Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch.
Miss Eva L. Dunning, of Cleveland, Ohio, a noted reader and impersonator, will appear at the opera house impersonating the above popular character in six scenes, Monday evening, April 13th. General admission, 25c; reserved seats, 35c; children, 15c. Seats on sale at Bureh's.

Miss Dunning comes to Greenville under the auspices of Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows. It will be a rare treat to those who attend.

Mrs. M. A. Jarvis request the honor of your presence at the marriage of her daughter Mary Elizabeth to

Mr. Richard Williams Thursday evening, April sixteenth nineteen hundred and three at nine o'clock St. Paul's Church Greenville, North Carolina

No cards were sent to friends residing in Greenville, but an invitation is extended to all.

Says He Must Have It.

Messrs Leon H. Cox and W. E. Howard, of Coxville, were in to see The REFLECTOR Monday, and Mr. Cox took away three sewing machine tickets with him. He said he never got to taking the paper until about five years ago, but likes it so well that he does not intend to be without it any more.

Bullocks Give a Good Show.

Monday night Bullock's All Star Company appeared in the opera house and gave one of the best entertainments that has been here this season. It was a clean attraction, full of specialties, and interesting from start to finish. The four Bullock children, aged respectively 4, 8, 10 and 12 years, in their character impersonations and songs, were really marvelous in the excellence of their work on the stage. The coon song and dance by Miss Bessie Bullock was the hit of the evening.

The singing of the older members of the company, in solo and quartetto, was splendid, the voices being as good as have been heard here.

Ernest Linwood in his monologue was very amusing. The wire walking feats were also good. All who were present greatly enjoyed the entire performance and speak highly of it.

There will be another entertainment tonight with change of program.

The records of the immigration bureau show that during March, 65,376 immigrants landed in New York. On April 1, the ships arriving in New York harbor brought 10,000 immigrants. A few of these new arrivals stop in New York and neighboring cities, but many go to the Western States to locate. The South get but few of them and is perhaps better off for it.—Charlotte Observer.

A Sheriff Fights Thirteen Prisoners.

Jamestown, N. Y., April 5.—Thirteen prisoners confined in the trial department of the Chautauqua county jail, at Mayville, made a desperate effort to overpower Sheriff H. H. Cooper tonight and escape. The sheriff had unlocked the door to pass in a prisoner, when the occupants of the cage sprang upon him. Although alone, he fought desperately and kept all the prisoners confined in the corridor until help arrived. He was roughly handled, but not seriously injured. Some of the prisoners were severely hurt.

BONDS AND SCHOOLS.

Both Carried by Good Majority.

So far as the election for bonds and schools had proceeded today, up to the time THE REFLECTOR was ready for the press, it can be seen that both measures have been carried by a good majority.

We got an estimate of the standing of the vote in the different wards at 2:30 o'clock, and the result at that hour was as follows:

	Registered Vote	For Bonds	Against Bonds
1st Ward	14	13	0
2nd Ward	29	21	1
3rd Ward	77	55	2
4th Ward	97	59	5
5th Ward	27	15	0
Total	244	163	8

If no more votes should be cast after this estimate was taken the majority in favor of the bonds would be 82, but votes cast later will make it some larger. There may be a slight difference in the vote for bonds and schools, and some scratching will make a little difference in the improvement board and school trustees, but all are elected.

Railroad from Raleigh Eastward.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

There has been much talk of a railroad from Raleigh, the capital of our great state, to some point below Washington, N. C., and I have been informed that there was a charter obtained from the last general assembly for such a road. I fail to see why this road should not be built at once, for it could not be otherwise than a success, as it would open up the best country in the state.

Say that the road start at Raleigh and come down to Wilson, it would traverse a fine country. Then on to Greenville by way of Farmville it would strike the heart of the state, for as an agricultural section it cannot be excelled. This part of our state embraces just as good lands as the wellknown section in Marlboro county, S. C., for I have seen both and know whereof I speak. Then from Greenville to Washington the road would open up God's country, so to speak, the bright tobacco belt of Pitt county. And from Washington down to some point about the mouth of Pamlico river it would open a section that grows Irish potatoes and all truck early, and the shipment of these would make the road a financial success.

