Ricks & Wilkinson

April turns Mayward. April has a double function to perform. She must, by hook or crook, get Winter to leave the stage, and she is naturally disagreeable until he has gone. Then in a moment she becomes all smiles and sunshine, and gives us a foretaste of May.

Today everybody is ready to welcome the new season, and there is no place like this store to help you to the new things and make Spring favorable and delightful. Men of good judgment come to this store for their furnishings.

Most women know that we carry a splendid line of Dress Goods and Trimmings.

Standard Patterns Advance styles for June now ready The May Designer, 10 cents Fashion Sheets always free.

Goldsboro, N. C., April 29.—The shipment of strawberries that passed through this city over the Atlantic Coast Line yesterday was the largest made this year and amounted to 101 cars by freight and 3,057 crates. Striking a general average of 1 1/2 cents the shipments yesterday in money would amount to $123,253.76.

Died in Far-away China.

Shelby, April 28.—News has just reached here from Che-foo, China, bringing the sad news of the death of the wife of Rev. G.

P. Bostick. Mrs. Bostick died of pneumonia. Rev. Mr. Bostick, who is a Baptist missionary, has been living in China for 12 years, and is a native of this place. Mrs. Bostick leaves four bright children, who are still with their father, Rev. Mr. Bostick. Mr. Bostick is a consecrated Christian man, and our hearts go out in sympathy for him in this sad hour.

While in Europe Mr. Morgan will doubtless devote his time to studying up some inoffensive foreign equivalent for our own "merger."—Florida Times-Union. Fifth month.

MERCHANTS WILL CLOSE AT 7 P. M.

AND GIVE THE CLERKS A SHOW IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME.

A paper has been taken around for the merchants to sign, so that there might be concert of action in the early closing movement. The agreement, and the names of those who signed it, are as follow:

We the undersigned merchants, doing business in the town of Greenville agree to close our stores at 7 p. m. from May 4th, 1903, to August 1st 1903, with the exception of Saturdays. C. S. #### COXVILLE ITEMS.

COXVILLE, N. C., May 1, 1903.

Mrs. W. E. Hammond and Mrs. N. R. Corey were visiting relatives in Frog Level a few days ago.

W. S. Roach and daughter were in Greenville Tuesday.

L. H. Cox has been on the sick list but we are glad to say he is improving fast.

There was quite a large crowd from Coxville that attended church at Black Jack the third Sunday.

Mrs. Rickey Moore, from near Greenville, was visiting her father, Arch Cox, last week and returned home Monday.

Three Killed in Railroad Wrecks.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 29.—Three persons were killed, two fatally, and a dozen seriously injured, in a wreck in the railroad yards here tonight. A westbound Vandalia passenger struck a switch engine and two cars near the Highland steel mill.

The killed were: Clarence Reinhart, Columbus, Ohio, and Nicholas A. Lutz, baggage master, and an unidentified man.

Attached to the train was a special car carrying a party of twenty-seven people from Philadelphia to the National Y. M. C. A. convention at Topeka, Kas. Another car carried the New Jersey delegation to the Louisiana purchase exposition dedication. None of the members of either party was injured. The killed and injured were in the day coach.

Safe Cracker at New Bern.

New Bern, N. C., April 29.—The safe in the store of Mr. Robert Rose, on South Front street, was cracked last night at 12-30 o'clock, the cracker receiving a $400 bank certificate and over $100 in cash. Mrs. Rose's child went this morning to the small store of A. A. Bender to get an apple. Mrs. Rose went after her, and seeing a piece of paper on the floor, picked it up. It proved to be the bank certificate. Benders were immediately arrested and put in custody until a preliminary hearing.

Any body who can push a saw or drive a plane can get work here now, so much building is going on.

Mosquitos have come early and there are plenty of them.

AND THE ECHO ANSWERS NOT.

INDIANA PAPER HANDS A FEW WARM QUESTIONS TO MR. ROSCOE MITCHELL.

The following poem from the Indianapolis Sentinel is addressed to Mr. Roscoe Mitchell, late of North Carolina, but now of who knows where?

Tell us, Mr. Roscoe Mitchell, won't you, Roscoe Mitchell, say Why you labor till the night time fades into another day? Why you hustle till the day time hazes darkly into night? Is your armor ever girded? Do you wage eternal fight? Did you elevate your standard, so if victory connect, You could gather in—say, Roscoe, now what did you expect?

