band along. They gave an open air concert about noon today that was enjoyed by everybody in hearing, and also had a street parade.

The man who most frequently begs pardon cares the least whether he gets it.

Cleveland on Success.

Grover Cleveland contributes an article to The New York World on "Success and the Use of Adversity in Attaining it," in which he says:

"We see among these such a large proportion who have won and who on their way to greatness, fame and wealth have overcome obstacles that we are apt to unconsciously look upon these obstacles as in themselves helpful factors in building up success. A moment's reflection, however, presents them in their true light as being in their unadulterated condition ugly and troublesome hindrances. It is only when, by the chemistry of God, they are mixed with certain other elements and are subjected to the action of certain solvents, that they may be transmitted to useful stimulants in man's highest and best efforts.

"He who is seeking success finds adversity in his path must, if he is to win, bring to his aid determination, persistence and unflinching courage. These will not permit him to fail. Instead they will urge him to stern struggle, and thus he will be so strengthened in his moral and mental sinews and so developed in the muscles of his character that will not only win the battle immediately pressed upon him, but will gain a training and a fitness promising future triumphs in the arena of high achievements.

"If we would justly determine the state of our account with adversity we must strike a balance between the value of those lost, because they are too timid or too feeble or too irresolute to fight to a finish, and those saved, who are brave, strong and unconquerable, and have not only won their adversity, but have brought from the encounter into the world's activities stout hearts and sturdy arms, fit to challenge any emergency of daring advance and enterprise.

"The timid and weak that the lost can well be spared. The brave who win the fight are saved for great and noble things, and so adversity may become a powerful agency in the production of man's best success."

Never Leaves Bed.

Though he is in perfect health, Baron Ortel, a wealthy Russian nobleman, has not left his bed even for one half hour during the last 10 years. He claims that in order to remain in good health one must sedulously refrain from taking any kind of physical exercise and that his own excellent health during the last decade is due to the fact that he has not exerted his body in any way. On the other hand, he maintains that the brain should be kept constantly at work, and therefore he spends much of his time every day consulting with his stewards about the management of his vast estate and making plans and estimates for proposed improvements. He is propped up in bed while he talks to his stewards, and whenever he travels he lies in a bed which has been specially made for him.

Spring Greeting

Everybody is invited to come and examine our New and Handsome Spring Suits, Our Beautiful Spring Haberdashery, Our new Hats.

and the many other things we have to clothe and trim Men, Boys and Children. No flowers, no pomp, no expensive souvenirs—nothing but the most perfect wearing apparel for mankind and the best values on earth to greet the eye and gladden the hearts of our visitors. Every foot of space offers something new, exclusive and attractive for the coming Spring and Summer months. * * * * *

We extend a special invitation to Parents. We want them to come and bring the little men to see the beautiful New Clothing in our Children's Department. Big line of Wash Suits. * * * * *

We want everybody to come and we hope everybody will come. Don't come to buy, but come to see what's to be seen.

FRANK WILSON

THE KING CLOTHIER.

Opening Day

The New White Front

will be opened on

Thursday, March 26, 1903,

at nine o'clock sharp.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to call and inspect the beautiful new spring styles. This being a specialty store, devoted to supplying the wants of the ladies, places it in a position to meet all reasonable requirements of the trade. Our buyer, Mr. Clarence M. Jones, has spared no pains in searching the markets for the newest and most desirable class of Dress Goods, Trimmings, Laces, Embroideries, White Goods, Shoes, and everything requisite to complete a lady's toilette.

Remember this is a new store, with brand new goods—no old styles or shopworn goods to sell. The policy of this store will be to always show desirable new ideas as fast as they come out.

Hoping to see all our friends on the opening day. Very truly yours,

JAMES F. DAVENPORT

Too much pie is apt to make a man more crusty than pious.

Experts are guided in their judgment of liquors by the smell; those who taste are more or less misguided.

An eccentric man is one who praises his neighbors—but he is never considered so by the aforesaid neighbors.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 25, 1903.

A sad, pitiful story is told in the Charlotte Observer. A young woman of South Carolina met a young man from this state and after a short acquaintance married him—at least went through the form of a marriage ceremony. The girl's mother objected to the marriage, so she ran away. The man took her to Charlotte, and three weeks from the time she thought she became a bride she was deserted, the brute having taken every penny of her money before going away. It also developed that the man had a wife before he met this girl. Hanging would be none to bad for such a villain as that man.