With such a road we people who live in the east could have easy access to the mountains of our state, and those living in the land of the clouds could as easily come down and take a dip in the grand old Atlantic. We would become neighbors and the road would be a God-send to us all. Let it come.

R. J. COBB.

You probably wouldn't feel flattered if you knew what the people you think are fools think of you.

Wealth is something that enables a millionaire to stand up in meeting and say it is no disgrace to be poor.

When a man plants sunflower seed with the expectation of raising rainbows his foolishness has passed the danger limit.

In searching for the per capita wealth of a country look in the table of statistics rather than in the pockets of the people.

North Carolina's bond issue doesn't seem to have much effect on Wall street.

Are You Ready For Easter, Sir ?

If you've forgotten something and you can't remember what, just look over our display of Easter Clothing, Haberdashery and Hats, and perhaps you'll remember what you forgot.

A mint of money will be spent in Easter trappings. The swellest of Suits are here, while our Easter Neckwear is in full blossom. Our new Spring Hats in the soft and stiff shapes are right up to the scratch.

Street Gloves, new Spring styles in Shirts, medium weight underwear, Silk Umbrellas.

Bright Styles for brave dressers, peaceable styles for quiet tastes, purse consolation for all.

The New White Front

This store has been crowded with visitors and customers from the first day it was opened, and feels very grateful to its friends for the kind words of praise and the liberal patronage which it has received. The stock is large and complete in each line shown. The weavers have certainly outdone themselves in bringing forth novelties in fabrics.

An elaborate and noteworthy showing of all the new ideas.

Space forbids mentioning the different lines, but we wish to call especial attention to the Beautiful Dress Goods, Trimmings, Summer Lawns and Thin materials.

The White Goods Showing is a feast of beauty. The many beautiful things shown here for Ladies' wear easily makes this

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, APRIL 7, 1903.

The Raleigh Times says:

"Now here comes the statement from Petersburg that a negro tramp shot and killed a conductor on the Norfolk and Wester road simply because he ordered him off his train. We venture to predict that another legislature will not adjourn in North Carolina without passing a law that will prohibit the carrying of concealed weapons. It ought to be a felony for any man not an officer of the law to carry a pistol?"

It ought to be a felony, yes; but no law can be passed which will prevent disreputable characters from carrying a pistol whenever they desire to do so. Criminals like the above defy the law a dozen times a day, and will not hesitate to take chances of being caught. A law making carrying concealed weapons a felony would perhaps, deter young fellows who are simply thoughtless, but those with really evil intent would continue to go armed. The thing to do is to make it a capital offence to attempt to kill.

A news item chronicles the death of W. M. Harriman, and sums up his fame in the sentence, "He was once engaged to Miss Anna Gould." What an epitaph!

Due Notice is Served.

Due notice is hereby served on the public generally that DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the only salve on the market that is made from the pure, unadulterated witch hazel. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has cured thousands of cases of piles that would not yield to any other treatment, and this fact has brought out many worthless counterfeits. Those persons who get the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve are never disappointed, because it cures. Jno. L. Wooten.

A Prominent Minister Recommends Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Rev. Francis J. Davidson, pastor of the St. Matthew Baptist church and president of the Third District Baptist Association, 2731 Second St., New Orleans, writes as follows: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for cramps and pains in the stomach and found it excellent. It is in fact the best cramp and colic remedy I have ever used. Also several of my parishioners have used it with equally satisfactory results." For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy Farmville.

Woman's first lesson is to listen and then be still.

A Demonstration of What Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Can Do.

"One of our customers, a highly respected citizen of this place, had been for ten years a sufferer from chronic diarrhoea." writes Walden & Martin, druggist, of Enterprise, Ala. "He had used various patent preparations and had been treated by physicians without any permanent benefit. A few months ago he commenced taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and in a short time was entirely cured. Many citizens of Enterprise who know the gentleman will testify to the truthfulness of his statement." For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy Farmville.

Don't cry over spilt milk; hustle around and get another milkman.

Too Great a Risk.