Far away, back in the distance, with your face aflame with joy, All alone you wave that banner like a happy, pie-fed boy. Did a vandal seek to trail it, you were there with fearless might To administer a trouncing in a bloodless verbal fight. With your brush-and-paste-pot warship many envious you've wrecked, And we'd give almost a penny just to know what you expect.

In the wayback knightly valor oft engaged in deadly fray For the honor of a fair one in her bower far away; Does this heritage still linger and induce the verbal flow That defends the Fairbanks' standard you unfurled so long ago? Or did other subtle reasons fill your soul with grand effect, Breeding longings overpowering for the well-what you expect?

Russians Renulse Turks.

Berlin, April 29.—A St. Petersburg dispatch says it is reported from Kars, in Asiatic Russia, that a squadron of Turkish cavalry has crossed the Russian frontier seventy miles from Sarakamysch and showed intention of advancing. The Russian frontier post gave the alarm and a regiment of Cossacks which fired on Turks, killing an officer and six troopers. The Russians suffered no loss. The Turks retreated.

Spring Chrysanthemums.

Mrs. D. D. Haskett brought THE REFLECTOR some beautiful flowers this morning. Among them are some yellow chrysanthemums which are quite a curiosity for the time of year, as they usually bloom in the fall.

Meeting to Call Pastor.

Every member of the Baptist church is requested to be present at the church Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. The pulpit committee is ready to report and the selection of a pastor will be before the meeting. Every member ought to be there.

"It never pays to hurt people's feelings," remarked the Humane Chap. "Oh, I don't know," replied the Wise Guy; "friend of mine makes a pretty good living at it." "Who is he?" "A dentist."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

A crowd gathered around the old cannon on the court house square this afternoon, to see how much they could lift.

The second term of court held in Pitt county by Judge G. S. Ferguson is drawing to a close. He is an admirable judge and has made many friends in this county.

The Race Education Tax in Florida.

Tallahassee, Fla., April 29.—The house today voted to reconsider Representative Long's resolution and passed it by a vote of 45 to 15—one more than the necessary majority. The resolution proposes an amendment to the constitution which would divide the school fund between the races in proportion to the amount paid by each. Indications point to the defeat of the resolution in the senate.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, MAY 1, 1903.

VOTE AS YOU PRAY.

The Charlotte Observer says:

It is interesting that the candidate of the Anti Saloon League for mayor of Asheville, Hon. Geo. A. Shuford, was formerly a democratic judge of the Superior court, and that at the meeting of the league which it was decided to put out a candidate against the democratic nominee, the principal speaker in favor of this policy was Hon. James H. Merrimon, another democratic ex-judge of the Superior court. What gives interest to the facts stated is the force of the lesson it inculcates in behalf of the exercise of human charity. These gentlemen doubtless think they are as good democrats as they ever were, and they doubtless are. They are doubtless impelled to their present course by the highest dictates of conscience, and that they feel it necessary now to drop out of the party ranks shows that any man is likely at some time in his life to become a Boxer.

All men should have a higher regard for morality than for party. Asheville has made a reputation as being a city of the grossest immorality, and it seems the democratic party there has been lending its influence to this immorality. Then why wonder that such men as ex-Judges Shuford and Merrimon should be uniting with a reform movement the purpose of which is to rid the city of the immoralities in question?

The time has come in North Carolina when men are not going to vote for any and every man just because his name is on a democratic ticket, and conditions are now such that even the party lash cannot compel them to do so. If the democratic party is to continue in control it must take a stand for moral issues.

"And The Sentinel would earnestly caution the people of Wilkesboro how they treat Mr. Blackburn. He carries a stiletto for any of his home towns that are not enthusiastic in appreciation of his citizenship," says the Winston Sentinel. It is not a stiletto—it is the jaw bone of an ass.

A Statesville colored man who had been in the habit of whipping his wife at will, was chasing her the other day to give her another chastising when he dropped dead. No doubt this will cause consternation among wite beating darkies.

In the city of Halifax, where Mr. Thomas Independent Hill aspires to mayoralty honors, there are 55 voters. Under the circumstances Mr. Hill can hardly expect an overwhelming majority.