The latest fad of New York's 400 is to receive a lady of color in their circle. When the newspapers got hold of it they smoothed the matter over by saying she was only teaching them to cake walk.

It is reported that the St. Louis exposition is again to be postponed one year. We wish it would hold off until North Carolina gets out of debt, or at least able to raise a larger jack pot than $10,000.

From the action of the Virginia legislature in refusing to appropriate $200,000 for her Jimtown exposition it appears that North Carolinians are not the only poor white folks on the map.

Contrast our beautiful spring weather with the snow storms raging in Missouri and Kansas and be convinced that this is the garden spot of the world.

Little Cuba will put up a $100,000 appropriation for an exhibit at the St. Louis exposition. That takes the shine off of North Carolina.

None of "our best people" have been induced by six-shooters to turn their toes to the stars for the past few days.

By all means let us hear what Mr. Cleveland thinks of Mr. Bryan's opinion of Mr. Watterson though's on the situation.

France to China: Stop that fuss over there or I'm coming.

That was a smartly written letter that came to The Observer from Lincoln, and advised, in a satirical way, that a home for fallen men be organized in this city to kind of offset or equalize the good effects of the home for fallen women. But there are no fallen men, you know. Take a man from the gutter and dress him in a new suit of clothes, or let a man be free from debauch for 24 hours and you would have to use a club to persuade him that he is fallen. That is just one of the mild, little in-offensive ways of a man.—Idle comment in Charlotte Observer.

Professional burglars blew open the safe in the post office at Mt. Olive and got about $300.

The Sagacious Whale.

There was a whale up near the pole
And he was wondrous wise;
For lunch he ate an iceberg whole
And froze up both his eyes.

And when he saw his eyes were ice
With all his might and main
He drank the gulf stream in a trice
And thawed them out again.

—New York Herald.

A Woman's Reason.

"Why do I love you, dear? Because?"
She faltered, and her cheeks grew red,
"Why do I love you? Why?"—a pause—

"You ask such awful questions, Ned;
"Why do I love you, dear? Because—
Because Oh, I don't know," she said.

"One cannot love by logic's laws,
Now, can they?" Here she hung her head;

"Why do I love you, dear? Because?"
—Neuvain.

He Calls for a Hand Primary, with Disappointing Results.

Madison, Wis., March 19.—United States Senator Tillman, of South, delivered an address on "The Negro Question from a Southern Standpoint" before an audience of 1,800 University students, citizens and lawmakers tonight. He was greeted with the stirring University yell.

A rather sensational incident occurred while Senator Tillman was discussing the Indianola post office case. After stating the Southern view of the affair, he asked whether the audience approved of President Roosevelt's action, and there was applause. Being uncertain whether the applause was intended as an indorsement of the president's action, the senator asked how it was meant. He was told that it was meant as an endorsement of the president. This aroused the senator. He went into the details of the Indianola affair and when he concluded, he asked his hearers whether it would not have been better for the president to have kept the office open and punished the few hot-heads that caused the trouble than to have punished the entire community by closing the office, requesting those to raise their hands who supported the president's action. Only a few raised their hands.

We cannot wonder at the frightful conditions in New England. All the good men and women of that section, ever since they sold their slaves and were driven from the slave trade, have been so constantly occupied in looking after the morals of the South that they have forgotten their own.—Raleigh Times.

The Heast presidential boom has been invited to North Carolina. That state is becoming egotistic over the recuperative powers of its health resort.—Newport News Times-Herald.

Algy—So you asked old Jones for his daughter's hand? What did he say? Ferd.—He said, Take her, and let me be happy.—Puck.

"De Gall is what you might call cheeky, eh?" "Cheeky! That fellow has so much cheek that they charge him double for a shave!"—Judge.

Judge—You say that Squigge is an unthinking, careless individual? Fudge—should say so! Why, that man actually admits that he hasn't picked out the man who is sure to be elected mayor.—Baltimore Herald.

MUNFORD'S BIG STORE.

March is Here--Spring Enthusiasm Permeate the Store.

Diffused through every aisle and floor is the sweet fragrance of Spring Merchandise. Crisp and bright as the morning glory, stocks shimmer in the blaze of newness. The store season is far more advanced than the weather.

Millinery, Garments, Lingerie, and other wearables blossom into completeness--the showing is superb, reflecting the highest type of apparel from the world's best conjurers of fashion.