A reliable remedy for bowel complaints should always be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy never fails and when reduced with water is pleasant to take. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy Farmville.

Drudgery ages a woman much quicker than does sorrow or illness.

A disordered stomach may cause no end of trouble. When the stomach fails to perform its functions the bowels become deranged, the liver and kidneys congested, causing numerous diseases, the most fatal of which are painless and therefore the more to be dreaded. The important thing is to restore the stomach and liver to a healthy condition, and for this purpose no better preparation can be used than Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville Farmville Pharmacy Farmville.

More failures are due to lack of will than to lack of strength.

A Sweet Breath

is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary S. Crick, White Plains Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years—tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once, and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Jno. L. Wooten.

It is not always the woman with the most leisure who is the best groomed.

For liver troubles and constipation There's nothing better in creation Than Little Early Risers, the famous little pills

They always effect a cure and save doctor bills. Little Early Risers are different from all other pills. They do not weaken the system, but act as a tonic to the tissues by arousing the secretions and restoring the liver to the full performance of its functions naturally. Jno. L. Wooten.

Every animal has its own kind of flea.

The best physic: Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Easy to take; pleasant in effect. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville Farmville Pharmacy Farmville.

A Pack of Cards.

The ordinary playing cards of today are derived from a stick game supposed to have originated in this country. Fifty small sticks are a pack. The "game" was originally for the player to divide the sticks rapidly with his two hands, the opponent guessing which hand held the larger number. Owners of sticks spent rainy days in carving them. The Asians borrowed the game and carved more elaborate counters out of ivory. Those with different carvings grew to have different values. Arranging them in groups of four made it necessary to add two to the original number. Then thin slabs of ivory began to be used.

For centuries after this all playing cards were hand painted, at first on ivory or metal, afterward on cardboard. The pictures, at first legendary heroes and ladies, gradually became the fixed, wood faced caricatures we now know, and these, coming back to America in their westward journey around the world, find our Pacific coast Indians still juggling the same kind of sticks their forefathers used.—New York World.

The Word "Starvation."

The word "starvation" was introduced into the English language by its coin, Henry Dundas, afterward Viscount Melville. It was originally used by him in a speech in parliament on the American debate in 1775 and was immediately caught up and applied to himself in a political nickname, so that he was known thenceforward as "Starvation" Dundas.

"I shall not," such was his declaration, "wait for the advent of starvation from Edinburgh to settle my judgment."

Before the time of Dundas "starve," "starving," "starved" and "starveling" were in use, but hunger or famine represented the state of starvation.

Although this word has now an established place in our vocabulary, it was at first vigorously opposed by many, and on just grounds, as of hybrid formation. The root "starve" is old English, while the ending, "ation," is Latin. It does not appear in any English dictionaries until the year 1809.

Deep Sea Fish.

Great forests of seaweeds cover the bottom of the ocean and reach from the greatest depths to the surface. In these forests there is life more diversified than in the primeval forests of the tropics. Spiders and wormlike animals of enormous size, infusoria, crabs, sea urchins, shells, crustaceans, starfish, turtles and millions of other living things of all kinds find their food in the equally varied plant life of the deep sea.

A curious circumstance connected with deep sea fish is that none of these has ever been brought up alive. Recent deep sea explorations reveal the fact that the ocean still contains immeasurable treasures which await development and utilization by human inventiveness. The most fertile acre of cultivated land is a sterile desert compared with one acre of the surface of the deep sea bottom.

Wet Shoes.

The usual—and the wrong way—of treating wet boots is to take them off and put them on the fender or the radiator to dry. This method spoils the boots. Too much heat cracks and hardens leather.

Another wrong way is to stand them on their soles anywhere to dry. The proper way is to place the boots, soles upward, near enough to the fire to dry slowly and properly, but not to steam during the drying.

The soles should always be turned upward, even when the boots are only a little wet, for this way enables the air to reach the wettest part of the leather first.—American Queen.

The Colossus of Rhodes.

The Colossus of Rhodes, a bronze statue, was 105 feet high. It was made by Chares, who, aided by an army of workmen, consumed twelve years in its construction. It remained in position in the harbor of Rhodes for sixty-six years and was thrown down by an earthquake B. C. 224. It lay on the ground 894 years and was sold to a Jew for old metal. He carried away 900 camel loads, or about 720,000 pounds, of bronze.