"Of course this state could raise double $10,000 for an exhibit at St. Louis, still we believe it will require organized effort to raise that amount," says the Durham Herald. And some organized hustle, too.

We suggest a midnight performance at the opera house for the benefit of those people who have nothing to do during the day except sleep.

EQUAL JUSTICE.

Referring to the conviction of the thieving bank official of Atlanta, the Raleigh Times says:

"The state of Georgia, like the state of North Carolina, has a governor, with a good heart, as well as a big brain. He is capable of making just discrimination in the matter of pardons, as well as in other things, and so we feel sure this young man will receive just treatment on the part of Governor Terrell and the pardoning board of Georgia."

Just treatment in this case can be nothing else than a full sentence being served by this young criminal. The people he robbed may not be "well-bred," as the Times says Sims is, but they didn't steal their savings. To suggest that Sims be pardoned, even after serving all but one hour of his sentence, is maudlin sentiment, and nothing else.

"Well, if there is anything in Washington former Congressman Cheatam wants we hope he will get it" remarks the Durham Herald. Yes, anything to get rid of him.

We look for the millennium to drive up most any old time, now that the Wilson News has begun to give proper credit for its clipped matter.

The American mule is not being treated fairly in the matter of that Russo-Turkish war. He ought not to be kept in suspense.

"Hov yez noticed," said the Irish Citizen, thot th' only sure thing about rayforrum is thot yez will have t' do it all over again at th' nixt election."

Isu't it about time Durham was casting anxious eyes toward the corporation commission.

General Miles scooped the administration in his Philippine report.

"Have you paid your poll tax?" is the slogan in Greensboro.

Consistency is a jewel and both are going out of fashion.

The Wastes of the Body.

Every seven days the blood, muscles and bones of a man of average size loses two pounds of wornout tissue. This waste cannot be replenished and the health and strength kept up without perfect digestion. When the stomach and digestive organs fail to perform their functions, the strength lets down, health gives way, and disease sets up. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of blood that rebuilds the tissues and protects the health and strength of the mind and body. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. It is an ideal spring tonic. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Still water, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief, was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the month, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

A man may talk continually and not be eloquent; sounds and substance are not twins.

When you want a pleasant physic try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

The great event of today is usually but a trifle in the memory of tomorrow.

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Barbage, a student at law, in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Barbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

Kindness is as refreshing as the summer showers to withered flowers.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these disease should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

It is a good rule to be deaf when a slanderer begins to talk.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

A good man errs when he drops good manners.

The X-Rays.

Recent experiments, by practical tests and examination with the aid of the X-Rays, establish it as a fact that Catarrh of the Stomach is not a disease of itself, but that it results from repeated attacks of indigestion. "How Can I Cure My Indigestion?" Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is curing thousands. It will cure you of indigestion and dyspepsia, and prevent or cure Catarrh of the Stomach. Kodol digests what you eat—makes the stomach sweet. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

How England Drank in 1512.

This is how our forefathers managed in a time when tea and coffee were unknown and beer was the common beverage of the Englishman. In the Northumberland Household Book, commenced in 1512, we have an exhaustive account of the domestic economy of the great Percy family, and from it we learn that at breakfast, which was served at 7 o'clock in the morning, the earl and countess had a quart of beer and a quart of wine between them; two sons, "My Lord Percy and Master Percy," a pottle (two quarts) of beer, and two children in the "Narcy" (nursery) a quart of beer. For dinner, at 10 o'clock, my lord and lady had a gallon of beer and a pottle of wine, the two boys a quart of beer and the younger children a pottle of beer. At supper, at 4 o'clock, the earl and countess shared a pottle of beer and a pottle of wine; the children also had their allowance. For "livery," which was served in the bedroom between 8 and 9 o'clock in the evening, the parents were supplied with a gallon of beer and a quart of wine and each pair of children with a pottle of beer. Surely there could in this case have been no "drinking between meals."—London Chronicle.

Bulgarian Wedding Customs.

A curious wedding custom which exists in Bulgaria is the shaving of the bridegroom on the wedding day.

While the barber is engaged upon his face a dancing crowd of boys and girls surround the bridegroom. When his hair has been cut, the pieces are carefully collected by some of the girls, to be preserved in one of the bride's chests.