Below, on the surface floor, Silks, Dress

Goods, Wash Fabrics and a host of other stocks are making their Spring debut. Human ingenuity has exercised exquisite taste. You observe it in the designs and weaves; it is spread before you in the ready-to-don things.

Wherever novelty breathes charm C. T. Munford's Big Store has it.

You are welcome, of course, whether as an observer or purchaser. The store is yours to enjoy in the broadest sense of the meaning.

THE PANTS JEMIMY MADE.

The day I first put on those pants I held a break-up plow—
The farmers of these later days don't have such wrassles now—
So back and forth and back and forth I plowed and plowed that day;
I tackled every rock and snag that dared dispute my way;
Until the only critter left was one old maple stump,
And I?—I gave the team the gad, and took 'er on the jump!
She split in halves, and through I went; but back she slapped, ker-whack!
And gripped Jemimy's pantaloons right where she'd left the slack.
The team was going double quick—the oxen plunged along—
I held the old oak handle-bars—I gripped 'em good and strong—
And there I was, the living link 'twixt stump and plow because
The cloth it stuck there good and tight between those maple jaws.
Jemimy never planned on that in making pants for me;
She made 'em solid, yet, of course, she gave no guarantee
That they would stand a yank like that—but still I clung and yelled;
Those oxen plunged and tussled, and—Jemimy's pants, they held!
And the stump came out a-kicking, roots and dirt and stones and all,
But those pants weren't even started by that most tremendous haul.
And to prove this 'ere is truthful, should some scoffer cast a doubt,
I have saved the chips and hewings where they came and chopped me out.
H. F. Day.

Nice Shoe Display.

In one window of A. E. Tucker & Co's store is an attractive display of ladies' shoes, all kinds and styles for spring and summer wear. The display embraces oxfords, sandals, strap sandals and buttons of the famous C. & E. makes. Comfortable shoes are a luxury, and it looks like anyone could find a comfortable and stylish fit in such a display as this.

The Haywood Case.

Raleigh, N. C., March 23.—The criminal court for Wake county was convened here today, Judge M. H. Justice, of Rutherfordton, presiding.

Four witnesses in the case of Ernest Haywood, charged with the murder of Ludlow Skinner, on February twenty-first were examined by the grand jury and in less than a half hour a true bill, charging Haywood with murder, was returned to the court. Haywood will be arraigned in court in the morning. Solicitor Armistead Jones, because of relationship and friendship to Haywood, asks to be relieved of the prosecution. This will name Walter E. Daniel, solicitor of the second district, who is one of the prosecuting counsel, as solicitor for the case. The trial will begin either Friday afternoon or Saturday morning.

Riot in Port of Spain.

Kingston, St. Vincent, March 23.—A serious riot was in progress at half past two this afternoon, in Port of Spain, Trinidad, according to a dispatch just received from that city. A mob attempted to burn the government building there and the police had to fire on the rioters, killing or wounding several of them. The British cruiser Pallais at the time the dispatch left, was landing blue jackets.

The rioting was due to the refusal on the part of the government to withdraw an ordinance, concerning the new water works, to protest against which several public meetings had been held. A demonstration was made during today's meeting of the legislative council and finally the mob stoned the government buildings and set fire to it. The riot act was read and the police fired on the mob. The city is in a state of great excitement.

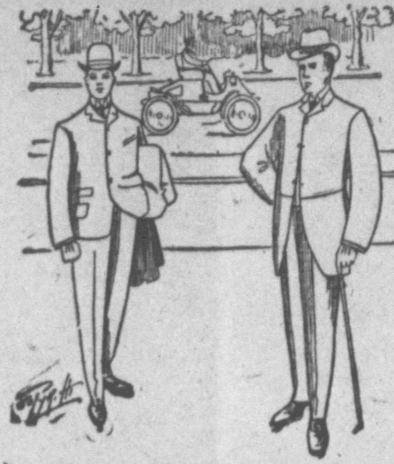

Safe Blowers at Mt. Olive.

Mt. Olive had a sensation yesterday morning. When the postmaster opened the postoffice it was found that the safe had been blown open and $200 in funds and a lot of stamps taken.

The door of the safe had been blown off with such force that it was carried through a brick wall into the store of Mr. A. F. Albritton next door.

People heard the explosion and were aroused but failed to realize what the noise was until yesterday morning when the startling facts were made known.

The robbers got about $200 in cash and a large amount of stamps. It is believed that the robbers are professionals.—Wilmington Messenger.