A Transposition.

Margaret—No, you cannot stay, love. Your mother says it is absolutely necessary for you to come home.

Elizabeth—Oh, dear! I sometimes think that mother is the inventor of necessity instead of necessity being the mother of invention.—Kansas City Journal.

It Depended.

Judge (to witness)—You say you have known the prisoner all your life?

Witness—Yes, your honor.

Judge—Now, in your opinion, do you think he could be guilty of stealing this money?

Witness—How much was it?

Homicide.

"We cannot consider your story serious," wrote an editor to an author, "because you have killed your hero in the middle of it."

And the author replied, "I killed him early because he made me tired."—Atlanta Constitution.

Subordinate.

Mr. Byrne Coyne—Ah, sweetest one, may I be your captain and guide you bark down the sea of life?

Mrs. Berrymore (a widow)—No, but you can be my second mate.—Detroit Free Press.

Disappointed.

"Her marriage was a great disappointment to her friends."

"Indeed."

"Oh, yes. They all predicted it would turn out unhappily, and it didn't."

Mr. Waterhouse's Economy

(Original.)

"Lionel," said young Mrs. Waterhouse six months after their marriage and when her trousseau was beginning to show the first signs of giving out, "I need a pair of shoes."

"Certainly, my love." And he handed her $5.

"Lionel," said the wife a few days later, "I find my hat for the coming season is old fashioned. I fear that I shall have to get another."

"Of course you will. How much do you want?"

"A hat may cost anything you please to give, even $2, but I'll need a few spring waists. Then there's the trimming for my blue dress that I'm going to have made over, and—"

"How much, dear?"

"Well, I think I'll need about $13."

A frown came to the husband's face, but he said nothing, handing his wife $15. She saw the frown and knew that one of the hardships of marriage had come, the asking for money for other than household expenses.

"Lionel," said the poor woman a year later, "I'm tired asking you for money with which to buy my clothes. For a time I tried to economize in dress, but when you saw that my hats were out of fashion and my jackets and dresses were shabby you didn't like it, so I find myself between two fires. Isn't there some fund from which I could draw a stated amount?"

"To tell the truth, my dear, we need to economize more than ever this year, as my business is not so flourishing, but I won't ask you to do it. I'll do it myself. I'll figure up just what we'll draw monthly and turn it all over to you. As I have clothes enough to last a year you'll have the use of all the income."

The wife gladly accepted the terms, and on the beginning of the next month her husband turned over to her the amount agreed upon.

"Don't you want any of it, dear?" she asked meekly.

"I have a 'quarter' in my pocket. That'll do for car fare."

"But your luncheon?"

"Oh, yes; well, you might let me have a 'quarter' for that."

The money was paid over, and Mr. Waterhouse, after giving his wife the marital kiss, started down town.

Five cents of his money went for car fare, 10 cents for apples which he proposed to eat for the benefit of his liver, while 10 cents more was considered necessary for a cigar. At noon he went round to his down town lunch club.

"Hello, old man!" said Owen Carter, one of his clients. "Let's lunch together."

"Oh, I'm not going to eat much today. I'm not hungry."

Nevertheless they sat down together.

"What do you say to dividing a pint of claret?" asked Carter.

"Why, I've made it a rule not to drink anything before dinner."

"Since when?" asked Carter, looking up, surprised.

Now, Carter was an important factor in Waterhouse's business, and the latter saw at once that any stinginess on his part might lead to bad results, so he said:

"But that needn't stand in the way. Water, a pint of Pontet-Canet."

By good luck Waterhouse got through the luncheon with only 20 cents over and above the amount given him by his wife for the purpose and returned to his office. In the afternoon he received a note requiring a telephone reply. This cost him 10 cents, which he agreed to pay the next day. He had scarcely returned to his office when a young girl with a wan face entered and begged him to help her by buying a five cent package of court plaster. He ground his teeth when he remembered that his money was gone—more than gone.