After the barber has finished his work he receives a small white linen cloth as a present, and each person gives him a trifling sum of money. Then the bridegroom kisses the hand of each girl, washes his face and dons his wedding dress, which must first accurately weighed three times by a lad.

These strange customs are said to date back to pre-Christian days, but they are still strictly observed, especially in country districts.

Forty Bibles a Minute.

The Bible publications of the Oxford University Press have been issued for 300 years and can be published in 150 languages and dialects. Orders for 100,000 Bibles are quite common. An order for half a million copies can, according to the Caxton Magazine, be readily filled. On an average from thirty to forty Bibles are furnished every minute. There are 110 different editions of the Oxford Bibles in English, varying from the magnificent folio edition for pulpit use to the "brilliant" Bible, the smallest edition of the Scriptures in the world. The largest folio Bible printed in Oxford measures 19 by 12 inches, and no erratum has as yet been found in it. The "Brilliant Text Bible" measures 3 3/4 by 2 1/4 inches and is three-fourths of an inch thick.

Stockings.

How many readers are familiar with the history and origin of the most common articles they daily use? We eat, drink, wear without thinking whence or wherefore. Stockings were known among the Romans more than 1,800 years ago, as is proved by paintings found in the ruins of Pompeii. They were considered more ornamental than useful. In the colder climate of northern Europe they became a necessity, and the manufacture of them became a recognized employment in the twelfth century, when they were fashioned chiefly of cloth. In the reign of Edward II. they assumed a resemblance to those now worn. At the courts of Spain and Italy they were fashioned of silk and were made enormously large.

Got His Numbers Right.

A certain lawyer, who is now a very able judge, was when he first came to the bar, a very blundering speaker, says Youth. On one occasion, when he was trying a case of replevin, involving a right of property to a lot of hogs, he said, "Gentlemen of the jury, there were just twenty-four hogs in that drove—just twenty-four, gentlemen—exactly twice as many as are in that jury box!" The effect can be imagined.

Rhinoceroses With Two Horns.

Several species of rhinoceroses, now extinct and only found in a fossil state, used to exist which had no horns at all. The name, meaning as it does "horned nose," is rather a misnomer in their case. Several kinds of rhinoceroses in Africa have two horns, one behind the other, but the extinct rhinoceros, known as the dyceratherium, had a pair of horns on its nose side by side.

Looking Pleasant.

Mrs. Chugwater—So that's the photograph you had taken the other day, is it? I'd like to know why you can't look as pleasant as that when you are in the house.

Mr. Chugwater—Well, it may be that the photographer tried to bring out my pleasant expression, and you don't.

A Dampener.

Visitor—Is Miss Rankin in?
Servant—Yes, sir.

Visitor—Is she engaged?
Servant—Yes, sir, but the gentleman ain't here this evening, sir. Come in.

Ambiguous.

Askington—She has a rich husband, hasn't she?
Teller—Yes, and at the same time a mighty poor one.—Smart Set.

His Fool Parent.

"Are you following the races?"
"Yes, and if I ever catch up to them I'll quit."—Princeton Tiger.

The respect of the common people is the highest reward a man can reap in this country.—Schoolmaster.

THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT

is best because:

1. It costs less to do a job of painting with it for it covers most surface, and spreads easiest.

2. It looks best because it brushes out evenly, the oil in it is purest, and the colors clearest and most lasting.

3. It wears longest, and is most economical, because it puts off for the longest time the need for repainting.

MR. M'LEOD

[Original.]

There is a flutter among the elite of Newport society. There are people who have spent years fawning, flattering, pushing, even at critical moments "putting on the screws" in the case of some stubborn insider, until they have broken down the barrier and secured an entrance into the golden circle. And now comes a young man whom nobody knows and nobody vouches for and walks right in.

Donald McLeod, with Scotch antecedents and Canadian connections, appeared one morning at Newport, was driven to a hotel and the same evening was seen at the soiree of Mrs. Van Blinkhelsen, in whose veins flows the bluest blood of the old New York Dutchmen and in whose coffers are deeds to acre upon acre of Manhattan Island real estate. No one dared question her right to introduce him. All treated him with scrupulous politeness, but no one slapped him on the back and said, "Old man, command me for any invitation you want." Mrs. Van Blinkhelsen, led him to several of the young ladies whom it would seem desirable for him to know, but the moment her back was turned they proceeded to freeze him from their presence.