Then he found it necessary to see a man whose office was at the other end of the city. Not having money for car fare and no one being near from whom to borrow, he walked there and back, a distance of three miles. When 5 o'clock came, he locked his desk and dragged himself over another two miles to his home. He had at times been disappointed to see a dissatisfied look on his wife's face when he reached home. Today it was transferred to his own. His wife was serene.

The next day he got on famously, spending only 10 cents for car fare and 10 cents for tobacco, for he gave up cigars. He went home radiant. The third day he received a notice that each member of his class in college was invited to pay a dollar toward the building of a new dormitory. It was simply impossible for him to refuse. Then came a lady acquaintance and sold him a ticket for 50 cents to a church fair.

As soon as she had gone he looked in his drawer for paper on which to reply to the college matter and found none. The stamp box also was empty. Seventy cents was expended for the two articles. He economized by buying 20 cents' worth of stamps instead of a dollar's worth, as usual, and was obliged to send again in two days. At luncheon he tried to dodge Carter, but Carter, who suspected that he was getting stingy, got hold of him and forced him to divide a three dollar lunch. But the most absurd infraction of his economical effort was the purchase of a razor offered to him by a peddler for $5 for which he satirically offered $1.50. On going home he became demoralized, figuring that his expenditures for the day amounted to $5.10, and to drown remorse stopped for a cocktail and a cigar. His wife smelled his breath and when he mentioned his expenditures called him wasteful. This led to their first quarrel.

The next day the husband reassumed the exchequer, and the wife has since been wearing her old clothes.

Moonshiners Almost in Town.

United States Deputy Marshal Averitt last night captured a blockade still, between the Mile Branch bridge and Glenville pond, just on the outskirts of the city. The moonshiners had abandoned it on the approach of the officers, leaving the outfit and fifty gallons of beer. It was reported to Marshal Averitt by a man who ran across it while hunting in the woods.—Fayetteville Observer.

Senator Peak of Tennessee Makes an Assault.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 4.—This afternoon State Senator Walter J. Peak, one of the leading members of the Tennessee legislature, assaulted John H. Cantrill and Wm. Dowling, prominent citizens, on Market street, the principal thoroughfare. He carried a heavy stick with which he struck Mr. Dowling upon the face, closing and seriously injuring his eye, and it is believed, breaking the bones of his hands. The assault occurred at a drug store where many ladies were seated and caused great excitement. Cantrill was assaulted while he was walking upon the street. Peak struck him several blows in the face.

The trouble is the outcome of articles published over the signatures of Cantrill and Dowling attacking Peak for his position on the water works question. Peak has been cited to appear in police court to answer charges of assault and battery.

We often hear of blessings in disguise, but never a word about the numerous curses that make a specialty of doing masquerade stunts.

Letters from Women

Cured by the use of Kodol are received daily. Their troubles nearly all begin with indigestion or other stomach disorder.

If the food you eat fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transform the nutrient properties of the food into blood. That is indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is so easy to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the entire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders.

I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I endured. After a time I would take it but once a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy, I seldom need it, as it has cured me. Mrs. J. W. COOLBAUGH, Milo Center, N. Y.

New Spring Goods

Our store is now full of the newest and prettiest goods that our buyers could get. There are so many different kinds of goods for the ladies that it nearly impossible for us to name them, but you know that you will always get the best goods at the price from

J. B. CHERRY & CO.

We will not knowingly sell any article that will not give satisfaction to the buyer. We have a reputation for fair, square dealing and we propose to keep it. You can generally find goods that look like ours for a little less money, but when you compare quality you find we are the cheapest. Shoddy goods are not cheap at any price. Therefore examine the goods as well as the price.

We have a line of Dimities that sell from 10 to 12 1/2 cents per yard. We are selling them for 8 cents.

Do not forget that our other departments are as well furnished as our dry goods. You will need something to eat as well as wear, and in our Grocery Department you will find everything necessary for the comfort of the inner man.

Hammocks have arrived. If you expect to get one this summer come in and make your selection before they are picked over. We have them from $1.00 to $5.00. Always remember that Greenville's Great Department store is able to supply all of your wants.