It so happened that Miss Adele Mainwaring, a young lady whose family had been well and favorably known in New York many generations and who for this reason was somewhat fond of snubbing the wealthiest of the social leaders, noticed the slights put upon the Scotch-Canadian and, yielding to a natural antagonism for the descendants of those whose ancestors used to sell her ancestors garden truck, took him up and danced with him three times, holding her head very high the while, as much as to say, "Whoso wishes to knock a chip off my shoulder let her do so." When the evening was over and the young man asked permission to call upon her, she gave her consent, though she had no especial desire to receive him. The truth is that an evening entertainment is not a place to judge of a man's intellectual parts, and Miss Mainwaring had as many friends as she wanted.

When, however, she came to pass an afternoon in Mr. McLeod's company in one of her own little parlors, she was not long in discovering that he knew more on any one subject than she knew on all put together. This was somewhat surprising to her, for she was considered, and justly so, a very intellectual girl. She found him rather reticent and much more prone to listen to her than to talk himself. But there was something in the quiet way he sat and permitted her to pour things into his ear that pleased her. Though Mr. McLeod's stay at Newport was brief, it was productive of a great deal of trouble. Some of the girls who had slighted him took Miss Mainwaring's acceptance of his attentions as a personal affront to them. This led to social skirmishing which soon blazed into open war. Mrs. Van Blinkhelsen was much blamed for having introduced "the fellow," but on account both of her blue blood and her vast wealth she was unassailable. Then society was suddenly further startled by a report that Miss Mainwaring was about to throw herself away on "that Kanuck who showed no signs of even being able to wear good clothes."

"Excellent match," exclaimed all the girls who had quarreled with her. "She'll disappear from society and in time sink to where she belongs—a tenement house."

It was true that Miss Mainwaring had given the stranger her heart, but she hesitated to bestow her hand on one who did not seem inclined to disclose his identity. She was something of a stickler for blood and, being without any income in her own right, felt it necessary that if she married her husband should be able to support her in fair style. McLeod told her that he could at least give her a home and that he fancied his ancestors were quite as good as hers. Finally he gained such an influence over her that she was ready to accept him as soon as he should make known his antecedents, his family and his financial condition. He seemed in no hurry to satisfy her, and against her better judgment she surrendered unconditionally.

One afternoon Mr. McLeod was sitting in the casino, people passing and repassing, some giving him a slight nod, others not even a recognition. Several "blooms" were standing in a group, with their backs to him (intentionally), when they heard a cheery voice behind them say:

"Hello, Toots! You here? I thought you were dancing another dance on the governor general."

The party turned and saw Lord Buckthorne, a recent arrival from London.

"Good morning, gentlemen," said Buckthorne. "You know my friend, Melrose—the Marquis of Melrose? He's the right hand man of the governor general of Canada."

The secret was out. Melrose to escape social notoriety had confided his identity to Mrs. Van Blinkhelsen alone and incidentally had won the heart and hand of Miss Mainwaring, who first heard the news of her lover's position from his friend and after her engagement.

Lady Melrose occasionally visits Newport and doesn't fail to snub the snubbers of her once incognito husband. However, since he is now rising to the more important positions in the British diplomatic service she has very little time to devote to her old enemies, who hate her the more bitterly the higher she rises. As for Melrose, he has long ago forgotten the Newport incident and is very fond of America.

"Dorothy Dodd"

THE FAULTLESS FITTING SHOE FOR WOMEN

Let us assume that your shoes fit you. Now, what next? What is most important? Unquestionably, style. If it has style you want it. If it has not style, but everything else, you do not want it. The style of a Dorothy Dodd is unique. It cannot be duplicated by any other maker, because the Dorothy Dodd is a totally different construction from any other ladies' shoe. Besides being exclusive in style, it holds the foot firmly at the instep, prevents the foot from slipping forward, and gives a correct poise in walking. It makes the foot look nearly a whole size smaller. That's curious, and you won't believe it until you see it. Just for once try the Dorothy Dodd Faultless Fitting Ladies' Shoe and prove the truthfulness of our assertion.
